Temporary Bridge To Be Installed Over Savage River

The Garrett County commissioners and county roads officials met Tuesday with more than 30 residents affected by the closing of the bridge on Savage River Road over the Savage River. Last Tuesday, the state ordered the more than 25-year-old bridge closed following the recommendation of a state-appointed inspection team of engineers. The bridge is only open for pedestrian traffic.

"We're moving on this as fast as we can," said Commissioner Fred Holliday about remedying the problem.

Supervisor Fred Polce, Garrett County Roads Department, announced that the county had purchased a temporary bridge for $160,000, which will be installed adjacent to the closed one. The 150-foot structure was ordered last Friday and is expected to arrive by this Friday, Sept. 26.

In the meantime, the roads department has been working with property owners and utility departments to secure rights of way and prepare the site. The temporary bridge could be open for one-way traffic within three weeks.

Commissioner Dave Beard noted that the bridge's closure caught everyone off guard, as the bridge was not even on the list of those to be inspected this year. "We just found out about this problem a week ago," he said.

He and Holliday traveled the road and walked across the bridge on Sunday.

Autumn Glory News Sought For Publication

Organizations, churches, and other groups planning Autumn Glory events are urged to contact The Republican with their information for publication in the paper and the special fall supplement, Splendour.

Persons may submit information via e-mail at newsroom@therepublicannews.com; fax, 301-334-5904, or mail it to P.O. Box 326, Oakland, MD 21550.

THE GEESE ARE ON THE WING these days, seeming to denote the arrival of fall, which did begin this week with the autumnal equinox on Tuesday. Canada geese, once rarely seen in Garrett County, have apparently decided that they like it here and are populating nearly every pond and lake. They fly from place to place, speeding in their characteristic V-formation over soccer practices, afternoon football games, and recess time at local schools. Their distinctive honking can almost always be heard before they are seen winging along. A beautiful sight, really, along with all the other pleasing autumn spectacles in Garrett County. Hearing Held On Water, Sewer Plan; Cost Of Deep Creek System Increases

The Garrett County commissioners held a public hearing this week on the county's water and sewer master plan. State law mandates that the master plans for all local jurisdictions be amended and updated every five years. Hearings must then be held on the final drafts of those updated/amended plans. About 15 residents attended the county's hearing on Tuesday.

Director Mark Tonkovich, Department of Public Utilities, reviewed the county's new amendment in chapter four of its plan, which outlines how and why the Deep Creek Lake wastewater collection system is being expanded and upgraded.

Developers of several tracts of land in McHenry have requested that their developments be included in the Deep Creek Sanitary District, as the housing density, soil conditions, and grade slopes make the areas unsuitable for private septic systems.

As stated in the amendment: "The former master plan to utilize spray irrigation at the White Face Farm has now been amended and replaced with expansion of the Deep Creek Lake wastewater treatment plant to provide greater processing capacity at the most economical means."

Tonkovich also read a letter from John Nelson, Garrett County Planning and Zoning director, stating that the amendment to the county's master plan for the Deep Creek Lake Water Collection System was "fully consistent with the County Comprehensive Plan, as well as all land-use regulations and policies recommended with the plan."

Maryland Students Will Not Be Required To Make Up Missed Day

by Lydia X. McCoy and Carla Correa
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS - Maryland students got a little hurricane present Tuesday from state school officials: one fewer day in the school year to make up.

The Maryland State Board of Education Tuesday granted all 24 school districts a one-day waiver of the 180-day school year requirement on the recommendation of State Superintendent of Schools Nancy Grasmick.

"I recognized the extraordinary efforts that systems make in trying to stay open," Grasmick said in a statement. "These are circumstances beyond our control."

The decision covers Friday, Sept. 19, when all state school systems shut down for the variety of problems caused by Hurricane Isabel, which rolled through the area Thursday and Friday.

Maryland schools are required to be in session for a minimum of 180 days and 1,080 hours per school year at the elementary and middle school levels, and 1,170 hours at the high school level.

School systems pad their calendars for weather-related closings and vacations, but it's unusual for schools to be using up days already, said Bill Reinhard, spokesman for Maryland State Department of Education.

"(Grasmick) thought they should be forgiven for the one day," Reinhard said.

School districts determine the extra number of days they should add to their calendars by historic performance and weather predictions. Last winter's harsh conditions caused school systems to quickly use up their extra days.

"We had unusually high number of schools out because of weather," Reinhard said about last year. "And the year before it was exceedingly light."

In Charles County, Isabel closed schools for three days while flooding receded and downed power lines and impassable roads were repaired. It has four inclement weather days built into its calendar.

Woman Flown From Rt. 495 Crash Scene

A Grantsville woman was flown by Trooper 5, the Maryland State Police medevac helicopter, to Cumberland Memorial Hospital following a Tuesday morning accident on Bittinger Road.

The single-vehicle crash occurred shortly after 11 a.m., when Tammy Lynn Friend, 32, lost control of her 1995 Ford Aspire near the Beitzel Corporation complex as she was driving north at a "high rate of speed," MSP troopers said. She failed to negotiate a righthand curve, and her sedan drifted off the right side of the road and onto some loose gravel, causing a skid. The car skidded back across both traffic lanes and struck an embankment on the southbound side of the road.

The Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad and the Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department responded to the accident scene prior to the request for medevac assistance.

The MSP press release stated that although Friend sustained minor head injuries and a fractured right femur, her general condition 24 hours after the mishap was good. Police credited the proper use of seatbelts and the deployed driver's side airbag in preventing her from being

MLP Man Gets Three Years For Meth Charge

A Mtn. Lake Park man pleaded guilty last week in Garrett County Circuit Court to attempted manufacture of methamphetamine and possession of marijuana. Related charges against Terry K. Hebb, 25, were dismissed upon his plea.

Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced Hebb to three years in the Division of Corrections, with all of the sentence suspended but 18 months. He was also fined $500, and a concurrent sentence of six months was imposed for the possession of marijuana charge. After his release from jail, Hebb will be on supervised probation.

In March, he was arrested and charged by officers with the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force after Hebb's residence

SHS, NHS Athletic Departments To Receive $7,500 Each From County

The Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday voted unanimously to allocate funds to the athletic departments of Southern and Northern high schools. Each will receive $7,500.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg said a request had been made to assist the departments of both schools. He stressed, however, that the request was not a disparegement against how the Board of Education allocates its funding. With the rising cost of transportation and fuel, it has become increasingly difficult for the board to support the departments all the time, he noted.

Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of Garrett County schools, said the board has increased funding to the departments by $1,000 or $2,000 per year, but it has never been enough to cover all of the expenses. He noted that the expenses also put a strain on the atletic boosters.

Other boards of Garrett County commissioners have supported the departments in the past, as well as the bands, Gregg noted. He added that of the eight athletic teams at a school, only about 2½ of them generate incomes.

The last time a board of commissioners supported the departments was in the 1980s, according Financial Services director Wendy Yoder.

Commissioner Dave Beard said he had been approached by the athletic departments and the schools' principals, who asked if the county could help them. Beard noted that transportation expenses were $1,000 for the football team to travel to Musselman High School (located in the eastern panhandle of West Virginia).

The athletic departments will forward their invoices to the commissioners' office, which will then be paid for by the county from discretionary funds.

Local Man Faces More Than 70 Criminal Counts

An Oakland man who was the center of a theft and forgery investigation since early June was arrested Tuesday while sitting near the Greyhound bus stop along Main Street in Grantsville, according to the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force.

Jonathan David Jones, 25, allegedly stole checks and a debit card from several persons in Garrett County, then forged the checks, uttering them to local businesses in Garrett County, police said.

A total of 13 businesses in Garrett County were victimized, according to the report.

Jones is charged with more than 70 criminal counts, including burglary first-degree, attempted theft, misdemeanor theft, theft scheme, forgery, uttering a

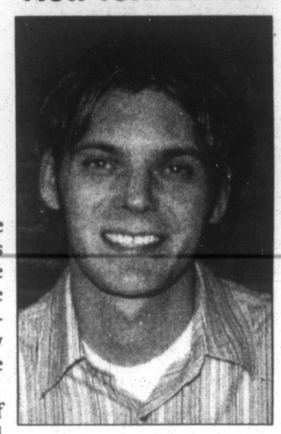
Work By Local Artist Places In New York Exhibit



"Block 5 Veiled," a linocut by Deep Creek Lake artist Steven Matthews, was recently selected for the international juried exhibition "Best of Drawing and Graphics 2003" at the Stage Gallery in Merrick, N.Y.

The work was one of only 23 works of art selected from among hundreds of entries from all over the world by exhibitions director, illustrator, and printmaker Matthew Widro.

Steven Matthews is a western Maryland native and graduate of Allegany College and Frostburg State University. The son of Shirley and George Matthews of Deep Creek Lake, he currently resides in Baltimore, where he attended the Maryland Institute College of Art. He recently graduated, obtaining a master of fine art degree from MICA's Mount Royal School.

Matthews' current work explores opposing relationships. He represents these contradictions through figurative and interior architectural subjects executed as linoleum block prints.

FRED TICHNELL IS GRANDPARENT OF THE YEAR – Fred Tichnell, Mtn. Lake Park, has won AARP Maryland's Magnificent Grandparents Award. Tichnell (third from left) celebrated the occasion at a recent brunch and award ceremony in Baltimore with his family. Despite being 82 years old and dealing with the effects of two brain surgeries that have left him with equilibrium problems and difficulty with fine motor skills, the honoree handcrafts most of his family's gifts. "These disabilities might have slowed lesser men down, but Fred nonetheless makes intricate wood pieces for his family year after year — wood clocks, frames, and crafts," said an AARP official, who also noted that the honoree's oldest grandchild is 43 and the youngest is just 3. Ary G. Bosley, Tichnell's granddaughter, nominated her grandfather for the award. "My grandfather has barely ever missed any of our major events, such as graduations, even with his major surgeries. He has only missed two events because of illness," she said in her nomination letter. "No gift in the world would ever replace what my grandfather means to me and my family . . . . Even if he doesn't win, my award to him will always be love, respect, and honor for who he is and what he has done to be a positive influence on my life." Pictured from left are Ary; her fiancé, Jason Schneider; Tichnell; his wife Vera; their daughter-in-law Kathy; and son Gary. Tichnell is also the father of Dawn Panther, Todd Bosley, Linda Margraff, Fred Tichinell, Susan Colaw, and Robin Smith.

ISABEL DRENCHES, BUT DOESN'T DEVASTATE – The results of Hurricane (Tropical Storm) Isabel were not as grievous locally as they could have been, although some Garrett Countians were indeed evacuated from their homes because of rising water. This dramatic shot tells the tale rather well, showing the Little Yough in Oakland, swollen and muddy on Friday morning, coursing through the Mountain Fresh Pavilion with depth, but not terrible speed. Rivers and streams throughout the county spilled over their banks as Isabel brought up to 4 inches of rain on the mountaintop. Kitzmiller was the most troubling area, according to Brad Frantz, director of the county's emergency management office. Approximately 25 to 30 people in that town were evacuated to the Kitzmiller fire hall. Wind did not create much of a problem, although several trees did come down in various parts of the county. See other photographs of the storm in this section of today's issue. Photo by John McEwen.

Federal Funding Available For Md. Hurricane Victims

President George W. Bush on Friday declared that a major disaster existed in Maryland and ordered federal aid to supplement state and local recovery efforts for areas struck by Hurricane Isabel the day before.

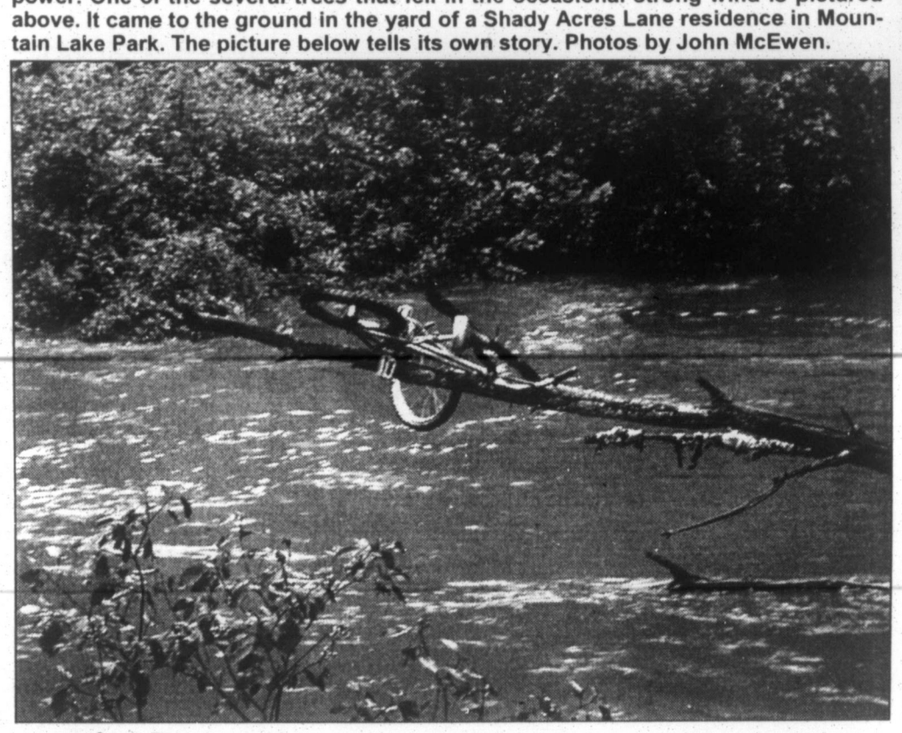
The president's action makes federal funding available to affected individuals in all 23 Maryland counties and the city of Baltimore. Assistance can include grants for temporary housing and home repairs, low-cost loans to cover uninsured property losses, and other programs to help individuals and business owners recover from the effects of the disaster.

Federal funding is also available to state and eligible local governments in all of the counties and Baltimore on a cost-sharing basis for debris removal and emergency protective measures, including direct federal assistance under the Public Assistance program, at 75 percent federal funding.

Representing the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), Michael D. Brown, under secretary for emergency preparedness and Response, Department of Homeland Security, named William Lokey as the federal coordinating officer for the federal recovery operations in the affected area.

The agency said that damage surveys are continuing, and additional forms of assistance for the state and local government agencies may be designated after the assessments are completed, according to the White House press secretary.

The agency also said that residents and business owners who sustained losses in the designated counties can apply for assistance by calling 1-800-621-FEMA (3362), or 1-800-462-7585 (TTY) for the hearing and speech impaired. The toll-free telephone numbers will operate from 7 a.m. to midnight seven days a week until further notice.



A BIT OF A MESS WAS LEFT by Hurricane Isabel last week after she had moved on to pester Pennsylvania and beyond. While high winds were not a significant problem for most of Garrett County, there were gusts that packed some power. One of the several trees that fell in the occasional strong wind is pictured above. It came to the ground in the yard of a Shady Acres Lane residence in Mountain Lake Park. The picture below tells its own story. Photos by John McEwen.

FLOODWATERS IN CRELLIN – As is always the case when the rivers overflow, homeowners in the town of Crellin suffered flooding and water damage when Hurricane Isabel blew through western Maryland last Thursday and Friday. Most of the local high water events occurred in the southern end of Garrett County, according to Brad Frantz, director of the county's emergency management office. Kitzmiller sustained the most damage, Frantz said, although the effects of flooding were felt throughout the entire county, with numerous roads closed for a short time because of high water. Normalcy returned relatively quickly, though, as the winds were not as severe as they could have been, and the storm was in a hurry to go north. Photo by John McEwen.

Third Street Crash Injures W.Va. Woman

A West Virginia woman was injured Tuesday when her minivan was rear-ended by a car on Third Street north of downtown Oakland, according to Oakland police officers.

Lana May Armstrong, 37, Thornton, was traveling north near Omar Street when her 1994 Dodge Caravan was struck from behind by a 2002 Oldsmobile operated by Jeanette McCarthy, 73, of Terra Alta, W.Va. The Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad transported Armstrong to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for treatment of her injuries. Personnel from the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded.

No charges were filed by the Oakland Police Department.

Morgantown Man Gets 30 Days For Marijuana Charge

A Morgantown, W.Va., man pleaded guilty to a possession of marijuana charge last week in Garrett County Circuit Court. Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced John Patrick Rohlich, 19, to 30 days in the Garrett County jail, with all of that suspended for a period of six months' probation. A fine of $300 was also imposed.

Rohlich was arrested and charged by Maryland State Police in May 2002. He was a passenger in a vehicle, which had been stopped for a equipment violation. The vehicle was searched after the trooper smelled the odor of burnt marijuana coming from the vehicle. During the search, Rohlich claimed ownership of book bag in which a small quantity of marijuana was found, according to the state's attorney's office.

Bereavement Parent Support Group Starting

Healthy Families Garrett County, along with the Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families, will hold the first Bereavement Parent Support Group meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 15, from 7 until 8 p.m. in the boardroom of Garrett College, located in the Continuing Education Building.

The featured speaker, Lisa Drummond, will discuss the topic: Grief and Beyond: A Parent's Perspective.

The support group will meet monthly. It is designed for families who have experienced the loss of a baby during pregnancy, at birth, or shortly after birth. The group will meet the third Wednesday of every month at the location and time noted above.

The support group is not a therapy group, organizers noted. It is available free of charge to anyone, no matter where they may be in their grief process, and no matter how long it has been since the loss. Persons may choose to talk or simply listen, the organizers noted. No one is asked to "share."

A few professionals who help grieving parents will also attend the meeting.

The topic for Nov. 19 will be: Getting Through the Holidays. The featured guest speaker will be Brooke Schneider, MA, L.P.C., director of Mental Health Services of the Garrett County Health Department (GCHD).

The topic for Dec. 17 will be: I Feel So Guilty. The guest speaker will be Mary Bell, MA, child and family counselor for GCHD.

All are welcome and there is no need to reserve a seat. For more information, persons may contact: Yvonne McConnell, RN, JoAnne Greene, RN, or Maria Friend, RN, at 301-334-7720 or 301-895-3111.

Democratic Club Dinner To Host Paul Sarbanes

Senator Paul Sarbanes will be the keynote speaker for the annual Garrett County Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner, slated for 7 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, Sept. 26, at the Pleasant Valley Community Center.

Sarbanes is a senior member of the Foreign Relations, Budget and Joint Economic committees, and is currently the ranking member of the Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee. In that capacity he chaired the hearings that led to the passage of the bipartisan Sarbanes-Oxley Act. The legislation is designed to reform the accounting industry and restore the investor confidence that had eroded following the Enron collapse.

First elected to the U.S. Senate in 1977, Sarbanes made Maryland history in November 2000 by winning re-election to an unprecedented fifth term.

The Salisbury native is the son of Greek immigrants, and he is a graduate of Princeton University, the University of Oxford, England, where he attended on a Rhodes Scholarship, and the Harvard School of Law.

The Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner is sponsored by the Garrett County Democratic Club. The cost to attend the event is $25 per person, and reservations may be made by calling Michael Bello at 301-533-3242.

Sportaerobic Team To Serve As AG Grand Marshal

The honorary title of Grand Marshal for the 2003 Autumn Glory Grand Feature Parade has been awarded to the Garrett County Sportaerobic Team, according to Asa McCain, chair of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce Autumn Glory Task Force. A group of 25 highly skilled young athletes, the Garrett County Sportaerobic Team has achieved national acclaim for five consecutive years under the leadership and coaching expertise of Brenda Brosnihan. The team will travel to Buenos Aires, Argentina, Oct. 2 to 4 to compete in another international competition.

"The members of this top-notch competitive performance group earned worldwide recognition for their county, state, and nation while capturing the title of 2003 World Junior Team Champions. For this achievement, among many others, the Autumn Glory Task Force selected these young people to represent Garrett County as Grand Marshal for our festival parade," McCain said.

Brosnihan praised the members of her team for not only their sportaerobic accomplishments, but also their accomplishments as individuals and citizens.

"As a coach I am proud to see that the discipline and commitment of being on a sportaerobic team is building confidence and poise among our team members. This confidence is being recognized as many of our athletes are showing outstanding achievements in academics, sporting events, talent competitions, pageants and many other areas of their lives. The life experiences for our team have been incredible," she said.

The Grand Feature Parade of more than 100 units of marching bands, clowns, floats, and drill teams will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 11, in Oakland. Early arrival is encouraged to assure access to the parade route. Vendors and entertainment are scheduled prior to the parade. For complete listings of other Autumn Glory events slated Oct. 8-12, persons may visit the Chamber of Commerce web site at www.garrettchamber.com.

WORLD CHAMPS REPRESENT HOMETOWN – The Garrett County Sportaerobic Team earned international recognition and praise by winning the 2003 World Junior Team Championship. Now they will be recognized by their hometown as the Grand Marshal for the 36th annual Autumn Glory Festival Parade slated for Saturday, Oct. 11, at 1 p.m. in Oakland. Representing the team in the photo above are, in row one from left to right, Paige Carr, Samantha Taylor, Abby Wildesen, Kellie Shotwell, and Jennifer Feaster; kneeling in row two are Jessica Warnick and Anna Keefer; in row three are Morgan Brosnihan, Alayna Gaither, Rachel Margroff, Kelsey Jones, and Coach Brenda Brosnihan; in row four are Kira Farley, Alissa Garland, and Stan Stewart. The team will hold a pep rally this Friday, Sept. 26, at Garrett College at 8 p.m. to honor the athletes. The pep rally is free to the public, but donations to offset expenses will be accepted. This will be the last opportunity for the public to show its support to these world champions.

Woman Injured Following Two-Vehicle Accident

An Oakland woman was injured after her vehicle was struck from behind as she was attempting to turn into a private drive along Maryland Highway near the intersection of Truesdale Road Saturday morning, according to Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Doris E. Junkins, 69, was transported by Southern Rescue Squad to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where she was treated for injuries.

William I. McClanahan, 57, Oakland, was also eastbound on Maryland Highway when he rearended Junkins' vehicle.

The collision caused the Junkins vehicle to spin and strike the eastbound ditch, police said.

Deer Park Community Volunteer Fire Department also responded and assisted at the scene.

In other police news, Harold A. Hillery, 42, Kingwood, W.Va., was arrested and charged with driving under the influence (DUI), driving while impaired (DWI), and DUI per se.

His vehicle was stopped after deputies observed the vehicle's license plate light was not working.

GC Narcotics Task Force Arrests Two On Drug Charges

Two McHenry residents were arrested on drug charges after a two-month-long investigation by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force.

Jacob Harman, 22, and Katie Graham, 21, were arrested and charged with possession of marijuana with intent to distribute, possession of marijuana, and possession of drug paraphernalia. Both were released on personal recognizance pending trial.

Task force personnel were assisted by uniform members of the Maryland State Police and Garrett County Sheriff's Office during the arrests, which occurred Friday at approximately 10:30 p.m. at a residence along Marsh Hill Road.

Man Arrested After Cashing Bad Checks

A Sharon, Pa., man was arrested following an investigation into two checks totaling $1,351.50 that were written on a closed account at WEPCO Federal Credit Union, according to Garrett Bureau of Investigation.

After reviewing the lobby's surveillance tapes, it was determined that Nathaniel Seth Jones, 19, cashed both checks in question. According to police, he was the account holder and admitted to knowing the account was closed when he wrote and passed the checks.

Jones was arrested in Oakland after turning himself in to authorities, and was charged with two counts of bad checks over $500 and two counts of theft over $500.

Beard said they were now well aware of the inconvenience of the bridge's closure. Where residents used to have four miles to drive, they now have at least 36 miles, he noted.

County engineer Dwight Emory said the state inspects the bridge every two years. The last time it was inspected was May 2002. He noted that the state was concerned with the bridge's beams cracking and breaking. "It's not just a matter of deterioration, but of heavy loads placed on it," he said.

Several of the residents voiced their concerns about the well being of the 20 or 30 families who live in the affected area during emergency situations. They noted that many of the residents are elderly.

"We're two miles from Bloomington and 30 miles from nowhere," said one resident, who was concerned about fire trucks and rescue squads reaching them in time now that the bridge is closed. The rescue personnel would now have to come from Deer Park, Bittinger, or Grantsville, rather than from nearby Bloomington.

Another resident asked if one lane of the old bridge could be left open for emergency equipment. Emory said his department had thought about that, but someone other than emergency personnel might drive across the bridge and it could collapse.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg stressed that once the inspectors made their recommendation, state law required that the bridge be closed. If the county allowed it to remain open, it would be liable if someone were injured while driving across the bridge.

Several residents were also concerned about the safety of students crossing the bridge. Bus driver Roland Murphy has to drive one busload of children down to the bridge, park that bus and escort the children across the bridge, where they all board another bus parked on the other side. The residents were worried that the students, some of whom are kindergarteners, would fall off the slippery steel bridge as they walk across it.

Gregg said the county would put plywood down or some other type of material would be installed on the bridge to make walking easier. In closing, he thanked the residents for coming to the meeting. "We appreciate your input," he said.

The temporary bridge will remain at the site until a new permanent bridge is built over Savage River. The county will be able to use the temporary bridge "again and again somewhere else in the county," Gregg noted. The roads department already has one temporary bridge that it uses during bridge replacement and repair work. That structure, however, is currently in use.

Hearing Held

hearing also learned that Deep Creek Sanitary District customers would be paying more for the expansion and upgrade of the system than was originally anticipated. Tonkovich said another $15 million would be needed for collection and conveyance. This would be added to an original estimate of $15.6 million for upgrades and expansion of the sewage treatment plant.

To pay for the debt service on a 20-year loan for all the improvements to the system, it now appears that current customers, who have both water and sewer service, would pay $818.13 a year.

Two public hearings have been held on expanding the Deep Creek Sanitary District. Some of the McHenry residents who attended those hearings also attended the master plan hearing on Tuesday.

As at the other hearings, some of the residents voiced their objections to being required to hook up to Deep Creek's public system, especially since they already have adequate private systems. Some residents already on the system have also objected to having to pay for its upgrades.

At Tuesday's hearing, however, one McHenry resident gave the commissioners 88 signatures of Marsh Hill area residents who want to be included in the Deep Creek Sanitary District.

The commissioners will keep the record open on the Garrett County Water and Sewer Master Plan and expanding the district until next Tuesday, Sept. 30.

More information about the proposed expansion of the Deep Creek Sanitary District is available online at garrettcounty.org on the Public Utilities page.

CONSTITUTION WEEK PROCLAIMED – Martha Kahl, registrar, and Dorothy Cathell, regent, of the Youghiogheny Glades Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution recently appeared before the Garrett County commissioners as they signed a proclamation designating the week of Sept. 17-23 as Constitution Week. This marks the 216th anniversary of the drafting of the Constitution of the United States by the Constitutional Convention. The proclamation asked citizens to "reaffirm the ideals the framers of the Constitution had in 1787 by vigilantly protecting the freedoms guaranteed to us through this guardian of our liberties, remembering that lost rights [may] never be regained." STEALING IS STEALING...

Back in the news recently is the controversy surrounding the downloading of music off the Internet, one of those practices that is technically illegal, but done by millions of people. The sale of music on compact disks has taken a dramatic downturn over the past year or so, the reason being the aforementioned piracy. CD distributors have dramatically slashed prices in recent weeks to try to improve sales. However, even if the prices are cut in half, which is what some distributors have done, free is always going to be the preferred price.

We wholeheartedly agree that the downloading of music off the Internet is stealing, pure and simple. Why is it that we tend to relate thievery only to the stealing of items one can hold in his hand, or put in his pocket, or drive down the road? We all agree that taking an item that belongs to someone else, without permission, is stealing, whether it is money, a car, jewelry, or a bicycle off the front porch. We would also include a sculpture or a painting in that list. A man who builds a piece of furniture and then has it stolen is without doubt a victim of crime, for which there should be punishment. Why is it then that we don't think of music in the same vein?

Music that is copyrighted is no different than that piece of furniture or the bicycle on the porch. It is possessed solely by the composer/lyricist. The time and effort going into creating it are often every bit as extensive as for the furniture maker. It is private property and thus should be protected by law.

We know that most of the people stealing this music are not common criminals who would just as likely steal the bicycle. But most of them at least have some sense that it is "not right." So we do not view these lawsuits as frivolous, even though a slap on the wrist for the first offense should probably be the punishment. The suits are important so that our society can get it through its occasionally thick skull that stealing is stealing.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

This is a new experience for me. Like everyone else, I have my opinions, but have never had the urge to express them in this fashion.

I have recently found out that there is going to be an open meeting, sometime in the near future, about an ordinance regarding domestic cats. We have a leash law for dogs, but no laws regarding cats.

Many people have kindly suggested numerous ways I can cope with my cat problems. Cat hair on the cushions of my porch furniture can be brushed off, the cushions washed, etc. My small modest herb garden would not, in all probability, be used as a litter box if I provided a separate litter box and cleaned it regularly, or I could make a special bed and plant catnip for the little creatures. Why? I don't own a cat.

It is ludicrous to think I should have to clean up after animals I do not own. I understand I have to clean up after chipmunks destroy my potted plants, etc., but I should not have to deal with other people's domestic animals.

One quote I have been getting is "Cats should roam free." I don't think so! My herb garden was destroyed by cats. I tried red pepper and chili powder, and it worked, but as we know it rains frequently.

I don't own a cat, don't want a cat, and I certainly should not have them forced on me.

I am requesting that anyone interested in this new ordinance watch for the announcement and try to attend the open meeting. Responsible cat owners should welcome laws that would protect their pets.

Thank you,
Ann E. Hetrick

To The Editor:

During the past few decades, we have seen advances in treatment and preventive efforts as science contributed to an improved understanding of mental health and mental illness. However, many persons with mental health problems do not obtain the services they need. Not only are appropriate mental health services financially inaccessible to many Americans, but also the stigma associated with mental illness prevents many people from seeking help.

Misinformation, as well as stigmatizing attitudes and practices, are barriers to providing and receiving competent and effective mental health treatment. For this reason the Depression and Related Affective Disorders Association (DRADA) of Garrett County is hosting a Mental Health Fair at the Oakland Wal-Mart, Oct. 4, from 10 a.m. till 8 p.m., to commemorate Mental Illness Awareness Week.

The purpose of the Garrett County Mental Health Fair is to raise consciousness by educating all members of the community, including consumers, family members, providers, and educators.

Those participating in the event are DRADA of Garrett County, the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill (NAMI) of Garrett County, the National Institute of Mental Health, Maryland Mental Hygiene Administration's Youth Crisis Hotline, Lighthouse, Astra Zeneca Pharmaceuticals, Phizer Pharmaceuticals, Solvay Pharmaceuticals, LifeSkills Psychiatric Rehabilitation, the Mental Health Center, and there may be more.

As we work hard on our Mental Health Fair, we must always think back on the worst times that we and our loved ones have experienced, trying to work through the maze of the system and deal with the loss caused by these tragic illnesses. This will reinforce the fact that any sacrifice we make now is worth it. If we can educate people and end stigma, thereby opening doors for help, it will be a giant step on the road to equality.

To the Editor:

The Gorman VFD would like to thank the following citizens for attending our meeting on Monday night with concerns about our decision in regard to our dining hall: Linda Kyle, Linda Skeweris, and Betty Dalton. We also would like to thank Wanda Riley and Melanie Mayne for their support and understanding at the meeting. We sincerely hope the facts that were presented to you at the meeting will clear up any questions you previously had. We only wish you would have come to us before all the misleading information was carried throughout the county.

Please allow us at this time to assure everyone in our immediate running area and our mutual aid areas that this department is now and will continue to be at your service for your emergency and medical needs. This company was founded as a fire department and later in the years our medical services were added. This is what we strive to be best at so that in return we can be there for you when you are in need. As for the dining hall, yes in the past years it was used to raise money for the department to help defray some of our expenses, but in the past several years this has not been the case. In fact, it has become a liability to us instead of an asset, therefore, we were faced with making a decision.

The choice we made, as always with our sole purpose of being a fire/emergency medical department in mind, was to change our current liability, which was the dining hall, to a once again asset. This we have accomplished, and now we can use the money we are gaining to purchase much-needed gear and equipment to continue our service to our community. As we mentioned before, the department is continuing its same operations as before – services such as elections, rabies clinics, brown bag, etc., can be moved to our engine station instead of being at the dining hall.

Mrs. Kyle, we don't know if you are going to continue this crusade against us or not, but the only request we have to you is please have all your facts intact before you continue. Our request to the community is, if you have any further questions regarding this decision or for that matter any questions at all regarding our department, please come to us.

We have a meeting every other Monday, and you are welcome to present any questions you might have. This department does not have anything to hide from you, and we do not do things in secret behind closed doors, as we have been accused. Once again, please come and get your facts from us instead of letting gossip swarm throughout the neighborhood and darken the thoughts of everyone.

May God bless each and every one of you and keep you safe.

To the Editor:

This is in response to the Bill Thomas letter featured in the Sept. 18 edition of The Republican. Mr. Thomas called the American people "bushwacked" and then proceeded to back his statement with slanted left-wing opinions that are unable to be backed with truth. So you oppose the war and occupation in Iraq. Why? The cost? Consider the cost of not fighting this war. The war was to liberate an oppressed society of people and to forever eliminate the threat from the regime of Saddam Hussein. How could any American not support a president who is willing to defend our great nation, instead of a coward like the previous Clinton administration who refused to take any action after the first WTC bombing and other terrorist acts? The peaceful approach of "they haven't bothered us yet, or how are they hurting us now so let them alone" is over. Thousands of Americans died on Sept. 11, 2001, and not eliminating a possible threat or those who help those who pose a treat is ridiculous. Why wait for another attack?

Now that Iraq has been liberated, should we just abandon the people of Iraq?

This thought is wrong and inhumane. We must help rebuild Iraq and in doing so we will benefit with freedom in the Middle East and better security for America. The occupation is costing us less as a percent of the GDP than Vietnam ever did. World War II cost 130% of our GDP at that time. Iraq will never cost that much.

As for our allies, like France and Germany, they owe their freedom to us. Germany was ruled by Adolph Hitler and France was taken over by Germany. Without America, our so-called allies would all be speaking German and live under Nazi rule. We helped rebuild them and they need to help us rebuild Iraq so it has the same opportunities that they had. Back your comments about the cost with actual facts, not huge numbers that scare Mr. and Mrs. Average Joe into buying your false truths. Also, Vietnam never posed a threat to America's shores.

As for the upper 5% getting most of the tax cut, that may be true in this respect. Those who make the most, pay the most. It is wrong to tax a person less or more because he has bettered himself via the good old American way. Free enterprise and all are equal. Nothing or nobody is stopping you or me from getting our fair share of the pie. Raise taxes and lose jobs.

Education is a state and local responsibility. Your numbers on us spending more in Iraq than on education are simply untrue. Local and state tax dollars make up most of the education funding and that allows for local control. The federal government has a constitutional responsibility to provide national security. Would you rather the states or local towns do that? The roles of state and federal government must somehow be blurred in your mind.

As for the campaign contributors, you can contribute to any campaign that you support and if you get those who agree with you to contribute, you could have your way. The wrong way nonetheless, but your way. And if you're not happy, vote and participate in our democracy and suggest a solution. Don't just complain.

To the Editor:

In October 1981, the National Coalition Against Domestic Violence observed the "First Day of Unity." The purpose of this day was to connect advocates who were working to end domestic violence in their communities. Eventually, the Day of Unity evolved to include a special week of local, state, and national activities. These events varied among communities; however, three main goals emerged: mourning those who have died as a result of domestic violence, celebrating the lives of survivors, and recognizing and connecting the many dedicated domestic violence advocates across the nation. In 1987, October was named Domestic Violence Awareness Month, with the beginning of the first national, toll-free hotline.

Since then, domestic violence agencies everywhere have utilized the month of October to engage in massive public awareness campaigns in an effort to prevent and end abuse. The Dove Center and Garrett County Family Violence Coalition would like to take this opportunity to invite the community to engage in our awareness activities.

On Wednesday, Oct. 1, we plan to begin Domestic Violence Awareness Month with our second annual Awareness Ceremony, which will be held at the Oakland Train Station, beginning at 5:15 p.m. Activities in the ceremony will include the Silent Witness Display, which is a mobile, wooden sculpture, representing adults and children whose lives have been devastated by domestic violence.

The Clothesline Project will also be displayed. This project initially began in Cape Cod in 1990, to allow survivors to tell their stories of victimization by decorating T-shirts in a way that represents their experiences. The shirts are then displayed for the public in an effort to put a human face on the statistics surrounding domestic violence and sexual assault. Families and friends of victims may create T-shirts as well.

Pandora's Box, a local theatrical group, will be performing as part of the event, and for the first time, we will recognize a community member with the Outstanding Dedication To Assisting Victims Award.

This event will also serve as the beginning of the Purple Ribbon Campaign. Community members are encouraged to show a visible gesture of support for victims and survivors of domestic violence by wearing a purple ribbon throughout the month. The greater the number of purple ribbons seen in the community, the more powerful the message that domestic violence will not be tolerated. Purple ribbons will also be available at the Dove Center business office for those unable to attend the ceremony.

We look forward to having community members join us for a fall evening in downtown Oakland to commemorate a very worthy cause. Refreshments will be served during the event. For more information about this event, or Dove Center services, please call 301-334-6255.

LE DIVORCE

Rated PG-13 - Running Time: 1:57 - Released 8/29/03

The latest from the famous partnership of Indian-born producer Ismail Merchant and American director James Ivory (not to mention their longtime screenwriter Ruth Prawer Jhabvala), Le Divorce again showcases the notable abilities of the creative team responsible for such acclaimed period pieces as A Room With A View, Howard's End, and The Remains Of The Day. While Le Divorce does not attain the excellence of those films' interpersonal relationships, it certainly features an intelligent story complemented by fine work by a dizzying array of gifted actors, a combination which has become a standard prerequisite for Merchant/Ivory productions. Starring Naomi Watts, who showed us her impressive ability in David Lynch's freaky 2001 film Mulholland Drive, and the effervescent Kate Hudson, it tells the story (based on the bestselling book by Diane Johnson) of two American sisters who learn separate lessons about the price of love in present-day Paris, but it also functions as a sort of comparative study on the differing mores of French vs. American society. While it contains occasional textual flaws, like some unnecessarily obvious expository dialogue, and occasional acting flaws, like people trying to find a way to deliver said dialogue convincingly, and it strains for a long time to find likable characters, this is for the most part a well-performed and engaging film, especially compared to what else is out there right now.

When Isabel Walker (Hudson) sets off from her home in California for a prolonged visit to her pregnant sister Roxanne de Persand (Watts) in Paris, she doesn't realize that she is walking into the middle of a marital breakup. Even as she arrives, Roxanne's French husband Charles-Henri (Melvil Poupaud) is walking out the door, leaving his wife, their young daughter Gennie (Esmée Buchet-Deak), and the unborn baby Roxanne is carrying. Although the situation saddens Isabel, she can't help but enjoy the Parisian lifestyle, and she soon gets a job organizing the literary papers of noted liberal American poet and women's activist Olivia Pace (Glenn Close), who is donating them to the University of Tulsa. Meanwhile she falls in love with a scruffy Frenchman named Yves (Romain Duris), who also works for Pace. Her affair with him is put on hold, however, when she becomes attracted to a wealthy diplomat named Edgar Cossett (Thierry Lhermitte), a politician with the sexual appetites of Bill Clinton and the politics of George W. Bush. But better looking than either. And he's also the brother of Charles-Henri's propriety-obsessed mother (Leslie Caron).

Isabel's romantic pursuits could be considered the typical adventures of any young woman in Paris, but trouble starts when Roxanne's in-law family seeks legal counsel regarding the separation of property between her and Charles-Henri. The dispute particularly concerns a beautiful painting of Ste. Ursula, the patron saint of young girls, which may or may not have been painted by the famous 17th-century French artist Georges de La Tour (and therefore could be worth millions). The painting, given to Charles-Henri and Roxanne as a wedding present by her parents (Sam Waterston, Stockard Channing), was a Walker family heirloom for generations, but since it was a gift to the couple, his family claims joint ownership. Soon all the above family members and others join together for a strained summit meeting on the situation, culminating in an ill-fated trip to the Eiffel Tower.

Although this film has its lighthearted moments, it probably shouldn't be seen by anyone going through a painful separation, as it seems mostly to be about people being careless with each other's hearts. Few of the characters are really likable people, as most are either obsessed with money, appearances, or themselves, and therefore it is somewhat difficult to bond with any of them. However, the beautiful scenery of Paris is presented with the traditional style of a Merchant/Ivory production, and although this is not a period piece, it is clear the wardrobe department was doing its best to provide clothing to counteract the character problem, offering a wide variety of garments showcasing the versatility of Hudson's fabulous derrière. Hudson is of course her cute, bubbly self, and even when her butt is offscreen, she carries herself admirably and reaches some emotional colors which betray her underrated talent for real acting. Watts is similarly effective; although her character is less prominent and she spends most of the film being hurt, angry, and/or weepy, while growing in size all the time, she is able to achieve a subtlety of behavior that can be quite arrestingly real.

The film's conclusion turns out much more happily than most divorces probably do, but, well, Paris is the city of light, isn't it? ★★★★

"SOUPER" SUPPER SLATED – Grantsville Elementary School will hold a "Souper" Supper on Oct. 3 from 4:30 to 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Grantsville Elementary will receive $5,000 from the Campbell's Soup Company. That money plus the proceeds from the dinner will go toward the reading program. The menu will consist of a variety of Campbell's soups, crackers, hot dogs, chili dogs, sloppy joes, dessert, and coffee or punch. The cost for adults is $3, for students, $2.50, and children under 4 eat free. There will also be door prizes, "Souper Soup Baskets," cake walks, and entertainment by Christopher Jones. Also during the supper there will be raffle tickets for the quilt which has been created by Minnie Bittinger, a past cafeteria worker at Grantsville Elementary School. The quilt tickets will be sold at $1 each or six for $5. Pictured above, standing with several varieties of soup, dinnerware, and the quilt are, left to right, Jones, Marlene Perkins, Linda Buckel, principal, and Marsha Swauger. Interested persons may call the school for reservations at 301-895-5173 or 301-746-8662.

Baltimore Man Sentenced For Cocaine Charge

A recent Garrett County District Court hearing resulted in a one-year sentence, seven months of which was suspended, for a Baltimore resident after he pleaded guilty to cocaine possession.

Reuben Levi Parrish II, 22, was also placed on two years' supervised probation by Judge Ralph M. Burnett, while the state's attorney declined to prosecute additional charges of possession of cocaine with the intent to distribute, and possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia. Parrish's June arrest by the Maryland State Police occurred when a trooper observed several individuals acting suspiciously in the parking lot of the Keyser's Ridge McDonald's. As a trooper began speaking to the group, he observed Parrish surreptitiously inserting several small plastic bags into his mouth. When the suspect complied with a request to spit the bags out, the trooper found that they were filled with cocaine.

Gary Babilya, 42, Yukon, Pa., pleaded guilty to charges of possession of cocaine, second degree assault, and driving while intoxicated, and was handed an eight-month sentence, all but one month of which was suspended, fined $1,055, and placed on one year of supervised probation. His July arrest resulted from a traffic stop during which a state trooper observed a bag of suspected marijuana sticking out of his pocket. As Babilya was being processed at the McHenry barrack, he was found to be carrying several bags of cocaine, then he initiated a scuffle with barrack personnel and kicked a state trooper during the incident. Additional charges of possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia, as well as several traffic offenses, were not prosecuted.

Raymond Duane Miller Jr., 28, Accident, pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence, a charge filed in conjunction with additional unprosecuted accusations of second degree assault, resisting arrest, and numerous traffic offenses. He was handed a 60-day sentence, all but 14 days of which was suspended, fined $300, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service. The February 2002 incident that led to Miller's arrest took place during a traffic stop, when he reportedly kicked a state trooper as he was being taken into custody for DUI.

Benjamin Morgan Evans, 21, Cincinnati, pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana and was handed a 30-day sentence, all but two days of which was suspended, fined $200, placed on six months' unsupervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service. State troopers arrested Evans after observing a glass smoking device located in plain sight in his car during a May traffic stop. An ensuing search uncovered two bags of marijuana in the vehicle.

David Thomas Harter, 24, Norfolk, Va., pleaded guilty to marijuana possession and was handed a 30-day sentence, all but one day of which was suspended, fined $300, placed on six months' unsupervised probation, and ordered to complete 40 hours of community service. His May arrest stemmed from a traffic stop that had led to the discovery of marijuana in the car he was riding in. The driver, Kimberly Michelle Tharp, 35, Norfolk, was not prosecuted on possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

Frank Dale Andrews, 65, Star City, W.Va., pleaded guilty to destruction of property and was handed a 60-day suspended sentence, was searched and the materials needed to manufacture methamphetamine were found. A marijuana plant, drug paraphernalia, and a handgun were also found during the search, according to State's Attorney Lisa Thayer Welch.

When asking the court to incarcerate Hebb at the Division of Corrections, Thayer Welch outlined for the court the three possible outcomes because of his activities.

"If Hebb successfuily manufactured methamphetamine, we have on the street a very dangerous narcotic drug," she said. "If Hebb is not successful, people who think they've purchased meth are going to use even more the next time, causing an overdose situation, because they think it has no effect on them; or, Hebb could have created a substance that was not meth, but could be other wise toxic."

The state's attorney reminds residents that they can report suspected drug activity to the Task Force at 301-387-9566 or through the Garrett County Sheriff's Office or Maryland State Police.

ejected from the vehicle and suffering more serious injuries.

Friend, who was the vehicle's sole occupant, was charged with failure to control speed to avoid a collision. The owner of the car, Valencia Denise Norwood, 28, also of Grantsville, will be charged with failure to have the required insurance on the vehicle.

READY TO RIDE SAFELY – More than a dozen area youngsters were given bicycle helmets recently at Taco Bell in an effort to reduce bicycle injuries throughout Garrett County, according to John Sines, Oakland police chief. As part of an arrangement with Oakland's Taco Bell, Sines secured funding for 25 helmets that were presented to youngsters who might otherwise be unable to afford them. "We are grateful to Taco Bell's Good Neighborhood Program for responding to our effort to make bicycling safe for our kids." As an added incentive for bikers to wear helmets, Sines said his officers have been given hundreds of coupons for one free taco to give to every biker they see wearing a helmet, regardless of age. According to Bill Hancock, executive director of Taco Bell's Good Neighborhood Program, this is one of several community projects that Taco Bell will support in future months, and special Oakland Thursdays at Taco Bell are being designed to generate revenue for local schools, and civic and charitable organizations. Persons may call 1-888-306-TACO for more information. Pictured above are the recipients of the new helmets with Sines, on the left, and Hancock, on the right.

Tellers Of Tall Tales Wanted For AGF Event

Tellers of "tall tales" are being sought for the annual Autumn Glory Tall Tale Story and Book Festival, set this year for Oct. 11. The event is hosted by the local AAUW (American Association of University Women).

The schedule will be as follows: 9 a.m. for student tellers, and 10:30-12:15 for adults. The event will again take place at St. Paul's United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall, located at 318 E. Oak Street in Oakland. All proceeds will benefit the AAUW's scholarship fund.

Students, seniors, and adults are invited to retell a tall tale or to create a tall tale of their own to share at the festival, according to Dr. Gail Herman, organizer of the event.

"Remember, most folktales are pretty 'tall' in themselves," Herman said. "Exaggerations are in order about vegetables, machines, weather and climate, pets, and human abilities. However, don't overlook the truth. Truth can be stranger than fiction."

Tales should be no longer than 10 minutes for adults and between 1 to 5 minutes for children.

The guest performer at the festival will be Dr. Sally Stephenson, a musician who has produced CDs and tapes and has performed in many states, Herman said. She plays guitar, flute, and harmonica, among other instruments.

"Dr. Stephenson will add musical moments to the festival between stories," Herman noted.

The fee to participate is $4 for adults and $2 for students. The scholarship fund supported by these proceeds will help a local Garrett County student attend Garrett College.

To register as a teller or for more information, persons may call 301-387-9199 and give names and phone numbers. Dr. Herman will return the calls.

Hoppenthaler To Give Poetry Reading At GC

John Hoppenthaler, a published poet who also serves as author Toni Morrison's assistant, will present a poetry reading at Garrett College at noon on Oct. 1. The presentation has been arranged by the college's Arts and Sciences Division in conjunction with the Office of the Dean of Academic and Student Affairs.

The public is invited to attend the reading, which will be held in Room 305 of the Continuing Education Building at the college.

Hoppenthaler, who currently lives in New York, received a master of fine arts degree in poetry writing from Virginia Commonwealth University in 1988 and has done graduate study at West Virginia University's department of English. His poetry has appeared or is forthcoming in Ploughshares, The Southern Review, Kansas Quarterly, New Letters, Chelsea, Tar River Poetry, Pleiades, Connecticut Review, Poet Lore, the Bloomsbury Review, Margie, Two Rivers Review, the anthologies September 11, 2001: American Writers Respond, and Wild, Sweet Notes II: More West Virginia Poetry, Blackbird, Yale Anglers' Journal, and elsewhere.

His reviews, interviews, and essays regularly appear in such journals as Chelsea, Arts & Letters, The Bellingham Review, Pleiades, and Kestrel, the journal of literature and art published by Fairmont State College. Hoppenthaler also serves as poetry editor for Kestrel.

Among the poet's honors are an Individual Artist Grant from the West Virginia Commission on the Arts, a fellowship from the Virginia Center for the Creative Arts, a foreign travel grant from West Virginia University, and 14 Pushcart Prize nominations.

His first book of poetry, Lives Of Water, was published by Carnegie Mellon University Press in 2003. He is currently editing a collection of essays and interviews on the work of Jean Valentine, for which he has signed an advance contract with Wesleyan University Press.

Garrett College students who attend this event may receive co-curricular credit. For further information, persons may contact Sally Staley, assistant to the dean of student and academic affairs, at 301-387-3102, or Dr. Virginia Broaddus, director of arts and sciences, at 301-387-3077.

Lavine To Lead Watercolor Class For Arts Council

The Garrett County Arts Council will present a weekend workshop on watercolor painting with Alexis Lavine on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 18 and 19, with each session scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Saturday session will be held at Garrett College, and the Sunday session will be held at the Garrett County Visitors Center in McHenry.

"This will be our second workshop with Alexis this year," noted Steve Schlosnagle, director of the Garrett County Arts Council. "Participants in her first workshop gave her remarkably enthusiastic reviews for quality of instruction and support. We're delighted that she's accepted our invitation to return."

Lavine is co-owner of the Two Sisters Gallery in Greensboro, N.C., where she recently moved after owning and operating the Gallery on Greene Street in Cumberland for 10 years.

She began her artistic career with a master's degree in medical illustration from the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, but turned her full attention to watercolor painting when she moved to western Maryland in 1980. Her award-winning paintings have been displayed in numerous juried and gallery exhibitions, and they hang in private and corporate collections throughout the country and abroad, Schlosnagle said.

The enrollment fee for the watercolor weekend is $75, and the registration deadline is Oct. 11. Participants should have some prior experience in watercolor painting and must provide their own painting materials and supplies.

Additional information is available at the Gallery along Alder Street in Oakland, or persons may call the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-334-6580.

Heselbach's Art Featured At Gallery Exhibit

A new exhibit at the Garrett County Arts Council's gallery along Alder Street in Oakland features abstract acrylic paintings by Swanton artist Carl Heselbach.

"This artist's subtle magic with color has transformed our special exhibit room into an area for quiet contemplation and introspection," said Steve Schlosnagle, the council's executive director. "Heselbach's work reflects a mature experience with the properties of hue, value, and saturation — the basic properties of color and perception."

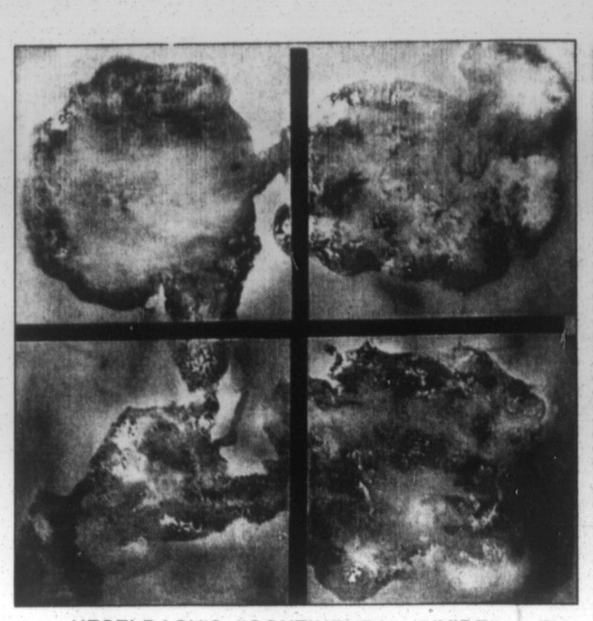
The arts council will host a reception for Heselbach and other participating Gallery artists on Thursday, Oct. 2, 6-9 p.m. The public is invited.

"I work primarily in acrylics mixed with polymer to achieve the versatility and aesthetics I desire," said Heselbach. "I am more concerned with arranging the visual elements in my paintings — colors, shapes, textures, and space — than with the re-creation of particular scenes. By eliminating the subject matter of my pictures, the viewer can concentrate on the qualities of such elements as color and texture."

Heselbach studied art at the Rinehart Graduate School of Sculpture, the Maryland Institute of Art, Le Millet School of Art, Garrett College, and Baltimore City College. Before displaying in Oakland, he exhibited in shows and galleries at Atlantic City and Cherry Hill, N.J.; at Georgetown in Washington, D.C.; at Cumberland, McHenry, and Baltimore; at New Hope, Pa.; at Rehoboth Beach, Del.; at Miami, Fla.; and elsewhere.

"It is my philosophy," noted Heselbach, "that colors in art, like society in life, do not function in isolation from one another but rather as part of a whole."

Heselbach's paintings will be on display at the Gallery through Oct. 25. Additional information about his featured exhibit of abstract acrylics and the Oct. 2 reception at the Gallery is available by calling the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-334-6580.



HESELBACH'S "CONTINENTAL DIVIDE" – The Garrett County Arts Council will host a reception for abstract acrylic painter Carl Heselbach and other regional artists at the Gallery along Alder Street in Oakland on Thursday evening, Oct. 2, from 6 to 9 p.m. The public is invited. His work titled "Continental Divide" is pictured above. "By eliminating the subject matter of my pictures, the viewer can concentrate on the qualities of such elements as color and texture," said the artist. His featured exhibit will be on display at the Gallery through October 25. See story.

SOUTHERN BAND TAKES FIRST – The Southern High School Marching Band came home with several first-place trophies Saturday after competing in the Music in the Mountains band competition, held at Preston High School in Kingwood, W.Va. The band took first place in Group I with a score of 75.6, topping competitors Northern High School, which earned a 73.75, and Nicholas County, which took third with 71.1. Southern also garnered the awards for Best Percussion, Best Auxiliary, and Best Drum Major. The band is pictured above during the competition, and Kasey Bell, drum major, is shown at left during her award-winning performance. "We are continuing to grow with this show," said Director Richard Clever. "We will be adding new details to it, as well as refining and fine-tuning what we already do. As our students get more comfortable with the demands of the music and the drill, we expect to get better each week." In all, 14 bands in three divisions competed in Saturday's show, and Fairmont (W.Va.) High School took the Best Overall trophy. The band will next compete in the Allegany Band Spectacular in Cumberland on Sept. 27. The show will begin at 5:30 p.m. Photos by Dave Bell.

"His figurative works explore masking and superficiality, as do the room interiors that, while beautifully executed and somewhat benign, suggest an undercurrent of substance," said a spokesperson for the Stage Gallery. "These images become metaphorical to life in that what is apparent on the surface may indeed only be a veneer. These hyper-detailed prints suggest the complexities of life and the artist's narrative style allow viewers to interject themselves into an unfolding drama."

He continues exhibiting his work internationally as well as in western Maryland and surrounding areas.

The exhibition runs until Oct. 5. The gallery is located in the Stage Theater building at 2222 Hewlett Avenue in Merrick. The public is invited to view the works and meet the artists at an artists' reception on the closing day, Sunday, Oct. 5, from 6 to 8 p.m. Regular gallery hours are 1 to 7 p.m. weekdays, and weekends from 12:30 to 3 p.m. or by appointment. FSU To Host REO Speedwagon At Homecoming

The music of the 1970s and '80s will return when the Frostburg State University's Cultural Events Series and University Programming Council present the band REO Speedwagon on Saturday, Oct. 18, at 9 p.m. in the FSU Cordts Physical Education Center Main Arena.

The concert is part of FSU's 2003 "Blast from the Past" homecoming celebration.

REO has been on the road and recording non-stop since 1970, with 17 critically acclaimed albums and 13 Top 40 singles, including "Can't Fight This Feeling," "Keep On Loving You," "Time For Me To Fly," "Hi Infidelity," "Take It on the Run," and "Back on the Road Again."

"We started out as a bar band, playing as fast and loud as we could," said REO's bass guitarist, Bruce Hall.

After the band's original guitarist, Gary Richrath, and drummer Alan Gratzer left the band in the late 1980s, REO Speedwagon came close to ending, but was convinced by fans to "keep on truckin'," Hall said.

Besides Hall, current members include lead singer/songwriter Kevin Cronin, keyboard player and founding member Neal Doughty, drummer Bryan Hitt, and lead guitarist Dave Amato.

This show is presented in partnership with the FSU Alumni Association.

Ticket prices for the general public range from $25 to $45.

To order tickets, persons may call the CES box office Monday through Friday between the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The office can be reached at 301-687-3137 or toll free at 1-866-TIXX-CES, or visited on-line at ces.frostburg.edu.

Gallery To Celebrate Success With Oct. 2 Public Reception

More than 150 regional artists have exhibited work at the Gallery along Alder Street in Oakland since the Garrett County Arts Council began the gallery project in July 2000. To mark the achievement, the arts council will host a public reception on Thursday, Oct. 2, 6-9 p.m. All participating artists and friends of the Gallery are invited to attend, said Steven Schlosnagle, executive director of the arts council.

The purpose of the Gallery is to support artists and artisans and to provide a space where buyers can view and purchase local and regional artwork.

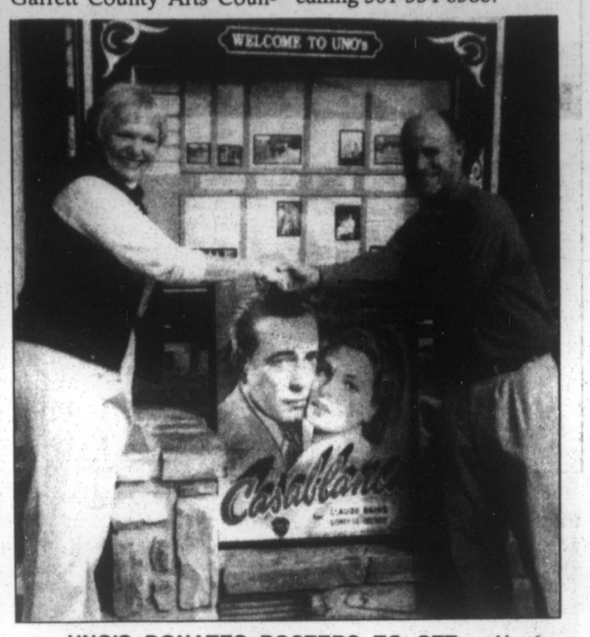
"We're delighted with the public's response to this endeavor," said Schlosnagle. "The creative quality of work presented by local artists continually improves, and we're confident that we'll soon exceed $40,000 in annual sales. The Gallery has been good for artists and artisans — and good for the community."

A hallmark of the Gallery showcase is reflected in its diversity, Schlosnagle added. Exhibited work includes paintings, photographs, stained glass, wood carvings, pottery and ceramics, knitted goods, turned wood, iron work, needlepoint, dough crafts, blown and fused glass, jewelry, baskets, woven rugs, wall hangings, and more.

Gallery exhibits are changed three times each year to refresh the collection, the director said. Featured exhibits of individual artists are rotated more frequently — every six to eight weeks. In addition, two exhibits by students attending Garrett County schools are presented each year.

The Gallery is operated as a special project of the Garrett County Arts Council, a non-profit organization governed by a volunteer board of directors.

Normal Gallery hours are Monday-Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Additional information about the Oct. 2 reception is available by calling 301-334-6580.



UNO'S DONATES POSTERS TO OTT – Uno's, Deep Creek Lake, recently donated movie and Broadway posters that have adorned the walls of the restaurant since it opened in 1990 to Our Town Theatre. The framed posters will be auctioned during the Autumn Glory Festival on Sunday, Oct. 12, at 1 p.m. at the theatre in Oakland. Sealed bids will be accepted until noon that day. The posters may be viewed Friday, Oct. 10, and Saturday, Oct. 11, between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the theatre. Pictured, left to right is Tiddie Wheeler accepting the donation on behalf of OTT from Bill Ingram, Uno's manager.

Amanda Gregory Becomes Bride Of Timothy Klotz In October Ceremony

Amanda Leanne Gregory and Timothy Douglas Klotz were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony held on Oct. 5, 2002, at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland.

The bride is the daughter of Jeff and Janet Gregory, Oakland, and the groom is the son of Doug and Bonnie Klotz of Friendsville.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents.

Serving as maid of honor was Diana Mayfield, friend of the bride. The bridesmaids were Angie Savage, sister of the groom; and Susan Mayfield, Jennifer Teagarden, and Misty Sereno, all friends of the bride.

The best man was Sean Savage, cousin of the groom. The groomsmen were Kevin Savage, brother-in-law of the groom; Luke Keller, cousin of the groom; and Jason Beitzel and Jesse Deniker, friends of the groom.

The flower girl was Montana Mahler, cousin of the groom, and the ring-bearers were Warren and Wyatt Wright, nephews of the groom.

The bride wore a designer gown of imported Italian satin featuring a sleeveless, fitted bodice with spaghetti straps. The straps were beaded with tiny pearls and sequins. The entire bodice was embellished with criss-crossed beads, pearls, and sequins. The Basque waistline held a full skirt that flowed into a cathedral-length train. The skirt and entire hemline of the gown and train were trimmed with matching lace, edged with pearls and sequins.

Following the ceremony, a dinner reception was held at the McHenry House at Wisp. The couple have established residence in Friendsville.

Miss Wade To Wed Mr. Graham

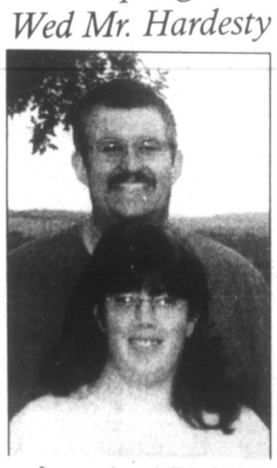
Daniel and Lois Wade, Swanton, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Erica Susanne to Scott Wayne Graham, son of Howard "Bill" and Nancy Graham of McHenry.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany College of Maryland with a degree in psychology and is currently employed at the Mental Health Center of Western Maryland. She is the maternal granddaughter of Delbert "Pete" and Norma Broadwater, and the paternal granddaughter of Irene Saville and the late Kenneth Wade.

The prospective groom is a graduate of West Virginia University with a degree in chemical engineering and is employed at MeadWestvaco. He is the maternal grandson of Alicia Jean Vickers and the late Elmer Vickers, and the paternal grandson of Hazel Graham and the late Charles Graham.

Invitations have been sent for the wedding, which will be held in October 2003.

Miss Keplinger To Wed Mr. Hardesty



Leonard and Ethel Keplinger, Burlington, W.Va., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Christina Kaye to Kristofer Scott Hardesty, son of Kenneth and Leona Hardesty, Oakland.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Keyser High School, Potomac State College, and Allegany College of Maryland. She is employed as a certified occupational therapy assistant with Peak Rehab Inc., Mtn. Lake Park.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Northern High School and several technical schools. He is employed as a plumber with A.D. Naylor Contracting, Oakland.

An Oct. 4, 2003, wedding has been planned at Stemple Ridge United Methodist Church, Aurora, W.Va., followed by a reception in the church's pavillion. Invitations have been sent, but all friends and family are welcome to attend.

Marriage Permits Recently Issued

Seven couples recently applied for their marriage licenses, according to David Martin, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court. Two couples requested that their names not be published.

Michael Wayne Deem, 23, and Marissa Dawn Winans, 17, both of Oakland.

Daniel Paul Martin, 28, and Melissa Lynn Nixon, 28, both of Deer Park.

Christopher Quinn Feimer, 32, and Amy Elizabeth Mann, 31, both of Baltimore.

Charles Joseph Trader, 25, and Jamie Lynn Taylor, 27, both of Davis, W.Va.

Charles Edward Farley, 65, and Kathy Diann Toms, 43, both of Oakland.

Ram Golfers Take Second In Region; Qualify For Md. Tourn.

The Southern High School golf team fought its way to the runner-up spot in the Maryland West Region IA/IIA Tournament Tuesday on a soggy Blackrock Country Club course in Hagerstown. SHS's team score of 328 was just two strokes off Walkersville's winning tally, but, more importantly, the fine Southern showing allowed all four Ram regional team members to qualify for next month's Maryland State Championship Tourney.

"We're really proud of our kids and happy for them," Southern coach Jeff Friend said after the match. "We really didn't expect to qualify for states as a team, but it will be great to have the guys playing together in the championship, because they support each other real well."

SHS junior Matt Skidmore carded a 78 for the day, good for fourth place overall on the par-72 course. Fellow Rams Travis Friend and Josh Lear tied for eighth place as both turned in 81s, and Joe Albert shot an 88. The top five teams in the 16-squad field were Walkersville, 326; SHS, 328; Williamsport, 329; Catoctin, 333; and Smithsburg, 356. Northern High came in ninth with a 381, but individual Husky results wer not reported.

The low medalist for the day, whose name was not available, shot an even-par 72. The girls' individual champion was Jessica Jewell of Allegany, who won a playoff with a final score of 86.

In a previous match played in Moorefield, W.Va., on Wednesday, Sept. 17, the Rams followed Skidmore's even-par 35, good for low medalist honors, to victory over a field of three Mountain State competitors. SHS turned in a team score of 154, followed by Petersburg's 186, host Moorefield's 188, and East Hardy's 202.

Friend shot a 37 for SHS, second only to his teammate, while Lear and Albert carded a 40 and a 42, respectively. Graham Porter paced Petersburg with a 43, Jeremy Simmons had a 42 for Moorefield, and Adam Foltz shot a 39 for East Hardy.

Southern is slated to host Bishop Walsh, Fort Hill, and Allegany on Tuesday. The State Tournament will open Monday, Oct. 20, on the University of Maryland course in College Park.

Northern Golfers Down Preston; Ninth In Region

The Northern High School golf team finished in ninth place in the 16-team IA/IIA Maryland West Region field Tuesday in Hagerstown. The Huskies' 381 team score was 55 strokes off the winning tally carded by Walkersville, a 326. Individual scores for the NHS golfers were not reported.

In earlier match results made available just this week, the Huskies took a Wednesday, Sept. 17, win over Preston County by a team tally of 177 to 194. Mike Bergstrom used his home-course knowledge of the tricky Wisp links to card a 38 for the low medalist score.

NHS is slated to travel to Cumberland Monday for a triangular match with Beall and Allegany.

Southern JVs Declaw Tucker Mountain Lions

The Southern High School jayvee football team bagged the Mountain Lions of Tucker County Monday night in a 26-6 win. The victory upped SHS's record to 3-1.

The Rams drew first blood on an eight-yard touchdown carry by John Knox. Southern scored again in the second quarter when Anthony Schrock snagged an 18-yard scoring toss by quarterback Jason Wakefield, who notched another TD on a one-yard sneak before halftime. SHS carried a 20-0 lead into the intermission.

Southern's Aaron Friend scored on a six-yard run in the fourth quarter. Andrew Smith had the only score for the Mountain Lions.

Southern hosts Allegany in a 7 p.m. contest this coming Thursday, Oct. 2.

Ram Netters Mash Mounties, Whip Wildcats; Stand At 7-1

The Southern High School girls' varsity volleyball team rolled to two easy wins this week on the road, as the Rams downed Beall Monday by a 3-1 tally before walloping Westmar last night in a 3-0 sweep. SHS's record is now 7-1.

The Rams took the first two games at Beall, 25-14 and 25-22, before the hosts rebounded for a 26-24 win to avert a sweep. Southern took the final contest with ease, 25-19.

Junior Sarah Bittinger netted 21 points from the service line and recorded four kills, while senior Megan Pike contributed 20 points and 11 assists. Bethany Steyer, a junior, had 12 assists, classmate Julia Bosley reeled off a Ram-high 10 kills, and junior Kayla Nazelrod recorded seven kills. The Mounties were led by Cara Wilt's 14 points and three kills.

The Southern junior varsity team defeated its Beall counterpart 25-19, 25-7. Natalie Rohrbaugh had 11 points and three assists, and Sarah Stephens had four kills. Melanie Delozier had eight points for Beall.

The Rams ran over Westmar last night in Lonaconing by game scores of 25-16, 25-21, and 25-19. Pike handed out seven assists for Southern, and junior Erica Pratt tallied five kills. The Wildcats' leader was Katie Harvey, who turned in nine points.

SHS's undefeated jayvees took their record to 8-0 with a pair of 25-16 triumphs. Rorhbaugh paced the Rams with 15 points, five aces, and two assists. Molly Workman has six points for the hosts.

Southern will take part in the Frankfort Tourney on Saturday, then the Rams are slated to visit Petersburg Monday. SHS returns home Wednesday to host Beall.

NHS Volleyball Squad Swept By Beall Hosts

The Northern High School girls' varsity volleyball team was swept by Beall last night in Frostburg by game scores of 25-17, 25-18, and 25-18. NHS drops below .500 with the loss and now has a 2-3 record.

Northern senior Kristi Garlitz and sophomore Angie Umbel recorded five service points apiece, and junior Lakin Weimer had 10 hits. Erin Festerman, a senior, contributed nine hits and a kill. The Mounties were paced by Cora Langan, who netted a dozen service points and 16 assists.

Northern won the jayvee match 25-21, 25-18. Sophomore Laura Maust had eight points and classmate Tara Devine contributed seven service points for the Huskies. Carlie Ritchie had eight service points for Beall.

The Huskies will be part of the field at the annual Frankfort Tournament this Saturday. Northern travels to Meyersdale Monday before a Wednesday evening homecourt match with Westmar.

Northern Girls Shoot Down Westmar, 5-1

The fifth-ranked Northern High School girls' varsity volleyball squad downed Westmar 5-1 in Lonaconing Tuesday night to improve to a 2-3 mark.

The Huskies jumped out to an early lead on a Tiffany Yoder goal, which came at the 31:29 mark on an assist from Lyndsi Butler. Five minutes later, Karie Kamp took a pass from Amber Shaffer to boot in a goal that put NHS up 2-0.

Westmar's Amanda Ziler scored unassisted to cut the margin in half, but Northern scored three unanswered goals to take the contest. Amanda Heacock scored the final first-half goal, on Kamp's assist. Butler and Brittany Milbourne had goals in the second half, with Victoria Moser getting an assist.

NHS led in shots 15-10 and Westmar held a 3-1 edge in corners. Sarah Masters had eight saves in goal for Northern. Jessie Wilhelm had two saves in the first half and Rae Michelle Fazenbaker had five in the second for Westmar.

Northern is scheduled to host Fort Hill tonight and Meyersdale Wednesday, with both matches getting under way at 7 p.m.

Husky Jayvees Fall To Raiders, Bitten By 'Cats

The Northern High School junior varsity football squad lost a pair of games in recent action, as the Huskies were downed by Meyersdale, 34-8, on Monday, Sept. 15, and fell to Westmar Tuesday by a 26-8 margin.

Meyersdale struck early and often in its win over NHS, as the Raiders scored three touchdowns in the first half, two on the ground and one through the air. The hosts added two more touchdown runs in the second half to go up 34-0.

Northern put its touchdown on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter when Corey Carr carried the ball into the endzone. Carr then passed to Brock Glotfelty for the successful two-point conversion.

The Huskies' coaching staff noted the defensive hustle of Glotfelty, who picked off two passes, and Nick Ferrell and Casey Kamp.

NHS hosted Westmar Tuesday, and jumped out to an early lead that slipped away over the course of the contest. Neil Kamp gathered in a 13-yard scoring pass from Carr for a first quarter touchdown. Carr followed that score with a two-point conversion run that put the Huskies up 8-0.

The tide began to turn in the second stanza, however, as the Wildcats roared back with two touchdowns, one on a 10-yard run and the other on a 32-yard pass. Westmar took its 12-8 lead into the halftime locker room, and maintained the advantage through a scoreless third quarter.

Westmar added two touchdowns in the final stanza to pocket the win, as a 19-yard scoring pass was followed by a 34-yard punt return that went all the way for a touchdown.

NHS's coaches noted the defensive play of Carr, Glotfelty, and Keenan Kabell.

Northern is slated to host Turkeyfoot in a 7 p.m. battle.

Huskies Give Berlin The Boot; Lock Horns With Vikings, 1-1

The Northern High School boys' soccer team downed Berlin 6-4 Monday before last night's homefield match with Petersburg ended in a 1-1 tie. The action gives the Huskies a 5-1-1 record heading into a Saturday contest with Beall.

NHS's Robert Fontaine capped a Husky rally by booting what turned out to be the game-winning goal early in the second half to put the Huskies on top for good. Northern had been down 3-2 midway through the first half, despite goals by Chris Speicher and Preston Sisler. NHS knotted the score at 3-all as Sisler connected on an unassisted goal before the halftime break.

Fontaine's go-ahead score was followed by goals by Northern's Zach and Derek Cutter that pushed the Northern lead to 6-3. Two of Berlin's goals came on penalty kicks.

Both of last night's goals in the Husky-Viking matchup came within the first eight minutes. Petersburg's Seth Porter drew first blood six minutes into the match by putting the ball into the goal with help from an assist by teammate Keegan Haig.

Northern's Sisler knotted the score at 1-all just two minutes later after Torrey Poholsky fed him with a perfect pass.

For the night, NHS led in shots 17-10, and in corner kicks 11-2. Husky goalie Chris Fickes recorded 10 saves, while his Petersburg counterpart Coty Sites had a dozen saves.

Northern (5-1-1) will play unbeaten Beall in a makeup game on Saturday. There will be three games at Northern that day. At noon, the Northern and Allegany girls play. Then, at 2 o'clock, the Beall and Northern jayvee boys play. The Beall-Northern varsity game begins at 3:30.

Maddawgs' Win Streak Intact As Raiders Foiled

The Northern Maddawgs continue to stand head and shoulders above the rest of the Pee Wee Football League, and the 'Dawgs showed their dominance again on Saturday by rolling over the Cumberland Raiders in a 45-6 win.

Northern's B team took the field in the first quarter and quickly took command as the defense stonewalled the Raiders by holding Cumberland to minus yardage through the stanza. The Maddawg offense got into the act as Cody Rodeheaver reeled off a 40-yard touchdown run and Matt Thomas bulldozed in for the extra point. The B unit was driving for another score when the first quarter expired, and left its A team in fine shape for the next stanza by handing off a first-and-goal from the eight yard line.

It took the Maddawg A squad just two plays to capitalize on the excellent field position, as Josh Duckworth broke free from a Cumberland tackler's grasp to carry the six yards into the end zone for the touchdown.

Northern's A defense showed its stuff by holding Cumberland to a three-and-out before the Maddawg offense struck again when Duckworth raced down the sideline for a 61-yard touchdown. Lightning struck again when Patrick Beckman busted up the middle for a 43-yard scoring carry, capped by a Dylan Day point-after touchdown run. Alex Baker closed out the scoring with a shifty 23-yard touchdown run to end the half 32-0.

The B team returned for the second half and continued to dominate the Raiders as the Northern defense blanked Cumberland for the entire stanza. The Maddawgs' scoring attack stayed on course as Teddy Linton sped 60 yards down the sideline for a score, then teammate Jacob Bosley rambled 20 yards for Northern's sixth touchdown of the day. Trevor Tombley dove in for the extra point after Bosley's scoring carry.

Cumberland avoided a shutout late in the battle when Northern gave up a touchdown.

In the day's other action, Northern's C team defeated its Raider counterpart 13-6. Tyler Ireland and Gerald Yutzy each scored touchdowns, and Collin Belcher added an extra point.

The Maddawgs hope to continue their unbeaten streak as they visit the LaVale Lions this Saturday morning for a 9:30 a.m. battle in the Lions' den.

Southern Boys Down Keyser Visitors, 2-1

The Southern High School boys' varsity soccer team rebounded Tuesday with a 2-1 win over Keyser, a victory that turned the tide of a three-game Rams' losing streak. James Naylor broke a 1-1 tie with a second-half goal made possible by a feeder pass from Ethan Chorpenning.

Naylor assisted on Southern's other goal, which was scored by Chucky Burton four minutes into the first half. Keyser's Nick Landis knotted the game with an unassisted goal eight minutes before halftime.

Southern led in shots, 18-11, and the Golden Tornado held a 2-1 edge in corners. Taylor Crabtree had 14 saves in goal for Southern, and Cole Anderson had 16 for Keyser.

Southern (2-3) hosts Fort Hill tonight at 7 o'clock.

Rams Control Westmar Line To Break Into Win Column, 34-14

The Southern High School varsity football team took its first win of the year with a 34-14 victory over visiting Westmar Saturday night in Oakland. SHS's key to victory was its continual improvement on the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball, according to Ram coach Fred Gregg.

"We knew Westmar had good running backs, so going in we knew we had to control the line of scrimmage on defense. We also had a good effort along the front of our offensive line, which freed up our running game to do what it needed to do," Gregg commented.

Ram ball carrier Andrew VanBogelen followed his blockers to two touchdowns and 127 yards in the contest to lead all rushers.

Southern's Brett DeWitt opened the scoring midway through the first quarter with a fine 36-yard touchdown run. The guests knotted the score when Russell Miller intercepted a pass attempt by SHS quarterback Corey Bosley and returned it 36 yards for a touchdown.

Bosley got those points back on a 19-yard run with just 33 seconds remaining in the first quarter. "Corey saw something as the defense was lining up, so he called an audible for a quarterback sneak, got through the line and off to the sideline and was gone," observed Gregg. "It was some fine thinking on his part." The touchdown put Southern up 12-6.

The Rams scored two touchdowns in the closing minutes of the second stanza. VanBogelen scored on a two-yard plunge at the 2:59 mark, then Brad Reese gathered in a 51-yard pass from Bosley with just nine seconds on the clock to put Southern up 26-6.

VanBogelen scored on a 10-yard run in the third quarter to make it 34-6. "That was a great effort, because Andrew ran into a pile and it looked like he was stopped," Gregg remarked. "But he kept his legs churning, and popped out to take off for the end zone."

Westmar scored the final touchdown, with 7:20 left in the game, when Miller tossed a 73-yard touchdown pass to Justin McGregor.

SHS's Bosley accounted for 74 passing yards and 28 rushing yards. Brett DeWitt carried the ball seven times for 59 yards.

Southern outgained Westmar 341 to 141, and ran 71 offensive plays to only 31 for the Wildcats. Of Westmar's 141 yards, 137 came on three completions by quarterback Russell Miller.

Karl Hillen and Chris Miller had five tackles and Chris Bennett four for Southern, which held Westmar to four net rushing yards.

"We stuck with our defensive game plan and it worked," Gregg explained of his defenders' success. "By holding the line, we were able to free our linebackers up for more pursuits, and they did their part. We were especially impressed with defense end Zack Upole, who had two sacks, and noseguard Dan Goulart, who had good penetration all night.

"We're also happy to see things starting to come together on offense. Andrew VanBogelen runs hard, has real good vision, and has that natural characteristic of good running backs to be running at full speed and still be able to kick into a higher gear when he sees a sliver of daylight. Our blockers are doing a good job at opening holes for him and our other runners."

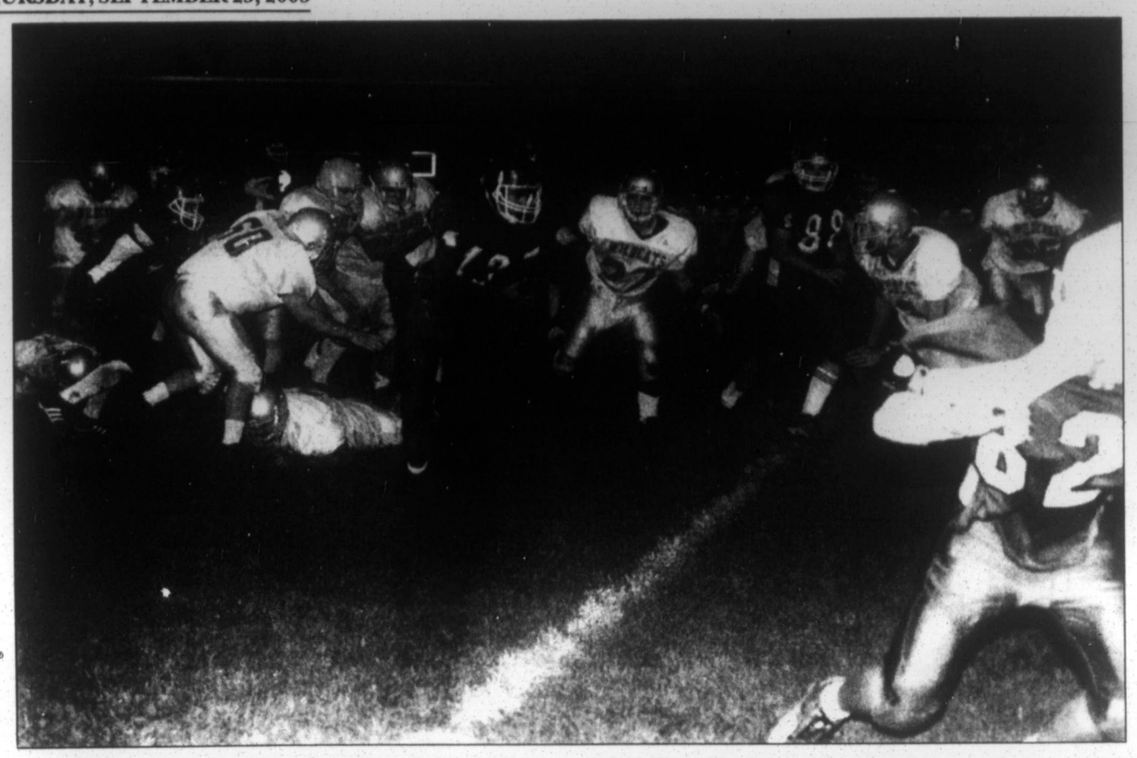
The Rams will have their hands full tomorrow night against a big Allegany squad. "We're going to be quicker than the Campers are, because they've got us in the size department," said Gregg. "They average 250 pounds or more across the front line, and we're not going to do much growing in the next 48 hours, so we'll have to be disciplined and stick to our game plan."

Alco brings a deceptively mundane 1-2 record into the contest, and will be hungry for a win in front of its home Greenway Stadium fans. One of the Campers' best weapons is fullback Curt Jacovino (5-9, 187), a junior with proven speed and ability. Allegany junior quarterback Austin Scell (5-11, 155) "throws a nice ball, with good accuracy and arm strength," stated Gregg. Scell's favorite target is senior tight end Jesse Ritter (6-2, 187). The Campers are expected to run a Wing T offense.

On defense, Alco recently instituted a switch from their customary 6-2 scheme to a 5-3 line-up. The Campers are strong and big up front, and Jacovino anchors an "excellent" linebacking corps, according to Gregg.

"It's going to be tough, but if we have 11 guys playing as one like we did against Westmar, we can take this one," Gregg said. "It should be a really good game."

Kickoff is slated for 7 p.m. at Greenway.



RAMS DOWN WILDCATS FOR WIN #1 — Southern High School's varsity football team used its home opener Saturday night to record a 34-14 over the visiting Westmar Wildcats to improve to 1-2. The Rams got an outstanding offensive performance from running back Andrew VanBogelen (#43), shown above as he breaks past the visitors' line for some of his game-high 127 yards. Southern's defense turned in superb effort, exemplified below as secondary defender Brad Reese is pictured hauling in an interception in the end zone late in the second quarter. The pick-off led to a 51-touchdown pass for the Rams just seconds before the halftime gun sounded. Southern visits Allegany tomorrow night for a 7 p.m. battle.

Northern Scalped By Indians Despite Big Offensive Stats

The Northern High School varsity football team dropped its third straight contest of the season in a 28-15 loss at Berkeley Springs Saturday evening. The defeat was made all the more painful by the fact that although the statistics showed a lopsided advantage in the Huskies' favor, after 60 minutes of play the scoreboard showed NHS down by 13 points.

"All you have to do is look at the numbers to see how disappointing this loss is," Husky coach Phil Carr commented afterward. "We moved the ball the way we wanted all night long, but when we'd break down on a key play they would push us back with negative yardage, and we never seemed to be able to recover from the mistake."

Northern's ball control option offense ground up and down the field seemingly at will, especially in the early going. By the end of the first quarter alone, the NHS offense had racked up 161 rushing yards, 71 of which were recorded by halfback Michael Wolf, but no points to show for it. On the night Wolf amassed 187 yards on 29 carries, and fellow runner Eric Johnson turned in 62 yards on 13 tries. NHS tallied advantages of 304 to 135 rushing yards; 360 to 260 yards in total offense; and 17 first downs to Berkeley's 11.

Despite those impressive numbers, however, the Huskies' long drives repeatedly stalled out in the red zone, and NHS was only able to punch the ball across the goal line once in the third quarter and again in the final stanza, as Johnson scored both touchdowns.

"Eric did a real good job subbing for an injured starter, and will be staying in the backfield for this week's game," Carr stated. "Both he and Michael turned in great efforts, as did some of our offensive linemen, especially Corey Yoder and Danny Ellis."

Northern's defense held the hosts' noted passing offense to just six pass completions in 17 attempts, a tally which showcased some good pressure by the Husky line and tenacious defensive work in the Northern secondary.

Berkeley Springs struck in the first quarter with a 73-yard touchdown pass gathered in by the Indians' Matt Rockwell with just under three minutes remaining in the stanza. BS quarterback Matt Weaver, who had more time than usual because of an uncharacteristically poor rushing effort by the NHS linemen, hit the receiver as he was cutting across the middle of the field. Rockwell took off with the ball and made it to the far sideline, where he turned the corner and sped for the end zone.

Three consecutive interceptions ensued. The first killed a Northern drive that had gotten off the ground with runs of 15 and 35 yards. NHS's defense picked a pass off in turn and returned the ball to the Indian 25-yard line.

The Huskies attempted to go deep on the next play, but a Berkeley defender intercepted the pass in the end zone for a touchback. Northern's defense held, and the ensuing Indian punt was downed at NHS's own 39 yard line with approximately seven minutes remaining in the second quarter. The Huskies pushed the ball downfield on an 11-play drive that had Northern's hopes riding high, but they were derailed at the BS 27-yard line when a fourth down play was stopped by the Indians' defense.

Berkeley Springs's running game then moved the ball down to Northern's 29 before the Husky defense shut down the drive. The half expired before NHS was able to get its offense in gear, and the two squads headed into their locker rooms with Northern, although down 7-0, still much in the game.

In the third quarter the combatants settled down into a struggle that did not result in a score until the third stanza, when Northern's Johnson capped a 60-yard, nine play drive with a 16-yard touchdown run. Steve Snyder's successful point-after kick knotted the score at 7-all with 8:16 on the clock.

Berkeley Springs was unable to move the ball on its ensuing drive, but the fourth-down punt landed between the two Husky returners and bounded all the way to the 13-yard line before being downed. Northern's offense sputtered with a three-and-out, and the Huskies were forced to punt from deep within their own territory. After a booming Johnson punt was negated by a penalty, the junior's rekick resulted in a 35-yard Berkeley return to Northern's eight-yard line. The Indians scored a three plays later on a one-yard run.

Northern took over and mounted a drive that got the ball to the 50-yard line, but a backfield collision between two Huskies resulted in a fumble that was scooped up by a Berkeley Springs lineman who churned all the way down to the NHS four-yard line before being dragged down from behind by Frantz's hustling effort. However, the Indians scored on a touchdown carry on the very next play to go up 21-7 before the third quarter's end.

Northern's Achilles heel of mistakes showed again in the fourth stanza, when a third-and-long passing attempt was picked off by an Indian defender. BS's offense went on a six-play, 55-yard drive that resulted in a five-yard rushing touchdown that gave the hosts a 21-point lead in the late going.

NHS put together a good drive of its own in the final four minutes that was capped by a 25-yard scoring strike from Frantz to Johnson, but the points were too little, too late.

"We played really good defense against a very powerful Berkeley Springs offense," observed Carr, the frustration evident in his voice, "but when your offense and special teams keep giving the ball to the other team in good field position, you only make it harder on yourself."

Northern's Homecoming game is tomorrow night at the Cove, where the Huskies will host an unbeaten Turkeyfoot squad. The Rams have a "very solid team," Carr noted, pointing out that they field nine sen-

GC Netters Downed By Knights; Rebound Over Boyce, Baltimore

The Garrett College volleyball team took two of three outings this week as the Lakers evened their record to 5-5. GC split a home triangular match Saturday in opening with a 3-0 loss to the College of Southern Maryland before bouncing back to down CCAC-Boyce 2-1. On Tuesday the Lakers recorded a 3-0 sweep at Baltimore City CC.

Garrett fell to the Southern Maryland Knights by narrow game score margins of 30-28, 30-28, and 30-24. Freshman Autumn Beavers had two aces, five digs, 11 kills, and six blocks. Sophomore Jolene Brenneman had three aces and four digs, while classmate Marlena Raines had two aces, nine digs, and nine points. Tiffany McFarland had four kills and two blocks, while fellow freshmen Amanda Frantz and Molly Wolf recorded two aces and four digs, respectively.

In the afternoon's second outing, GC took its first battle with Boyce by a 30-24 tally before the visitors evened the match with a 30-28 win. Garrett sealed the victory in a 15-6 tiebreaker. McFarland netted three aces, four kills, and eight points, while Brenneman contributed a pair of aces, six digs, and two blocks. Beavers had five aces and six kills, Frantz added seven digs and two blocks, and Raines recorded 11 points. Wolf hit the floor for eight digs.

Tuesday's road trip to Baltimore resulted in a convincing 30-9, 30-18, 30-14 Laker sweep. Brenneman netted 13 aces, four kills, and 19 service points, and fellow Northern High graduate Frantz tallied five aces, four digs, 17 service points, and the sole Laker block. Beavers had seven kills and Raines had 10 service points.

The Lakers are slated to visit Potomac State College tomorrow for a tri-match with the host Catamounts and the Community College of Beaver County. Garrett travels to Anne Arundel the following day, and visits Cecil on Monday. The Lakers return to their home court for a Wednesday showdown with the Fredrick Cougars and Butler CC.

iors who have started since they were freshmen. "They have great experience and work well together as a unit, and they are big," said the NHS skipper. "We're hoping we can counter those strengths with our own teamwork and our speed. On defense, our pursuit is going to have to be faster than their blockers, and our offense is going to have to be quick to get our backs to the outside so we can take off around the corners."

Some Rams to watch, all seniors, will be offensive linemen Brett Clevenger (6-1, 200), Scottie Herring (6-0, 255), Seth Livengood (6-2, 220), and Nathan Bower (6-2, 260), as well as tight end Bobby Lauger (6-3, 240).

"Turkeyfoot likes to run a pro set offense with split backs, and junior quarterback Billy Hinzy (5-7, 160) has a good arm," stated Carr. "He likes to roll out, and he has the speed to do it well. On defense we expect to see the Rams stick to their 5-3 scheme, and we're preparing our linemen to be ready to pick up blitzes. They know we've struggled some with our passing game and will be out to pressure us.

"Any Northern—Turkeyfoot game is a real hard-hitting, competitive battle. It's always the biggest game of the year for the Rams, and they'll be wanting to sour our Homecoming in front of all our fans. We're don't want to let that happen."

Kickoff is slated for 7 p.m. See separate story for details on the various Homecoming festivities.

NHS Homecoming Events To Wrap Up This Weekend

The annual Homecoming festivities at Northern High School have been under way throughout this week at the school, and will be capped this weekend with the Homecoming football game, coronation ceremonies, and a marching band performance, alumni reception, and student dance.

In keeping with this year's Hollywood theme, tomorrow the NHS student body will participate in a schoolwide pep rally billed as "A Star is Born."

The Husky varsity football Homecoming game, a 7 p.m. match-up with arch-rival Turkeyfoot, will feature a variety of halftime activities that will be capped by the coronations of the 2003 Northern High Homecoming Queen and King. The NHS Marching Band will present a special homecoming halftime extravaganza (weather permitting).

The game will be followed by an alumni reception in the school cafeteria for all former Husky football players and cheerleaders, and their families. Finger food and refreshments will be served.

The festivities will conclude with Saturday night's Homecoming dance, which will be held at the school from 8 to 11 p.m. The theme for the dance will be "A Night in Hollywood."

Scheffel, Ram Girls Boot BW, Hogtie Hampshire; Now 7-0

The Southern High School girls' varsity soccer team continued its unbeaten string with a huge 2-1 overtime win Saturday over powerhouse Bishop Walsh, then went on a rampage Tuesday at Hampshire by downing the Trojans 8-0. SHS has a 7-0 record heading into tonight's 5 p.m. homefield match with Keyser.

The Rams were paced in both victories by the outstanding play of Sabrina Scheffel. In helping hand arch-rival BW its first loss in 21 games, Scheffel booted both Southern goals, including the game-winner in the seventh minute of overtime. The clincher came off a pass from Kendra McLaughlin, and Scheffel put the ball into the upper left side of the net for the SHS victory.

Scheffel scored the game's first goal with an assist by Casey Taylor at 24:59. Karen Iames tied the game on a goal with a feed by Megan Finan before halftime.

"It was a well-played match," said Southern head coach Ron Petrella. "Our midfield and defense played a great game. Bishop Walsh played a great game. We were fortunate to come out with a win."

Southern controlled the shots in the game with a 23-5 advantage and had a 2-0 edge in corner kicks. Bishop Walsh's Konnie Christman stopped 21 shots. Southern's Alasha Rush made four saves.

Scheffel's flurry continued Tuesday as she netted a hat trick against the Hampshire hosts by scoring two goals in the opening period and one in the third. She also had an assist on a goal by Jadyn Swerbinsky in the fourth. The Rams spread the other four goals among Kendra McLaughlin, Robbin Gregg, Hannah Storey, and Laura Bonser. Lauren Shue, Ashley Rohrbaugh, Amber Grant and Sarah Mullenax had assists.

Southern held a 40-2 advantage in shots and a 6-1 edge in corner kicks. Hampshire's goalkeeper had 32 saves. Alasha Rush made two saves for Southern.

Following tonight's match with Keyser, the Rams are slated to take on Westmar Saturday.

Steelers Spear Warriors In CAYFL Battle

The Division I Northern Steelers followed ball carriers Randy Wiley and Ryan Evans to a 36-0 victory over the Braddock Warriors Sunday at Northern High School. Wiley and Evans scored three and two rushing touchdowns, respectively, while the Steelers' "steel curtain" defense came down hard on the visitors to notch the shutout triumph.

Northern ran up a big lead early in the contest by scoring three first-quarter touchdowns. Wiley put the first points on the board with a 22-yard carry, then Evans reeled off scoring runs of 31 and 19 yards. Kyle Gillum connected for successful point-after kicks following both of Evans's touchdowns.

In the second quarter, Wiley reeled off a 26-yard touchdown carry that gave the Steelers a 30-0 advantage heading into the halftime locker room. Wiley broke free in the third stanza for a 39-yard scoring run for the game's final points.

Northern's strong ground game resulted in 118 yards for Wiley on just 10 carries, while Evans chalked up 72 yards on seven runs. The Steelers' coaching staff also noted the fine defensive efforts turned in by Bobby Wingrove, Tyler Kamp, and Eddie Lytel.

The results of the Steelers' Division II contest were not made available.

Northern is slated to visit Frostburg on Saturday.

Oakland Drops 13-6 Contest To Mountie Visitors

The Division II Oakland Rams of the Cumberland Area Youth Football League were defeated by the visiting Frostburg Mounties by a 13-6 tally Saturday.

Frostburg scored first in the opening stanza when the Mounties capped a 96-yard scoring march with a four-yard touchdown carry. A defensive struggle followed, which stymied both offenses until Oakland's Ryan David Sweitzer broke through the Mountie defense and galloped 65 yards for a touchdown run to make the score 7-6. Frostburg put its final points on the board in the fourth quarter on a second four-yard rushing touchdown.

The results of the Rams' Division II battle were not reported.

Oakland's schedule shows the squad idle this week, and the Rams are slated to return to action Sunday, Oct. 5, when they host Ridgeley.

SHS Football Hall Of Fame Inducts Three

The Southern High School Football Hall of Fame added three new members during induction ceremonies held prior to the SHS-Westmar game Saturday night in Oakland. The latest additions to the Rams' hallowed list are former players Matt Glotfelty and Rob Unger, and longtime Southern supporter Paul Shockey.

A 1996 graduate, Glotfelty was one of the top offensive linemen to play at Southern, and his many accolades included selection to the All-Area First Team and All-State Second Team. He had begun what was projected to be a stellar college career with Keyser's Potomac State College Catamounts when a back injury ended his football playing days. Glotfelty now resides in Winchester, Va.

Unger, who graduated in 1999, was a member of the 1998 All Area defensive unit and the National Honor Society. He played one year at Potomac State, then transferred to the Division I-AA College of Holy Cross in Worcester, Mass., where he was a starter on the Crusaders' defensive line. The recent college graduate has enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Shockey has helped provide for many improvement and renovation projects for the SHS field over the years, including installation of drain fields under the playing surface, construction of the visitors' bleachers, and alignment of the lights. He also made an avocation of field maintenance for a decade. A founding member and former president of the Southern Garrett Athletic Association, Shockey currently serves as mayor of Mtn. Lake Park and is vice president Team One Enterprises.

Flowery Vale Health & Fitness Center

By Peggy Santamaria

October 1 marks the beginning of the third year of operation for the Accident-based Senior Health & Fitness Center at Flowery Vale. Operated by Community Action – Area Agency on Aging, the program was funded through a state grant and organized on the principles developed by a team of student health professionals. Under the direction of Elaine Kackley, the center has served over 140 men and women, and achieved benchmark status among state health programs for senior citizens.

As the second anniversary of the Flowery Vale Senior Health & Fitness Center approaches, Community Action's Area Agency on Aging will kick off Travel For Fitness – a new program to get more Garrett County senior citizens on the path to better health. "With the start of our third year, we are going to take our show on the road," center director Elaine Kackley said. Beginning Oct. 1, she will pack up her "little black bag" of equipment and go to senior centers in Grantsville, Oakland, and Friendsville to offer one-hour sessions of fitness training.

This "road show" concept grew out of brainstorming sessions between Kackley and Area Agency on Aging administrators Adina Brode and Ronnie Padmos. Their goal: to expand the health and fitness program in a belt-tightening economy and with space at a premium. Obstacles loomed. Undaunted, the three women persevered and arrived at the solution. Brode sought and won a small grant from the office of the attorney general to make it a reality.

Faced with the impossibility of hauling universal gyms and treadmills around the county, Kackley set about finding a way to provide resistance training, stretching and flexibility training, aerobic exercise, and coordination and balance training at the senior centers.

"We had to be creative with what we could offer that would give the seniors the greatest health benefits," Kackley said. With a modest allowance for equipment, she invested in fit strips and physioballs. The strips, made of an elastic material similar to a heavy-duty balloon, come in three weights providing levels of tension ranging from two to five pounds. Used in stretching exercises, the strips approximate the use of a universal gym for resistance training, which is critical to maintaining muscle mass and strength, she explained.

The physioballs – large rubber balls similar to children's toys – are used in physical therapy. Kackley said she likes to incorporate them into training because they have multiple uses. "They help increase balance and coordination and they are fun. I'm going to leave one at each site for seniors to use between sessions," she said.

To provide the benefits of a treadmill, Kackley will introduce Walk-Aerobics at each center. No matter the level of stamina, each person will be able to participate to his or her individual ability, she pointed out. "Clients will range from age 55 up. Some will be very active and need a challenge. Others will need to work gradually to build strength and endurance," she noted. She will start each participant with a modified assessment of current activity levels, general health, and baseline blood pressure readings. With this information she will develop appropriate programs at each site.

Kackley said she hopes to be able to work with student interns or volunteers who can help keep all these parts of the health and fitness program going. Though expanding the program will present challenges, she said she enjoys working with the seniors and finding ways to keep their training interesting. "We have found that the social aspects of this program have been nearly as beneficial as the physical aspects. The clients make new friends, encourage each other, and feel good about their success. These are Garrett County seniors on the move," Kackley said.

To learn more about the senior health and fitness programs persons may call Kackley at 301-746-8050 or the Area Agency on Aging at 301-334-9431, ext. 140.

The Area Agency on Aging thanks The Republican for spotlighting the Flowery Vale Health & Fitness Center in this series.

FITNESS ROAD SHOW READY TO GO – Unable to haul treadmills and universal gyms to senior centers around the county, Elaine Kackley, director of the Flowery Vale Senior Health & Fitness Center, developed simple protocols for maximum results through the Area Agency on Aging's new Travel For Fitness program. On a shoestring budget, she purchased fit strips and physioballs, which she will use in the training programs along with aerobic movement and other exercises. The new program will begin October 1.

Adorable Adoptables

ADOPT US, PLEASE – The Garrett County Animal Shelter has several pets looking for new homes. Pictured above are a large black female Lab, left, and a male Jack Russell mix, who is described as "very happy." Pictured below is Jade, a very large, lovable orange tabby, who has been neutered. He has also been declawed, and, therefore, should be an indoor pet. "He likes kids and even has had his rabies' shot," added a Garrett County Humane Society spokesperson. Recently featured Smokey, Shadow, and Snoozer are also still waiting for homes. "Since many of the pets at the shelter are owner give-ups," said the spokesperson, "please consider when getting a pet, that it is a life-long commitment." Touch-Screen Voting System Gets State's Ok

by MICHAEL DUCK
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS - Maryland officials plan to use the state's new touch-screen voting machines in next year's presidential election, despite security flaws in the voting system targeted for fixes.

"We believe we are fully prepared to roll out the (touch-screen) machines for the 2004 presidential primary," said Gilles W. Burger, State Board of Elections chairman.

An independent study of the voting system recommended security fixes ranging from reprogramming part of the systems' software to creating a "chief information systems security officer" at the state elections board.

State Budget Secretary James C. DiPaula Jr. said he expects the report and the new security measures to restore public confidence in the new machines, which the state purchased in July from Diebold Election Systems for $55.6 million.

"We're confident that this will safeguard the entire election process," DiPaula said.

Gov. Robert L. Ehrlich Jr. commissioned Science Applications International Corp. to review the system Aug. 5 after a Johns Hopkins University study found it insecure. After SAIC submitted its results Sept. 2, the elections board worked with Diebold and the state Department of Budget and Management to develop an action plan.

Burger called it the "most robust" risk assessment study ever done in the country for an election organization.

"It seems that the SAIC report pretty much backed our report and came to a lot of the same conclusions," said Avi Rubin, an author of the Hopkins study and a computer science professor. But Rubin said it's a bad idea for the state to rush forward with the new system until it's confirmed that the security holes have been plugged.

"If they're going to get this report and then go ahead with it anyway," Rubin said, "you have to question their motives for commissioning the report in the first place."

Technical improvements have been finished, Burger said, including encryption for unofficial results that are sent via modems, as well as programming measures that make it harder to create bogus "smartcards."

Other changes, ranging from an independent security review of Diebold software to hiring a security officer, will be implemented starting in October and continue through February and March of next year.

Many sections of the state report were deleted from the public version for security reasons, according to DiPaula. Some of the omitted information appeared to include interviews, as well as the kinds of encryption and the version of Microsoft Windows the voting terminals use.

"The best security is for you not to give a road map to the people who want to do harm," DiPaula said. "I was very concerned by the redactions in the report," Rubin said, noting that if the security problems truly had been fixed, there would be no risk in leaving them in the report. "It gives the impression that they're hiding something from the public," Rubin said.

The Hopkins study, which analyzed Diebold voting machine software, said "voters can trivially cast multiple ballots with no built-in traceability," and "the threats posed by insiders such as poll workers, software developers, and even janitors, is even greater."

Diebold responded that the researchers didn't consider how elections officials use the machines in actual elections.

The SAIC study addressed those problems by not only analyzing the software, Burger and DiPaula said, but considering how Maryland election workers use the equipment.

DiPaula said the difference between the two studies is like examining a car by starting with driver education, rather than merely looking under the hood.

Rubin and other critics had suggested printers might be attached to the voting terminals to create paper records for any possible recount, but the SAIC study counters that printed paper ballots might "still be subject to fraud."

"I stand behind the idea that a voter-verifiable audit trail is very important," Rubin said.

Problems with Florida's voting machines in the 2000 presidential election prompted Maryland to re-examine its voting systems and adopt a plan to create a uniform statewide election system by 2006.

Montgomery, Prince George's, Allegany, and Dorchester counties already used Diebold machines in last year's gubernatorial election. Maryland counties are paying half the $55 million cost.

Baltimore City, which won't get the machines until 2005, also will pay half of its system cost.

"We're delighted with the (study) results," said Pat Maurer, community relations director for the National Federation of the Blind, a Baltimore-based advocacy group that supports the Diebold machines, which ease voting for the blind.

Organization members, Maurer said, "are all looking forward to voting with the Diebold machines."

MONOPOLY GOES TO THE DOGS . . . . AND CATS – The Garrett County Humane Society will be selling four-legged versions of Monopoly, a popular board game, starting Oct. 1 through Nov. 30. Dog-opoly and Cat-opoly are two of newest versions of the game now on the market. "I remember playing Monopoly when I was a kid," said Lisa Baker of the Humane Society. "Even now, I play National Park Monopoly with my own kids." Sample games and order forms will be placed at several local businesses: Pineview Veterinary Hospital and Countryside Animal Hospital, Oakland; Casselman Veterinary Services, Grantsville; and Reminisce Antique Mall, McHenry. Once an order is placed, it will be available for pickup within two weeks. Reminisce, however, will have some of the games in stock for those who do not want to wait. The price is $24 per game, payable upon delivery. "Now is the time to get an early start on your Christmas shopping," said Baker. "You won't have to drive to a big-city specialty store or pay Internet shipping and handling costs. But the best thing is that by purchasing a game, you help us help the animals." Proceeds from the sale will help sick, abused, and homeless animals, as well as benefit the society's spay/neuter assistance program. For more information, or to inquire about displaying the games at a business, persons may call Baker at 301-387-4425. Pictured, left to right, with the games are Shelby, who was adopted from a shelter; Laurel Baker; Sarah Baker; and Scamper, who was once a homeless stray.

SCHOOLS HONORED FOR CHARACTER EDUCATION– Yough Glades Elementary School and Northern High School were recently honored by the Maryland Center for Character Education (MCCE) as Maryland Character Education Schools of the Year for Garrett County. Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of schools, expressed appreciation to the two schools for their outstanding character education programs and said he was pleased at their selection to represent Garrett County for the 2002-03 school year. Each month all schools emphasize the same character education traits, as follows: self-discipline/control, responsibility/dependability, caring/giving (citizenship), fairness/justice/equality; fairness/justice/equality; trustworthiness/honesty/sincerity; courage/facing challenges; respect/courtesy; and cooperation/teamwork (citizenship). Pictured above are representatives from Yough Glades. In the front, from the left, are Cynthia Shaffer and Sue Hillen, teachers at Yough Glades; and Keith Harvey, principal. In the back are Teets; Dr. Richard Steinke, assistant state superintendent; and Mark Beck and James Walker, MCCE. Pictured below are representatives from NHS. They are Teets; Teresa Roberts and Julie Brenneman, Northern High teachers; Steinke; Gary Reichenbecher, Northern High principal; and Beck and Walker.

AG Festival To Spotlight Local Heritage

The agenda for the 36th annual Autumn Glory Festival, Oct. 8-12, includes activities and events highlighting the heritage of the area.

The 1884 Oakland Train Station, one of the country's finest examples of Queen Anne architecture, will be open for free tours during the festival. Persons may visit the station Thursday, Friday, and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and on Sunday from 12:30 to 3 p.m. For more information, persons may call 301-334-2691.

The Garrett County Historical Museum, which will be open daily during the festival from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. except during the parade, provides an overview of regional history. Displays include photographs, documents, artifacts, and clothing. The museum does not charge for admission; however donations are accepted. It is located at 107 S. Second Street.

Self-guided walking or driving tours of Mtn. Lake Park offer one a glimpse of the Victorian era. Horse-drawn wagon tours with a guide will also be available to enhance that historic flavor. Tours begin at the historic Ticket House at Rt. 135 and G Street and are available Friday, 11 a.m.-4 p.m.; Saturday, 3:30 to 6:30 p.m.; and Sunday, noon-5 p.m. For more information, persons may call 301-334-4314.

The Kitzmiller Heritage Expo slated Friday, 1-7 p.m., will recreate the town's old time mountain coal mining community. Visitors can see the mining museum, take part in a fishing rodeo, walk along the Potomac River, and enjoy the Volunteer Firemen's steak dinner for $12. For information, persons may call 301-453-3199.

The 30th annual Antique Show & Sale presented by the Civic Club of Oakland will present 31 dealers exhibiting primitives, antique jewelry, and more. Located in the National Guard Armory, Eighth and High streets, Oakland, the An-

Emergency Charges, EMS Budget Hazy

by Debra George Siedt
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS - Down the road, Maryland's more than 4 million vehicle owners may be facing another fee increase to pay for the rising cost of emergency services, even though vehicle registration fees have risen by $5.50 since 2002, according to a legislative analysis.

EMS fees increased $8 to $11 in 2002, then rose again to $13.50 in 2003.

The fee covers a variety of services under Maryland's Emergency Medical Services System, including MedEvac helicopters, ambulances, fire equipment, rescue squads and trauma units, according to the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles web site. Of the current surcharge, $11 funds the EMS system and $2.50 funds the Maryland Trauma Physician Services Fund.

But EMS board decisions, increased expenditures and the possibility of replacing helicopters have put a strain on the cost of operating the EMS system.

"We've always been on the cutting edge in terms of EMS," said Dr. Robert R. Bass, executive director of the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services System at a Joint Legislative Committee Meeting Wednesday.

The State Police Aviation Division is supported by the EMS fund, which may be needed to replace as many as 12 helicopters at a cost of $6 million to $7 million each, according to a Department of Legislative Services budget forecast.

After MedEvac helicopter crashes in 1972, 1973 and 1986 that left six people dead, the state, in 1998, purchased Dauphin helicopters, twin-engine helicopters that were safer and more reliable.

The new helicopters have had more than 70,000 accident-free flight hours to date. The institute conducted five in-house helicopter studies and concluded that if properly maintained, the helicopters could be replaced on a 17-year cycle beginning in 2007.

The legislative budget analysis did not take into account any helicopter replacement that may be necessary as early as 2006. Even without the helicopter replacement, EMS would operate with its current funding until 2018.

In 2002, 345,000 of the 682,000 EMS calls resulted in transports.

Two-thirds were medical transports and one-third were injury transports.

MedEvac transports accounted for 5 percent of all injury transports, totaling 5,070.

Baking Soda (4th edition)
Why does baking soda get out stains?

As a cleaning agent, baking soda is almost unsurpassed. That 69-cent package in your cupboard can clean many different things far better than all sorts of ritzy concoctions advertised on TV. Moreover, baking soda removes odors from moldy foods in refrigerators, smelly socks, and o so pungent kitty litter. It's amazing that this very simple household chemical is so effective.

To understand how it works, remember that various atoms can combine into molecules. If a molecule breaks apart with one part carrying an extra electron or two, while the other part is short of electrons, we call those parts ions and the process is ionization. The powder that is baking soda is a compound that has one sodium atom, one hydrogen atom and a cluster called the carbonate group (one carbon atom surrounded by three oxygens). When it dissolves in water, the sodium becomes one ion, missing an electron; and the rest carries away one extra electron and is known as the bicarbonate ion, HCO_3^-. Hence the alternate name "bicarbonate of soda." Because of its electric charge, any ion can exert an electrical force in its vicinity.

The molecules that constitute whatever the stain is made of (like ketchup) are normally great big organic molecules that contain hundreds of atoms; and these almost never ionize – but their electrons can slide along from one end of the molecule to the other, and we call that polarization. Meanwhile, substances like carpets also contain big molecules called polymers, and their electrons can be persuaded to move around if an opposite electric charge comes near. The organic molecules of the bad stuff (the ketchup, for instance) plop onto the carpet and electrons start to move around to one end or the other of the carpet fibers. Now there is an attraction between the carpet and the organic molecule that tends to hold them together – meaning the ketchup stays stuck to your expensive rug. [And guests are coming. What to do?]

Put some water on and nothing happens, because the attraction is strong enough to hold the staining substance to the carpet. Run a vacuum cleaner over it and nothing happens, for the same reason.

But now come along with baking soda, and the ions produce electric fields nearby. The ketchup, an organic molecule, would much rather bond to the baking soda's bicarbonate ion than to the material of the carpet. The staining molecule lets go of the carpet, and instead hangs on to the bicarbonate of soda. Now, the combo of the ketchup molecule and the baking soda is free to move around. At this point a little more water (perhaps a damp rag) scarfs up the entire combination of connected molecules. The stain has left the carpet.

Rinse out the damp rag and the bad stuff is down the drain. End of story.

Moldy, smelly socks? Same thing! The large organic molecules in sweat would rather bond to the baking soda's ions than to your clothing, and when the rinse water comes along, the smelly stuff goes away.

Odors inside refrigerators behave in almost the same way, but without the water. Large organic molecules are free to drift about in the air, and if they reach your nose they smell bad. But if they reach an open box of baking soda, they prefer to land on to the surface of the powder and stay put. Eventually, over a period of months, the baking soda gets "all used up" collecting bad molecules, and it's time to buy some more.

Credit Card Magnetism

Q: How worried should I be about the magnetic strips of all my credit cards affecting each other? They're all next to each other in my purse, along with metal keys.

A: For most people, most of the time, this is not a worry at all. The magnetic strips on the back of credit cards are just like recording tape. It takes a strong magnetic field to write data onto tape, and it takes a strong magnetic field to erase it.

If you should happen to be carrying around a strong magnet in your pocket or purse, then that magnetic field could spoil the information stored on the credit card strips. But almost nobody carries around any such thing. If you go for an MRI medical test and have credit cards in your shirt pocket, the very strong magnetic field could erase them. That's why the medical technicians tell you to take everything out of your pockets. There definitely are ways to erase credit cards, but they don't come along in everyday life.

The digital data encoded on a credit-card strip represents a bunch of ones and zeros by having little tiny magnetic domains point one way or the other: up for a "one" and down for a "zero." Since any data is a mixture of these two, the net magnetic field averages out to zero – so no credit card puts out a significant magnetic field all by itself. The magnetic strip on one credit card cannot affect a nearby credit card.

As for keys, most of them are brass or aluminum, metals which are non-magnetic and produce no magnetic field, so they couldn't affect your credit cards. If you have an oddball key made out of a magnetic steel, it could produce a slight magnetic field; but that key would have to sit in some very precise position next to a credit card for a long time before the key's magnetic field would have any effect.

It's much more likely that over time a credit card will get scratched up, thus disturbing some of the magnetic domains. Knowing this ahead of time, the bank or credit card company usually sends out a replacement every few years.

YOUTH COUNTRY MARKING COMING TO END OF SEASON – Aaron and Levi Lantz, pictured above, have experienced a successful summer of selling their produce at the Youth Country Market, which will come to a close on Oct. 4. Early in the spring, the two local boys and other area 4-H Club members attended a special youth session at the Alternative Agriculture Conference at Garrett College. At this event, they learned basic marketing skills and became interested in establishing a real youth market. The idea led to the Youth County Market, which was held each Monday during July and August, as well as on Saturday, Sept. 6. The market is located at the Garrett College Alternative Agriculture Center. The youngsters expressed their thanks to all the people who purchased produce this summer from them. They extended an invitation to all to come to the last market for the year, set for Saturday, October 4, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the noted location. There will be small and large pumpkins, sunflowers, and other fall products, in addition to maple syrup, honey, baked goods, crafts, and other items.

a $555 fine, one year of supervised probation, and an order to pay $1,000 restitution to the state police. Andrews was arrested during a May traffic stop, when a car he was riding in was stopped for following another vehicle too closely. Andrews, who was a passenger in the stopped vehicle, was initially taken into custody for repeatedly interfering with the troopers as they spoke with the driver. Once handcuffed he began beating his head against a police cruiser, leaving dents that required bodywork repairs.

Adam Wood Welch, 23, Charlottesville, Va., pleaded guilty to marijuana possession and was handed a 30 day suspended sentence, a $200 fine, six months of unsupervised probation, and 30 hours of community service. Welch's May arrest came after a traffic stop, during which a K-9 drug detection dog indicated his vehicle may have been carrying contraband. State troopers found a quantity of marijuana, a smoking pipe, and rolling papers scattered throughout the car. An additional possession of drug paraphernalia charge was not prosecuted.

Shane Dwayne Russell, 19, Frostburg (Garrett Co.), was convicted of disorderly conduct and handed a 30-day suspended sentence, fined $140, placed on six months of unsupervised probation, and ordered to complete 20 hours of community service. State troopers jailed Russell after a March traffic stop when he refused to sign a routine speeding citation and initiated a verbal confrontation with the trooper. As he was being arrested, Russell reportedly resisted being handcuffed. Additional charges of resisting arrest and various traffic offenses were not prosecuted.

Anthony James Hardesty, 19, Oakland, pleaded not guilty to marijuana possession but was nonetheless handed a probation before judgment (PBJ) ruling, along with a 30-day suspended sentence, a $400 fine, one year of supervised probation, and 30 hours of community service. Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested Hardesty in April when a traffic stop led to the discovery of a deer antler that had been fashioned into a smoking device that bore burnt marijuana residue. Not prosecuted were additional charges of DUI and traffic offenses.

Kenneth Allen McRobie, 22, Oakland, pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and was handed a PBJ along with a 30-day suspended sentence, a $100 fine, and one year of supervised probation. McRobie's June arrest came after he admitted to driving while intoxicated. As he was being walked to a sheriff deputy's cruiser, he yelled multiple obscenities in public. Additional charges of second degree assault and DUI were not prosecuted.

Douglas Allen Lyons, 19, Grantsville, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and received a PBJ and one day of unsupervised probation. Sheriff's deputies jailed Lyons in April following a short vehicle pursuit. Lyons, who was a passenger in the stopped vehicle, was extremely intoxicated at the time of the incident and yelled numerous obscenities at the officers.

Concetta Marie Boyce, 47, Mtn. Lake Park, pleaded guilty to drug paraphernalia possession and was handed a PBJ, while an additional charge of possession of marijuana was not prosecuted. Her May arrest by Garrett County Narcotics Task Force detectives came after a search of her residence uncovered a smoking pipe.

Paul Everett Miller, 65, Grantsville, was handed a stet ruling on a second degree assault charge filed by state troopers after he had allegedly slapped his wife during a domestic dispute at their home.

William Joseph Fultz, 38, Swanton, was handed a stet ruling on a second degree assault charge filed by sheriff's deputies after he reportedly struck his girlfriend with a coffee mug during a domestic dispute at the residence they were sharing.

Charges of misdemeanor theft and fourth degree burglary faced by Thomas Lee Uphold, 21, Oakland, were placed on the stet docket, while an additional charge of second degree burglary was not prosecuted. Sheriff's deputies had arrested Uphold in June for allegedly taking an air compressor from a locked shed without the owner's permission.

David Wayne Welch, 40, Mtn. Lake Park, was handed stet rulings on charges of second degree assault and failure to comply with a peace order. His April arrest came after he grabbed a juvenile and threatened to harm her father during a domestic dispute. Sheriff's deputies filed the charges.

Scott Edward Patton, 27, Oakland, was handed a stet ruling on a second degree assault charge filed in June by sheriff's deputies after he allegedly struck his girlfriend at their residence.

Michael Vincent Likar, 25, Oakland, was handed stet rulings in conjunction with charges of marijuana and drug paraphernalia possession. His January arrest came after sheriff's deputies searching a home where he was a party guest discovered suspected marijuana and paraphernalia in his possession.

David Spencer Glotfelty, 38, was not prosecuted on charges of second degree burglary and misdemeanor theft that stemmed from an April burglary of the Swanton Grocery. Sheriff's deputies had made the arrest.

Debra Jean Wolf, 34, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a second degree assault charge filed after a domestic altercation with her husband. The incident was investigated by sheriff's deputies.

Shawn Barmore, 27, Bloomington, was not prosecuted on charges of possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia filed after narcotics detectives discovered a bag of suspected marijuana during a search of his apartment.

Marty Lee Ritchie, 25, Frostburg (Garrett Co.), was not prosecuted on charges of second degree assault and fourth degree sex offense that stemmed from an April incident at his home. The charges were filed by sheriff's deputies.

Lynn E. Mason, 42, Oakland, was deemed not guilty of charges of misdemeanor theft, trespassing, disturbing the peace, and engaging in rogue and vagabond behavior filed in November after she allegedly took items from an ex-boyfriend's residence.

Ricky Harold Minnick, 41, Oakland, was deemed not guilty of violating an ex parte order stemming from repeated phone calls he allegedly made to a local woman.

Ray Everett Shillingburg, 42, Gormania, W.Va., was deemed not guilty of a harassment charge filed by the state's attorney's office, which accused him of repeatedly harassing a woman over a six-month period.

VFW DONATES TO LOCH LYNN – Carolyn Corley, Loch Lynn Heights council member and newly appointed coordinator of the concession stand project, recently accepted a donation from Paul Graham, commander of the VFW Post 10077, Deer Park. "With the generous donations of money and materials as well as the many volunteer hours by residents, the building will soon be complete," said Corley. According to Mayor Larry Friend, the facility, which includes a kitchen, restrooms, and storage area, will benefit the families as well as the hundreds of young people of Garrett County who play on the adjoining ball fields.

spokeswoman Katie O'Malley-Simpson said the waiver "certainly will help" manage the calendar. School systems handled the hurricane emergency differently, Reinhard said. Most school systems, he said, were closed Thursday, but not in Garrett and Alleghany counties. Others, like Carroll, Cecil, Fredrick and Washington counties, opened Monday, but let out early.

The quick action on the waiver took some by surprise.

"Usually we don't hear that until February or March," said Marlene Feldman, spokeswoman for Dorchester County schools.

Systems that were closed other days besides Friday because of weather-related difficulties may request additional days from the State Board closer to the end of the year. Such cases are considered on a case-by-case basis. "Parents and teachers are affected the most," Reinhard said. "No one wants to see students in class on July 4."

Thank You

The Gorman VFD would like to take this opportunity to thank Cobra Tire and Savage Services Corporation for their generous donation of one hog each. These hogs were purchased at the Garrett County Fair this year. Once again we express the importance of the communities supporting all of our volunteer fire departments. Your donations very well may make a difference in whether you will continue to receive the extra benefits that we have all become accustomed to over the years. Once again we thank you, Cobra Tire and Savage Services, for your donation; as always this department will use your donation in the best interest of our community.

Also we would like to inform the public that the department is holding a gun lotto for the month of October. The winning numbers will be taken from the Maryland Lottery 2nd drawing of the day. A prize will be awarded for each day of the month, the entire month regardless of what day your ticket was purchased. Example: If you purchase your ticket on the 23rd of October it will be retroactive to the first of the month. The tickets are already in circulation and if you have not purchased yours yet and would like to, the cost of the ticket is $25.00 and can be purchased from members of the Gorman VFD.

Thank you for your support.

Saliva Is Essential to Good Health

Saliva is a liquid mixture in the mouth that can be difficult to live without. Recent estimates indicate that approximately 25 million people get dry mouth as a side effect of commonly used medications. Others who have received radiation therapy in the area of their mouths or develop a condition called Sjorgen's syndrome often experience severe dry mouth. Saliva coats the teeth, stops teeth from dissolving, and helps heal mouth wounds. When there is not enough saliva, a host of problems can occur including excessive cavities in the teeth, a sore tongue that becomes fissured, and yeast infections.

A variety of artificial saliva products and mouth moisturizers are available over the counter. Good dental hygiene is crucial because of the tendency for the mouth that is low in natural saliva to develop cavities. Brushing and flossing after every meal, and tooth-cleaning at the dentist's office are all essential to maintaining healthy teeth.

EMS Budget

"Maryland is recognized as having one of the best comprehensive trauma care systems in the country," said Bass. "Our aviation program gets them to a facility where they can intervene rapidly."

The institute oversees and coordinates the EMS system and has an 11-member board. Expenditures from the fund increased 50 percent through this fiscal year and not all is attributed to inflation. The board made the decision to increase available grants from $5 million per year in 1999 to $7.5 million dollars in 2000 and then to $10 million since 2000.

The R. Adams Cowley Shock Trauma Center, operated by the University of Maryland Medical System, also receives funds from the registration fees and has been held to an approximately 3 percent annual increase due to inflation since 1999.

It is unclear if the increase will continue, legislative analysts said.

Money allotted for replacement and modernization of medical equipment is also not included in the budget forecasts beyond fiscal year 2005.

Other sources of funding besides increased vehicle registration charges or changes to current expenditures were discussed briefly.

"The federal government set up EMS, but no funding except for homeland security," said Bass. "There is no dedicated funding in the

Farming On The Mountaintop

Hurricane Isabel Blows Through Md.

Hurricane Isabel arrived in Maryland last Thursday, which resulted in 3.5 days suitable for field work for the week ending Sept. 21. Winds gusted up to 55 miles per hour on Thursday night resulting in damage to corn, fruit trees, farm buildings, and some soybean fields. Flooding occurred in parts of Maryland, especially in low lying areas and shore lines. Most areas had up to 3 inches of rain from Hurricane Isabel.

Corn condition slightly decreased this week from hurricane damage. Many corn fields have broken stalks, but ear stands are still good and harvest should not be too much of a problem. Some farmers were able to harvest mature corn for grain before the storm hit. Corn for silage harvest increased early last week, with the threat of the storm, to 38 percent harvested. Soybeans fared pretty well with little change in condition. A few soybean fields were knocked down, but are expected to recover. Almost all the vegetable crops finished their harvesting season before the storm arrived. A small amount of hay was cut in advance of the storm.

Hawk Appointed Area SSCC Rep.

Cumberland resident Ronald D. Hawk has been appointed western Maryland representative for the State Soil Conservation Committee (SSCC). As area representative, Hawk will represent the Garrett, Allegany, Washington, and Carroll county soil conservation districts, as well as the Frederick and Catoctin districts of Frederick County. A voting member of the SSCC, Hawk will be responsible for working with other committee members to develop, formulate, review, and refine policies concerning soil conservation and water quality issues in Maryland, and advise the secretary of agriculture on such matters. He will complete Betty Meyers's term as the committee's western Maryland representative.

Hawk currently serves as a supervisor for the Allegany Soil Conservation District. He was previously employed as a district conservationist with the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service, working in Allegany County as well as several Eastern Shore counties. A graduate of West Virginia University's school of agriculture, Hawk operates two farms in his native West Virginia.

MAEF Accepting Applications For Excellence Awards

The Maryland Agricultural Education Foundation (MAEF) is currently accepting applications for mini-grants and teacher excellence awards for 2003. Completed applications are due to the Foundation by Oct. 1, and award recipients will be announced at the MAEF annual banquet on Nov. 6 at Michael's 8th Avenue in Glen Burnie.

These award programs are designed to support the development and sharing of innovative lesson plans and hands-on projects that educate learners about agriculture and its importance in today's society. Teachers or other educators with a project idea may apply to the foundation for a grant to provide materials and resources to make the project a reality for their students.

Projects must provide hands-on activities and help to enrich learner understanding of agriculture as the source of food and fiber. The maximum grant allowance is $400, and the project must be implemented within 6 months of receiving the grants.

For the first year, entries are being accepted from individuals and organizations beyond formal classroom teachers.

Excellence in Teaching about Agriculture Award entries are also being accepted from teachers who have already developed and implemented a creative lesson or project in their classroom. Entrants must have participated in an "Ag in the Classroom" workshop, have taught at a school that has been visited by the foundation's mobile science labs, and participated in the Maryland Agriculture Teacher Association summer conference or participated in any other foundation-sponsored workshops or programs.

Awards will be in the amount of $100, $200 and $300, and will be determined by a committee of judges.

Winning projects will become the property of the Maryland Agricultural Education Foundation, which will have the right to share these project plans with other educators via training workshops, on the web site, and/or in its newsletter.

For more information and application requirements, persons may visit the foundation's web site at www.maefonline.com , or call 410-939-9030 for a brochure.

Applications must be typed and postmarked by Oct. 1, 2003. Entries may be also be e-mailed to mstephens@maefonline.com. Entries will be evaluated on creativity, completeness, and relevance to agricultural education.

Founded in 1989, MAEF is a non-profit organization that promotes and enhances the understanding and appreciation of agriculture in the daily lives of Marylanders.

Current foundation programs include Ag in the Classroom, mobile science labs, Maryland Agriculture Showcase, Excellence in Teaching about Agriculture Awards, mini-grants for agricultural projects, management of the Maryland FFA organization, and conducting in-service training by agriculture teachers from across the state.

The foundation is currently developing an Ag in the Classroom program for middle school, and the first teacher workshop will be held in June 2004.

Support for the foundation comes from public and private grants, individual and corporate donations, and the sale of Maryland's "Ag Tag."

For additional information about MAEF or to schedule a group presentation, persons may contact Marty Stephens, at 410-939-9030 or visit the web site at the address noted above.

Casteel Honored At Mary Kay Annual Seminar

Anna Casteel, Bruceton Mills, W.Va. (formerly of Garrett County), joined approximately 53,000 Mary Kay independent business owners from throughout the United States at the company's 39th annual seminar, held in late July.

Casteel was honored on stage with a 14-karat gold bracelet set with diamonds and tourmalines for completing the challenge of $40,000 in personal retail sales for the 40th anniversary of Mary Kay. She was one of the top 29 persons who received the Mary Kay figurine, which was designed by Mary Kay herself for the 40-year milestone.

The skin care and cosmetics company, founded in 1963, has averaged double-digit annual growth since its beginning.

Heartland Honors Environmental Services Staff

Heartland of Preston County, Kingwood, recently recognized National Environmental Services Week, Sept. 14-20, by honoring its Environmental Services staff members for their teamwork and dedication.

"I am very proud to work with such caring and dedicated employees, always giving the special effort needed to insure a safe and healthy environment." said Environmental Services director Bertha Moser. "The pride in their work shows for all to see as they enter our doors to visit or make their home with us."

In addition to a pizza luncheon, staff members received appreciation gifts and prizes. Among those recognized were Linnie Miller and Moser, more than 20 years of service; Vicki Thorn, Rosemary Bolyard, Carolyn Parks, and Steve Ruggles, 15-20 years of service; and Diana Popielewski, Sharon Stonebreaker, Karen Lewis, and Lester DeWitt, 10 to 15 years of service.

STUDENTS VISIT SANDWICH SHOP – First graders in Mr. Hebb's class at Terra Alta/East Preston Elementary School recently visited the new Terra Alta Subway. Escorted by Trooper Marcus of the Terra Alta Police Department, the students walked from their school to the sandwich shop. They were greeted by the shop's owner and the employees, who then gave the students the "grand tour" of the establishment. They were also shown how to properly wash their hands and wear gloves for proper sandwich making. Each child was then given the chance to prepare his or her own sandwich behind the "sandwich-artist" counter. To show their appreciation, the children later wrote a thank-you letter to the staff. Subway restaurants are involved in many civic, education, and charitable organizations. On a local basis, franchisees are also involved with many schools and religious or community organizations. For more information, persons may check with their neighborhood Subway.

Class of '51 Meets For Reunion

A reunion for members of the 1951 graduating class of Aurora High School was held Saturday evening, Sept. 13, at Melanie's Restaurant in Aurora. Those who attended were Harley and Regina Donham, Grafton; Hazel (Wilt) and Lewis Durst, Amboy; Dorothy (Auvil) and Clayton Hauser, Terra Alta; Mary Ruth (Helmick) and Glenn Ball, Terra Alta; Alan and Helen Lipscomb, and Thelma Stemple, all Aurora; Earl E. and Alice Roth, Renick; Arvin Harsh, Eglon; and instructors Virginia Martin and Martha Bolyard.

Personal Mention

Gay Roth returned to his home near Thomas last week after being a surgical patient in a Morgantown hospital.

Erma Heise of Arthurdale is recuperating after surgical repair of her fractured ankle and foot. Her sister, Carolyn Rhodes of Ohio, is staying with Mrs. Heise and her husband, John, at their home. On Saturday they were visited by their brother and his wife, Ed and Janet Shaffer of Grove City, Ohio, who were on their way to Davis at attend the Blackwater Lodge reunion of his Aurora High School class. Relatives and friends from the area visited them there before their return.

Bradley, 3-week-old son of Jason and Tiffany Fint of Aurora, underwent surgery on Friday at Morgantown hospital for a blockage in his digestive tract. He is the grandchild of George and Sadie Fint.

John Allman of Eglon is seriously ill at his home and under Hospice care.

Judy Highberger of Charleston, S.C., and Norman Fike of Belington spent last week with their mother, Louella Fike, Aurora, and also visiting during that time was another brother, Gary Fike of Terra Alta.

Donna Hartsell of Amboy has returned to her home at Amboy to continue recovery from hip replacement surgery at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Keith and Dee Douglas of Aurora were Sept. 8-12 visitors with their children and grandchildren in Ohio.

Herman Kemphfer Sr. of Aurora returned to his home on Saturday after spending part of the week in Preston Memorial Hospital.

Daniel Parsons was injured Thursday evening when he reportedly toppled a TV set. He was treated and released at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. On Sunday his parents, Leonard and Tammy Parsons, and brother Michael hosted a family birthday gathering in his honor at their Horse Shoe Run Home. Attending were Eugene and Bernadine Bachtel, Jack and Brenda Cassidy, Chuck, Eugenia, Shelly, and Amanda Cassidy, Scott, Teresa, and Stephanie Bittinger, Bill Diana, and Matt Bachtel, Gary, Denise, and Willie Bachtel, Larry and Jane Bachtel, Twila and Vernon Amtower and grandchildren, Brandon and Natalie Wood, John and Shirley Parsons, Ron Parsons, and Jean Skipper.

Mrs. Jessie Hughes will celebrate her birthday on Sept. 28. Her daughter Judy suggests that calls to her at 735-5810 would be well received. Cards may be addressed to her at Rt. 1, Box 215, Aurora, WV 26705.

Jackie and Alma Snyder visited this weekend in Stewartstown, Pa., with Alma's brother and his wife, Lawrence and Peggy Donham.

Grace Donham Winter of Fairmont has been a patient in Monongalia General Hospital since Thursday of last week, where she is undergoing tests.

Claire and Lois Kight of Montana are visiting with their daughter and family, Delores, Ronnie, Kari, and Tyler Harsh, Eglon, and attended the reunion of her graduating class on Sept. 20 at Blackwater Lodge.

The Maple Spring Church family took a hayride on Sept. 21. They first witnessed racing pigeons in their crates, set to be released to fly to their home at Camp Galilee near Terra Alta, where their owner, Glenn Nissley, is caretaker. Inadvertently released by the children, their takeoff was done prematurely. Following this, four wagons were loaded and the journey began its way to the first stop, this at the Bobby Harsh farm, to see his buffalo. The group then headed to Crimson Shamrock farm, where they viewed the alpacas and sheep. Back to the church via Cash Valley, the entire group expressed appreciation to Kelly and Ronnie Junkins, Jerry and Terry Houser, Stanley Harsh, and Ronnie Heishman for planning, tractors, and wagons.

An overnight birthday for Wesley and Trevor Spaid proved to be anything but a slumber party on Saturday, Sept. 20. But parents Ronnie and Angie Spaid of Eglon managed to make it out and about Sunday, despite the extra five sons they had for the evening and night.

And again the mountain top experienced a vehicular accident, when on Sunday evening the Roger Glotfeltys of Oakland were involved, with Mrs. Glotfelty life flighted to Morgantown. The incident on U.S. 219 between the Rt. 24 junction and the Maryland line.

ACCIDENT GROUP HOLDS BIKE RODEO – The Accident Community Planning Group recently held its annual bike rodeo in the parking lot of the old IGA store in Accident. This year the children participated in many challenging games, including the "figure 8," snail game, sponge relay, "between the lines," and music jam. In addition to the games, Sharon Custer from the Garrett County Health Department gave a presentation and conducted a safety inspection of the children's bikes. Refreshments were available, door prizes were awarded, and certificates were given to everyone who participated. "It was a beautiful day and the attendance in the rodeo was up from last year," said Angie LaMastus, Accident Community Planning Group reporter. "It was a very fun activity for all the kids." Pictured are some of the children participating in the event.

SEPTEMBER IS NATIONAL 5-A-DAY MONTH – To help promote this healthy daily habit, the Garrett County Health Department is sponsoring a 5-A-Day contest between third graders at Accident Elementary and third graders at Yough Glades Elementary. Students at both schools have been asked to record the fruits and vegetables they eat for one week. Nutrition and physical activity related books will be awarded to the school that has the most students eating a least 5 servings of fruits and vegetables each day of the one week contest. Pictured are third graders from both schools being visited by a large apple and giant carrot who were educating students on the many benefits of eating fruits and vegetables. The students from Accident are pictured above, and those from Yough Glades are below.

would like to congratulate Brian Bender
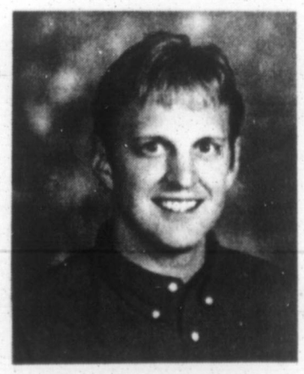
on obtaining his RRS Designation



Brian has successfully completed the Worldwide Recreation & Resort Specialist requirements in order to obtain the RRS Designation. RRS is a designation that recognizes real estate professionals who have completed the necessary course requirements. Designation requirements include: classroom instruction and training, a passing grade on the final exam, and the successful settlement of at least 50 transactions or over $15 million in closed transactions. The RRS Course focused on the unique characteristics of selling real estate in a recreation & resort area.

Congratulations, Brian, on a job well done.

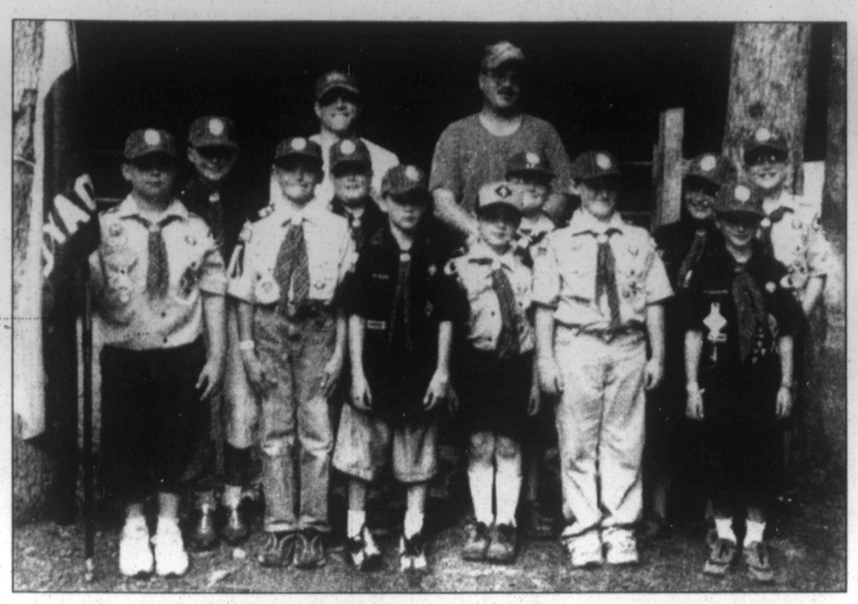
DNR Slates State Forest Work Plan Meeting At NGSP

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources Forest and Park Service will host a public meeting on Saturday, Oct. 4, at 10 a.m. at the New Germany State Park lakehouse to present its proposed work plans for western Maryland's state forests for fiscal year 2005.

DNR staff representing Potomac Garrett, Savage River, and Green Ridge state forests will present proposals for new construction and changes in forest use and forest harvests. An opportunity for questions and comments will follow the presentations.

A 30-day public comment period will follow the meeting. Persons unable to attend may submit comments concerning a specific forest plan to the Potomac Garrett State Forest, 1431 Potomac Camp Rd., Oakland, MD 21550; (301-334-2038); or Savage River State Forest, 349 Headquarters Rd., Grantsville, MD 21536 (301-895-5759).

Forest managers formulated work plans last winter, and an interdisciplinary DNR team reviewed the plans in June. Subsequent reviews were later conducted by forest advisory boards. Copies of the annual plans will be available at the public meetings or can be obtained from any state forest headquarters office. Work plans are also available for viewing on the agency's Web site at www.dnr.state.md.us/publiclands.



PACK 70 HAS BUSY SUMMER – Cub Scouts from Pack 70, Broad Ford Elementary School, recently finished an eventful summer. Activities included Day Camp, biking at Ohiopyle State Park, a fishing derby/campout, and exploring Laurel Caverns. The above picture was taken at Camp Potomac, Oldtown, during the Webelos Camp, where they were busy swimming, earning badges, shooting targets, creating skits, and participating in campfire programs. Pictured, left to right, in the front row are Tyler Alt, Andy Clark, Derek Getson, William Taylor, Norman Wilhelm, and Bryan Wilkinson. In the second row are Taylor Gosnell, Kenny Harvey, Robert Lewis, Kane Tonkovich, and Ryan Cooper. In the third row are Scout leaders Dan Clark and Mike Cooper. Pack 70 is currently registering Scouts. Interested parents whose sons attend Broad Ford Elementary School, grades 1 to 5, may call Cooper at 301-387-8517 for more information.

ASK BEFORE YOU LIST!

You're ready to sell your home... you need the training and experience of a real estate professional... but how do you select the best agent to match your needs?

When talking to an agent, pose thoughtful questions to help you decide. While professional designations can illustrate expertise, and years in practice may indicate success, there are other areas you want to learn about before listing.

For instance, how many homes has your agent sold in the last year, and in your neighborhood specifically? What is the agent's average "list-to-sale" price ratio? Determined by how closely the original listing price matches the final sale price, you want those numbers to be as close as possible.

Overpricing your home only extends its time on the market. An accurate market analysis will produce a price in line with other homes like yours, and guarantee consideration by buyers who comparison shop. So ask for your agent's average listing time on the market for a good indication of their pricing and marketing skills. Don't be afraid to ask what the agent will specifically do to market your home.

Finally, an agent can provide you with past sellers' feedback and testimonials. Successful agents build their listings by word of mouth and referrals from past clients. When you find the agent with the answers, you've found the agent to sell your home!

If you're planning to sell your home soon and would like information on its current value, give me a call today!

Energy Assistance Applications Now Sought By GCCAC

Garrett County Community Action Committee Inc., Office of Home Energy Program, formerly known as Maryland Energy Assistance Program, is taking applications for Energy Assistance and Electric Utility Service Program for anyone who has not applied since July 1, 2003.

Regular office hours are Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; however, evening appointments can be scheduled.

When applying, applicants will need to bring proof of total household income for the previous 30 days, electric bill, and gas bill if gas is the main source of heat. If applicant has never received assistance before, he/she will need to provide a driver's license or birth certificate and social security cards for each member of the household.

Income guidelines are as follows: household size of 1, $1,123 maximum monthly income; 2, $1,515; 3, $1,908; 4, $2,300; 5, $2,693; and 6, $3,085. For each additional person, add $393.

For the Medical Waiver program, interested households that were ineligible for MEAP/EUSP due to being over income may now be eligible if they can provide receipts of medical bills that were paid at least 90 days ago.

Persons with questions or to schedule an evening appointment, may call 301-334-9431, ext. 114; or 1-888-877-8403, ext. 114.

Democratic Club To Meet At Garrett

The Garrett County Democratic Club will host a meeting set for 7 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 1, at the Continuing Education Building at Garrett College. The guest speaker, Susan Athey-Oxford, will deliver a presentation on the current programming and the clientele served by the Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families.

All interested persons may attend. For further information, persons may call 301-533-3242.

4-H Club News

NORTH GLADE
Samantha Gibson, reporter

The North Glade 4-H Club's September meeting took place recently with eight members present. Club president Lee Custer opened the meeting with roll call and the treasurer's report.

A vote was taken on the design and purchase of the sign for the exterior of the club building. A report on the recent Garrett County Fair was delivered during which members shared their fair experiences and told of the awards they won.

The members voted to schedule a fall social for 6 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 18. Committees were formed, and a planning/clean-up committee meeting will take place at 7 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, Sept. 26, in preparation for the event. The purchase of new tables and chairs for the social was also discussed.

4-H baby beef raffle tickets were distributed for members to sell, and any persons interested in purchasing a ticket may contact Samantha Gibson at 301-387-2990.

A building clean-up activity is slated for 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 28. Members have compiled a list of items they need to obtain for the building, through either purchase or donation. Items needed at this time are large trash cans, a used stove and refrigerator, plants for new flower beds, and swings for the swing set.

Any persons who would like to donate baked goods for the fall social, or items for the building remodeling project, are asked to contact June McClosky at 301-387-2990.

The next meeting of the North Glade 4-H Club is set for 7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 16.

Ryan's Glade
by Tara Marple

The regular monthly meeting was held Sept. 16. Each member who had entries in the fair gave a report on what was entered. The club received a blue ribbon on the fair booth, "Treasures of 4-H."

Chas Custer gave a report on the hunter safety course, which several members attended. Aaron Lantz gave a report on his Reserve Grand Champion goat at the Maryland State Fair.

Each family was asked to recognize National 4-H Sunday in their own churches on Oct. 5. During National 4-H week, Oct.5-11, the club decided to do a public announcement on the radio and do a spot on Channel 3 local TV to thank all the club livestock buyers from the Garrett County Fair, and sell 4-H candy bars.

Officer applications are due at the next meeting. Any member wanting to run for office must complete one to run. The next meeting will be held Oct. 21 at 7 p.m. The farm safety program will be given by Bob Yeager.

GRANDPARENTS' DAY WAS CELEBRATED AT DENNETT ROAD Elementary School recently. The PTO sent home letters inviting grandparents to eat lunch at the school with their grandchildren. Shillito/Hansford Insurance Agency

David W. Hansford, a Nationwide insurance agent, recently opened an office in Oakland, and is "happy to be part of the Oakland business community."

Hansford became a Nationwide agent in 1976 in Parsons, W.Va., and in October 2000, he merged with Nationwide agent Jay Shillito in Terra Alta, W.Va.

"I realized there were many growth opportunities in Garrett County, and decided to open an office in Oakland," Hansford said.

The agency handles most insurance needs of the consumer, he said. The office can also handle financial services, including IRAs and 401K rollovers.

"By offering both services, we are a one-stop business for our clients," he added. "Our agency tries to be unique in the insurance industry by providing superior service and by treating clients with the respect they deserve.

"With this in mind, we have decided to stay open until 7 p.m. on Friday evenings and Saturday until noon."

Hansford is assisted by Andrea L. Shaffer, associate agent.

They can be reached at 301-533-3999, and the office is located at 513 East Oak Street next to Get N' Go.

Longer Use Of Child's Booster Seats Mandated By New Maryland Law

By Angie Mason
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS - Patricia Campana is one step ahead of the law. Her 5-year-old son Vincent already uses a booster seat in the car, so when a new child passenger safety law takes effect in October, he'll be ready.

State laws on child passenger safety currently mandate that a child up to 40 pounds or 4 years old, regardless of weight, must be restrained in a safety seat. A law passed during the 2002 General Assembly session will extend the law to apply to 6-year-olds beginning Oct. 1.

"I just feel like it's safer," said Campana of Crownsville. "I'll probably keep him in it even longer."

"Kids usually around ages 4 to 6 are the ones being killed in auto crashes," said Laura Vetock, program coordinator for Maryland Kids in Safety Seats. Adult seat belts don't fit younger children properly and so are not as effective for children in accidents, she said.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration recommends that children up to 8 years old use safety seats. Once children reach 40 pounds they should use a booster seat with the vehicle's regular seat belt.

"Just like we wouldn't give a child adult strength medicine . . . it's the same thing with seat belts," said Meg Miller, occupant protection program coordinator for the Maryland State Highway Administration.

A booster seat elevates the child so that lap and shoulder belts fit correctly. Vetock said there is no "magic number" for determining what age a child is ready for a regular seat belt. It all depends on the child's weight and height.

Without a booster seat, children can't bend their knees over the edge of the seat and the seat belt is uncomfortable, said Cathy Chase, director of state affairs for Advocates for Highway and Auto Safety. They often push the shoulder strap under their arms or behind their backs, she said.

"They put themselves in a dangerous position," she noted. Booster seats make children more comfortable, Chase said, and they usually like that it helps them see out the window.

Advocates hope the law will encourage parents to use booster seats not only until age 6, but as long as children need them. The law forces parents to get booster seats, Chase said, and hopefully once they do they'll keep children in them even longer than the law requires.

"Laws are crucial to spreading the word," said Chase. "A lot of parents don't know why booster seats are important," but a law gives it importance.

"There is a trend in the last three years for states to pass booster seat laws," Chase said. More research has been done on the issue, she said, and mothers nationwide have drawn attention to it. Twenty-two states and the District of Columbia have child passenger safety laws that require booster seats.

A few years ago it was difficult to find child booster seats, but as more states are passing laws requiring them, "retailers are becoming more savvy," Miller said. She estimated that booster seat costs could run from $25 to more than $100.

Maryland Kids in Safety Seats runs loaner programs in all parts of the state so that low-income families can have access to safety seats.

Vetock said programs differ from region to region; some might offer a safety seat for $5, others might be $25. Parents calling the program will be referred to a loaner site in their region.

"They're going to try to take care of people who can't afford them," said Miller.

Maryland has a primary seat belt law, which means state troopers can make traffic stops based solely on seat belt violations.

"Seat belt violation is already a priority," said Sgt. Thornnie Rouse of the Maryland State Police. "Troopers have been pretty good about stopping cars if they see kids up and around."

He said the new law wouldn't cause much of a change in how they enforce passenger safety laws.

GRANTSVILLE

GOODWILL MENNONITE VILLAGE

A bus trip to the Cumberland Theater is scheduled for Oct. 8 to see "To Kill A Mockingbird." Lunch will be at Gehauf's Restaurant. If persons are interested in going they may contact Linda Beitzel by Sept. 29.

GRANTSVILLE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Grantsville Elementary School will hold a "Souper" supper on Oct. 3 from 4:30 to 7 p.m. at the school cafeteria. The proceeds from the dinner will go along with the $5,000 that the school has received from Campbell's Soup Company in order to assist with the reading program. The dinner will include a variety of Campbell's soups, crackers, hot dogs, chili dogs, sloppy joes, dessert, and coffee or punch. The cost for adults is $3, for students, $2.50, and children under 4 will eat free.

There will also be door prizes, "Souper Soup Baskets," cake walks, and entertainment by Christopher Jones. Raffle tickets for Minnie Bittinger's quilt will also be available. The quilt tickets will be sold at $1 each or six for $5. Interested persons may call the school for reservations at 301-895-5173 or 301-746-8662.

SWANTON

A history of Swanton meeting was held this morning at the community center. Model houses of the town constructed by the late Sherman Friend were to be identified at this meeting.

Otterbein Church Day is October 2. Applebutter will be made at the Burlington Children's Home, Burlington, W.Va. Help is needed beginning on Saturday, Sept. 27, getting apples ready for making the applebutter every day, Sept. 29 through Oct. 4. The main apple harvest will be Oct. 4 and 5. On those days there will be crafts, baked goods, and applebutter available. Applebutter will be on sale all week. Everyone is invited to attend or help anytime.

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 3 and 4, the Swanton Community Association will make and sell doughnuts at the Springs Folk Festival. Help there would be appreciated also.

The September meeting of the United Methodist Women was held at the home of Sandy Schofield. Grace Lee was the leader, assisted by Joan Riley and Sandy Schofield. The election of officers for the coming year was held. Elected were president, Linda Fleming; vice president, Sandy Schofield; secretary, Doris Howell; treasurer, Sandy Friend; secretary of program resources, Luella Baker; spiritual growth coordinator, Mareva Teets; education, Mary Wilson; social action, Grace Lee; and nurture and outreach, Phyllis Friend.

At the district meeting on Saturday, the unit was presented a certificate designating it as a Mission Today Bronze Unit. A membership certificate was also received for the addition of two new members.

Sunday's Homecoming at Otterbein United Methodist Church was attended by 46, with Amy Sweitzer and Mary June Harvey receiving gifts for being the oldest women and Orval Teets, the oldest man; longest married, Orval and Mareva Teets (62 years) and Hugh and Helen Friend (52 years). The following were 80 and over: Amy Sweitzer, Glenna Sweitzer, Mary June Harvey, and Glenola Wilson and Orval Teets. There were 28 over 60 years.

Special music and singing were provided by the church choir, Dave Minnich, Keyser, W.Va., Gloryland Three (Orval and Mareva Teets and Mary June Harvey), Kim Sweitzer and daughters Shayna and Amanda, Ray and Carol Sweitzer, and the Golden Girls (Mary Wilson, Linda Fleming, and Sandy Schofield). The service closed with those over 60 years singing "When We All Get To Heaven."

Mike and Ellisa Woodbrey and their girls, Shepherdstown, W.Va., visited family in the area over the weekend.

Luella Baker's, brother Ronnie Friend, is now in the Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home, Oakland.

Bennie and Dottie Beckman traveled to Baltimore Sunday to visit their family for a few days.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Sussman

I really don't think anything much has happened in Bittinger over the last week. However, I did hear that Jimmy Glotfelty was admitted to Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown but was supposed to be discharged early this week.

I can't see past my own nose right now because it is running faster and more full than even Rock Lodge's spring, at least as it was before the hurricane passed over here. Although the Casselman River valley had some water on the road, but at the head water, which is below Katherine Bowser's house, was OK and the low place by Oliver Bender's house was all right. There was some water running across the road on Accident-Bittinger Road, but, as time rushed on, it cleared so traffic could go through. At the bottom of Negro Mountain on Accident-Bittinger Road, the land was flooded but not out on the roadway. I guess you would call that body of water their marsh or maybe just a deep place in a creek. It is not a real deep pond. Unlike in the early 1950s we did not get too much wind but did get a hard rain. My mother's gauge measured five inches of rain from the storm. I was worried about the possibility of losing the electrical power. But at least we dodged that bullet.

People say that with our late spring in Bittinger we should have some extra decent growing weather for an extra few weeks. We sure need it since we have lots of fields of corn still unharvested. Several years ago I noticed that whatever kind of weather the north West Coast or Rocky Mountain regions have, we have the opposite.

Aunt Betty Hummel from Olympia, Washington, said that this year was unusually dry enough so that she had to water her flower garden all summer. I don't think many people around here have had to water their gardens much this spring and summer.

I was pleased to see the western mountains had early snow so maybe winter will wait for awhile here in Garrett County. It seems like the more they get the less we get. Last year was the worst winter for skiing in the Rockies in a long time, while we had enough snow for both regions. But it is truly autumn today according to the calendar and the foliage. Even though we only have spashes of color in our trees, they are definitely there. I saw a beautiful display of autumn color on the ground along Rock Lodge Road. It was a big patch of fern colored gold, scarlet, and pale yellow with some dark green. Another fall color item that not many notice is the milkweed leaves that turn yellow-gold. As I passed through downtown Bittinger today I noticed that the wonderful grape arbor was loaded with a heavy crop of deep purple Concord grapes, whereas my vines, although they have lots of grapes, are still pale green and a long way from being ripe. It always amazes me how wide the gap is behind this part of Bittinger compared to the northern or east end.

Last weekend something happened that has never happened before in my memory. The annual Glotfelty family picnic, which is the big get-together for my father's siblings and their first cousins, is held at Fort Frederick near Hancock. Because of "Isabel" the state of Maryland closed all state parks, not just down-state where the hurricane really threatened. The Howe Country Store near New Germany had many bewildered and amazed visitors inquiring why New Germany State Park was closed.

For a month or more, I couldn't walk at all except with unbearable pain because my ankle brace broke. I had to go back to a stiff rigid one that was so uncomfortable. I could barely even make it to the car, let alone do anything. But at last today I got a new replacement, so now I want to run around like a crazy person, but I am too worn out to do anything.

Meredith and I enjoyed a visit from our new neighbors, Sherry, Paige, Ryan, and Cameron Weaver. The kids joined Mere and Emma and visited with our two equine friends. Sherry and Pastor Chris were away last weekend for a pastor and spouse retreat near Uniontown.

Lenny and Sally Poholsky attended a retirement dinner for Alice Sisler at the Will O' the Wisp on Friday night for her 30 years of service at the Garrett County Health Department. Also attending from Bittinger were Gary and Sharon Buckel, Beth Brenneman, and Rodney and Marci Glotfelty. Leslie Buckel sang several songs, and Rodney, Robbie, and Darryl and Elliot Glotfelty also entertained with their musical instruments.

Lenny and Torrey Poholsky went to the Pirate-Cubs game at PNC Field on Saturday night. Pirates won 8-2. Over the weekend Lenny and Torrey Poholsky and Matthew Bass were at Nemacolin Woodlands for the PGA Golf Open. Torrey, Sally, and Lenny spent last weekend in Virginia touring some colleges that Torrey might be interested in attending next year.

Ferne Beachy and Meredith Vagnetti visited with Chauncey Friend and Olis Brenneman at the Goodwill Nursing Home on Tuesday.

Visiting with Harriett Buckel this past week were Bernadette Henson, St. Albans, W.Va., Annette Keller, Accident, and Ruth DiPaolo.

Jim Glotfelty was admitted to Ruby Memorial Hospital Oncology Department Saturday evening for treatment of bone cancer. Visiting him were his sister, Bernadette Hanson of St. Alban's, W.Va., Linda Oester, Salisbury, Pa., Julius and Karmen Carey, Frostburg, Tom Glotfelty, Alpine Lake, and a friend Jasper, who was visiting here from the Netherlands, and Tim Glotfelty.

Word was received here of the recent death of Fannie Wiley of Canton, Ohio, a former resident of the Bittinger community. She was the daughter of Charles and Mary Brenneman Wiley, who at one time lived on what is now called the Nayburlee Farm.

Swanton School Reunion Held

The 5th Swanton School reunion was held on Aug. 23 at the Swanton Community Center (the former Swanton School).

There were 83 in attendance coming from Texas, Illinois, West Virginia, Tennessee, Delaware, Ohio, Virginia, and Maryland.

Music was furnished by Linda Teets Fleming.

Door prizes were won by 11 people. "A good time was had by all, including a cake walk like the students enjoyed at the school years ago," said a spokesperson.

Another reunion is planned for 2005 at the Community Center.

SCIENTIFIC SCHOLARS AT GRANTSVILLE ELEMENTARY – Students at Grantsville Elementary were "scientific scholars" this month when the Biotechnology, Food, Fiber & You Lab visited the school. Grades K-5 participated in this mobile science lab, allowing all students at Grantsville to experience a hands-on approach to learning. Fourth and fifth grade students utilized the lab each day of its visit. They made cottage cheese, wool bookmarks, soybean glue, and other agricultural products. Students also observed the making of lip balm and tested the strength of soybeans in plaster of Paris, as well as testing the strength of glue that they made with soybeans. Sponsored by Maryland Agricultural Education Foundation Inc., the Biotech Lab is one of several mobile science labs that travel around Maryland. Known as Maryland Ag in the Classroom, these science labs provide an enrichment to the science program of many schools across the state. According to Carol Fox, the instructor of this year's lab, the mobile labs are also placed at many county fairs throughout the state to help young people gain an appreciation of the benefits of agriculture. Students at Grantsville expressed enthusiasm about the science lab and included slides of their experiences on the Morning News broadcast at Grantsville Elementary. Pictured above is the fourth grade class of Ruby Thompson. Her substitute, Joann Maxim, is watching as Fox instructs the students.

Seniors' Fitness Classes Set In Various Locales

A grant awarded to the Garrett County Community Action Committee's Area Agency on Aging from the Office of the Attorney General will make it possible for the agency to offer fitness programs at outlying facilities beginning next month. "The programs are an extension of the Flowery Vale Fitness Center and will enable us to reach more older adults wishing to improve their overall health," said a spokesperson for the local agency.

The agency was contacted by the Office of the Attorney General in late May announcing the availability of funds to provide health and/or fitness programs and services to the older adult population. "We saw this as an opportunity to take some of the fitness programs available at the Flowery Vale Fitness Center to locations in outlying communities," the representative explained, "so we developed a proposal for a 'Fitness Road Show.'"

The new fitness programs will begin the first week of October. Participants do not have to be active members of the senior centers to participate in the programs, but they must be age 55 or older. The programs will be offered in two 12-week sessions at the three locations. The sessions will begin at the Grantsville Senior Center on Wednesday, Oct. 1, at 2 p.m.; at the Mary Browning Senior Center on Monday, Oct. 6, at 2 p.m.; and at the Friendsville Community Center on Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 10:30 a.m. Persons wishing to attend the sessions are reminded to wear comfortable clothing and appropriate footwear.

Flowery Vale fitness director Elaine Kackley, a certified fitness instructor and personal trainer, will visit each location one day per week to provide instruction and lead classes. The programs will include exercise and resistance training to improve cardiovascular health, range of motion and stretching activities to enhance flexibility, and PACE (People with Arthritis Can Exercise) classes to decrease chronic pain associated with arthritis. Exercise equipment will include flex bands, dumbbells, and fitness balls. Health education materials will be distributed and discussed on a monthly basis.

As with members of the fitness center, records will be maintained on each participant to gauge their progress. Participants will also receive a quarterly assessment to assure they receive the maximum benefit from the programs offered, and the degree of difficulty will be increased accordingly. Once instructed on the proper exercise techniques, participants can incorporate the fitness activities into their daily living routines in the interim between structured classes.

The agency will maintain data on each participant. Quarterly reports will be made to the Office of the Attorney General. The agency hopes to have results similar to those witnessed at the fitness center, which include weight loss, lower blood pressure, lower blood sugar levels, improved and increased flexibility, and reductions in medication.

Persons interested in participating are requested to contact either the Area Agency on Aging at 301-334-9431 or 1-888-877-8403, or the Flowery Vale Fitness Center at 301-746-8050 to register. Walk-ins will be welcome. A registration fee of $5 will cover participation in all sessions within a 12-week program.

RAILEY REALTY

Thank You

The Housing Department of Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., would like to thank Our Savior Lutheran Church for all their hard work during their Servant Event this summer. This event coordinated by GCCAC provides eligible homeowners with necessary repairs to their homes at no cost.

We would like to thank Greg Shockey of Team One for his assistance and support for this project. A special thanks to Ed Chalkley for volunteering numerous hours preparing work write-ups and delivering materials to the project sites. Many thanks also to Del Cosner for his expertise in preparing site plans and OC Cluss Lumber for their assistance with this project.

Without the support of individuals and businesses such as these, the Lutheran Servant Event would not have been nearly as successful.

Dec. 1, 1951 - Sept. 27, 2002

They say that time can ease all pain, but life without you will never be the same. Gone are the days when we could hear your voice and see your face. The morning you left for the hospital we had no idea that your life was going to come to an end so soon. Now, looking back at the days, the weeks, and the months preceding your death, it all seems to make more sense. We knew you were tired, attributing it to work as we all often do, but we never could have guessed that there was so much more to it. Perhaps you knew, perhaps you didn't. Maybe your attention to certain details should have told us before your untimely death. We think of you often, when we see familiar people or visit familiar places. We miss your humor, a distinct style all your own; we miss your phone calls, the likes of which we took for granted; we miss your gestures, your mannerisms that marked your personality. Work, a staple in our lives, is no longer what it used to be. You are the missing piece, the one that will always leave a void and can never be replaced. We took your presence for granted; now all we have are the memories. There was so much you dreamed of doing and so much that was left undone. But, our comfort comes from knowing you no longer suffer. At your funeral we heard the song about angels among us and now we pray that you have joined them, watching down upon us, concerned as always with our well-being. We will forever miss you. You're in our thoughts every day and though you are gone, we thank you for everything you left with us. We'll cherish the memories, so beautiful in retrospect, until we see you again.

Loved and sadly missed by your family

Different Cultures Mesh, Learn Together While In Garrett County

by Beth L. Bowers

Different cultures, languages, and experiences all meshed together these last few weeks as teachers from South Africa, students and teachers from Spain, and Garrett County students learned from each other through various activities.

The visitors from Spain have been in Garrett County since the second week of September, and are from Ubrique Cadiz in the very south of that country. They have been staying with various host families of Northern High School students.

The group of six is led by teachers Diego Guerrero and Gema Casillas, who have been staying with Pat and Kim Conroy, Deep Creek Lake. The students are Celia Villalobos, Enrique Onate, Julio Barreno, Fernando Gomez, Antonio Fabero, and Paco Garcia.

NHS students spent two weeks with these families while in Spain this past June. In total, these students have been with each other for a month. These visits are made possible through the Stanley P. Smith Family Foundation.

According to Guerrero, their town is similar to Garrett County in many ways. The town has a population of approximately 18,000 and is isolated in the mountains about 80 miles from the sandy beaches. Many people in the area make their living from the leather manufacturing industry.

The five educators from South Africa are currently on a seven-week visit to Garrett College, where they are being hosted by Dr. Nancy Priselac, GC coordinator of mathematics, and members of the mathematics faculty and staff. The purpose of their visit is to observe techniques of teaching mathematics through the use of technology and to attend the two-week Mathematics Institute.

The visiting educators are David Fransman, principal of Welkom Secondary School; Lucy Kganyago, mathematics teacher at Minerva High School; Thembilizwe (Tee-gee) Hawker, curriculum advisor for mathematics in South Cape/Karoo EMDC of the Western Cape Education Department; Masepe Harold Mokone, acting principal of Beacon Senior Secondary School; and Thembeni Dorothy Cele, mathematics teacher of Mshweshwe High School.

The South Africans' visit to the United States has been made possible through a grant written by Prince George's Community College and funding from the South African Ministry of Education.

Both groups have been included in numerous activities with the Garrett County school system throughout their stay. They shared cultural experiences with the students at Swan Meadow School, shadowed teachers and administrators, and toured economic development sites.

"We have enjoyed every minute of our stay," said Fransman.

One day during their visit, they visited the Hickory Environmental Education Center, viewed the planetarium, and ate lunch before heading to the Bear Creek Fish Hatchery along Fish Hatchery Road.

Students from Northern and Southern high schools also joined the visitors for the day's events.

The Northern High School students involved in the day's activities were Mike McKewen, Sam Sherrard, Amanda Sisler, Margaret Mastej, Mike Moyer, and Lindsay Phillips. They were accompanied by adviser April Slagle.

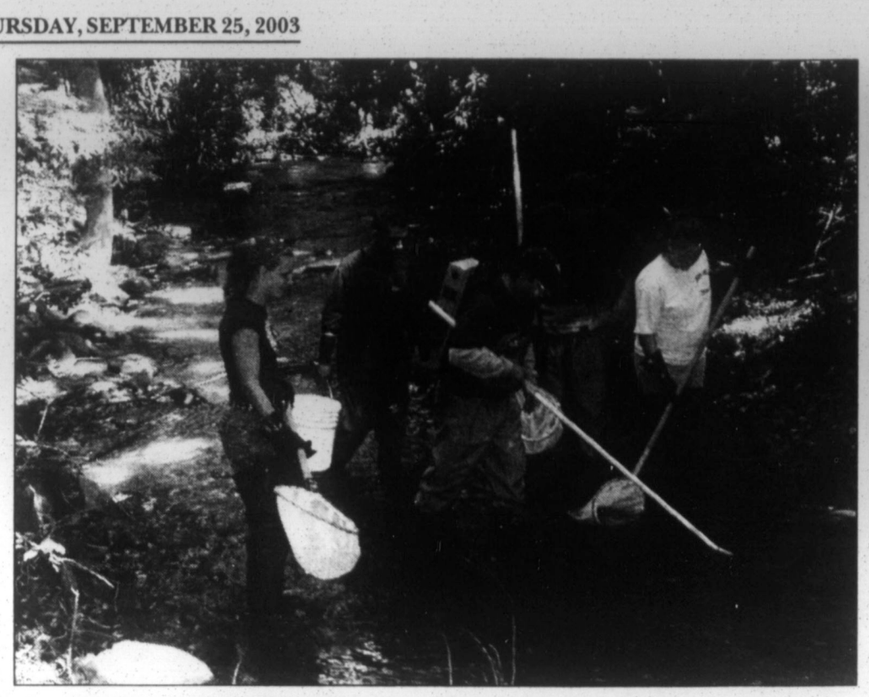
The Southern High students were Pat DiGioia, Greg Beckman, Emily Thomas, Tori Insley, JoAnn Buckel, Andrew Goad, Stephanie Keenan, Corey Lewis, and advisers Jamie Beeman and Angie Teagarden.

The group divided in half and spent 30 minutes at two different activities.

Jody Johnson, the fisheries' biologist, and Alan Klotz, district biologist, with the help of some local students, demonstrated how to electroshock fish.

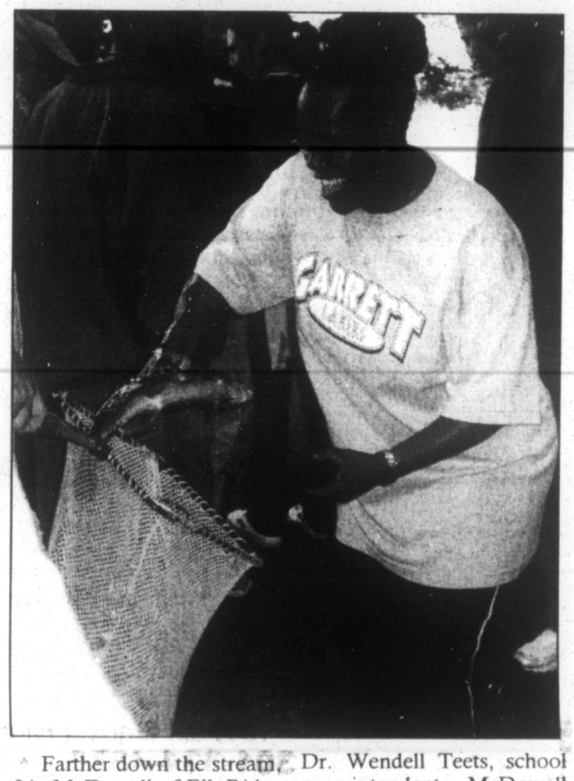
This procedure stuns the fish for a short period of time, allowing the biologists to collect the fish and gather data from them.

Using a backpack shocker, Johnson shocked the water, while Amanda Sisler, Margaret Mastej, and Mike Moyer from NHS caught the stunned fish in nets.



KEEPING THEIR EYES PEELED – As Jody Johnson, biologist, electroshocks the stream, Amanda Sisler, Mike Moyer, and Margaret Mastej, Northern High students, stand by ready with nets and a bucket to scoop up the stunned fish for examination. Alan Klotz, district biologist, also helped out with this demonstration. This was part of a trip to the Bear Creek Fish Hatchery last week for several high school students and five South African educators, two Spanish teachers, and six Spanish students who have been visiting Garrett County for several weeks. In the picture below, Lucy Kganyago, mathematics teacher at Minerva High School in South Africa, dressed in her Garrett Lakers T-shirt, jumped right in to grab one of the large trout they learned about through the day's activities. See story for more details. Photos by Beth Bowers.

GETTING THEIR FEET WET – While at the Bear Creek Fish Hatchery, most of the South African visitors and Spanish students were more than eager to jump into the stream bed and experience this stream-monitoring technique organized by Liz McDowell of Elk Ridge NatureWorks. Dr. Wendell Teets, school superintendent, and Lucy Kganyago, mathematics teacher at Minerva High School, hold the kicknet that will catch any macroinvertebrates that are kicked up from those students turning over rocks and stirring up sediment farther up the stream. From examining what macroinvertebrates inhabit a stream, the water quality can be determined, as well as many other aspects of the environment. See story for more details. Below, McDowell explains how to use the identification chart when examining the insects found in the stream. Photos by Beth Bowers.



Farther down the stream, Liz McDowell of Elk Ridge NatureWorks and an Envirothon Team volunteer at NHS, was giving a group a lesson about the benthic and macroinvertebrates that live in the stream and demonstrating some stream monitoring techniques. These are creatures without backbones that live on the bottom of a stream and can be seen with the naked eye.

With the help of some of the students who were willing to get a little wet, and Dr. Wendell Teets, school superintendent, McDowell used a kicknet to catch a selection of various creatures from the bottom of the stream bed. Several students would do a "stream dance" in the water, stirring up the bottom, and others would lift up rocks and rub the bottoms off trying to loosen any life and send it along the stream into the net for future examination.

Many different life forms were found, including salamanders, crayfish, and other macroinvertebrates.

McDowell explained that seeing which macroinvertebrates live in the stream can aid in determining the environment of the water, especially the quality of the water and the possibility of any pollution.

Throughout the day, those involved learned not only from the trip organized by Bruce Taliaferro, director of Hickory, but from each other also.

They took turns snapping pictures of each other, and the South African visitors did a little singing and dancing while some Spanish visitors demonstrated part of the Macarena.

Special Olympics Open House Set

Special Olympics Maryland – Garrett County will hold an open house Friday, Sept. 26, from 5 to 7 p.m., at the Discovery Center, Deep Creek State Park.

Persons interested in becoming an athlete, coach, or volunteer are encouraged to attend. Refreshments will be served, and for additional information persons may contact Charla Beiler at 301-245-4388.

Used Book Shop To Open At Train Station

End of the Line Books, a non-profit, used book shop will open in the box car at the Oakland Railroad Station on Friday, Oct. 3, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The book shop will carry a wide variety of used books, fiction and non-fiction, suitable for children and adults, at resale book prices. It is planned that the shop will be open Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays at the same hours as the Train Station is open (11 a.m. to 3 p.m.), from Oct. 3 through Oct. 25.

After closing for the winter, it will open again in 2004 from May until the end of October on the same schedule.

End of the Line Books is sponsored by the Ruth Enlow Library and the town of Oakland. Marilyn Moors is the coordinator.

She reports that donations of used books for resale can be made any of the hours that the book shop is open. The proceeds from the sale of used books will benefit the Ruth Enlow Library and other Garrett County arts, educational, and civic programs.

She also requests the assistance of volunteer book sellers, book sorters, and book shelvers. She may be contacted at 301-746-4057 for more information or to volunteer.

DNR Opens Md. Forests, Parks In Wake Of Isabel

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources has reopened a number of state forests, parks, natural resources management areas, natural environment areas, and wildlife management areas across the state as clean-up from Hurricane Isabel continues.

The following DNR facilities located in Garrett County are now open: Herrington Manor State Park – day use, cabins; New Germany State Park – day use, cabins, campground; Savage River State Forest – day use, campgrounds; and Swallow Falls State Park – day use, campground. A full list of state forests and parks that are open is available on the DNR Web site at www.dnr.state.md.us.

Due to the volume of site-specific damage, new campground reservations will not be accepted until Wednesday, Oct. 1, but instead, campsites will be available on a first-come, first-served basis at the park. The SFPS will honor reservations that were made prior to Wednesday, Sept. 17, and that have not already been canceled. The Reservation Service continues to accept reservations for the period May 1 through Sept. 30, 2004. The phone number for the Reservation Service is 1-888-432-2267.

All Wildlife Management Areas have reopened, with the exception of Deale Island and Fairmount, and all Wildlife and Heritage Service (a division of DNR) managed islands on the Potomac River.

"While many forest and park trails are open for recreational use, visitors are cautioned that the tropical storm winds and saturated soils may have left behind hazardous trail conditions," DNR spokesperson Heather Lynch stated. "Visitors should be extra observant of overhead hanging limbs, unstable tree crowns, and trees leaning over paved and natural surface trails that could fall and cause severe injury. In addition, trails may be partially blocked by fallen trees and limbs until clean-up and repair efforts are completed.

"All visitors are also reminded to practice 'leave no trace' ethics and avoid walking or riding on trails if they are wet and muddy," Lynch continued. "Recent excessive rainfall has saturated soils, making them highly vulnerable to erosion and damage from recreational use."

Officials Proclaim Lawsuit Abuse Awareness Week

The Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday proclaimed Oct. 6-10 Lawsuit Abuse Awareness Week in Garrett County. The proclamation recognized Maryland Citizens Against Lawsuit Abuse (MDCALA) and its dedication to stopping "the abuses of Maryland's civil justice system that are detrimental to citizens, communities, schools, and businesses."

Local business woman Janna Naylor of MDCALA was on hand to witness the signing of the official proclamation. Naylor has been a member of the organization's board since its inception in 1995. She said the organization wants to make people more aware of some of the high jury awards that are given for frivolous lawsuits.

"If you serve on a jury," she said, "be reasonable." She noted that those who pay for insurance are the ones who end up paying for the settlements. According to the national Citizens Against Lawsuit Abuse organization, lawsuit costs passed on to consumers add up to nearly $721 per year for every person in America today.

For more information about lawsuit abuse, persons may visit CALA's web site at sickoflawsuits.org.

The 40th annual Mellinger reunion was held on Aug. 16 and 17 at the John F. Mellinger Jr. farm near Swanton.

Crab soup and a corn roast were enjoyed on Saturday evening, and lots of food and entertainment were furnished on Sunday.

Skeet shoot trophies were won by Fredolen L. Wolf Jr., Zach Savage, Denise Ortman, and Rhonda Sweitzer.

Horseshoe trophies went to Debra Sweitzer and Rhonda Sweitzer, first place; and Mandy Curry and Theresa Romoser, second place, for the women. Men's horseshoe trophies went to Clarence Mellinger Sr. and Ray Connard, first place; and William Mellinger Jr. and Tim Lynch, second place.

Lots of prizes were won by many others.

GC Just Move It Walkers Asked To Submit Log Forms

Participants of the Garrett County Health Department Just Move It program are encouraged to submit log forms to Community Health (second floor) by Oct. 1.

Participants who complete at least 100 miles between April 1, and Sept. 30, will be eligible to win a gift certificate for a pair of walking/running shoes. The drawing will be held Oct. 1.

For each 100 miles logged during that time period, the participant's name will be entered into the drawing.

New to the program this year are Just Move It sweat pants. They will be available soon for anyone who logs 1,000 miles.

This program is free to Garrett County residents and employees of all ages. It is designed to motivate people to be more physically active for better health. Participants receive a sweatshirt when they log 100 miles and a water bottle when they log 250 miles.

For more information or to join the program, persons may call Garrett County Health Department, Community Health, at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111.

GCHD To Hold Child Safety Seat Check This Week

The Garrett County Health Department is holding a child safety seat check on Saturday, Sept. 27, 2003, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at its Oakland office along Memorial Drive.

"The event is being held to help parents and caregivers prepare for the change in Maryland's child safety seat law beginning Oct. 1," said Diane Lee, highway safety coordinator for the Garrett County Health Department. "The change requires that children use safety seats, which includes boosters, until they are at least 6 years old.

"The new law is closing the gap that left children from 4 to 6 years old inadequately protected. "They normally just don't fit in an adult belt correctly. Since they don't fit correctly, they don't use the belt correctly, and they are at risk for injury and even death."

Even at 6 years old a smaller child may not fit correctly into the adult belt.

Individual seat checks can be scheduled at the Health Department offices as follows: Most days appointments are available from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Oakland office by calling 301-334-7730; the third Tuesday of each month appointments are available from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Grantsville office by calling 301-895-3111.

For additional information about seat checks, to schedule an appointment, or for answers to child safety seat questions, persons may call Lee at 301-334-7730, or e-mail leed@dhmh.state.md.us.

Their families cared enough to put collars on them.

If they had cared enough to put ID tags on them, they might still be alive today.

The dogs and cats that wore these collars are now dead, killed because their families couldn't find them, and there were no adoptive homes available. Stray and unwanted animals pour into animal shelters daily, and the shelters can't keep them all. Nationally, statistics show that 95% of lost dogs that are wearing IDs are returned to their owners. 95% of dogs without IDs are never reunited with their owners.

Please don't let your dog or cat be counted among the strays that don't leave an animal shelter alive. Purchase an ID tag for your pet today and keep it on at all times. Check the tag regularly to make sure it is still legible. Update it if you move or change your phone number.

First United Corp. Declares Cash Dividend

The board of directors of First United Corporation, a one-bank holding company headquartered in Oakland, declared a cash dividend of $.175 per share at its board meeting on Sept. 17. The dividend will be payable Nov. 1 to shareholders of record as of Oct. 17.

First United Corporation (NASDAQ:FUNC) operates one full-service commercial bank, First United Bank & Trust. The bank has a network of community offices in Garrett, Allegany, Washington, and Fredrick counties in Maryland, as well as Mineral, Hardy, Hampshire, and Berkeley counties in West Virginia.

As of June 30, the corporation posted assets of $1 billion, according to a corporation spokesperson.

Revival Slated At Bear Creek Church

The Bear Creek Church of the Brethren will hold a revival service Sunday evening, Sept. 28, through Wednesday evening, Oct. 1, at 7 p.m. The guest speaker will be Pastor Donald Savage of Oakland, pastor of the Salem Church of the Brethren.

Karen Tyree, the Reeds, and Ezra Yoder will provide special music.

Pastor Kevin Staggs invites the public to attend. The church is located approximately 1/2 mile from the Accident Elementary School along Brethren Church Road.

LESLIE EQUIPMENT CO.,
Judgment Creditor,

GLENN SHARPLESS
AND
DIANA SHARPLESS,
Judgment Debtors,

NOTICE OF SALE

Pursuant to a Writ of Execution issued out of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, at the suit of Leslie Equipment Co., Judgment Creditor, against Glenn Sharpless and Diana Sharpless, Judgment Debtors, Case No. 11-C-02-007625, I have seized and taken into execution all the right, title, interest and estate of the Defendants in and to the following property:

ALL those parcels of land situate in Election District No. 16, Garrett County, Maryland, which are described as follows.

PARCEL ONE: Part of Military Lot No. 975: BEGINNING at the original beginning of said lot and running with the first line thereof, South 67 degrees 80 perches; thence with the second line of said lot, North 23 degrees East 100 perches to a stone standing at the end of the first line of Military Lot No. 918, thence with the second line of said lot, North 67 degrees West 50 perches to a stake in said line, thence crossing said Lot No 975, South 40 degrees West 104 perches to the beginning.

PARCEL TWO: A parcel of and used for a right of way: BEGINNING at the end of the first line of Military Lot No. 898, and running with the second line of said lot, South 23 degrees West 100 perches, the line above described being the Western Boundary of said Right of Way, and the same from the beginning to the determination thereof having a uniform width of 16 feet East of the western boundary of said right of way.

PARCEL THREE: Part of a tract of land known as Military Lot No. 471, and being a part of the tract of land called "Triumph": BEGINNING at a chestnut tree near a stone pile, said tree being corner to the E. W. Keslo land, and running thence in a westerly direction with J. O. Harvey's land about 6 perches, then leaving said line and running in a northeasterly direction 53½ perches to the west line of Military Lot No. 418, thence south with said line about 2 perches to J. O. Harvey's land, thence in a southerly direction with J. O. Harvey's line to the place of beginning.

PARCEL FOUR: BEGINNING at a stake standing in the westerly line of the 42.5 acre tract that was conveyed to Harry W. King, et ux, by deed from Belvin Fazenbaker, et ux, dated April 20, 1951, and recorded in Liber 166, page 452, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, said stake standing 300 feet from the end of said line and running thence with the line of Lee R. Steyer, North 66 degrees 48 minutes East 279.88 feet to a stake in the center of a 24-inch chestnut stump and running thence with the line of Lee R. Steyer, North 47 degrees 14 minutes East 32.23 feet to a fence post at the east end of the gate, thence North 65 degrees 27 minutes West 240 feet to the corner of said 42.5 acre tract and with the line thereof South 25 degrees 11 minutes West 100 feet to the beginning.

PARCEL FIVE: The tract presently in use as a roadway, extending 820 feet across the land of John Evans Jr., et ux, being 16 feet wide and beginning at a stake standing in the southwesterly margin of Maryland Route 560, and following said roadway now in use from the said State Highway to the lands of the said Harry H. King, et ux, the boundaries of said Route 560, and following said roadway now in use from the said State Highway to the lands of the said Harry H. King, et ux, the boundaries of said Road being unmarked at regular 20 foot intervals by iron stakes.

I HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that I will sell at auction in the Rotunda of the Garrett County Courthouse, Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland, on the 29th day of October 2003, at 10:00 a.m., all the right, title, interest and estate of the Defendants in the above property. The property is subject to primary liens, mortgages and encumbrances.

TERMS: Ten percent (10%) cash the day of the sale, balance within 30 days after ratification. I reserve the right to reject all bids if unconscionably low.

MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT
WATER MANAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION
NOTICE OF TENTATIVE DETERMINATION

Garrett County

Application for State Discharge Permit 00-DP-2997, NPDES Permit MD0066478:

Garrett County Office of Solid Waste & Recycling, 3118 Oakland-Sang Run Road, Oakland, MD 21550, submitted an application for renewal of a permit to discharge an average of 27,500 gallons per day of groundwater and variable volumes of storm water from a closed public solid waste sanitary landfill, located on Oakland-Sang Run Road, four miles north of Oakland, MD, to Round Glade Run.

The Department is proposing to re-issue this permit with the following requirements: limitations at Outfall 002 for total suspended solids (27 mg/l average, 45 mg/l max.), BOD (30 mg/l average, 45 mg/l max.), Total Iron (3.0 mg/l average, 6.0 mg/l max.), Total Manganese (2.0 mg/l average, 4.0 mg/l max.), Total Silver (0.0069 mg/l max.), Total Ammonia (4.9 mg/l average, 10 mg/l max.), Total Zinc (0.11 mg/l average, 0.20 mg/l max.), Alpha Terpineol (0.016 mg/l average, 0.033 mg/l max.) Benzoic Acid (0.071 mg/l average, 0.12 mg/l max.), p-Cresol (.014 mg/l average, 0.025 mg/l max.), Phenol (.015 mg/l average, .026 mg/l max.), Total Selenium (.034 mg/l maximum) and pH range (6.0-9.0). The permit also includes requirements for in-stream monitoring and a stormwater pollution prevention plan. The permit allows reduction or elimination of monitoring at Outfall 002 upon a determination that the effluent is not landfill leachate.

A public hearing on the tentative determination will be scheduled if a written request is received by October 16, 2003. The request should be sent to the Maryland Department of the Environment, Water Management Administration, 1800 Washington Blvd. STE 455, Baltimore, Maryland 21230-1708, Attn.: Edwal Stone, and must include the name, address, and telephone number (home and work) of the person making the request, the name of any other party whom the person making the request may represent, and the name of the facility and permit number. Failure to request a hearing by October 16, 2003, will constitute a waiver of the right to a public hearing on the tentative determination. Written comments concerning the tentative determination will be considered in the preparation of a final determination if submitted to the Department, to the attention of Mr. Stone at the above address, on or before October 27, 2003. Any hearing-impaired person who requests a hearing may also request an interpreter at the hearing by contacting Mr. Stone at 410-537-3323 or by written request to the above address at least ten working days prior to the scheduled hearing date.

Information supporting the tentative determination, including the draft permit and fact sheet, may be reviewed by contacting Mr. Stone at the above telephone number to make an appointment or by written request to Mr. Stone at the above address. PUBLIC NOTICE
Charter Revision Resolution 2003-1

A resolution of the Mayor and Town Council of Accident, Maryland, adopted pursuant to the authority of Article XI-E of the Constitution of Maryland and Section 13 of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, 1957 Edition as amended, to repeal Sections 1-86 and 1-87 of the present Charter of the Town of Accident, said Sections being entitled: "Misdemeanors" and "Municipal Infractions," in their entirety, and to reenact a new Section 1-86/187 in its place and stead.

Be it resolved by the Mayor and Town Council of Accident that the present sections 1-86 and 1-87 of the present Charter of the Town of Accident, being entitled: "Misdemeanors" and "Municipal Infractions," are repealed in their entirety, and replaced by a new Section 1-86/181, "Enforcement," in their place and stead, a true copy of which will be posted at the Accident Town Hall for a period of forty (40) days following this enactment. A fair summary of the changes proposed is as follows.

1) Section 1-86/87, Enforcement: The Mayor and Town Council may provide that violations of any Town Ordinance shall be a "municipal infraction" as defined by Article 23A, Section 3, of the Annotated Code of Maryland, unless the violation is declared to be a felony or misdemeanor by State Law. All "municipal infractions" shall be considered civil offenses and shall be handled in accordance with the procedure set forth in Article 23A, Section 3, of the Annotated Code of Maryland, or any amendments thereto. The Mayor and Council shall from time to time, by resolution, establish the level of fines to be imposed for ail such "municipal infractions." Nothing contained in this section shall prohibit or prevent the town from seeking other legal remedies such as injunctions, criminal prosecution, or damages in a civil action pursuant to Section 7.01 of Article 66B Annotated Code of Maryland as amended.

The Mayor and Town Council of the Town of Accident hereby gives public notice of the adoption of this Charter Revision and its intent to publish a fair summary of the changes proposed by this Revision in a local newspaper of general circulation in the town not less than four (4) times, at weekly intervals, within a period of at least forty (40) days following the enactment of this Resolution.

If a proper petition for a referendum has not been received within the forty (40) days timeframe, this Charter Revision shall become and be considered the Charter of the Town of Accident in all respects to be effective and observed as such upon the 1st day of November 2003.

If payment of the balance does not take place within ten (10) business days of ratification, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. Unless purchased by the mortgage holder, interest will be paid on unpaid purchase money at the rate of interest set forth in the note from date of sale to date of settlement. Taxes, water rent and ground rent, if any, to be adjusted to date of sale. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis to be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for removing anyone in possession of the premises.

If Assignees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law or in equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit. Upon refund of the deposit, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Assignees.

LESLIE EQUIPMENT CO.,
Judgment Creditor,

v.

GLENN SHARPLESS
AND
DIANA SHARPLESS,
Judgment Debtors,

NOTICE OF SALE

Pursuant to a Writ of Execution issued out of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, at the suit of Leslie Equipment Co., Judgment Creditor, against Glenn Sharpless and Diana Sharpless, Judgment Debtors, Case No. 11-C-02-007625, I have seized and taken into execution all the right, title, interest and estate of the Defendants in and to the following property:

ALL those parcels of land situate in Election District No. 16, Garrett County, Maryland, which are described as follows.

PARCEL ONE: Part of Military Lot No. 975: BEGINNING at the original beginning of said lot and running with the first line thereof, South 67 degrees 80 perches; thence with the second line of said lot, North 23 degrees East 100 perches to a stone standing at the end of the first line of Military Lot No. 918, thence with the second line of said lot, North 67 degrees West 50 perches to a stake in said line, thence crossing said Lot No 975, South 40 degrees West 104 perches to the beginning.

PARCEL TWO: A parcel of and used for a right of way: BEGINNING at the end of the first line of Military Lot No. 898, and running with the second line of said lot, South 23 degrees West 100 perches, the line above described being the Western Boundary of said Right of Way, and the same from the beginning to the determination thereof having a uniform width of 16 feet East of the western boundary of said right of way.

PARCEL THREE: Part of a tract of land known as Military Lot No. 471, and being a part of the tract of land called "Triumph": BEGINNING at a chestnut tree near a stone pile, said tree being corner to the E. W. Keslo land, and running thence in a westerly direction with J. O. Harvey's land about 6 perches, then leaving said line and running in a northeasterly direction 53½ perches to the west line of Military Lot No. 418, thence south with said line about 2 perches to J. O. Harvey's land, thence in a southerly direction with J. O. Harvey's line to the place of beginning.

PARCEL FOUR: BEGINNING at a stake standing in the westerly line of the 42.5 acre tract that was conveyed to Harry W. King, et ux, by deed from Belvin Fazenbaker, et ux, dated April 20, 1951, and recorded in Liber 166, page 452, among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, said stake standing 300 feet from the end of said line and running thence with the line of Lee R. Steyer, North 66 degrees 48 minutes East 279.88 feet to a stake in the center of a 24-inch chestnut stump and running thence with the line of Lee R. Steyer, North 47 degrees 14 minutes East 32.23 feet to a fence post at the east end of the gate, thence North 65 degrees 27 minutes West 240 feet to the corner of said 42.5 acre tract and with the line thereof South 25 degrees 11 minutes West 100 feet to the beginning.

PARCEL FIVE: The tract presently in use as a roadway, extending 820 feet across the land of John Evans Jr., et ux, being 16 feet wide and beginning at a stake standing in the southwesterly margin of Maryland Route 560, and following said roadway now in use from the said State Highway to the lands of the said Harry H. King, et ux, the boundaries of said Route 560, and following said roadway now in use from the said State Highway to the lands of the said Harry H. King, et ux, the boundaries of said Road being unmarked at regular 20 foot intervals by iron stakes.

I HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that I will sell at auction in the Rotunda of the Garrett County Courthouse, Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland, on the 29th day of October 2003, at 10:00 a.m., all the right, title, interest and estate of the Defendants in the above property. The property is subject to primary liens, mortgages and encumbrances.

TERMS: Ten percent (10%) cash the day of the sale, balance within 30 days after ratification. I reserve the right to reject all bids if unconscionably low.

MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT
WATER MANAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION
NOTICE OF TENTATIVE DETERMINATION

Garrett County

Application for State Discharge Permit 00-DP-2997, NPDES Permit MD0066478:

Garrett County Office of Solid Waste & Recycling, 3118 Oakland-Sang Run Road, Oakland, MD 21550, submitted an application for renewal of a permit to discharge an average of 27,500 gallons per day of groundwater and variable volumes of storm water from a closed public solid waste sanitary landfill, located on Oakland-Sang Run Road, four miles north of Oakland, MD, to Round Glade Run.

The Department is proposing to re-issue this permit with the following requirements: limitations at Outfall 002 for total suspended solids (27 mg/l average, 45 mg/l max.), BOD (30 mg/l average, 45 mg/l max.), Total Iron (3.0 mg/l average, 6.0 mg/l max.), Total Manganese (2.0 mg/l average, 4.0 mg/l max.), Total Silver (0.0069 mg/l max.), Total Ammonia (4.9 mg/l average, 10 mg/l max.), Total Zinc (0.11 mg/l average, 0.20 mg/l max.), Alpha Terpineol (0.016 mg/l average, 0.033 mg/l max.) Benzoic Acid (0.071 mg/l average, 0.12 mg/l max.), p-Cresol (.014 mg/l average, 0.025 mg/l max.), Phenol (.015 mg/l average, .026 mg/l max.), Total Selenium (.034 mg/l maximum) and pH range (6.0-9.0). The permit also includes requirements for in-stream monitoring and a stormwater pollution prevention plan. The permit allows reduction or elimination of monitoring at Outfall 002 upon a determination that the effluent is not landfill leachate.

A public hearing on the tentative determination will be scheduled if a written request is received by October 16, 2003. The request should be sent to the Maryland Department of the Environment, Water Management Administration, 1800 Washington Blvd. STE 455, Baltimore, Maryland 21230-1708, Attn.: Edwal Stone, and must include the name, address, and telephone number (home and work) of the person making the request, the name of any other party whom the person making the request may represent, and the name of the facility and permit number. Failure to request a hearing by October 16, 2003, will constitute a waiver of the right to a public hearing on the tentative determination. Written comments concerning the tentative determination will be considered in the preparation of a final determination if submitted to the Department, to the attention of Mr. Stone at the above address, on or before October 27, 2003. Any hearing-impaired person who requests a hearing may also request an interpreter at the hearing by contacting Mr. Stone at 410-537-3323 or by written request to the above address at least ten working days prior to the scheduled hearing date.

Information supporting the tentative determination, including the draft permit and fact sheet, may be reviewed by contacting Mr. Stone at the above telephone number to make an appointment or by written request to Mr. Stone at the above address. Copies of documents may be obtained at a cost of $0.32 per page.

In execution of the Deed of Trust dated May 22, 2001, recorded in Liber 859, folio 245, among the Garrett County land records, the undersigned Substitute Trustees, any of whom may act, will offer for sale at public auction on OCTOBER 14, 2003, at 11:00 a.m., at the Rotunda within the Courthouse for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, at Oakland, Maryland, the following property:

3743 Hutton Road, Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland and as more particularly described in the Deed of Trust.

Tax No. 77-22-101

The property and improvements will be sold in "as is" physical condition without warranty of any kind and subject to all conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same.

TERMS OF SALE: A non-refundable bidder's deposit of $6,500 by cashier's/certified check required at time of sale except for the party secured by the Deed of Trust. Risk of loss on purchaser from date and time of sale. The balance of the purchase price together with interest thereon at 7.00 % per annum from date of sale to receipt of purchase price by Trustees must be paid by cashier's check within 10 days after final ratification of sale. All real estate taxes, water rents, and public charges/assessments shall be adjusted to date of sale. Purchaser shall pay all transfer, documentary and recording taxes/fees and all other settlement costs. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining possession of property. Time is of the essence for purchaser. If purchaser defaults, deposit will be forfeited and property resold at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser who shall be liable for any deficiency in the purchase price and all costs and expenses of both sales. If Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of deposit. (13229)

PUBLIC NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICE
Charter Revision Resolution 2003-1

A resolution of the Mayor and Town Council of Accident, Maryland, adopted pursuant to the authority of Article XI-E of the Constitution of Maryland and Section 13 of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, 1957 Edition as amended, to repeal Sections 1-86 and 1-87 of the present Charter of the Town of Accident, said Sections being entitled: "Misdemeanors" and "Municipal Infractions," in their entirety, and to reenact a new Section 1-86/187 in its place and stead.

Be it resolved by the Mayor and Town Council of Accident that the present sections 1-86 and 1-87 of the present Charter of the Town of Accident, being entitled: "Misdemeanors" and "Municipal Infractions," are repealed in their entirety, and replaced by a new Section 1-86/181, "Enforcement," in their place and stead, a true copy of which will be posted at the Accident Town Hall for a period of forty (40) days following this enactment. A fair summary of the changes proposed is as follows.

1) Section 1-86/87, Enforcement: The Mayor and Town Council may provide that violations of any Town Ordinance shall be a "municipal infraction" as defined by Article 23A, Section 3, of the Annotated Code of Maryland, unless the violation is declared to be a felony or misdemeanor by State Law. All "municipal infractions" shall be considered civil offenses and shall be handled in accordance with the procedure set forth in Article 23A, Section 3, of the Annotated Code of Maryland, or any amendments thereto. The Mayor and Council shall from time to time, by resolution, establish the level of fines to be imposed for ail such "municipal infractions." Nothing contained in this section shall prohibit or prevent the town from seeking other legal remedies such as injunctions, criminal prosecution, or damages in a civil action pursuant to Section 7.01 of Article 66B Annotated Code of Maryland as amended.

The Mayor and Town Council of the Town of Accident hereby gives public notice of the adoption of this Charter Revision and its intent to publish a fair summary of the changes proposed by this Revision in a local newspaper of general circulation in the town not less than four (4) times, at weekly intervals, within a period of at least forty (40) days following the enactment of this Resolution.

If a proper petition for a referendum has not been received within the forty (40) days timeframe, this Charter Revision shall become and be considered the Charter of the Town of Accident in all respects to be effective and observed as such upon the 1st day of November 2003.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Grantsville
Communications Tower

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing of the County Commissioners of Garrett County is scheduled for Tuesday, September 30, 2003, at 11:30 a.m. in the Garrett County Commissioners' Public Meeting Room, located at the Courthouse, Oakland, Maryland, to consider the replacement and relocation of the Grantsville Communications Tower to the new Grantsville County Roads complex located at 13256 National Pike, Grantsville, Maryland 21536.

The tower, tower foundation, equipment building, and associated hardware will be provided and installed under an existing contract through the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical ServicesSystems (MIEMSS).

The new tower will greatly improve communication capabilities within Garrett County including public safety, public works, inter-agency and inter-jurisdictional mutual aid as well as allowing for future communication needs.

All required studies, permits, and licensing will be obtained in conjunction with the proposed project.

Interested persons will be heard at the public hearing on September 30, 2003, to determine if the proposed project is beneficial, cost-effective, and necessary to provide adequate communications capabilities for the above stated entities.

Local Schools Receive Funding From Chesapeake Bay Trust

From tree plantings and stream restorations, to school field trips and oyster gardens, Maryland communities, including three schools in Garrett County, received more environmental grant money from the Chesapeake Bay Trust in 2003 than in any other year of the organization's existence. The Chesapeake Bay Trust, which raises grant money primarily through the Chesapeake Bay license plate and the donation option on state tax returns, awarded more than $1.84 million for 559 grants in 2003, reaching every county in Maryland as well as the city of Baltimore.

Crellin School, Northern High School, and Swan Meadow School were among those who received 2003 Bay Trust grants and put the money to work in their own neighborhoods.

According to Randee Craig, principal at Swan Meadow, the school will be working on many projects to enhance the environment already created at the school.

The students plan on building 11 bluebird houses to give as a gift to each elementary school, build two bat boxes, complete an observation blind for the school-yard habitat, and build composting bins and two rain barrels in the spring.

At Crellin Elementary, the grant monies were used for its summer camps, where students worked on the data stream analysis project on Snowy Creek and the butterfly gardens.

These projects are continuing into this school year, said Dana McCullough, principal.

Northern High School used the funds to support two environmental clean-up projects, one at Poplar Lick and the other at Savage River. Funds were also used to help with costs involved in a field trip to the Chesapeake Bay, where April Slagle, Environthon adviser, took her environmental science students for three days.

"This was a terrific year," said David O'Neill, executive director of the Chesapeake Bay Trust. "We placed more money than ever back into the hands of Maryland schools and community organizations. We want to thank all of the Marylanders who made this possible, by buying a Bay plate or making a donation through their tax return. It's important for people to realize their donated dollars do make a difference, for hands-on projects in their own schools and neighborhoods."

The Chesapeake Bay Trust is a private, nonprofit, grant making organization based in Annapolis. Its mission is to promote public participation and awareness in the protection and restoration of the Chesapeake Bay and its rivers. Since its inception in 1985, the trust has awarded more than $13.5 million for 5,500 grants to approximately 2,500 community groups, schools, and organizations. Grants range from approximately $50 to $50,000.

For more information about the Chesapeake Bay Trust or to apply for a grant, persons may call 410-974-2941 or visit the trust online at www.chesapeakebaytrust.org.

NHS CLASS OF '53 REUNITES – Thirty members of the Northern Garrett County Junior Senior High School (now Northern Garrett High School) class of 1953 recently reunited at the Bittinger fire hall to celebrate their 50th anniversary. Charles Strauss, a popular faculty member who taught or coached some of the class members, was their special guest. A moment of silence was observed for their 14 deceased classmates. The class of 1953 was the first to graduate from Northern High. Ninety-four students from Accident, Friendsville, and Grantsville high schools were consolidated into the senior class of the newly constructed school. Of the 80 living class members, 30 reside in Garrett County. Class members attending the reunion included Betty Artice Upold, Janet Ault Campbell, Reganold Bowser, Robert Beachy, Virgil Beachy, Margaret Brenneman Wagner, JoEllen Buckel Graham, Wilma Jo DeWitt Rodeheaver, Dorothy Frantz, Patricia Durst Pope, Evelyn Friend Fike, Homer Hoover, John Georg, Joanna Glotfelty Ringer, Wilbur Hutzel, Garland Jenkins, Glenn Krause, Esther Murphy Benedict, Ruth Michael Miller, Francis Miller, Robert Oester, Mabel Ohler Butler, Thelma Schroyer Kelley, Charles Ringer, Alice Sisler Friend, Carroll Smith, Mary Stanton Miller, Ronald Wilburn, Golda Wilt Wilburn, and Gordon Wright. The class agreed to meet again in 2008 and selected members to organize the reunion.

SCOUTING OUT THE OUTDOORS, members of Cub Scout Pack 31 and their families spent a recent weekend enjoying a Summer Family Camp, which featured a variety of outdoor activities and explorations setting forth from their camp base at Swallow Falls State Park. The activities included a boat tour of Deep Creek Lake with Steven Stallings, a nature craft at the Discovery Center, and Night Sounds with Kevin Dodge at the Swallow Falls amphitheater. Back at camp, Scouts learned to scavenge for fallen firewood and to cart large pieces back to camp with only a rope and lots of muscles. They also tried their hand at making and tasting desserts (brownies and monkey bread) baked over a campfire in Dutch ovens. Some of the Scouts pictured in the front row, from the left, are J.R. Upole, Bryson Meadows, Mitchell Beeman, and Ethan Walkling. In the back row are Steven Stallings, Nathaniel Walkling, and Jesse Paugh. Cub Scout Pack 31 is based at Dennett Road Elementary School, and chartered by the Oakland Elks. Any first-through fifth-grade boy at Dennett Road School interested in joining the pack may call Jim Walkling at 301-334-5295 for further information.

FSU Speaker To Discuss "Love Of Country"

Dr. Paul Lyons, professor and author of The People of This Generation: The Rise and Fall of the New Left in Philadelphia, will present the talk "Dissent and Patriotism: What Do We Mean By Love of Country?" on Monday, Oct. 13, at 7 p.m. at Frostburg State University.

The discussion will be held in the Leake Room of the Cordts Physical Education Center. It is free and open to the public.

Lyons has a background integrating social work and history, and he regularly teaches senior seminars on the Vietnam War, as well as and the "Holocaust and the American experience." He is a professor of social work at Stockton College in Pomona, N.J., and he serves on the associated faculty in historical studies and the faculty in the master program in Holocaust and genocide studies.

Lyons received his doctorate in community work and policy from Bryn Mawr Graduate School of Social Work and Social Research in 1980.

His other books include Philadelphia Communists, 1936–1956; Class of '66: Living in Suburban Middle America and New Left, New Right, and the Legacy of the Sixties.

The talk is sponsored by the FSU Faculty Development & Sabbatical Committee. For more information, persons may contact Ann Bristow, FSU Psychology Department, at 301-687-4446.

FSU is committed to making all of its programs, services, and activities accessible to persons with disabilities. Accommodation requests may be made through the ADA Compliance Office at 301-687-4102, TDD 301-687-7955.

ACE Meeting Set

The first meeting of the Advisory Committee on Education (ACE) for the 2003-2004 school year will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 30, at 7 p.m. in the Board Room, #315, at Garrett College.

Agenda topics include a summary report of test scores and a curriculum update. The pubic is invited to attend.

VFW Auxiliary Slates Trip To Statue Of Liberty

The Department of Maryland Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies Auxiliary is sponsoring a bus trip to the Statue of Liberty National Monument, Upper New York Bay, on Tuesday, Oct. 28.

There will be several stops in order to accommodate those wishing to attend. The first stop will be at the Garrett Memorial VFW Post 10077 along Maryland Highway, near Deer Park, at 4 a.m. The bus will also stop in Westernport, Cumberland, and Hagerstown.

The cost of the trip is $45 per person, which includes the Shaffer Tours bus fare and a Liberty Island ferry ticket. Stops will be made at Shoney's in Hagerstown for breakfast and dinner. These meals are the responsibility of each person.

Those interested in a reservation are asked to call Martha Lytle at 301-786-7899 no later than Tuesday, Sept. 30. If the auxiliary is unable to fill all the bus seats, it will have to cancel the trip.

VFW's Ladies Auxiliary Holds Regular Meeting

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 10077, recently held its regular meeting at the post home along Maryland Highway near Deer Park.

The auxiliary voted in two new members: Leona Switzer and May Simms. The group's next scheduled meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 9, at 7 p.m. The organization welcomes new members. "We always are open to new ideas that will help make our program more informational, as well as fun," said an auxiliary spokesperson.

The organization made donations this summer to the VFW National Home for Children and the Cancer Aid & Research Program. The children's home is located in Eaton Rapids, Mich., and houses the orphans of veterans.

"This complex is solely operated from the funds provided by the VFW post homes and their ladies auxiliaries throughout the country," said the spokesperson. "They receive no federal or state funding."

During the past few months the auxiliary has also been selling chances on a crocheted doll. The drawing was held during the recent meeting, and Ezekiel Marshall won the doll. Bunn Beckman also won a gift certificate, and Dr. Lynn Grant won a knife set. Proceeds from the raffles have been designated for auxiliary-sponsored programs throughout the year.

There will be a district meeting at Post 1936 in Oldtown on Sunday, Oct. 19, at 1 p.m. Department officers and the chairman will make their official visit at that time. District meetings are "schools of instructions," to keep auxiliaries informed about current information that is available to help with their programs. Members are urged to attend this meeting to show their support for the auxiliary and their interest in gathering information.

For more information about the auxiliary and its programs, persons may call Martha Lytle at 301-786-7899.

Eastern Star Chapter Meets

Oakland Chapter #67, Order of the Eastern Star recently met at the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple in Oakland. Juanita Bosley, Worthy Matron, opened with a reading, "Help Is On the Way."

She then greeted Lester Dempsey, Worthy Grand Patron of West Virginia; Mildred Martin, Past Grand Matron of Maryland; Bette Bowen, Wilda Hile, Joan Morris, Charee Reckner, Deputy Grand Lecturers of Maryland; Past Matrons and Past Patrons of other chapters, Joy Lou Fogle, Brenda Dempsey, Barbara Kight, Jack Kight, Sid Bowen, Keith Morris; officers; members, Past Matrons and Past Patrons of the Oakland chapter; and all Master Masons.

A program was presented, "Harvest Times," and the Worthy Matron and Debbie Raynovich presented gifts. Pauline Faucett and Reckner rendered a duet, "Ivory Palaces." Signs and passes were reviewed under the direction of the Worthy Patron and Conductress.

Bette Bowen, president of the Past Matrons and Past Patrons Association of Western Maryland, gave a reading, "Believing the Best in One Another."

The Worthy Matron's closing thought was "Experience is what you get." Ted Raynovich closed with "A Really Sweet Tooth." Refreshments were served following the meeting by Eleanor Teats and Faucett.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 7:30 p.m. and will be Honor Station Night, and review of signs and passes. Refreshments will be hosted by Lillian Reckner and Hazel Sherwood.

NASCAR unveils new logo for 2004

Cox News Service

NASCAR on Monday unveiled the official logo for the NASCAR Nextel Cup Series that will begin in 2004.

Sporting a bold yellow-and-black look, the distinctive logo will be NASCAR's brand identifier.

"We think this design will be appealing to our drivers, team members, tracks and, of course, our fans," NASCAR President Mike Helton said.

The new logo will be utilized beginning in January, when NASCAR Nextel Cup teams come to Daytona International Speedway for NASCAR Preseason Thunder, the annual test sessions leading up to the season-opening Daytona 500.

"We've worked with NASCAR to create a logo and identity that exudes the strength of the athletes and the power of the sport," said Nextel Senior Vice President of Marketing Mark Schweitzer.

"Since announcing the 10-year partnership between NASCAR and Nextel, one of the most-asked questions we've received has been about the logo. It's bright, bold and forward moving — just like the sport it represents," Schweitzer said.

Nextel Communications and NASCAR signed a 10-year title-sponsor agreement in June.

Miss America to get NASCAR initiation

Cox News Service

Ericka Dunlap, the newly crowned Miss America, will serve as grand marshal for Sunday's EA Sports 500 at Talladega Superspeedway. Dunlap was crowned Miss America 2004 Saturday in Atlantic City, N.J., in front of a televised national audience.

She begins her year of service as Miss America in New York with a week of promotional stops, including "Late Night with David Letterman" and "Good Morning America."

She will arrive in Talladega, Ala., for the EA Sports 500 weekend on Saturday.

"We're thrilled beyond words to have Miss America as the EA Sports 500 grand marshal," track President Grant Lynch said. "Miss America is a woman who demands such high respect around the world. We're extremely honored to have her here. We also believe if she isn't a NASCAR fan before she gets here, she'll be hooked before she leaves Talladega."

Before the start of the race, Miss America will fulfill the usual responsibilities of the grand marshal. She will visit several suites, attend the drivers' meeting, conduct media interviews and take part in pre-race festivities moments before she gives the command to drivers to start their engines. She then will take a seat in the grand marshal car and lead the field around the track in the parade lap.

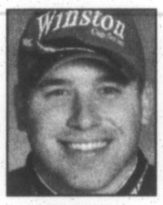
Magnificent seven

Newman sweeps Dover in seventh victory of season

Cox News Service

Ryan Newman overcame a flat tire that cost him two laps, then gambled on fuel to claim his seventh victory of the season and a sweep at Dover International Speedway. Newman's victory in the MBNA America 400 Sunday follows his first career win on "The Monster Mile" on June 1. Newman is the only Winston Cup driver with more than four wins this year.



NEWMAN

But claiming Sunday's victory did not come easy. Newman had to hold off a hard-charging Jeremy Mayfield in the race's closing laps while racing with a dwindling fuel supply.

"Being able to save fuel from the driver's seat is not really easy to do when you're going fast," Newman said.

He drove the final 106 laps without stopping, benefiting from two late caution flags that slowed the field for 12 laps. Newman didn't have to race hard to get the first lap back because of NASCAR's new rule awarding a lap to the highest-scored car off the lead lap.

Although it worked out for him, Newman is opposed to the rule.

"I just don't want to see guys get their lap back and not earn it," he said. "Once we got our lap back it was just sort of a fuel mileage race."

Newman was surprised he had as much fuel as he did at the end — enough to circle the track on a victory lap before smoking the tires in the traditional doughnuts in front of the grandstand. For that, he credited crew chief Matt Borland.

Finishing second was Mayfield, who battled Newman closely for 10 laps until Newman opened a five-car-length lead with 15 laps to go.

"He raced very clean," Newman said of Mayfield. "I felt I used up everything in my car."

Mayfield reached the rear deck of Newman's car and got inside twice, but was unable to hold the low line and eventually faded.

"I was not blocking him, but taking up everything in my line," Newman said.

Tony Stewart was third in a Chevrolet, followed by Kevin Harvick and Jeff Gordon.

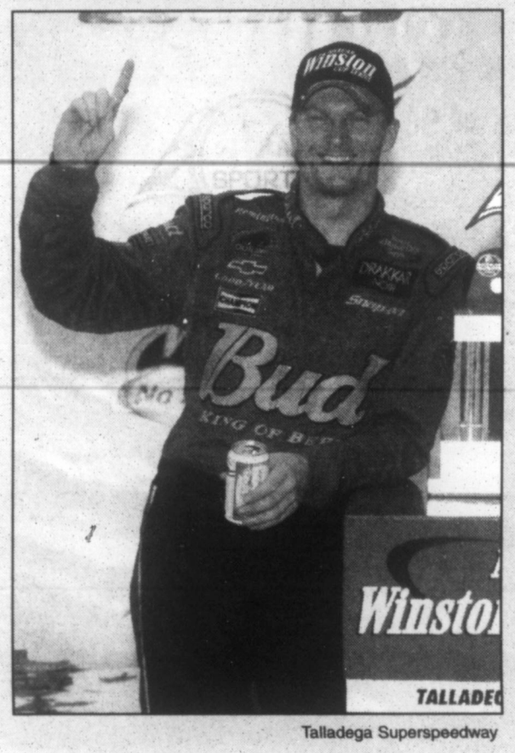
Newman's Dover victories in 2003 mark the second straight sweep on the high-banked concrete oval, where Jimmie Johnson won twice last year. It was the ninth sweep since the track went to two races in 1971.

Sunday's race was the first Winston Cup event in history in which racing back to the flag stand under caution was prohibited. NASCAR outlawed the practice after Dale Jarrett's wrecked car sat in the middle of the track as others attempted to unlap themselves or improve their positions a week earlier in New Hampshire.

Series points leader Matt Kenseth finished ninth after starting from the pole, and increased his points lead to a season-high lead 436 over Kevin Harvick.

Kenseth was awarded the pole for the race on the basis of car-owner points when NASCAR canceled qualifying last week because of approaching Hurricane Isabel.

Talladega streak



Talladega Superspeedway

Dale Earnhardt Jr. will be looking to continue a four-race winning streak at Talladega Superspeedway Sunday. Earnhardt, shown above after winning last year's EA Sports 500, spun out and hit the wall on Lap 364 of Sunday's race at Dover. He was taken to a hospital, where he was diagnosed with a bruised foot and slight concussion. Earnhardt's last victory at Talladega was the spring race at the track, the Aaron's 499 on April 8.

POST-RACE NOTES

Stewart says tires cost him a victory

Cox News Service

Tony Stewart had his eye on a victory in Sunday's race at Dover, but instead faced another frustrating defeat.

This time the culprit was a bad set of tires.

STEWART

"Well, thanks to Goodyear, we ended up third," Stewart said after the race.

Stewart led 97 of 400 laps in the MBNA America 400, but began to fade with 75 left and fell to 12th. A four-tire change with about 35 laps remaining enabled him to charge forward, but not enough to close in on race winner Ryan Newman.

"It's just disappointing to have a car as strong as we have had in a couple of different places and come in and put on four tires and be terrible," Stewart's crew chief Greg Zipadelli said.

Father, son to compete

Dale Jarrett will have the opportunity to race with his son this week — providing Jason qualifies for the EA Sports 500 at Talladega Superspeedway.

"I know he's run there in the ARCA series and he's run a couple of Busch races there, but he hasn't seen anything quite like what he's going to get into," Dale said. "He knows that, and he's extremely excited, and I'm excited for him."

The decision to put the younger Jarrett in the car gives Robert Yates Racing three entries. Jason will team with his father and Elliott Sadler.

The younger Jarrett is second in points in the ARCA series, which races Saturday at Talladega. His ARCA crew will stay over and pit his Ford on Sunday in the Winston Cup race.

"With the Robert Yates engine and the cars they have, I believe that we are going to make the field," Jason said. "I just want to get out there and run all day and learn more about the draft."

The older Jarrett admits to a bit of trepidation.

"It's always a nerve-racking race, but now I've got double nerves because there's two of us out there," he said.

Leader Bonus grows

Matt Kenseth will have another shot at a record bonus payment Sunday at Talladega Superspeedway.

Kenseth is the only driver eligible for the $290,000 leader bonus from series sponsor Winston. It's payable to the leader if he wins, or it goes to any other driver who moves to the top of the standings with a victory.

With a season-high 436-point lead over Kevin Harvick, Kenseth cannot be caught in either of the next two races. The maximum point spread from first to last is 151 points. Kenseth has been the only bonus-eligible driver since May 25, when he finished second in the Coca-Cola 600 to take a 160-point lead.

It's been 58 races since the bonus — which increases by $10,000 each time it goes unclaimed — has been collected. Sterling Marlin won the bonus twice last season, getting a total of $50,000.

Bobby Labonte set the record for a bonus payoff when he got $190,000 three years ago in the Brickyard 400.

Money unclaimed at the end of the season is divided among the top 10 drivers.

Busch driver suspended

By RICK MINTER
Cox News Service

Busch Series driver Shane Hmiel has been suspended indefinitely from NASCAR for violating the sanctioning body's substance abuse policy.

NASCAR officials say Hmiel, the son of veteran Winston Cup mechanic and crew chief Steve Hmiel, will be held out of racing until he meets the terms and conditions for future reinstatement. Those conditions include counseling and undergoing periodic random testing.

"NASCAR has a zero tolerance for any type of behavior in violation of our substance abuse policy," said NASCAR President Mike Helton.

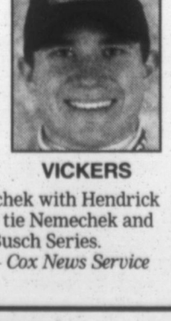
Teen wins another Busch race



VICKERS

Winston Cup-bound teenager Brian Vickers took the lead in the Busch Series standings with a victory Saturday at Dover International Speedway.

It was the third win of the season for Vickers. He won in part because of a quick pit stop and took the points lead from David Green, who crashed early in the Stacker 200 to finish 31st.

Vickers is moving up to NASCAR's top series next year, replacing Joe Nemechek with Hendrick Motorsports. The win enabled Vickers to tie Nemechek and Kevin Harvick for the most wins in the Busch Series.

Musgrave on a roll

Ted Musgrave matched a Craftsman Truck Series record by winning for the third straight time at California Speedway on Saturday.

Musgrave outran series leader and pole-starter Brendan Gaughan for his third victory of the season and the 13th of his career in the American Wheels 200.

Musgrave won despite starting from the back of the 36-truck field after having to make an engine change before the race.

"OUCH...my toe!! I've stubbed it. I just know I've broken it! The bulb in my lamp has blown...wouldn't you know it! It's so dark. I can't even find my slippers. Ok, there's the dresser. No, it's not. What is it?? How can I get so lost in my own room? Well, at least I found the door. Just a few more steps...Oh, thank goodness, and there's the light switch. I can't believe I was so disoriented. Now everything makes sense."

If you have ever had this experience, you know how helpless you feel. Sometimes we feel just as helpless stumbling about in our lives. Perhaps you have a dilemma and you "don't know which way to turn". You search for a solution and none comes. Have you turned to God? Isaiah 2:5 instructs us, "Come, let us walk in the light of the Lord."

Through prayer and meditation and the study of God's Word, you will find the light. Solutions will clearly appear and life will make more sense. Won't you worship this Sabbath in your local church or synagogue? Step into the light of the Lord.

Comparing Ourselves To Others

Envy is an emotion that is built into the fabric of our society. It is a by-product of what psychologists call social referencing, which is a fancy phrase that simply means that we look to others in judging ourselves. If we did not so often compare ourselves to others, we would rarely have occasion to feel this emotion. Since envy can be a particularly uncomfortable feeling, it is not usually something that we are proud of. Therefore, we will rarely admit to someone that we envy them. When we do, we usually mean it as a compliment, saying in effect that we wish we could be more like the envied person. Emotions always fulfill some purpose, and usually that purpose is to inform ourselves about something that we might not otherwise know. For example, anger tells us that we have been wronged in some way, and sadness lets us know that we have experienced a loss. Of course, our emotions can go awry and mislead us, but generally they are a fairly trustworthy guide to what we are actually experiencing. So what is the purpose of envy? Perhaps it reminds us that we are part of a larger whole, and that other people and their opinions do matter. Perhaps it is that we would do well to compare ourselves to others, and in some cases even to emulate them. But we should also remember that what we envy says a lot about our values. The next time we are feeling envious, we should ask ourselves exactly what we are envious of and use this reflection as an opportunity for self-improvement.

For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

SUPPLEMENTS MAY AFFECT PERSONS WITH DIABETES

People with diabetes can benefit from knowing which supplements and herbal products can impact their disease according to several recent studies. Taking a daily multivitamin did not prevent minor infections in non-diabetics. Some diabetics reported having significantly less head colds, the flu, or a "stomach bug" if a daily multivitamin was being taken daily. Diabetics in the study were more likely to be deficient in at least one vitamin or mineral at the start of the study, and most were also obese.

Research has shown that taking a daily oral magnesium supplement improved the body's sensitivity to insulin and metabolic control in type II diabetics. Taking into account the low cost and safety of magnesium supplements, a daily dose could help prevent the chronic complications that sometimes affects people with diabetes. Lastly, new studies in rats resistant to insulin are showing that green tea has definite benefits in improving sugar and fat metabolism, enhancing insulin sensitivity, and protecting the balance between fat deposit and fat burning.

GET INSPIRED BY GOD'S LOVE

TV PIPELINE

'Kingpin' stud working with J. Lo, Gere

Bobby Cannavale

Q: I loved Bobby Cannavale on "Third Watch." What has he done since "Kingpin"? –Lorri in Nebraska.

A: Like most of today's best actors, Cannavale, 32, comes to television and film from work in the New York theater.

Almost at the same time that the New Jersey-born, Florida-reared Cannavale was playing violent stud Chato Cadena in the 2003 NBC miniseries "Kingpin," he was mixing it up as creepy, sexually ambivalent inmate Alonzo Torquemada on the final season of the HBO prison drama "Oz." He also stars currently in the critically acclaimed independent film "The Station Agent."

The son of an Italian father and a Cuban mother, Cannavale has a 5-year-old son with wife Jenny Lumet, daughter of director Sidney Lumet and granddaughter of vocalist Lena Horne.

Next up, Cannavale has a featured role in the romantic comedy "Shall We Dance?" a 2004 feature film in which he appears with Richard Gere, Jennifer Lopez and Susan Sarandon.

Q: A few years ago I heard that the African-American actor who plays Marcus Dixon on ABC's "Alias" was shot and killed by police while brandishing a toy gun at a Halloween costume party, yet he appears on recent episodes. Am I thinking of a different actor? –R.B. in Long Beach, Calif.

A: Yes. A black actor named Anthony Dwain Lee, 39, was attending a Los Angeles Halloween party on Oct. 28, 2000, when he was fatally shot by a policeman who mistook Lee's toy gun for the real thing.

Carl Lumbly plays Dixon on "Alias," which premiered a year later, in fall of 2001.

Q: I read that Phil Hartman designed a logo for albums by Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, and I know there's a "Simpsons" episode in which a character voiced by Hartman calls David Crosby. Crosby is looking at the logo as he answers the phone, which I say is a reference to that connection. My best friend, a "Simpsons" trivia buff, refuses to believe me. –Shannon Bartlett, Marysville, Wash.

A: It's true, Shannon's friend. Hartman, who was fatally shot by his wife, Brynn, in 1998, studied graphic design at California State University and designed cover art for other bands as well, including Poco ("Legend"), America ("History: Greatest Hits," "Harbor," "Silent Letter") and others.

Q: Did Michelle Trachtenberg ("Buffy the Vampire Slayer") have a bit part on an early episode of "Law & Order"? –R.F., Judsonia, Ark.

A: Whoa, nice catch! Yes, Trachtenberg didn't even get on-screen credit as Dinah Driscoll in an October 1991 episode called "God Bless the Child."

TRIVIA

Gary Busey ("Point Break") suffered from cocaine and alcohol addictions, but has been drug-free for more than seven years.

Kyle Chandler ("The Lyon's Den") got into acting when his drunk friends suggested he try out for a role in a Shakespeare play.

Beitzel Family Reunion Held

The 65th annual reunion of the descendants of John George Beitzel and his four sons, Henry, Lewis, Christian, and George, was held Aug. 31, at the Bittinger fire hall. The Beitzels came to American from Germany in the mid-1800s.

The 170 in attendance came from California, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Illinois, and Maryland.

Prizes were awarded to the following: oldest lady, Pauline (Beitzel) Eiford, 80; oldest man, Marvin Beitzel, 86; newlyweds, Craig and Victoria Miller, 19 months; longest married, Sherman and Alice (Beitzel) Bittinger, 61 years; largest family, Andy Fread; youngest baby, Annika Fread; and farthest traveler, David Beitzel, Los Angeles.

A candy pick-up was held for the children under the direction of Melissa Fazenbaker. Many door prizes were also given. The candy count jars were won by Michael Massaro, Jennifer Beitzel, Pauline Eiford, and Jacqui Ray.

Officers elected for 2004 are John Beitzel, president; Doug Beitzel, vice president; and Hollie (Beitzel) Fazenbaker, secretary/treasurer.

The next reunion will be held at the Bittinger fire hall on Sept. 5, 2004.

QuickBooks Courses Set At Garrett College

The Small Business Development Center at Garrett College has scheduled several courses on QuickBooks, a specialized accounting computer software program designed especially for small businesses. Each of the courses will meet at the college's McHenry campus.

The first course, QuickBooks: Beginner Level, is a five-hour course meeting from 6 to 8:30 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday, Oct. 13 and 15.

The class will provide an introduction to the computer program for participants with little to no experience in using the program. Topics to be covered include creating a new QuickBooks company, modifying the preset chart of accounts, adding information to company lists, opening and using registers for any QuickBooks balance sheet accounts, and reconciling a QuickBooks checking account.

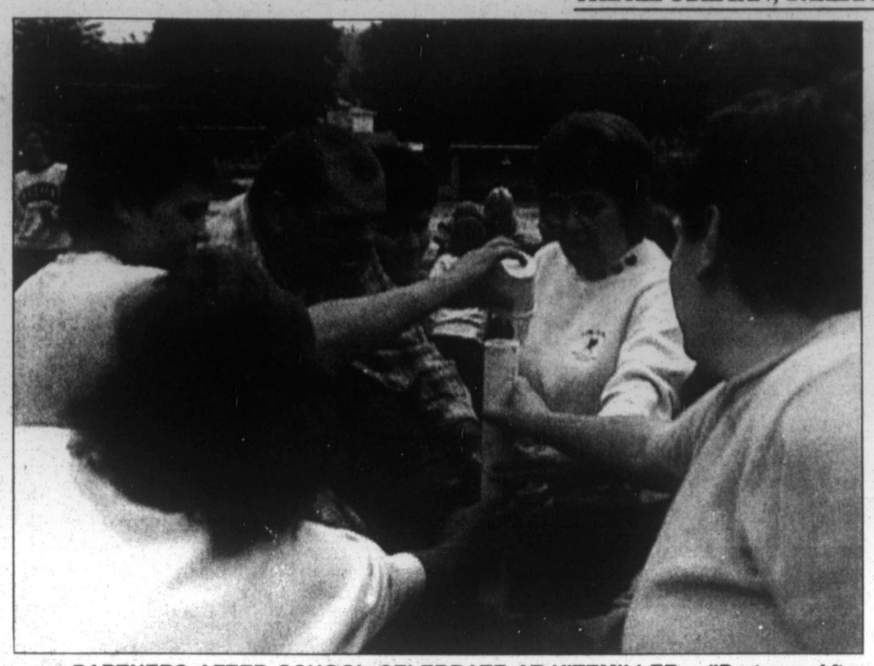
The second course, QuickBooks: Intermediate Level, is a five-hour course that will meet from 6 to 8:30 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday, Oct. 20 and 22.

This class is designed for the individual with moderate experience using the program. Course topics will include tracking credit card transactions, invoicing customers, creating sales orders, generating customer statements, receiving payments from customers and making bank deposits, writing QuickBooks checks and assigning amounts to specific expense accounts, working with asset and liability accounts in QuickBooks, entering bills into QuickBooks accounts payable, and paying bills.

The final course, QuickBooks: Advanced Level, is slated for 6 to 8:30 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, Oct. 27 and 29.

This advanced course is designed for the experienced QuickBooks user, and will address the more advanced features of the program. The topics will include creating and customizing QuickBooks reports and graphs, exporting QuickBooks reports to Microsoft Excel, setting up inventory and building finished goods with QuickBooks, tracking and paying sales tax, understanding QuickBooks payroll features, creating estimates and doing progress invoicing, tracking time and paying non-employees for time worked, customizing QuickBooks sales forms, and writing letters in Microsoft Word using QuickBooks data.

The instructor for all three courses is Shane Grady, CPA/CFP with Rodeheaver and Associates, PC. To learn more about any of the courses, or to register, persons may call the SBDC at 301-387-3080.



PARTNERS AFTER SCHOOL CELEBRATE AT KITZMILLER – "Partners After School @ Kitzmiller" celebrated with a Back-To-After-School Kick-Off Rally on Friday, Sept. 12. Despite the gloomy weather there were over 50 in attendance, a spokesperson said. Pictured here are students and adults taking part in a relay race. Food and games were provided for all attending. This rally was designed to give participants, parents, teachers, and volunteers the opportunity to ask questions about the new after-school program, which has expanded to five days a week this year. The first day was Monday, Sept. 15. The program operates from 3:15 until 6 p.m. at Kitzmiller Elementary School. It is open for children in kindergarten through eighth grade. Registration forms can be obtained from Amy Brantner, coordinator, at 301-453-3553, or Theresa Durst, school secretary, at 301-453-3101. Partners After School @ Kitzmiller is provided by the Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families/Local Management Board and administered by the Kitzmiller Empowerment Group.

Microsoft Outlook Crash Course Set At Garrett College

A one-session crash course on the Microsoft Outlook computer program has been slated for Thursday, Oct. 9, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Garrett College.

The course is designed for individuals who seek a general working knowledge of the Microsoft Outlook application. Topics to be covered include composing e-mail, adding attachments to e-mail, filtering incoming mail, working with contacts, using the journal, using the calendar, and using tasks.

All materials will be provided. For more information or to register, persons may call Sue Smith at the GC Small Business Development Center at 301-387-3080.

4-H Club News

NORTH STAR
by Kevin Haenftling

The North Star 4-H Club met on Sept. 9 at the Accident fire hall. There were 10 members, five adults, and one guest present. The roll was "What is your favorite sport?" Brett Stanton led the American pledge, and Kara Savage led the 4-H pledge.

Kevin Haenftling, Cory House, Robert Broadwater, and Stanton gave reports on their trip to the Mountain View landfill in Frostburg.

Darlene Schmidt reminded the club of upcoming events. The Udder Club will meet at the Garrett County Fairgrounds on Oct. 7, weather permitting. In case of bad weather, the club will met at the Deep Creek Lake fire hall. The Cove picnic will be held on Sept. 27, and everyone is asked to bring a covered dish.

On Oct. 4, the club plans to have a cook out at the Corn Maze in the Cove, beginning at 3 p.m., with the regular club meeting to follow. Guest speaker will be Alice Bender. There will not be a meeting on Oct. 14.

TRUCK SHOW BENEFITS BBBS – The fifth annual Western Maryland "All Trucks" Truck Show was recently held at the Allegany County Fairgrounds in Cumberland. Truckers from all parts of the state brought their rigs to exhibit state-of-the-art trucking and to provide information and educational trucking exhibits. Crafts, children's activities, food, music, and a raffle were also available. The event benefited Big Brothers Big Sisters organizations in Garrett, Allegany, and Mineral counties. BBBS Garrett County is a branch of BBBS of the Alleghenies and is affiliated with BBBS of America and United Way of Garrett County. Pictured, left to right, is executive director Kris Craig, truck show participant "C.J.," and Garrett County coordinator Joan Johnson checking to see if C.J. has the winning raffle ticket.

Program Open Space Draws Fire, But Funds Maintained By Board

by Dan Wilcock
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – Maryland's Program Open Space will be able to save funds for future land conservation by time-stamping dollars and using the oldest ones first. This prevents the deficit-stricken state from reclaiming funds unspent by the program after seven years.

The Board of Public Works last week approved the accounting procedure unanimously, although Comptroller William Donald Schaefer demanded the program surrender funds to help resolve the state's budget deficit. He, along with Gov. Robert Ehrlich and Treasurer Nancy Kopp, make up the board.

Ehrlich said his administration will sharply scrutinize the program, which allows Maryland's Department of Natural Resources to purchase land by using one-half of 1 percent of real estate transfer taxes generated in Maryland. Every time a person buys a home or land in Maryland, Program Open Space receives funds. In fiscal 2004, this amounted to $116 million intended for conservation purchases.

The program estimates that 19 percent of Maryland is protected open or park land and 20 percent is developed. The program, which has helped purchase almost 280,000 acres, promotes this balance of conservation and development.

Maryland ended the year with an estimated $1.2 billion deficit this year, and projections of next year's shortfall range from $400 million to $800 million, according to recent reports.

The program returned more than $180 million to the state's general fund over the last two years to help close the deficit. The General Assembly offset this loss by issuing the program $102 million in bonds. As a result, the program can still spend $80 million on conservation this fiscal year.

Some conservationists protested this reduction.

"Program Open Space has had severe cuts to its budget," said Susan O'Brien, spokeswoman for the Chesapeake Bay Foundation. The money is needed because protected areas strengthen communities and control sprawl, she said.

But Schaefer pointed to the state deficit as a higher priority. "All these land preservation measures could wait until next year," or when the state is out of debt, Schaefer said after the meeting. "We're spending money we don't have."

Despite his protests, Schaefer voted for the program's proposal to keep money by time-stamping it.

Former Gov. Parris Glendening received Schaefer's most pointed criticism. "He bought land that was of no value at all," Schaefer said.

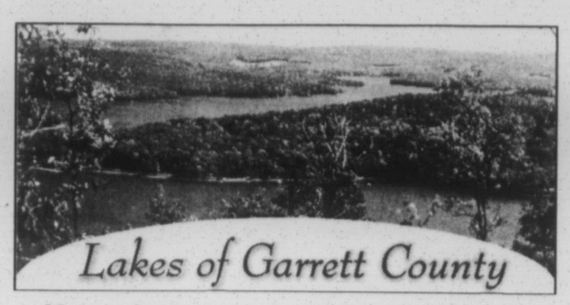
Program Open Space became a major priority under Glendening. He billed it as one of his administration's flagship programs.

Ehrlich said he supports the program's conservation efforts, but cited a "philosophical difference" between his administration and the program.

The governor's philosophy encourages collaboration, seeking input from businesses as well as conservationists, Ehrlich spokeswoman Shareese DeLeaver said.

The program has changed since Glendening led the state, said Frank Oslislo of Maryland's Department of Natural Resources, particularly with funding reductions.

"The previous administration had land preservation as a dominant part of conservation," Oslislo said. "In this administration it's an element."



Most people don't realize that there are 15 lakes in Garrett County. For the next several months, The Republican will provide information about each of those lakes in this column.

The author of the articles is Jack Slocomb, a retired industrial forester who resides in the Goodwill Village in Grantsville with his wife Evelyn. Originally from Cape Cod, Slocomb holds a master's degree in forestry from Yale University.

LITTLE BROWN LAKE

Location: The lake is located on the Little Savage River, 4½ miles southeast of Exit #29 off U.S. Interstate 68.

Ownership: Privately owned by Orval Bittinger. The dam was constructed in 1957.

Purpose: Fishing, camping, swimming, hunting, and recreation income.

Description: This triangular-shaped lake of about 18 acres has a maximum depth of 12 feet and backs up to a 650-foot earthen dam. It straddles the Little Savage River. The northern half of the lake is bordered by a heavy stand of hardwood timber. Little Savage River feeds the lake through a marsh. Strangely, near the north end of the lake is a small island with a solitary maple tree.

How to get there: From Exit 29 off Rt. 68, take the Beall School Road south one mile and turn onto the Frostburg Road. Travel 3½ miles to Picnic Road, thence south, and up a mountain on Avilton-Lonaconing Road. Travel one-quarter mile to the Little Brown Lake Road on the left. There is a stone quarry (Ryczek) at this road junction. Follow Little Brown Lake Road down the hill ½ mile to the lake.

From New Germany State Park, drive Westernport Road southeast to Swamp Road, take Savage Road northeast to the Avilton-Lonaconing Road, then north to the quarry.

Facilities: There is a camping area for trailers, a bathhouse and toilets, 60-70 feet of beach, and a boat ramp. Just north and west of the trailers is a grassy area for tent camping. Boats are for rent.

What to do: Camp in a trailer (usually by the season), camp in a tent, swim, fish, boat, hike trails into Savage River State Forest, and hunt. Cook over an open fire. Relax by the lake.

This is an older campground, quiet and peaceful. Most of the trailers have been on the same site for a number of years.

Fees: Trailers can be rented for six months for $350, one month for $100. For tent camping the fee is $15 per night. Fees by boat or from the shore are $5 per day, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Boat rentals are $3 per hour for a rowboat, and $4 per hour for a paddleboat. You may swim and picnic for a fee of $4 per car.

More information can be obtained by contacting Mr. Bittinger at 301-689-2554.

Updated 911 Map Books Now Available

The Garrett County Planning and Zoning Office has a shipment of the updated 911 map books now available to the public. The book is similar to the last printing, but also includes some amendments designed for easier use.

The books are up to date as of July 2003 and sell for $10 each. Books can be purchased at the planning and zoning office between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The office is located in Room 210 in the new section of the Garrett County Courthouse in Oakland.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• Since puckering up uses facial muscles, many claim that kissing leads to wrinkles.

• Ever wonder where L. Frank Baum, author of "The Wizard of Oz," came up with the name "Oz"? He said that he looked at the drawers of his filing cabinet; one was labeled "A-G," one "H-N" and one "O-Z."

• "Casablanca" is widely regarded as one of the best movies ever made. Most people don't realize, though, that the script was something of a last-minute affair. It didn't even have an ending until two months into shooting the film.

• It was once illegal for any woman to appear in a bathing suit on any highway in Kentucky unless escorted by two officers or unless she was carrying a club. The law was later amended to read, "This statute shall not apply to any female weighing less than 60 pounds nor exceeding 200 pounds; nor shall it apply to female horses."

• After a screen test, one movie executive made this observation of Fred Astaire: "Can't act. Slightly bald. Can dance a little."

• In 1972, 10-year-old Becky Schroeder was trying to do homework in the car while her mother was in the grocery store. Because it was getting dark, she couldn't see the paper very well, and she thought it would be great if she could make the paper light up somehow. That was the inspiration for her invention, the Glo-sheet — paper that glows in the dark. In 1974, Schroeder became the youngest female ever to receive a U.S. patent. Today, countless professionals use her invention: photographers use it in darkrooms, critics take notes in darkened theaters, and emergency medical workers use the sheets in ambulances at night.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Sept. 29, 1758, Horatio Nelson, Britain's most celebrated naval hero, is born in Burnham Thorpe, England. In the French Revolutionary and Napoleonic wars, he won a series of crucial victories and saved England from possible invasion by France.

• On Sept. 30, 1938, British and French prime ministers Neville Chamberlain and Edouard Daladier sign the Munich Pact with Nazi leader Adolf Hitler. The agreement averted the outbreak of war but gave Czechoslovakia away to German conquest.

• On Oct. 1, 1958, "Kraft Television Theater" goes off the air. Kraft had discovered the value of entertainment sponsorship back in 1933, when it launched the radio program "Kraft Music Hall" specifically to introduce Miracle Whip. Jack Lemmon, James Dean and Paul Newman were among its stars.

• On Oct. 2, 1967, Chief Justice Earl Warren swears in Thurgood Marshall, the first black justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. As chief counsel for the NAACP, Marshall was the architect and executor of the legal strategy that ended the era of official racial segregation.

• On Oct. 5, 1969, in an embarrassing breach of the United States' air-defense capability, a Cuban defector enters U.S. air space undetected and lands his Soviet-made MiG-17 at Homestead Air Force Base, south of Miami. The presidential aircraft Air Force One was at the base at the time.

• On Oct. 4, 1988, televangelist Jim Bakker is indicted on federal charges of mail and wire fraud and of conspiring to defraud the public. Sentenced to 45 years in prison, his sentence was later reduced to eight years, and he was released in 1994.

Avon Calling

Q. I have Avon bottles from the 1950s and would like to know if they are collectible and if I have any that are rare. — Mary, Pickney, Mich.

A. I get this question on a regular basis and, yes, people still collect Avon bottles, but the popularity of the hobby seems to be in decline along with the prices in the marketplace. One of the best sources is the National Association of Avon Collectors, P.O. Box 7006, Kansas City, MO 64113. Bud Hastin has written at least two books about Avon collectibles and is considered an expert. His address is P.O. Box 11004, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33339.

Q. I have 12 Kentucky Derby glasses that were issued in 1976 during the bi-centennial. Do they have any value? — Louise, Fenton, Mich.

A. The success of "Seabiscuit" as both a best seller and smash movie will make horse-racing collectibles even more popular this year, including Kentucky Derby memorabilia. To find out the value of your glasses, contact Paul Gundy, a dealer who specializes in thoroughbred racing collectibles. His address is 5610 Pebble Brook Lane, Boynton Beach, FL 33437. For a second opinion, contact Douglas Burkhardt, 533 E. Fourth Street, Newport, KY 41071.

Attack Cat

Q. I have a 5-year-old cat that is usually very sweet, but occasionally she attacks me, biting my hands and sometimes my shoulder. Then she runs away and hides under the bed. I have had her spayed and declawed, but this hasn't eased her aggressiveness. How can I teach her not to bite or attack me? — Ann M., Salmon Arm, B.C.

A. What you're dealing with is a behavioral issue, rather than a physical one, since your cat has been spayed and has a clean bill of health. When your cat bites and nips at your hand, she is playing with you, rather than attacking you. This is actually a learned (often encouraged) behavior.

When she runs and hides under the bed, she's displaying a learned behavior, too. Your natural reaction to a painful bite is to yell and perhaps even swat at the cat. Over time, the cat has learned that, whenever she gets carried away with her "play bite," you'll react strongly. She now leaves the room before the punishment begins.

Cats can learn, and you can control her aggressiveness. Follow three steps to put her on a calmer road.

First, observe what your cat is doing just prior to an "attack." For example, many cats hate to be disturbed while sleeping; most leave in a huff, but some may strike out. Learn her lifestyle patterns.

Second, engage your cat in play at her most active times: dawn, dusk and as soon as you get home (when she comes to say hello). Use toys that distance her from yourself, such as a toy on the end of a string. Do not allow the cat to see your hands as playthings. Regular play can calm her down.

Third, actively direct your cat's playfulness, without yelling or punishing. If the cat tries to nip at you, try clapping, hissing or blowing directly in her face. Any of these should startle and disengage her. Immediately divert her attention with a toy.

After playtime, give her a treat. This will take weeks or months and will require consistent work, but you can diminish or end the biting.

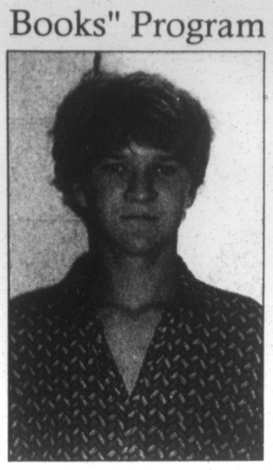
NMS Students Attend "Great Books" Program



JOHNATHAN MOON

This past July, 36 middle school students from across the nation participated in the second annual Great Books at the Amherst Summer Reading Program. Among those participating were two students representing Northern Middle School: Lukas Tillmann, McHenry, and Johnathan Moon, Grantsville.

The three-day event was held at Amherst College, founded in western Massachusetts in 1821, which gave the middle school students firsthand experience in life on a liberal arts college campus.

The local students were nominated by NMS schoolwide enrichment teacher Carolyn Tice, following recommendations from the sixth and eighth grade teaching teams, based on their academic performance, motivation, and interest in traveling to New England to study with other middle school students.

During the three-day, three-night on-campus experience, students read selections from contemporary and classic literary works. Under the guidance of professors and discussion leaders, students used the "shared-inquiry" method of learning in which participants assist one another in the search for meaning.

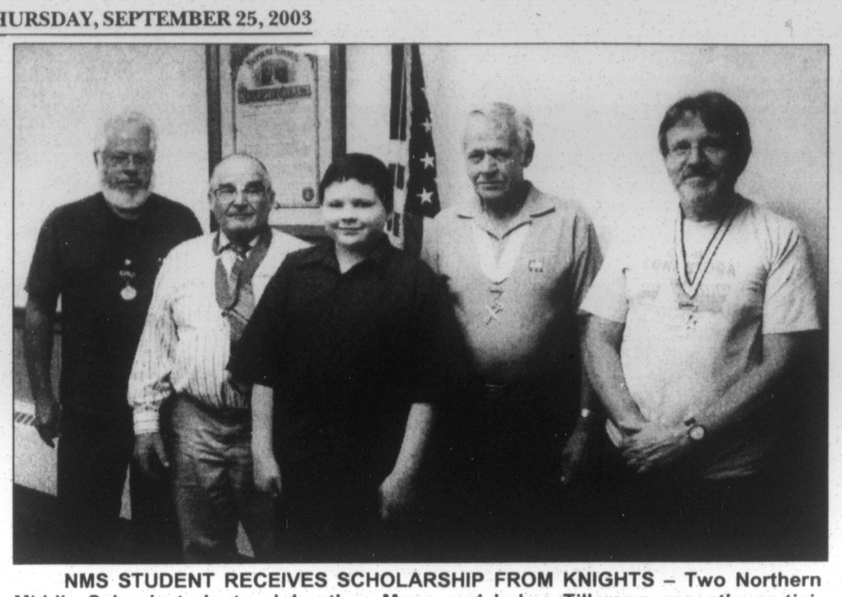
The sessions emphasized the powers of careful reading, critical thinking, clear self-expression, and listening skills. Participants practiced listening to others, considering their points of view, and having an open mind as they discussed interpretive literature. Their readings included Kurt Vonnegut's Harrison Bergeron and Julio Cortezar's The End of the Game, as well as selections from The Odyssey and The Declaration of Independence.

Upon completion of the program, each student received a certificate of achievement and an individual evaluation.

Moon has told anyone who will listen of his wonderful experiences at Amherst College. He was particularly intrigued with his group's discussion of the patterns and moods in American Gothic. "I had a great time at the Great Books camp," he said. "Anyone who ever has the chance to go should go. It's time well spent."

Tillmann remarked that this experience was a highlight of his academic career, and one that inspired him to read literature more thoughtfully and critically. He also expressed his gratitude to the Knights of Columbus, Oakland Council #1771, for their generous support of his academic aspirations in the form of a $500 scholarship that covered the program's tuition. (A pictured of Tillman with the council is located near this article.)

The reading program is the result of a collaboration between the Great Books Foundation, the creator of the nationally acclaimed Junior Great Books reading and discussion program, which is used at Northern Middle School; Professor Ilan Stavans of the Amherst College faculty; and Early Advantage, an educational publisher. The foundation is an independent, non-profit organization whose educational mission is to facilitate and encourage exposure to great works of literature.



NMS STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP FROM KNIGHTS – Two Northern Middle School students, Johnathan Moon and Lukas Tillmann, recently participated in second annual Great Books at the Amherst Summer Reading Program, held at Amherst College, Mass. See story for details. Tillman said the three-day event inspired him to read literature more thoughtfully and critically. He also expressed his gratitude to the Knights of Columbus, Oakland Council #1771, for their generous support of his academic aspirations. The $500 scholarship covered the program's tuition. Sarbanes, Mikulski Praise Titus's Nomination To Federal Judgeship

by Alex Meneses Miyashita
Capital News Service

WASHINGTON – Montgomery County lawyer Roger Titus, who is a part-time Garrett County resident and vice president of the Deep Creek Lake Property Owners Association, breezed through a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing recently on his nomination to be a U.S. district judge for Maryland.

Titus, a partner in charge of the Montgomery County office of the Venable law firm, was praised at the hearing by Maryland Democratic Sens. Paul Sarbanes and Barbara Mikulski.

"He brings the qualities we look for in a district judge," Sarbanes said. "This is a man of wide experience, breadth and depth, and [he] has the best principles in the legal profession."

Staffers could not say Wednesday when the Judiciary Committee might vote on Titus's nomination, which was forwarded by President Bush in June.

Titus, whose experience includes state and local government cases, complex commercial litigation and constitutional litigation, told the committee that, despite being an advocate to his clients as an attorney, he would have no problems assuming the responsibilities of a judge.

"I feel very comfortable with the constraints that are put on judges to make decisions that may not be popular," Titus said, adding that his personal views would not interfere with his commitment to the law.

Besides serving in private practice, Titus was president of the Maryland State Bar Association from 1988 to 1989 and was elected member of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers. He has also been a member of the Standing Committee on Rules of Practice and Procedure of the Court of Appeals of Maryland for more than 10 years.

Special Appeals Judge Joseph Murphy, chairman of the Rules Committee, said Titus would make an "excellent" judge if confirmed.

"He has the intelligence and the experience," in both trial and appellate courts, Murphy said. "He has the judicial temperament that you think is ideal for judicial service."

Judicial competence, high integrity and dedication to constitutional principles are the qualities every judge should have, Mikulski said. "Mr. Titus meets these tests well and beyond," she said.

Titus said after the hourlong committee hearing – which included nominees to two other federal judgeships – that he was "very honored [to have] been nominated."

"It's now in the hands of the Senate, and I'll wait their action," he said.

Free White Pine Trees Given To New Members

Ten free white pine trees will be given to each person who joins the National Arbor Day Foundation during September 2003.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit foundation's Trees for America campaign.

"The white pines will add year-round beauty to your home and neighborhood," said John Rosenow, the foundation's president. "They are fast-growing landscape trees with soft needles and graceful branching. You can use them as specimen trees or as a privacy screen or windbreak, even as a beautiful sheared hedge."

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between Oct. 5 and Dec. 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The 6- to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to Arbor Day, the foundation's bimonthly publication, and The Tree Book, which provides information about tree planting and care.

To become a member of the foundation and receive the free trees, persons should send a $10 contribution to Ten Free White Pine Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410 by Sept. 30.

GC Course To Cover Long-Term Care Insurance

A course detailing the pros and cons of long-term care and insurance provisions for long-term care will be offered over three consecutive Thursday evenings from 6 to 9 p.m. at Garrett College.

Financial planner Greg Cartrette, the course instructor, will provide students with basic knowledge of why long-term care is important in today's society, the different ways to provide long-term care, and how long-term care could devastate a retirement plan.

For more information or to register, persons may call Sue Smith of the GC Small Business Development Center at 301-387-3080.

State Highway Officials To Hear Local Concerns

Maryland Department of Transportation officials will be in Oakland tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 3, to meet elected representatives, local officials, and Garrett County citizens for the annual DOT "Tour" meeting, slated for 9 a.m. in the courthouse meeting room of the county commissioners. DOT and State Highway Administration leaders will be presenting the agency's draft of its six-year capital expenditures program, focusing on projects currently under way or proposed for Garrett County.

Input generated at the meetings is considered for incorporation into the department's final report, which will be submitted to the Maryland General Assembly in January. Copies of the draft program will be distributed to all those in attendance at the meeting.

Garrett County officials have compiled a list of their own priorities that they will pitch at the meeting. These are:

•Prioritize funding for the design and engineering phase of the Route 219 Oakland realignment project (the proposed Oakland bypass).

•Encourage further progress on the Rt. 219 North project (linking Interstate 68 at Chestnut Ridge to the Meyersdale, Pa., bypass) for the proposed North/South Appalachian Corridor.

•Continue to evaluate the existing Rt. 219 Corridor, emphasizing planning for improvements to the existing corridor throughout the entire county, including the Accident bypass.

•Clarify the status of the project to construct a sidewalk between Southern High School and Mtn. Lake Park, including maintenance agreements.

•Request installation of a

A NEW FEATURE OF AUTUMN GLORY can be seen all around the town of Oakland, as numerous service organizations, businesses, and other groups "adopted" parking meters and decorated them for next week's festival. The project is actually a fund-raiser for the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. The money will go toward the squad's current building project, which is a new facility to house the ambulances and provide office space and dorms for squad members. The participating groups paid $50 per meter, which gave them the privilege to adorn the meters at Autumn Glory and again during the Christmas holidays. The project has resulted in creative and eye-catching decorations throughout the town, enhancing the Autumn Glory Festival atmosphere. Nice work! Photos by John McEwen.

Virginia Woman Succumbs After Rt. 219 Crash

A Virginia woman who was flown to Cumberland Memorial Hospital after a Saturday afternoon accident on Route 219 in McHenry died three days later as a result of massive brain injuries. The crash occurred as she was attempting to make a U-turn at the McHenry overlook, according to the Maryland State Police.

Shortly after 1:30 p.m., Laura Rubin, 39, of Arlington, was traveling south when she entered the overlook pull-off area. When she attempted to leave the overlook to head north on Garrett Highway, her Subaru Forester was struck by a southbound Dodge van operated by Nanette Winebrenner, 42, Accident.

Trooper 5, the MSP medevac helicopter, was summoned to fly Rubin to the hospital. A passenger in her car, Greg Allgeyer, 40, New York City, was transported to Cumberland Memorial Hospital by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. Winebrenner and her passenger, Debra Doerr, age unstated, also of Accident, escaped injury.

The Deep Creek and Accident volunteer fire departments and the Southern Rescue Squad also responded to the accident scene.

The investigating trooper indicated charges are pending, but declined to provide further details as the accident probe is continuing.

Rubin's previously stated desire to become an organ donor should the possibility arise was complied with, in accordance with her own wishes and her family's approval.

Leslie Anne Gaither, a 16-year-old senior at Northern High School, will be crowned queen during the kick-off reception of the 36th annual Autumn Glory Festival. The reception will take place on on Wednesday, Oct. 8, at the lodge at Wisp. Leslie is the daughter of Doug and Renaté Gaither of McHenry.

Leslie has logged in over 400 hours of community service hours to fulfill a graduation requirement. She is a peer counselor, co-captain of the Northern High School Huskies Marching Band Color Guard, and has been recognized in the Who's Who Among American High School Students. She has earned honor roll standing all three years in high school.

In 1999 Leslie was a national Sportaerobics champion and the first Youth National Sportaerobics Champion in 1999. She was named a Western Maryland Truck Show princess and participated in the Miss Allegany/Queen City Pageant.

For the past two years Leslie has been a member of Pandora's Box, a youth theater program sponsored by the Garrett County Health Department. She has earned numerous awards in local talent shows, including the NHS talent show, which she has won for the past three years. A member of the adult choir in the McHenry United Methodist, Leslie also serves on the church outreach committee and the administrative board.

Following high school, Leslie said she plans to attend Garrett College and complete her studies in medical laboratory technology at Allegany College of Maryland.

"I am thrilled to be serving as this year's Autumn Glory queen," Leslie said, adding that it is an honor to serve as Garrett County's queen during the most beautiful time of year here.

Travis Friend, a senior at Southern High School, has been chosen as the 2003 Autumn Glory king. Son of Jeff and Aimee Friend, Oakland, Travis is an active member of the SHS golf and

Governor Ehrlich Orders Halt To Land Conservation Purchases

by Dan Wilcock
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – Gov. Robert L. Ehrlich Jr. ordered a temporary moratorium on land conservation purchases in Maryland until he details his new policy opposing noncritical land purchases.

"The era of secondary land purchases...is over," Ehrlich said Wednesday at the Board of Public Works meeting. Ehrlich, Comptroller William Donald Schaefer, and Treasurer Nancy Kopp make up the board.

Land conservation purchase requests have met increased scrutiny by the board this fall, with both Ehrlich and Schaefer openly criticizing purchases made under former Gov. Parris Glendening.

"This is a fundamentally different administration," Ehrlich said, adding he's the "new law in town."

Glendening, who left office in January, made land conservation purchases a major priority of his administration.

"He bought so much useless land," Schaefer said after the meeting. Schaefer pointed to the budget deficit, which projections put at nearly $800 million, as a higher priority.

But even if the state had a $1 billion dollar surplus, the state shouldn't buy unneeded land, Ehrlich said.

State Budget Secretary James C. "Chip" DiPaula is coordinating the new policy. He said he will meet soon with officials from the Department of Natural Resources and Agriculture, among others. The new policy could be presented as soon as the next meeting, resulting in no delay of purchases, DiPaula said, but with Hurricane Isabel recovery taking priority, the new policy may take more time.

"If we want to take longer, we'll take longer," he said.

Deep Creek Lake Sanitary District Will Be Expanded

The Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday voted unanimously to approve expanding the Deep Creek Sanitary District. They also approved an amendment to the Garrett County Water and Sewer Master Plan, which covers collection and conveyance upgrades to the district's wastewater system. Only four residents attended the public meeting to hear the commissioners' decision.

Garrett County Department of Public Utilities has estimated that upgrading and expanding the treatment plant along Mayhew Inn Road will cost $15.6 million, while approximately $15 million will be need-

Four County Projects Awarded More Than $1.9 Million In Federal Funding

The Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) has awarded more than $1.9 million to four Garrett County projects. Senators Paul Sarbanes and Barbara Mikulski announced Friday that the Garrett County Trade Enterprise Center, Adventure Sports Center, Garrett County Planning and Zoning Internet/Intranet Plan, and Loch Lynn Heights Boundary Location Project had received the federal funding.

"The awarding of these funds to increase economic development and tourism opportunities shows Garrett County is on the move," said Sarbanes. "These funds will help complete projects designed to increase the tourism base in Garrett County, creating jobs and other economic development opportunities in the process."

The Garrett County Trade Enterprise Center (also referred to as an exhibit hall) has been awarded $1 million in ARC funding. This community-based multi-purpose facility will be located along Rt. 219 near Thayerville and will host a wide range of events, including trade shows, exhibits, educational events, and tourism activities. Included in the plans for the center are offices, meeting rooms, display rooms, public restrooms, and a commercial kitchen area.

The center will also include a web site to promote

LIKE GRANDFATHER, LIKE GRANDSON – Boy Scouting's highest pinnacle is a peak rarely reached by Scouts, but a local family now has two members who proudly wear the rank of Eagle Scout. Southern High School senior David Cuddington, left, is shown with his grandfather, Don Cannon Jr. of Baton Rouge, La., during a recent Court of Honor ceremony hosted by Troop 291 of Darnestown. Cuddington's service project, a used bicycle collection coordinated through Pedals for Progress, an international non-profit organization, amassed more then 70 bikes for shipment to El Salvador and was selected from over 500 candidates for publication in The Scouter Digest. Cuddington and his grandfather were both recognized during the ceremony. Cannon earned his Eagle rank in 1943, but enlisted for service in World War II before it was awarded. Troop 291 presented the Eagle medal on behalf of Troop 99 of New Orleans, ending Cannon's 60-year wait. Cuddington is the son of Liz Cannon Guy and the stepson of John Guy of Oakland.

A LONE CLOVER – One of the many brands of "roadsidia" (flowers on the side of the road — get it?) still in bloom is the clover, shown in the foreground of an ominous sky. The dark clouds have been passing overhead rather regularly, seeming to bring much cooler temperatures all of a sudden. A freeze warning has been issued today for Garrett County and the surrounding area, to last from 10 p.m. tonight until 7 a.m. tomorrow. Overnight temperatures may dip into the upper 20s. The high today isn't to go above the mid-40s. Autumn is upon us, with winter not far behind. Photo by John McEwen.

Three Domestic Incidents Occur Over Weekend

Garrett County sheriff's deputies investigated several domestic assault incidents this past weekend.

In the first incident, Timothy Allen Welch, 38, Oakland, was arrested and charged with second-degree assault after deputies contacted the victim at a residence along Plessinger Lane.

Welch is currently being held in the Garrett County Detention Center on $10,000 bond, police said.

The victim was transported by Southern Rescue Squad to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where she was treated and released.

In another incident, deputies were summoned to Route 135 near Browning's Foodland for a domestic dispute.

When police arrived, several bystanders had Jody Reall, Parsons, W.Va., detained, according to the report. An initial field interview revealed that a domestic assault took place with a family member and Reall.

Reall was arrested and charged with second-degree assault. He was later released on his own recognizance.

In a third incident, police responded to a residence along Old School House Road in reference to a 911 hang up early Sunday morning.

The deputy was told by the victim and witnesses at the scene that Jennifer Lee Hott, 36, Cumberland, and the victim were in an argument when Hott took the vehicle to the Finzel area. When she left the scene, she allegedly drove the vehicle through a yard and struck a fence, police said.

Hott failed field sobriety tests, and was arrested. She was charged with driving while impaired (DWI), driving under the influence (DUI), and driving vehicle without the owner's consent.

Hott was released on her own recognizance.

In other police news, deputies also made arrests this weekend for various drunk driving offenses.

David Edison Stewart, Oakland, was arrested and charged with DUI, DUI per se, DWI, and failure to give the right of way to another vehicle when his vehicle was stopped at the intersection of Route 219 and Route 135 Thursday afternoon.

On Friday, Charles Patrick Nolan, 53, Deer Park, was arrested after his vehicle was observed making a prohibited U-turn and operating in an erratic manner along Deer Park Hotel Road. He was charged with DWI, DUI, consuming an alcoholic beverage in the passenger area of a motor vehicle, and making a prohibited U-turn.

In the early hours of Friday, Franklin Pierce Sweitzer, 21, Oakland, was arrested after failing field sobriety tests. He was charged with DUI, DUI per se, DWI, and failure to drive right of center.

Patricia Keller Hendrix, 35, Terra Alta, W.Va., was arrested after she failed field sobriety tests early Thursday morning. She was charged with DUI and DWI, and was cited for failure to drive right of center.

Garrett, Allegany ATM Thefts Being Probed By Police

A pair of recent thefts from two automatic teller machines are being probed by investigators in Garrett and Allegany counties who believe the crimes are related, according to the Maryland State Police. The ATMs at the First Peoples Community Federal Credit Union at Grantsville Plaza and the Food Lion in Frostburg were pried open either late Thursday or early Friday, Sept. 25-26.

"There are similar cases with the same MO (method of operation) that have occurred in other states," said MSP detective sergeant Dave Knepper of the McHenry barrack. "We are working closely with C3I in Cumberland on these cases." The Federal Bureau of Investigation's Baltimore Field Office is also probing the crimes, which are also believed to be related to similar ones that have occurred in West Virginia, Virginia, and Pennsylvania, police said.

Persons with information on the theft(s) are asked to contact the McHenry barrack at 301-387-1101 or 301-895-1101.

Oakland Man Jailed For DUI

An Oakland man faces alcohol-related motor vehicle charges filed by the Oakland Police Department Saturday evening.

Timothy James Storey, 42, was initially stopped for an equipment violation at the intersection of North Second and Pennington streets at 7:10 p.m. After failing sobriety tests, Storey was arrested for driving while under the influence and violating a license restriction.

He was later released from the Garrett County Jail on his own recognizance.

C&S CONTRACTING ASSISTS LOCAL CANCER SURVIVOR – Oakland Sang Run Road resident Ed Sines, a Garrett County native, has been the recipient of some much-needed generosity provided by C&S Contracting. The Oakland native, who was diagnosed with stomach cancer 14 years ago, has held several jobs to make ends meet, but years of illness, surgery, and medical treatments have prevented him from returning to his former field and earn his former wage. The unusually harsh weather of last winter and spring caused much damage to his home, and C&S Contracting owners Bill Cook and Mark Shrout decided to lend a hand by obtaining the materials and rebuilding Sines's bedroom and bathroom and make exterior repairs. "We just feel that it was time to give something back," Cook commented, while Shrout added "This was someone who needed a break." The work is expected to be completed within the next two weeks. "I'm so grateful to Bill and Mark and the guys at C&S for making my home liveable again," said Sines. "I feel like they've turned my luck around in a positive direction."

Don Morin Honored By U.S. Small Business Administration, Bartlett

The U.S. Small Business Administration held its 50th anniversary recognition ceremony at the Washington Hilton and Towers in Washington, D.C., Sept. 17 through 19. All state small business persons of the year were recognized at this ceremony, including local resident Don Morin, president of Garrett Container Systems Inc.

Morin was named Maryland's 2003 Small Business Person of the Year by the U.S. Small Business Administration's Baltimore District Office this spring. James Kesselring, GCS quality/support manager, nominated Morin for the award.

Congressman Roscoe Bartlett also hosted a Congressional luncheon in the Dirksen Senate Building on Wednesday to honor all the winners. Bartlett also met with Morin in the Rayburn Building, where he personally congratulated him on his award.

Following an awards breakfast on Thursday, Vice President Dick Cheney addressed the conference. Cheney emphasized a proclamation by President George Bush which stated: "The entrepreneurs who own and operate America's small businesses are an indispensable factor in America's economic strength."

The proclamation also stated that "America's small businesses are forging new opportunities and prosperity for America. Their tremendous spirit is an example to us all. Leading by example, America's entrepreneurs have made, and continue to make, an indelible mark on our economy."

Morin was accompanied by his wife Elizabeth, Garrett Container's human resource director/general counsel; Clark Morin, the couple's son; Kesselring; and Kesselring's wife Ellen.

"[I'm] extremely proud of the honor of being the Maryland Small Business Person of the Year 2003 and being recognized along with [my] peers by the U.S. Small Business Administration," said Morin.

Kesselring said he was very proud to have nominated Maryland's winner and of the national exposure this has given Garrett Container Systems and Garrett County.

Located in Accident, the 11-year-old business supplies the U.S. Defense Department with custom aluminum shipping and storage containers, including portable housing units with heat and air conditioning for military working dogs currently serving in Afghanistan and Iraq.

MORIN HONORED IN WASHINGTON, D.C. – Local resident Don Morin was recently honored by the U.S. Small Business Administration during its 50th anniversary recognition ceremony in Washington, D.C. See story for details. Morin, president of Garrett Container System Inc. and Maryland's Small Business Person of the Year for 2003, was also honored at a luncheon hosted by Congressman Roscoe Bartlett. Deer Cited As Cause Of I-68 Crash Friday

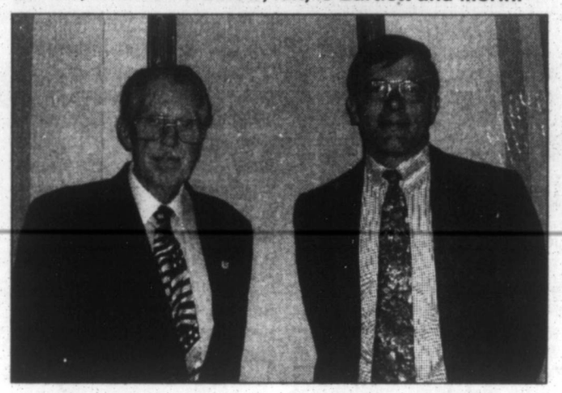
A Kansas man was injured Friday after he swerved his vehicle to avoid a deer on eastbound Interstate 68, according to the McHenry barrack of the Maryland State Police. The 8:15 a.m. accident occurred near Friendsville.

Matthew Justin Clark, 24, Manhattan, was traveling east of Sand Spring Road when the deer leapt into the path of his Dodge Caravan, police said, causing the minivan to veer off the roadway and strike a guardrail head-on. The Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad made the hospital transport and personnel from the Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department provided assistance at the scene.

Troopers credited the use of a seat belt with preventing Clark from being ejected from the vehicle and seriously injured.



Autumn Glory Annual Firemen's Parade Slated

The Firemen's Parade in Oakland, an Autumn Glory tradition, is one of the many activities and events on the agenda for the 36th annual festival. Slated for Thursday, Oct. 9, at 7 p.m., the parade will attract hundreds of fire and rescue units, representing companies throughout the tri-state area.

Following the parade, persons are invited to attend the Oktoberfest Celebration at the Oakland Fire Hall on Third Street. The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department sponsors the parade and Oktoberfest.

The Autumn Glory 5K/2-Mile Walk, sponsored by the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club will be held Saturday at Broadford Lake Park. Gates will open at 7 a.m. with the race scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. Proceeds from the event will benefit the Lions Club's sight programs. Information is available at 301-334-4287.

A rotating inventory of "lovingly used" equipment will be available at the High Mountain Sports Annual Autumn Glory Ski and Snowboard Swap. Shoppers will have a chance to get skis, snowshoes, snowboards, and more at "bargain prices."

Buyers are encouraged to stop in several times during the event because "swaps" occur continually. Used equipment may be brought in Friday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and again on Saturday morning. The "Swap" will be in operation Friday, Saturday, and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. For more information, call 301-387-4199.

The Oakland Post Office will offer application of the 36th annual Autumn Glory Festival pictorial cancellation to letters and cards prepared by customers. This special two-day-only opportunity is scheduled Friday from 10 a.m. to noon, and Saturday from 12 to 2 p.m. The post office is located at 22 S. Second Street, Oakland.

The T.L.T. Sport Card Show will be held at the Oakland Fire Hall Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dealers from three states will offer collectibles including Beanie Babies, comic books, and NASCAR items. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children. To learn more, persons can call 724-592-5038.

Autumn Glory is an event of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. For more information on Autumn Glory activities scheduled Oct. 8-12, persons may visit the Chamber web site at www.garrettchamber.com.

New Grantsville Tower Will Be Built By MIEMSS

The Garrett County commissioners held a public hearing this week on relocating and building a new Grantsville communications tower. No members of the general public attended the hearing to voice their objections to the proposal, and the commissioners voted unanimously to relocate the tower in the new county roads department complex in Grantsville.

The $300,000 project will cost the county nothing. The Maryland Institute for Emergency Services Systems (MIEMSS) will pay for and construct the 330-foot tower, its foundation, and a 12-foot-by-38-foot equipment building, as well as install the necessary hardware.

"Another community wasn't ready for this project," said Brad Frantz, director of Garrett County Emergency Management. MIEMSS, therefore, offered to build the tower in Garrett County.

MIEMSS only requires that it be allowed to use the top 30 feet of the tower. Garrett County will own the tower and be responsible for its upkeep. Commissioner Ernie Gregg noted that the maintenance cost was a small price to pay.

Since county officials had been working on a similar project, the agency's offer will actually save the county money. Lawrence Dawson, facilities and equipment supervisor for General Services, had already been looking into installing a communications tower at the complex. Officials wanted the tower to not only benefit the roads department, but also accommodate the communication needs of the county.

Dawson said the county's project, involving a 100-foot tower, would have cost the county $30,000 to $40,000. "It just keeps us from having to build one," Dawson said about the agency's offer to pay for and build a bigger tower.

"The 300-foot plus tower opens up a lot of possibilities," said Frantz. According to county officials, it will improve communication capabilities in the county for public safety, public works, and inter-agency and inter-jurisdictional mutual aid. It will also aid future communication needs.

"This will benefit the entire public safety community," noted Frantz. The taller tower may provide better reception to some areas of the county where communication is difficult.

GC Man Faces Attempted Murder Charge In Penn.

Pennsylvania State Police investigators have charged a Garrett County man with attempted homicide after he allegedly fired a gun during a struggle with a Somerset County resident inside the man's Addison home. Police have not indicated a motive for the early Friday morning incident.

Sometime between 12:30 and 3 a.m., Jeffrey Thomas Kelly, 38, Grantsville reportedly entered the alleged victim's home uninvited, pointed a gun at the 28-year-old resident and demanded money, saying he would kill him if he didn't comply. The victim grabbed the gun, and during the ensuing struggle the firearm discharged once, striking a wall. The pair broke free from one another at that point, and Kelly allegedly pointed the weapon at the man again and tried to fire it. When the gun would not fire, the victim disarmed Kelly and called police.

In addition to attempted homicide, Kelly faces charges of attempted robbery, aggravated assault, simple assault, burglary, criminal trespass, recklessly endangering another person, and making terroristic threats, according to a PSP spokesperson.

McHenry Woman Faces Charges In Mosser Rd. Crash

A McHenry woman faces charges filed by Maryland State Police troopers following a Sunday afternoon collision on Mosser Road.

Shortly after 4 p.m. Roxane Christianson, 39, was reportedly backing out of her driveway when her vehicle struck a van that had the right of way as it traveled by the house along Mosser Road. The van's occupants, Jeanean Marie Beachy, 43, and her daughter, Stephanie Nicole Beachy, 16, both of Grantsville, were taken to Garrett Memorial Hospital by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad as a precautionary measure. Personnel from the Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the scene.

Each of the three women involved in the crash avoided serious injury by proper use of her seat belt, according to the investigating trooper, who charged Christianson with unsafe driving.

Stopping an Invasion...

The federal no-call list bill recently signed into law by President Bush took effect yesterday, rendering it illegal for most telemarketing agencies to continue calling citizens whose names are included on the no-call list. The enactment has drawn both praise and criticism.

The praise, obviously, is coming primarily from the people who placed their names on the list, while the criticism is being generated by the telemarketing firms themselves and various other entities that rely upon telemarketing services. Even the Maryland-Delaware-D.C. Press Association, of which we (The Republican) are a member, is calling for a repeal of the law since a number of newspapers utilize telemarketing for the sale of subscriptions and advertising.

We do not share the MDDC's opinion and generally consider the no-call list a blessing. Telemarketing phone calls are an invasion of one's home and/or business. Invariably the calls come during the most inconvenient times. They rudely, and purposely, interrupt meal time. They wake up sleeping babies. They make life difficult, and sometimes physically painful, for many elderly people in their attempts to get to the ringing telephone. They cause us to run down the steps, or run up the steps, to get to the phone. They drag us dripping from the shower, pull us away from a television program or a good book, and interrupt preparing a meal or changing an infant's diaper.

The traveling salesman, who is sent off one day and then returns the next, can be charged with trespassing on one's property. Yet until now, there was no regulation against trespassing via the telephone.

On top of the invasion, some of the marketing is for scams that rob many innocent people, particularly the elderly, who are sometimes more easily duped because of hearing difficulties and their generally more trusting natures.

A downside of the no-call list is that it threatens the jobs of thousands of people who are hired to make those phone calls, and our sympathies go out to them. But it was reported just this morning that the top officials in nine different telemarketing firms are among the millions who have signed up to be on the no-call list! What does that say about their position?

Undoubtedly there will be a variety of loopholes discovered by many of the telemarketers which will allow them to continue their operations. It was also interesting, and a bit hypocritical, of President Bush to label telemarketers as "annoyances," when telemarketing is used extensively by both the Republicans and Democrats who are running for president.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

We wish to offer a heartfelt thank-you to the Intensive Care Unit in Garrett County Memorial Hospital for their devotion and care given to my husband, Nicholas Dzendzel, prior to his death on Wednesday, September 17. You gave him dignity, and kept him as comfortable as possible, which required many demanding hours from his ICU nurses. We have come to admire and respect you for the tireless work you do.

Thank you also goes to Nick's physician, Dr. Robert Goralski, to Dr. Gonzaga, and to his surgeon, Dr. Zac. Together you gave him a quality of life and possibly an extra four years, I believe, he may not have had, were it not for your efforts and skill.

For a small hospital, Garrett County Memorial provides outstanding care.

God bless you,
Agnes Dzendzel and

To the Editor:

Hitting. Kicking. Pushing. Beating. Slapping. Choking. Punching. These are all forms of abuse that most of us think of when we hear "domestic violence." Did you know there is also verbal, sexual, psychological, and economical abuse, to name a few?

Did you know that domestic violence is the leading cause of serious injury to American women between ages 15 and 44, more common than automobile accidents, muggings, and rapes combined? And that every 15 seconds a woman is battered in the U.S. by her husband, boyfriend, or live-in partner? These are national statistics, but the problem does exist in Garrett County as well.

Domestic violence knows no barriers. Though statistics show that women are more often abused than men, men can be victims. Children can be targets or be forced to watch as their parent is abused. Teenagers experience dating violence. Domestic violence can also happen in gay and lesbian relationships. The elderly and people with disabilities fall victim also. Anyone can be a victim.

If you are a victim of abuse, there is help for you in Garrett County. The Dove Center (Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Resource Center) is here to offer counseling, advocacy, accompaniment, temporary shelter, encouragement, and support. Our services are free and confidential. If you know of someone who is a victim, please pass this on to them – you may be their lifeline!

If you would like more information, please call the Dove Center at 301-334-9000. Offices are located in Oakland, Grantsville, Hoyes, and Kitzmiller.

In Peace,
Gina Bender

To the Editor:

I see now how a desenting opinion is handled by the Gorman Volunteer Fire Company. I have been accused of misleading the public by spreading false information in the community. Nothing is further from the truth. If what I am saying is a lie, then why not tell the community the truth?

As promised, I attended the fire meeting held in Gorman. I was surprised to be only one of three citizens there to question the firemen's decision to rent the fire hall. It didn't take long for me to understand why people are afraid to stand up and ask the hard questions. The secretary pointed at each of us and questioned our donation practices. We certainly did not get a Christian reception, but we pressed on.

The secretary said that the utilities cost the department approximately $10,000 a year just to maintain that building. She also assured me that the auxiliary was well aware that these costs were becoming unbearable for this fire company, but that they were not able to get the workers they needed to have dinners and fund-raisers to be of much help in offsetting these costs. In fact, the auxiliary had donated only a few hundred dollars over the last two years. I have been a member of the auxiliary for only a year, but our treasury seemed flush. At the last meeting that I attended we were trying to decide when the auxiliary would treat its membership to dinner, not which of the fire hall bills we could pay! One would think that since the auxiliary was using the building, it would be appropriate that the auxiliary pay at least some of the expenses, but this apparently was not the case. I know it was never discussed in meeting.

Of course, I was not around when older, and, apparently wiser, heads thought the fire hall and kitchen would be an asset that would enable the firemen to raise money in good times and bad. Perhaps these firemen think the government money will go on forever and they won't have to work to raise it. I suspect they are wrong. We now have to pay for an enormous war debt and where will the grants be then?

Now to the business of renting the building. In my last letter, I was wrong. The building was rented not to Mr. Paugh, but to his daughter and son-in-law. I was told by the firemen that being a fireman of 18 years and the fact that he "deserved a break" are the reasons that the rent was set so low. Well, figure it out – $10,000 in utilities. If we are to believe the figures we were given, with $2,400 in rent. Yep, they sure did him a favor. I hope he sells lots of discounted treasures, he will certainly need to. Lord, please save me from friends like that! If his business fails, remember he still is under contract to pay these bills. Not for one year, but for three!

One thing was made perfectly clear at Monday's meeting. The firemen, to the man and woman, let us know, in no uncertain terms, that they could sell and or rent this or any of their property any time they chose, and that they had no obligation to either inform or confer with the community that founded them or to their own auxiliary.

We also learned at the meeting that only those firemen who attend the meetings have a vote in these decisions. There is no proxy vote to allow the full membership a voice in these important matters. I understand that meeting attendance is usually a very low number because of work schedules and so forth, and that at regular meetings members can often be counted on one hand. The secretary told us that they needed a quorum of six to do business with a majority vote. Let's see, that means that as long as they can get a majority vote out of their quorum of six, only four votes out of 20 or so firemen are needed. It seems they can and will do as they darn well please!

Sincerely,
Linda Kyle

To the Editor:

This is in response to the Ed Clemmons' letter of September 25th.

Thank you, sir, for your response to my letter. This country can certainly benefit from a dialogue from all points of view. Only through discussion and careful reflection can we come to the "truth." For the sake of discussion, may I also propose that none of us has all the answers and that nobody is more patriotic than another. The right of dissent is but one of the things that make this country the "lighthouse of liberty" for the rest of the world.

My opposition to this current war has many facets. For me there is almost nothing about the war that holds any merit. Our incursion into Afghanistan, however, was necessary, and I was behind our efforts there. Iraq had nothing to do with 9/11. Yes, Saddam Hussein is an evil man. With that being so, how can you explain our history of backing this man? During the Reagan administration, Donald Rumsfeld presented a pair of golden spurs to Saddam on behalf of the United States...at the very same time Saddam was gassing the Kurds! Do you think Rumsfeld happened to mention to Saddam that it was probably not in his people's best interest to have all that gas floating around?

There are dozens of evil men around the world doing horrific things to their people and we aren't there looking our for them is it our job to act like Wyatt Earp for the whole world? Who's next? How about North Korea? Pakistan? How did we go from being attacked by 19 guys from Saudi Arabia to a war with Iraq? Now there are terrorists for sure in Iraq. They've got 150,000 Americans as targets and they're coming from all over to have a go at it. Smart bombs won't do us much good now. With virtually no help form the rest of the world, we may have to call up even more American reservationists to try to get control of the situation.

So what to do? Maybe this administration should admit that it didn't have all the facts and was a might hasty in its unilateral effort. We have found no WMDs, but we have found one thing – the people of Iraq have not been as thrilled with us as we had been told they would be. The official mission has gone from finding WMDs to freeing the people of Iraq...nice spin!

We do need help in Iraq. Maybe if we had not moved so quickly and gotten more support from our allies and friends, we would not be so alone now. Maybe if we were to get a coalition of equal partners to help administer the rebuilding process things would be going better. Instead, we want help but on our terms. Why is this administration so adamant about keeping total control? I think the answer has just three letters and they're not WMD. Maybe the secret energy meetings, which this administration refuses to tell us about, holds some clues.

I will be glad to respond later to the other questions in your letter. I encourage all people to express themselves and become informed by hearing all sides and not just one side or the other. Fair and balanced is not always so.

Just one more thing – I am a registered Republican. Any bearing to the left that you noticed is in response to what I consider one of the most irresponsible administrations, with regard to foreign and domestic policies, to come down the pike. It is my earnest hope that America can make it through another year and then show these boys the door!

shows and local businesses through the Internet. The federal funding will be matched with $600,000 from the state of Maryland and $1.2 million from other sources for a combined project cost of $2.8 million.

Almost $745,000 in ARC funding has also been awarded to help with the construction of a two-mile access road from Hoyes Run Road to the Adventure Sports Center International near McHenry. The center will be located on Marsh Mountain and is scheduled to include a whitewater course, an amphitheater, hiking and mountain biking courses, a Nordic ski facility, rock climbing sites, and other sports venues.

When completed, it is expected to attract more than 100,000 visitors to the site. The access road will be designed to meet the anticipate high traffic to the Sports Center complex. Garrett County will provide almost $2.456 million in local funds to complete the project, according to Sarbanes.

Garrett County Planning and Zoning also received $20,000 in ARC funds for its Internet/Intranet Plan. The project includes the development of an Intranet system that will use the Internet to improve communication between county government agencies, particularly those involved in the mapping, building, and zoning process.

Additionally, the project will develop an expanded Internet plan that will provide the public free access to certain technical information, including the posting of ordinances, checklists, sample permit forms, fee schedules, contact information, and other information on various county programs.

Planning and Zoning director John Nelson said he hoped to have the plan up and running by the end of the year.

ARC will also provide $5,000 of the cost for the Loch Lynn Heights Boundary Location Project. The total cost of the project is $10,000. At present, the exact parameters of the town are not known, because since its incorporation in 1896, survey point markers have been removed and several areas have been annexed.

"This federal funding will help Garrett County boost its tourism and its economy," said Mikulski. "The new Garrett County Trade Enterprise Center will create jobs and attract new people to the area. The center's web site will also be an important tool in promoting businesses in Garrett County."

Projects Awarded

ed for the system's collection and conveyance upgrades.

Funding for the projects will come from the U.S. Department of Agriculture in the form of a 20-year loan at 4.75 percent interest. Both old and new Deep Creek Lake Sanitary District customers will share the cost of the debt service on the loan.

Customers will not see an increase on their sanitary district bills until the county has to begin paying the debt service. Commissioner Ernie Gregg said that probably would not be before the later part of next year.

The final cost of upgrading the system needs to be determined yet, noted Barry Sweitzer of Public Utilities. Once those figures are compiled, however, the county will pursue grant funding for the treatment plant to help defray some of the cost.

The district's boundaries will now be expanded to include properties owned by Deep Creek Development LLC, Marsh Mountain LLC, and Hugh Umbel, who wants to develop an area east of the north-bound lane of Rt. 219 in McHenry.

Following the commissioners' approval of the expansion, McHenry resident John Cobb presented them with the names of 129 home owners wanting to be included in the district.

Business Offers To Help Make Busy Intersection More Visible To Drivers

The Garrett County commissioners this week were asked to support a proposal that could improve visibility and safety at the intersection of Pysell Road and Rt. 219 in McHenry. Umbel Enterprises Inc., owned by Hugh Umbel, has offered to pay for the removal of a high bank that makes it difficult for drivers traveling north to see that Pysell Road intersects the highway (see photo). The bank, however, is owned by the State Highway Administration, Maryland Department of Transportation which has, so far, not accepted Umbel's offer.

Ken Wishnick, executive manager of Umbel Enterprises, said he recognized that the county had no jurisdiction over the state's right-of-way, but was there to see if the commissioners would endorse the proposal.

Pysell is the access road to the Market Square Shopping Center, owned by Umbel Enterprises. The road also leads to a new Garrett County Community Action project located behind the square. Construction of Mount Village West, a 70-unit apartment complex, may begin this spring.

Wishnick said drivers traveling north on Rt. 219 cannot see the shopping center until they are about to pass the turn. Many of those drivers have been seen making short stops, sudden right turns, u-turns further up the road, and even backing up to the intersection.

The problem is further exacerbated, he noted, by there being two northbound lanes on Rt. 219 at Pysell Road. Drivers in the left-hand lane, attempting to turn right onto Pysell Road, have been seen cutting off drivers in the right-hand deceleration or turning lane. Additionally, more than half of the summer population are nonresidents who are far less familiar with the upcoming turns, Wishnick said.

Local resident Lindsey Gnegy told the commissioners that drivers in the deceleration lane "fly up through there going 60 and 70 miles per hour." Some of the drivers get impatient with the slowing traffic and use the deceleration lane as a passing lane. "They can't see the intersection," she said.

Gnegy also noted that she has had to wait as long as 10 minutes at the intersection to get onto Rt. 219. "It's going to get to the point where a light is needed," she said.

Michelle DeWees, comptroller for Umbel Enterprises, was recently involved in an accident at the intersection. She said she was on Pysell Road with her turn signal on to make a left turn onto Rt. 219 South. Before turning, she looked both ways. A car with Pennsylvania tags was in the deceleration lane with its right turn signal on. Assuming that the car was indeed turning right since it was in the turning lane, DeWees attempted to turn, but was struck by the oncoming car.

She said, fortunately, neither she nor the other driver were injured. Both cars did, however, sustain damage. "This was a potentially serious accident," DeWees said. She noted that a bad accident had occurred there about a year ago.

Since DeWees's accident, Wishnick said Umbel is even more resolved to try to fix the visibility problem at the intersection.

He told the commissioners that, yes, his company could receive some benefit from the regrading of the bank, which would make Market Square more visible to its customers.

"But, it's not very pleasant to see customers in accidents," Wishnick said, adding that there could be a loss of life at the intersection in the future. He said the problem would only get worse.

Traffic on Rt. 219 is expected to increase dramatically with all the additional traffic related to residential and Adventure Sports related developments on Marsh Mountain. Market Square will also be growing next year, as Foodland Fresh is expanding, four additional rental spaces will be constructed, and a new 10,000-square-foot retail store is planned. Traffic will also increase with the opening of Mount Village, noted Wishnick.

"Umbel Enterprises recognizes that we are currently generating most of the turning movements onto Pysell Road," Wishnick said. "As such, we are willing to pay the full cost of regrading the state right-of-way south of Pysell to improve the visibility of the intersection."

He added that any regrading would be to MDOT specifications, and the company would arrange and pay for the work to be completed to SHA specifications. If required, disturbed trees would be replaced elsewhere in the right-of-way. Additionally, if necessary, Umbel Enterprises would submit a performance bond to MDOT to assure that all work is professionally completed.

The company hired Highland Engineering & Surveying Inc., Oakland, earlier this year to complete a concept plan of the regrading project. That plan and Umbel's proposal were forwarded to the SHA office in LaVale.

In a letter dated Feb. 3 to Highland Engineering, Fred Crozier, SHA District 6 engineer, wrote: "After reviewing the site and your concept plan, we feel that the sight distance at the Pysell Road intersection is adequate for all turning movements. While we appreciate your offer, we prefer that our right-of-way not be altered."

In a letter dated Feb. 27, Delegate George Edwards asked Crozier to "take another look" at Umbel's proposal to see if something could be worked out.

Wishnick also presented the proposal to the Garrett County Traffic and Transportation Advisory Committee in July. Following that meeting, the committee wrote Wishnick a letter stating that it respected the SHA's position in denying Umbel's request, "but sees the benefit in making the improvements. Many of us have missed the intersection and had to back track, even though we know where it is located." The committee suggested that the company seek the support of the Garrett County commissioners.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg said the SHA feels there is a bigger problem at the intersection than just removing the bank, that other issues involving Pysell Road needed to be considered as well, which would involve the county. The commissioners said, however, that they would endorse the proposal.

Wishnick will now present Umbel Enterprises' offer to MDOT officials at 9 a.m. tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 3, in the commissioners' meeting room in the courthouse. The presentation will be made during MDOT's annual meeting with county officials and residents.

UMBEL ENTERPRISES HAS OFFERED TO PAY 100 PERCENT of the cost of regrading a high bank at the intersection of Rt. 219 and Pysell Road. Though the property is owned by the State Highway Administration, the company is willing to foot the bill for the removal of the bank and the relocation of the trees in an effort to make the intersection more visible and, thus, safer. The photo shows the intersection from the vantage point of a driver traveling north in the deceleration lane of Rt. 219, just south of Pysell Road. So far, the SHA has not accepted Umbel's proposal. Volkswaggle Set; Winners In Photo Contest TBA

Winners of the 2003 PAWS Photo Contest will be announced at the Volkswaggle, an event for dogs and their owners, slated for this Sunday, Oct 5.

Partners for Animal Welfare and Safety (PAWS) has already notified the winners of the photo contest, but in an effort to build suspense, none of the winners knows exactly which of their photos were chosen, nor what prizes they won. All will be revealed in a special unveiling and awards ceremony to take place at 12:45 p.m. on Sunday at the Mtn. Fresh Producers Pavilion in Oakland as part of the Volkswaggle celebration.

Registration for the Volkswaggle will be held from noon to 1 p.m. Free T-shirts will be given to those who have raised $30 or more. The Volkswaggle walk will begin at 1:30 p.m., to be preceded by an animal blessing at 1:15, presided over by Reverend Chip Lee of St. John's and St. Matthew's Episcopal churches. The blessing is in celebration of the Feast of St. Francis, patron saint of animals.

After the 1.5-mile Volkswaggle walk, there will be games and activities for pets and their owners, as well as information and vendor booths to browse. Food will be available from BumbleQ's and the Lakeside Creamery.

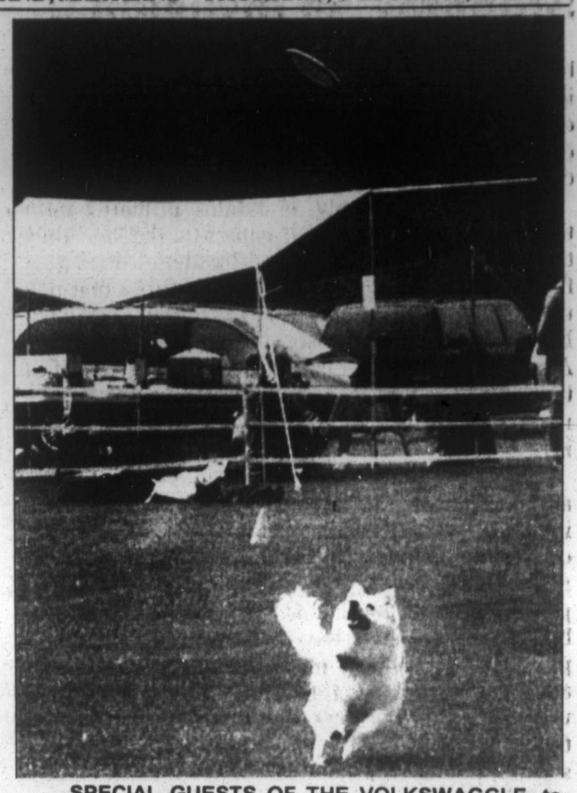
After the ceremony, the public will have a chance to see how all the winning photos came together as the new 2004 PAWS calendars go on sale. All the proceeds from calendar sales will benefit education and outreach programs of PAWS. Also on display at the Volkswaggle will be all the photos entered in the contest.

"Just as last year, there were some great images submitted, and the winning photos were very difficult to choose. Thanks to everyone who entered the contest and the 22 county businesses who purchased ads in the 2004 calendar," said Annette Robinson of PAWS.

"Many thanks also to local photographer Guy Hinebaugh of Willow Cottage Photography for lending his expertise to the project again this year, and to Jim Bolander of Brady Communications in Pittsburgh for donating his graphic art skills to the designing of this year's PAWS calendar," Robinson continued. "This is a major fundraising effort for our small organization and we are very pleased and grateful for the support and help we received this year in pulling it all together."

The Volkswaggle is free and open to the public.



SPECIAL GUESTS OF THE VOLKSWAGGLE, to be held Sunday, Oct. 5, will include members of the West Virginia Dog 'n' Disc Club. Whitey McDaniel, founder of the Morgantown-based club, said the group's main goal is to introduce people to the "pure fun of playing disc with their dogs." The club spreads its message through clinics, play dates, contests, and performances. McDaniel said disc dog play has been going on in West Virginia since the 1970s. The Volkswaggle will take place on Sunday from noon until 4 p.m., beginning at the Mtn. Fresh Pavilion. (See story.) Area dog owners are encouraged to attend to learn more about how to teach their dogs to do tricks with flying discs, and to take part in all Volkswaggle activities. "Come on out and see what it's all about," McDaniel said. "You'll be sure to meet some cool folks — and their owners." Pictured above with both eyes on the prize is Whitey's dog Birkie, an 8-year-old rescue dog who is also a certified Canine Good Citizen and therapy dog. The Dog 'N Disc group is active in promoting the rescuing, fostering, and adoption of abandoned dogs, a PAWS spokesperson said.

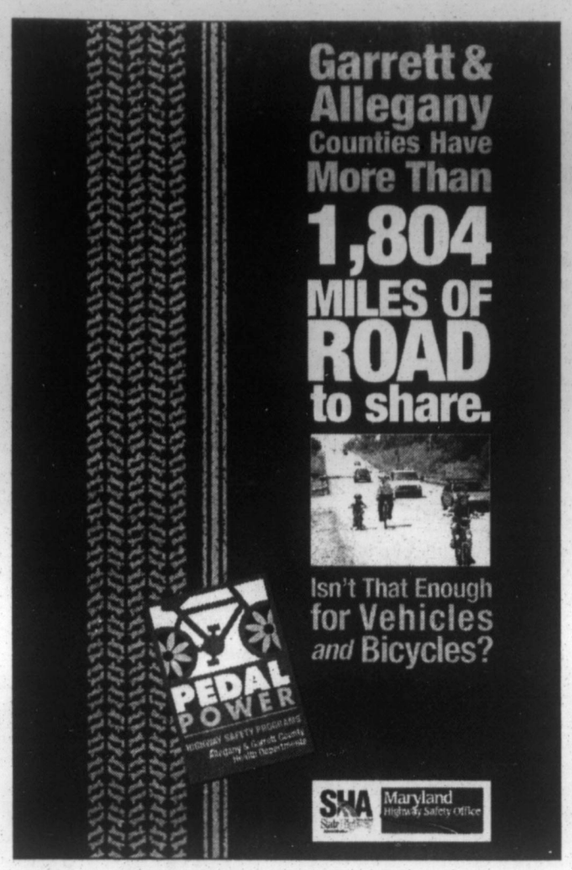
New Bike Poster Created To Teach Bike Safety, Laws

The Highway Safety Programs of the Allegany and Garrett County Health Departments have collaborated on a project to try to make both bicyclists and motorists more aware of laws and safety issues.

"Our goal is to help motorists be aware that bicyclists have as much right to use the roads as they do," said Janie Hutcherson, highway safety coordinator at the Allegany County Health Department, "and to help cyclists learn the rules to reduce their risks."

A locally designed and produced poster was recently released which reminds motorists and bikers alike, that they must share the road.

The poster reads: "Garrett & Allegany Counties have more than 1,804 miles of road to share. Isn't that enough for vehicles and bicycles?"



The poster introduces a new logo that incorporates Maryland's state flower, the black-eyed Susan into the spokes of a bike, with a theme of "Pedal Power." The logo will be used for future bike projects in Garrett and Allegany Counties.

"We know that biking is a favorite past time of kids and adults alike," said Diane Lee, highway safety coordinator at the Garrett County Health Department, "but cyclists young and old risk serious injury or even death if they do not learn and practice proper bicycle safety. Safety issues include helmet use, proper bike fit, and learning the laws."

The following information is condensed from publications from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the Maryland Highway Safety Office:

Helmets

The first and most important step in bicycle safety is wearing a helmet. Maryland law requires children under age 16 to wear a helmet while riding a bicycle. Statistics show that head injury is the leading cause of death and permanent disability in bicycle crashes. Research has shown that bicycle helmets can reduce the risk of serious head and brain injury in all types of bicycle crashes by as much as 88 percent. Cyclists who wear helmets are 14 times less likely to be involved in a fatal crash than those who do not wear them.

It is important to choose a helmet carefully and to make sure it fits properly. Look for a label or sticker that says the helmet has been tested and meets the new federal safety standard issued by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC). Select a brand and size that fits well prior to any adjustments. (When choosing a helmet for a child, buy one that fits now, not one to "grow into.") Most helmets come with adjustable sizing pads to help ensure a better fit.

A properly adjusted bicycle helmet fits comfortably and securely. It should be worn level on the head, not tilted back on the crown or pulled low over the forehead. Once the helmet is adjusted, you should not be able to move it more than an inch in any direction. Once the adjustments are made, you can secure the straps so the helmet will be ready for the next ride.

Maryland law also requires children under 16 to wear a helmet while riding a scooter or using inline skates. In Allegany County, there is a fine for anyone under 16 years old not wearing a helmet while riding a bicycle.

Purchasing a Bicycle

A safe bicycle is one that is the right size for the rider. Many parents look for a bike that their child will "grow into." But the wrong size bicycle, especially one that is too large, may cause a child to lose control and be injured.

Use these three simple tests to check a bike for proper fit: sitting on the seat with hands on the handlebar, the rider must be able to place the balls of both feet on the ground; straddling the center bar, the rider should be able to keep both feet flat on the ground with about a 1-inch clearance between the crotch and the bar; and when buying a bike with hand brakes, make sure that the rider can comfortably grasp the brakes and apply sufficient pressure to stop the bike.

Rules of the Road

Bicycles are legally considered vehicles. Whether on the road or sidewalk, cyclists must obey the same rules as motorists, such as stopping at stop signs. When riding on the road, always ride single file in the same direction as other traffic. Be sure to signal your moves, and communicate with other motorists by making eye contact. Always check for oncoming traffic before you enter a road from a driveway, alley, bike path, or side street. Ride carefully, and watch out for cars and other vehicles as well as for pedestrians, railroad tracks, construction zones, or disturbances in the road – such as potholes, cracks, expansion joints, wet leaves, or drainage grates – that could cause you to lose control of your bike. Headphones make it difficult to hear traffic, so never wear them when riding.

When to allow children to ride in the street with motor vehicle traffic is a decision for parents and guardians based on the skill level of their child cyclist. A bicycle is the smallest vehicle on the road, and motorists are not always considerate, so cyclists must be skilled and stay alert at all times.

For more information about bicycle safety or for help in correctly fitting a bike helmet, persons may call Allegany County Health Department at 301-777-5680 or Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-7730.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Sussman

It didn't take any time for the temperature to drop like a stone to autumn level, and almost to winter level for most places. It is supposed to get down below the freezing level this week. Anyway, it is not an option, but it is necessary to turn on the furnace now. Each drop of fuel oil causes heartburn in me. I want to have a full tank when it really gets wintry. Each day of this chilly weather we have sucks another two or three gallons away.

The several inches of rain we received in September already brought down quite a few colored leaves. We already have genuine autumn scenery here, but we will not reach the ultimate peak colors this year. We have already lost too many leaves. However, on the bright side, the ground water seems now fully charged. Besides the Rock Lodge spring, which is fully gushing, there are several other springs running from the hillsides on the north side of Rock Lodge Road near the lake.

The Northern High Marching Band had a frustrating Saturday, as a show near Clarksburg was rained out. Then they headed to Allegany High School and waited for several hours before that show was called off. They were in and out of their uniforms waiting to see if it was a go, but finally got the news that it was off. Whether they have a good or not-so-good performance on any given weekend does not make any difference in the following week's practice schedule. It seems to me that an average of about 75 percent of after-school time goes to band practices. Last weekend they also performed at Northern's Homecoming game against Turkeyfoot.

Turkeyfoot is not a push-over in football today as it was in my school days. Coming into the game, Turkeyfoot was undefeated.

Oh, no; Denardo's weather forecast for Thursday this week is maybe a few flakes of snow in the higher altitudes and, yes, that always means Bittinger. It does not look like my pitiful few potted tomatoes will bear any ripe fruit this year. The other day, Thelma Emory gave me a couple beautiful tomatoes, but she said they were not from her own garden. This growing season would be good for spinach, peas, and broccoli, but that is about it.

For a few weeks, among those on the prayer list at Emmanuel Lutheran Church was Tommy Glotfelty, as well as his father Jimmy. I heard from Jim's daughter, Linda Oester, that Tommy's mystery illness luckily was just two serious viruses at the same time. They both cleared up and now he is doing fine.

Right now, I am not someone who thinks that viruses are just a cold. This cold virus makes me too sick to drag myself to the doctor.

Northern High Band is getting ready for this Saturday's Band Show. I believe the show starts at 6 p.m. There will be the raffling off of the doll houses, and refreshments will be for sale.

Ruth DiPaolo attended a luncheon Saturday afternoon in Cumberland for the Allegany High School Class of 1947. She recently attended the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation dinner, auction and dance at the Wisp.

Ferne Beachy, Mary Simpson, and Meredith Vagnetti visited Connie Beachy at her home in LaVale on Saturday.

Refreshments were served following Sunday worship service to honor Bill and Trudy Smith, who will be spending their winter months in Florida. During this summer they were loyal attendees at our Sunday services, and we wish them the best.

Our local band, White Noise, entertained at a party held at Russ and Mary Conway's home in Finzel on Sunday afternoon. Members of the band are Robbie, Darryl, and Elliot Glotfelty, Scott Bass, Brook DeBose, and Chris Miller.

Jim and Donna Glotfelty and Ida Reckner attended a birthday party Saturday evening for Allison Gail Carey, 1-year-old daughter of Chris and Janelle Carey of near Frostburg. Allison is the great-great granddaughter of Ida Reckner, and the great-granddaughter of the Glotfeltys.

Jim Glotfelty was discharged Monday evening from Ruby Memorial Hospital, and is now under care provided by Hospice of Garrett County. Many friends and relatives have telephoned, sent cards, flowers, and food, and have visited him at his home during the week.

YOMMER FAMILY REUNION

The family members of the late Bruce and Jessie (Warnick) Yommer gathered Tuesday, Sept. 16, for a luncheon at Penn Alps Restaurant, Grantsville. Those attending were: Richard and Shirley Yommer, Randy and Jan Yommer (son of Richard Yommer) and their daughter Jenna Yommer, Elizabeth Durst (daughter of Willard Yommer), all of Grantsville; Harry and Joan Yommer, Topeka, Kansas; Wanda Yommer Gross and grandson Patrick Gross, Paw Paw, W. Va.; Williard and Joann Yommer, Lewisville, Ohio; Hubert Yommer and Alberta Neugebauer, Pittsburgh; and Betty Westlake Yommer, Oakland.

Visitors of Richard and Shirley Yommer included Joe and Alice Yommer, Hal and Norma Ruth Yommer Quail, Mary Hentchel and Lee Fisher of Romney, W.Va., and Darlene (daughter of Mary Hentchel and Hubert Yommer) and Rick from California.

Tournament Of Bands Slated At Northern

Friends and fans of marching bands are invited to Northern Garrett High School, Accident, on Saturday, Oct. 4, at 6 p.m., when the marching Huskies take the field in exhibition culminating the NHS Tournament of Bands Marching Spectacular.

Bands will travel to the stadium from the tri-state area, including Southern Garrett's Marching Band, to compete. The theme of the NHS 2003 Field Show is "YEEHAW!" They will present tunes reminiscent of cowboys, showgirls, and the Wild West that have become world standards. The show contains tunes and melodic fragments from 14 well-known western show and musical traditions, including William Tell Overture, Magnificent Seven, selections from Big Country, Wild Wild West, and Hoedown.

The band is under the direction of William Robinson; Matt Acenowr is assistant band director; choreography and guard instruction is by Sarah Cole; and additional assistance is given by Pete Winter (brass) and Mark Valko (percussion).

Drum Majors are seniors Jacki Brenneman and Miriah Fletcher. Percussion captain is Lacie Slagle and guard co-captains are Leslie Gaither and Amanda Sisler.

The NHS band has created a tradition of success over its years of competition. This includes, but is not limited to, Chapter 13 Group I Champions for 12 of the preceding 13 years, Maryland State Marching Band Group 1 Champion, and numerous top 10 finishes at the Atlantic Coast Championships, as well as hundreds of first place and category trophies.

Last Saturday, Sept. 27, the NHS Marching Band came home with first place trophies in Group 1 Band, Drum Major, Percussion, and Color Guard with an overall score of 75.45.

The show is supported by a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council. Tickets are available at the gate.

LIVESTOCK JUDGING TEAM HEADED TO NATIONALS

On Aug. 9, four members of the Northern Garrett FFA Chapter traveled to the Howard County Fairgrounds for the Maryland State Livestock Judging Contest. The participants were Lacie Berkebile, Becky Berkebile, Bridgette Welch, and Tracy Bowman. The contest consisted of first individually judging and placing a market and breeding class of beef cattle, sheep, and hogs. They then orally gave the judges the reasons they placed each of the market classes. Lastly, they took a written test consisting of a variety of questions on overall livestock management practices and breed questions. As a team, the girls read two scenarios and had to decide what livestock to keep and which ones to sell. They received 100% on this portion of the test. The scores were totaled and the state gave out awards for individual scores. Tracy Bowman placed 7th, Bridgette Welch 5th, Lacie Berkebile 4th, and Becky Berkebile 3rd in the state. The individual scores were then added together to get a total group score. The combination of the girls' scores ranked them 1st in the state of Maryland. They each received a pin for their FFA jackets and a plaque in honor of their achievements. Lacie, Becky, Bridgette, and Tracy will attend the National FFA Convention Oct. 28 through Nov. 2, where they will compete for the title of National Livestock Judging Team Champions. Livestock judging can be widely used in the farming industry, from choosing the best fair animal to choosing the best breeding stock for your farm. The knowledge gained from their experiences will help the girls make their future farms successful.

Third Family Of 2003 Receives Help From Habitat

Garrett County Habitat for Humanity announced that its third partner family for 2003 will be Margaret Kinch and her two daughters, Priscilla and Lydia. Their Mtn. Lake Park home will be three bedrooms and two bathrooms with a spacious eat-in kitchen. The home was donated to HFH by Drs Jerry and Joanne Byers, McHenry.

Margaret and the girls were residing in a 1-car garage that had been converted to an apartment when she heard about Habitat from some friends from Virginia and Arkansas who volunteer during the summer for Garrett County HFH.

"There was mold and mildew, windows that wouldn't open, no ventilation, few cabinets, and water would run into the apartment during a hard rain," said Kinch. "And with only one bedroom, someone had to sleep on the couch."

She added that she was very relieved and excited when she heard she was accepted to partner with Habitat.

"It feels so good knowing that we will have a place to call our own," she said. "No more having to put up with substandard housing."

Margaret gratefully acknowledges the assistance she has received from her church, the Oak Park Church of the Brethren. Not only did they assist her in applying to Habitat, but they have also made a financial contribution towards the work on her house, and several members volunteered at the Habitat worksite.

Kathy Menker, friend and one of Margaret's pastors said, "Our entire church body has been supportive of Margaret's efforts to partner with Habitat, and we are extremely excited for Margaret and her family in what she has accomplished through and with Habitat. We know this will make an improvement in their home life."

Kinch also speaks with pride when recalling her daughter Priscilla's efforts to contribute hours towards the sweat equity.

"She has done everything from baby-sit for other Habitat partner families (so they could work on their houses) to hanging drywall and painting."

"Because of the Kinch family's hard work in addition to the hours donated by the members of Oak Park Church of the Brethren, the sweat equity requirement for the Kinch family has already been fulfilled, and their own house hasn't even been started yet," said Jeanne Blasher, executive director of GCHFH. "It is our goal to have the family in their new home by November."

Due to the wet weather this spring and summer, not all the work planned by Habitat for 2003 was completed. Persons interested in helping to complete this and two other Habitat homes this fall may contact the office at 301-533-0600.

Lakes of Garrett County

Did you know that there are 15 Lakes in Garrett County?

The Republican will be printing each week, for 15 weeks, a complete description of each one of these lakes – location, management, facilities, how to get there, what to do, fees, etc.

Jack Slocomb, retired Industrial Forester from Grantsville, is the author.

Watch for your favorite Lake each week.

Most people don't realize that there are 15 lakes in Garrett County. For the next several months, The Republican will provide information about each of those lakes in this column.

The author of the articles is Jack Slocomb, a retired industrial forester who resides in the Goodwill Village in Grantsville with his wife Evelyn. Originally from Cape Cod, Slocomb holds a master's degree in forestry from Yale University.

LAKE LOUISE

Location: The lake is located on the west side of Negro mountain between U.S. Rt. 40 on the north and Interstate 68 on the south, about one mile east of Keyser's Ridge.

Description: This triangular-shaped, serene highland lake, measuring just under ½ mile long and 200 to 300 yards wide, is surrounded by 700 acres of woodlands. It features pond lilies, birds, and fish, and looks as though it has been there forever. Actually, it is behind a dam at the head of Puzzley Run.

While the lake is ideal for people who enjoy canoeing, swimming, fishing, and birding in peace and quiet, it is privately owned, as are the surrounding woodlands. It is not open to the public, and the owners ask the public to respect their privacy.

Hopefest Slated To Benefit The House Of Hope

The seventh annual Autumn Hopefest benefiting the House of Hope has been scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 8 from 7 to 11 p.m. Once again this event, billed as "an evening of fun and frolic," will be held in the Sitzmark Room at Will O' the Wisp.

The evening will feature a full dinner buffet from The Four Seasons Restaurant at Will O' the Wisp plus dancing to the sounds of DJ Jonny Rock. Price of admission also includes beer, wine, and soft drinks. A cash bar will also be available.

This year's event is special because it marks the 25th year of service for the House of Hope in Garrett County. Begun in 1978 by members of the community and various religious organizations, the goal of the House of Hope was and remains to give a helping hand to their brothers and sisters in need.

The House of Hope is not an agency but rather a network of concerned people. Limited to hort-term emergency situations, the House of Hope neither solicits nor accepts government funding, but relies solely on donations. It is this very fact, however, that allows the House of Hope to be free of strict and regimented rules.

With a core of volunteers and two directors, the House of Hope provides services not available elsewhere in the community. The House of Hope maintains three fully stocked food pantries in Garrett County, can provide emergency fuel and utility assistance, and can provide assistance to those persons or families displaced because of natural disasters, abuse, court eviction, relocation, transient homelessness, or financial emergency. The administrators at the House of Hope also work as advocates, helping their clients contact the right agencies and resources to help them in their time of need.

Coordinators have arranged a variety of fun events for this year's Hopefest including door prizes and local guest bartenders. The popular Silent and Chinese auctions will be repeated this year.

"The Hopefest has become a very popular event," says fund-raising committee chairperson Carol Smith, "and we appreciate the support of our local community. In fact, the past two years have been sell outs so be sure to get your tickets early."

Admission to the event is $35.25 per person. Guests purchasing 10 tickets may reserve a table ahead of time. Due to limited seating, tickets will be sold by advance purchase only and are available at Just Us Styling & Tanning Salon and Animal Crackers Pet Grooming in Accident, Will O' the Wisp and Kathy's Furniture at Deep Creek Lake, or by mail by calling 301-387-7124.

Other events scheduled to celebrate 25 years of the House of Hope include the 25th annual Food Drive, to be held once again in downtown Oakland on Saturday, Dec. 20. For 25 years the community has come together at Christmas time with non-perishable food items and cash donations to help the House of Hope help others. Everything collected stays within the county and radio station WKHJ will be on hand for a live remote broadcast.

For more information about the House of Hope or to volunteer or donate to this organization, persons may call 301-334-2357.

Cancer Survivor Set To Speak At NHS And SHS

Nationally known oral cancer survivor Rick Bender, also known as "the man without a face" is scheduled to visit Southern and Northern high schools on Monday, Oct. 13 to talk about the dangers of spit tobacco.

Bender with only half a jaw, a third of his tongue, and partial use of his arm, uses his appearance to deter audiences from using tobacco. Bender is a National Advisory Board member of Oral Health America's National Spit Tobacco Education Program and has worked with the Surgeon General's Office, the National Cancer Institute, and Major League Baseball.

Bender was diagnosed with oral cancer at age 26 in March 1989. After undergoing four rigorous surgeries, Bender's neck and face were left disfigured and doctors only gave him two years to live. Since his last operation, Bender's life work has been to educate others about the dangers of smokeless tobacco. He travels through the country sharing his anti-spit tobacco message.

This is Bender's second visit to western Maryland.

He will speak at Southern from 8:45 to 9:30 a.m., and at Northern from 10 to 10:45 a.m.

Miss Tasker, Mr. Nutter Exchange Wedding Vows In August Ceremony

Kristy Michelle Tasker and Eric William Nutter were married on Aug. 16, 2003, at Grace Chapel, Kingwood, W.Va., with Pastor Samuel Moon officiating.

The bride is the daughter of James (Monk) and Kathy Tasker of Terra Alta, W.Va. She is a 1995 graduate of Preston High School and received a business management degree from Garrett Community College. She is currently an administrative assistant at Mylan Pharmaceuticals.

The bridegroom is a son of Elaine Nutter, Jane Lew, W.Va., and the late Michael Nutter. He is a 1998 graduate of South Harrison High School and received a bachelor's degree in advertising from West Virginia University in 2002. He is a marketing and public relations representative at First United Bank in Oakland. He is also vice president of WebMasters Inc. of Clarksburg, W.Va.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a Mon Cheri dulciana white satin and embroidered organza gown. It had a fitted beaded bodice with spaghetti straps and skirt insert with embroidery and hand pattern beading. An asymmetrical gather with tucks and a beaded appliqué accented the waistline. The full skirt and chapel length train were accented by embroidery and beading. She wore a pearl and rhinestone headpiece and a fingertip-length veil.

Maid of honor was Amy DeWitt of Oakland. Bridesmaids were Tina Sapp of Fairmont, W.Va., friend of the bride; Brittany Nutter of Jane Lew, sister of the groom; and Ashley Hardesty of Terra Alta, friend of the bride. Flower girl was Kayla Ringer of Terra Alta, cousin of the bride.

Best man was Stephen Cuppett of Raleigh, NC. Groomsmen were Calvin Castillo of Jane Lew, friend of the groom; Ryan Allen of Phoenix, Ariz., friend of the groom; and A.J. Tasker of Terra Alta, brother of the bride. Ring bearer was Brandon Ringer, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held at the Community Building in Kingwood. Following a wedding trip to Riviera Maya, Mexico, the couple lives in Morgantown.

Marriage Permits Recently Issued

Four couples recently applied for their marriage licenses, according to David Martin, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court.

Jason Troy McCumber, 24, Sykesville, and Alea Leeann Burger, 27, Hagerstown.

Jonathan Lynn Martin, 21, Springs, Pa., and Miranda Jean Rounds, 20, Accident.

Robert James Pasquali, 59, and Arlene Marie Drago, 51, both of Kenilworth, N.J.

Michael Scott Hart, 41, and Tina Marie Winebrenner, 31, both of Swanton.

Special Events

A son was born September 9 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital to Lash Jr. and Tereka Tasker Lloyd, Oakland.

The Inn at Point View

THE INN AT POINT VIEW

"It's been a great first year," said Kevin Potter, the new co-owner and general manager of the Inn at Point View. This past Mother's Day, Potter and Sam VanSickle began the transition of ownership and operation of the Point View Inn.

"Despite the inclement weather this summer, people have been very supportive of our intent to keep Point View as a viable restaurant, hotel, and tavern on the lake," he said. "I really want to thank the people of Garrett County for giving us a chance.

"We are enjoying a steady increase of patrons to the restaurant and the word is getting out. Guests repeatedly tell us how great the food is, how friendly the staff is, and or course, how much they enjoy the best view on the lake."

Potter added that he thinks the staff makes the difference. Some staff members like Ruby Margroff, Sue Savage, and Brenda Glover have worked there for several decades.

"All the employees share one common goal – to be part of truly dedicated team, committed to honoring the prominent values of Garrett County like hard work, friendliness, and integrity," Potter said.

"Inheriting and maintaining a tradition that dates to 1938 isn't an easy proposition, especially when you are the 'new guys on the block,'" he added. "You expect a few bumps along the way, but Sam and I are dedicated to taking the best the Inn has to offer and continuing to build a bright, exciting future upon a fine Garrett County tradition."

This fall, the Inn features a variety of specials throughout the week. On Sundays, it showcases its popular Sunday Brunch from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Other specials include Senior Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m., crab cake dinner night on Monday, Two for Tuesday, and prime rib night on Wednesday.

Thursdays have added a new twist to the menu with the Endless Pasta Bowl, where guests can choose from seven different pasta dishes. The all-you-can-eat seafood buffet is held on Friday nights. Additionally, the Inn serves its regular menu each night and rewards its early diners (3 to 5 p.m.) with a 15% discount off regular menu prices.

During the Autumn Glory weekend, the Inn will feature its traditional turkey dinners, and will honor Oktoberfest by creating authentic German entrees every Saturday night.

The Inn is open for breakfast, lunch, and dinner every day of the week. The Boardwalk Bar and Fireplace is also open.

The Inn also has started a new tradition with Deep Creek Catering, which handles private functions in its Overlook Room or at the client's house or business.

Lastly, the Inn accommodates overnight guests in its selection of lakeside rooms and efficiencies. Persons may call managers Sandi Flockhart or Donna Durst at 301-387-5555 for more information.

The Arts

Alex Hill In D&E Play: Red Herring

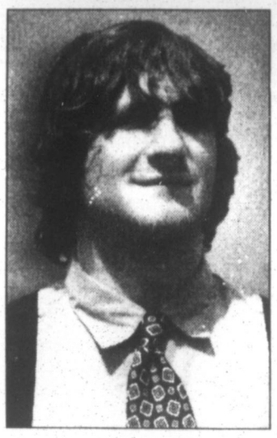
Alex Hill, a graduate of Southern High School and a senior at Davis & Elkins (W.Va.) College, is part of an ensemble group of actors presenting the Michael Hollinger play Red Herring. The show will be given on Oct. 9-11 and 16-18 at the Boiler House Theatre at the college, beginning at 8 p.m. each evening.



ALEX HILL

The black comedy involves three love stories, a murder mystery, and a nuclear espionage plot.

"It's 1952: America is on the verge of the H-bomb, Dwight Eisenhower's on the campaign trail, and I Love Lucy is on Monday night," a spokesperson said. "Meanwhile, Senator Joe McCarthy's daughter just got engaged to a Soviet spy, and Boston detective Maggie Pelletier has to find out who dumped the dead guy in the harbor — or else lose out on a honeymoon in Havana. A blunt-nosed, sharp-eyed look at love and tying (and untying and retying) the knot."

Parental discretion is advised, as the play contains some adult themes, the spokesperson said. Tickets are $7 for general admission and $5 for children, seniors, and alumni. For more information, persons may call the box office at 304-637-1212.

The local actor will be playing the role of "Andrei," as well as the parts of "Woody" and "Major Hartwell." He is the son of Richard and Melodee Hill, Oakland.

OTT Offering AGF Coffee House For Teens

Our Town Theatre (OTT) will host a Teen Coffee House on Thursday, Oct. 9, from 8 to 11 p.m.

"OTT will provide an energetic, safe place for teens to hang out while their folks are at the Oktoberfest Celebration at the Oakland fire hall," said Jane Avery, artistic director of OTT.

Music, games, and dramatic activities will be featured, and refreshments will be sold. There will be a $2 cover charge. Teens are encouraged to bring their favorite CDs.

"MR. SQUEEZE" TO PLAY AT OKTOBERFEST – Noted accordion player Joe Fertitta, will be adding his accordion music to the mix at the Autumn Glory Oktoberfest celebration at the Oakland fire hall the evening of Thursday, Oct. 9, prior to the start of the Oom-pah band concert. The founder of the Maryland Accordion Club and a part-time Deep Creek Lake area resident, Fertitta will be available at the event to speak to anyone interested in learning more about the instrument, sometimes affectionately referred to as the "squeeze-box."

Line Dancers Slate Exhibition During Autumn Glory Fest

The Country Plus Line Dancers will present a line dance exhibition prior to the Autumn Glory Grand Feature Parade in Oakland. The dancers will perform on the stage at the Oakland Train Station on Saturday, Oct. 11, from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The group will be led by Stan Whiteman of Lonaconing.

The group meets at the Oakland Elks Lodge on Tuesday nights at 6:30 p.m., and welcomes those interested in learning to line dance. For more information, persons may e-mail mountainkat_79@hotmail.com.

Capitol Quartet To Perform With Community Band

Garrett Lakes Arts Festival will present the Capitol Quartet with the Garrett Community Concert Band on Saturday, Oct. 18, in the Garrett College auditorium at 8 p.m. The Capitol Quartet is widely considered one of the most exciting ensembles performing today.

Comprised of saxophonists formerly of the premiere military bands of the United States of America and from teaching faculty from leading schools of music throughout the country, the Capitol Quartet was recently hailed by American Record Guide as an ensemble that plays "with luscious color and uninhibited verve."

Since its formation in 1991, the Capitol Quartet has performed regularly at major concert venues throughout the mid-Atlantic region, earning wide acclaim for the ensemble's musical versatility and innovative style. The Capitol Quartet opened the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra's 1999-2000 concert season under the direction of famed American composer/conductor Marvin Hamlisch and was also featured in a specially televised live Independence Day concert with the Baltimore Symphony in 1999.

The Capitol Quartet has also recently performed with the Cincinnati Pops, Rochester Philharmonic, Butler, Loudoun, Williamsport, and Grand Rapids Symphonies, as well as at the Strathmore Hall concert series (Bethesda, Maryland).

In 1994, the Capitol Quartet won the prestigious Baltimore Chamber Music Awards Competition, and in 1997 released its debut recording titled American Sketches on the Klavier Records International label. Acclaimed by the Baltimore Sun as "a tour de force," and by American Record Guide as a "delectable release," the recording features original works by leading American composers and showcases the range of influences on the saxophone throughout the twentieth century.

For its GLAF performance, the Capitol Quartet will be performing a portion of the concert with the Garrett Community Concert band under the direction of Jerry McGee. Tickets for the performance are $12/Adult, $5/Youth, $5/Garrett College students and can be reserved by contacting Garrett Lakes Arts Festival at 301-387-3082.

Season sponsors are Coldwell Banker Deep Creek Realty, Deep Creek Mountain Resort, and the Sprenger-Lang Foundation. Event sponsor for the Capitol Quartet is Railey Mountain Lake Vacations.

GLAF is funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland States Art Council.

ELVIS WILL BE SPOTTED – Elvis impersonators have one more opportunity to prove that they should be the winner of the Brothers and Sons of Elvis Award. On Saturday, Oct. 4, Westmar Tours acting troupe will perform the comic murder mystery, "A Whole Lotta' Shootin' Goin' On," on the Western Maryland Scenic Railroad. The show, written and directed by JoAnn Fletcher, contains 84 songs or movie titles made famous by the "King of Rock and Roll." Prizes will be awarded to those who unveil the Hound Dog who did the dirty deed and to the person with the most titles. Making his first appearance with the murder mystery group is Matt Eary of Grantsville. Persons may reserve a seat for "The Monster Bash" or "The Crowning of Miss Transylvania," to be performed by Westmar Tours acting troupe on Friday, Oct. 31. For information about upcoming murder mysteries, persons may call the Western Md. Scenic Railroad at 301-759-4400 or 1-800-TRAIN-50 or visit their web site at www.wmsr.com. Pictured above are three Elvis impersonators. They are, left to right, Karl Glocker, Danny Durr, and Art Spataro.

AN EVENING OF MUSIC SLATED – Zion Lutheran Church, 209 North Main Street, Accident, will host an Evening of Music on Sunday, Oct. 12 at 7:30 p.m. This is the final event in the congregation's yearlong "100 Years on Main Street" celebration, marking the centennial of the dedication of the present church building. The musical program will feature the Seneca String Quartet, pictured above, from Morgantown, W.Va. Standing left to right are Mary Wilson, Violin I, and Arlene Bennett, Viola. Seated are Sara Beattie Cello, and Anna Karsten, Violin II. The Quartet will perform works based on hymn tunes, as well as classic favorites by Bach, Handel, Beethoven, Pachelbel, and Vivaldi. Also included in the program will be hymns and organ music played on Zion's Moeller pipe organ by the congregation's organist, Lynette Karsten. The event is free and open to the public.

MD Official Banjo Championship To Add Mandolins

This year's Official Maryland State Banjo, Fiddle, and Mandolin Championships will offer entertainment and some fantastic changes. Slated to be held at the Southern Garrett County High School Gymnasium as part of the 36th annual Autumn Glory Festival, the championships will be packed with fun for the whole family as competitors of all ages from a five-state area will vie to win cash prizes during all three contests.

On Friday, Oct. 10, at 7 p.m., the 35th annual Banjo Championship will open with well-known bluegrass and country music performers, Ronnie Reno and the Reno Tradition.

On Saturday, Oct. 11, at 7 p.m., the Fiddle Championship will continue in its 36th year; this season, a great new Mandolin Contest will also be added to the evening's "good time" events.

Doors open at 6 p.m. both evenings. Food and beverages will be available for purchase.

Tickets will be sold in advance through Thursday, Oct. 9 at Gregg's and Proudfoot's pharmacies in Oakland, Dollar Duz It in Swanton, Beachy's Pharmacy in Grantsville, Deep Creek Lake Pharmacy, Arrowhead Market, Deep Creek Foodland Fresh, and Friendsville Pharmacy. Advanced tickets cost $12 for adults. Tickets purchased at the door will cost $15 for adults; children under 12 will be admitted free of charge.

The Banjo, Fiddle, and Mandolin Championships are presented by the Dove Center and are sponsored by M&T Bank.

For more information regarding attendance or participation, persons may call 301-616-3003.

Smith and Roberts

Buffalo Run

THE RE-RELEASE OF BUFFALO RUN signals the reunion of popular local folk duo Smith and Roberts, and proceeds of CD sales in part benefit the Garrett County Arts Council. The 1980 recording features all original songs by Rob Smith and Keith Roberts including "Garrett County Time," "Appalachian Love Song," and "Papa's Bones," along with cover art by Jill Roberts. The CD is available at the GCAC's Alder Street gallery in downtown Oakland. Now a five-piece, the Smith and Roberts band is planning to record and release a new CD of original songs this winter.

OTT Announces Auditions For Evening With . . .

Our Town Theatre will hold auditions for its production of An Evening With Mr. Shakespeare on Sunday, Oct. 5, from 2 until 5 p.m., and Monday, Oct. 6, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the theatre in Oakland.

According to director Jane Avery, the production, which is scheduled for the third week of November, consists of different monologues and scenes from Shakespeare's writings, as well as skits, narrations, and explanations about the various choices from the histories, comedies, and tragedies by the famous playwright.

"Experience in Shakespearean acting is not necessary," noted Avery. "Our performance will include a variety of directing and speaking styles, which will demonstrate the universality of the writer."

Questions should be directed to Avery at 301-334-5640, option 3.

REL Book Club To Discuss Woman's Triumph Of Spirit

The Ruth Enlow Library Book Club will meet for an open discussion of Elizabeth Cohen's best-selling work of non-fiction, The House on Beartown Road: A Memoir of Learning and Forgetting, on Monday, Oct. 27, at 6:30 p.m. at the Oakland library. A gentle tale of a woman caring for both her infant daughter and her father, who is afflicted with Alzheimer's, the book has received the highest five-star rating in each of its reader reviews posted on Amazon.com.

"In this beautiful book, Elizabeth Cohen gives us a true and moving portrait of the love and courage of a family," the publisher's description states. "Elizabeth, a member of the 'sandwich generation' — people caught in the middle, simultaneously caring for their children and for their aging parents — is the mother of Ava and the daughter of Daddy, and responsible for both.

"Hers is the story of a woman's struggle to keep her family whole, to raise her child in a house of laughter and love, and to keep her father from hiding the house keys in his slippers. In this story full of everyday triumphs, first steps, and elderly confusion, Ava, a baby, finds each new picture, each new word, each new song, something to learn greedily, joyfully. Daddy is a man in his twilight years for whom time moves slowly and lessons are not learned but quietly, frustratingly forgotten.

"Elizabeth, a suddenly single mother with a career and a mortgage and a hamper of laundry, finds her world spiraling out of control yet full of beauty. Faced with mounting disasters, she chooses to confront life head-on.

"Written in wonderful prose and imbued with an unquenchable spirit, The House on Beartown Road takes us on a journey through the remarkable landscape that is family."

Upcoming REL Book Club selections include The Buffalo Soldier by Chris Bohjalian for November, and The Secret Life of Bees by Sue Monk Kidd for January. The book club will not meet during December.

Persons may visit or call the Oakland library at 301-334-3996 to reserve a copy of any of those books. The library also offers book clubs for students age 6 and older. Further information is available on the library Web site at www.relib.net.

All book clubs are funded in part by the Friends of the Ruth Enlow Library.

Camera Class To Focus On Digital Aspect

The Garrett County Arts Council will present a three-session workshop on digital camera composition techniques on Oct. 24 from 6-9 p.m., Oct. 25 from 1-4 p.m., and Oct. 27 from 7-9 p.m. The first and concluding sessions will be held at the Gallery along Alder Street in Oakland, with the second session to be conducted outdoors at a nearby park to be chosen by workshop participants. The instructor will be James Bowser.

This workshop is designed for participants with digital cameras and basic knowledge of camera composition. The first session will consist of a discussion of composition techniques, including tips for capturing effective images and exercising creative photographic control.

Participants will then engage in an afternoon exploration of collaborative hands-on shooting, after which the instructor will collect the memory cards of participants to prepare for the final session. The workshop will conclude with a two-hour critique on the photographs taken during the field session with the instructor and participants sharing "blind" evaluations of image composition.

James Bowser is a local photographer whose work has appeared in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and various publications of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, including the annual Vacation Guide. He recently designed and produced a new rack card promoting Alder Street businesses in Oakland, and his work has been used in advertisements for the Wisp Resort and Coldwell Banker. He exhibits extensively at regional art and craft shows and maintains his own web site at www.RisingTwilight.com.

Additional information and enrollment forms are available at the Gallery along Alder Street in Oakland or by calling the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-334-6580.

"Color Your World" With Odette Lueck

The Garrett County Arts Council will present a two-session workshop with a professional interior designer on effective use of color and texture on Oct. 21 through 23 from 7-9 p.m. in the meeting room of Perkins Restaurant, McHenry. The focus of the workshop will be the enhancement of home and office environments, and the instructor will be Odette Lueck, FASID.

The first two-hour session of Lueck's workshop, titled "Color Your World," will include color basics as they relate to the color wheel, types of color schemes and how colors affect each other, how texture affects color, color marketing strategies, and other issues pertaining to color and texture. The second session will consist of group problem solving with participants sharing personal decorating problems and addressing individual concerns pertaining to color issues and effective use of fabrics and textures.

The instructor is owner and senior designer of Odette Lueck Interiors. Her professional experience as a licensed interior designer includes consultation on residential and commercial projects in Maryland, Virginia, the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Nevada, Maine, Alaska, and the Caribbean. Her work has been featured in The Washington Post, The Baltimore Sun, Metropolitan Home, and other popular and professional publications.

Lueck has received numerous awards and citations for design activities and professional accomplishments. She currently serves on the board of directors of the Garrett County Arts Council as vice president.

Additional information and enrollment forms are available at the Gallery along Alder Street in Oakland or by calling the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-334-6580.

Hand Crafts, Gifts To Be Displayed During AG Festival

Numerous Garrett County artisans and artists will be opening their shops and demonstrating their crafts during the 36th annual Autumn Glory Festival, Oct. 8-12.

The Mt. Arts Cooperative will present the Appalachian Artisan Show and Sale showcasing a sampling of the region's best traditional and contemporary artisans. Items available for sale will include stained glass, folk art, wool products, wooden Amish and rustic furniture, baskets, pottery, soap, herbal items, and graphic design pieces. OTT TO HONOR TEACHERS WITH SPECIAL EVENT – Hello, Miss Stepanovich: Letters to Teachers Who Made a Difference will be presented at Our Town Theatre on Friday, Oct. 3, at 7 p.m. The show is a companion piece to OTT's previous program titled The Goodbye Kids, which explored the difficulties and heartache experienced by youngsters during their high school years. Friday's presentation will celebrate the profession of teaching through seven letters to fictitious teachers from former students. The letters express the young people's appreciation to special teachers who made a positive difference in their lives. Admission to the program is free, although donations are always appreciated, noted Jane Avery, director. "Through this program we hope to boost the morale of our local teachers, and create awareness within the non-teaching public about the profession of teaching," Avery said. The performers are pictured above. In the front, from left, are Erin White, Liz Rees Gilbert, and John Armstrong. In the back, same order, are Don Sincell, Richard Stevens, and Tiddle Wheeler. Not present for the photo was Carol Peracchio. For more information, persons may call the theatre at 301-334-5640.

Ram Rally Against Campers Falls Short; Jacovino Rolls

Containing senior fullback Curt Jacovino is one of the primary keys to defeating the Allegany Campers, and it is precisely what the Southern High Rams were unable to do last Friday night at Greenway Avenue Stadium in Cumberland, where the Rams went down to a 26-14 defeat. It was the third loss in four starts for the SHS varsity.

Jacovino amassed 140 yards of rushing en route to all four of the Campers' touchdowns. He scored on runs of two, one, 43, and 22 yards, and also gained 33 more yards on two pass receptions.

The Campers' first touchdown was set up by Bryan Hansel, who picked off a deflected pass by Cory Bosey at the Rams' 42 and returning the ball to the 16. Five plays later, Jacovino scored on a two-yard carry with 5:55 to play in the first quarter. Phill Frazier booted the extra point.

Allegany scored again on its next possession, marching 80 yards on 17 plays. Jacovino crashed over the goal line on a third-and-one play for his second touchdown, and Frazier again tacked on the extra point, giving the Campers a 14-0 lead with 7:02 left in the first half.

The Ram offense responded quickly, needing only three plays to score a touchdown, as sophomore fullback Andrew VanBogelen broke several tackles and raced 58 yards to the end zone. The run for the two-point conversion was stopped short, leaving Alco with a 14-6 lead with 5:24 left in the second quarter.

Allegany came close to scoring again before halftime, driving to the Southern 11, but that's where Jacovino fumbled the ball away with 35 seconds remaining.

The Campers came back after halftime and picked up where they left off, driving 71 yards on their first possession for a score. After a 30-yard pass completion put the ball at the Ram 43, Jacovino ran the rest of the way on the next play. Frazier's conversion kick was blocked, and Allegany held what seemed like a comfortable 20-6 lead at the 10:39 mark of the third quarter.

The Rams did not quit, however, and actually positioned themselves for an opportunity to win the game in the fourth quarter.

Bosley engineered a 17-play, 80-yard drive for a touchdown, scored by Brett DeWitt on a two-yard run, and also carried the ball for the successful two-point conversion, closing the Campers' lead to just six points, 20-14, with 3:50 remaining in the game.

The Rams followed with an on-side kick, but the ball was recovered by Alco's Hansel at the Camper 48.

Coach Fred Gregg and company still did not throw in the towel, and forced the Campers to turn the ball over on downs after they were able to run only 47 seconds off the clock. The Rams took over possession on their own 27 with 3:03 remaining on the clock.

After a five-yard gain by DeWitt, Bosley was sacked for a 16-yard loss. Karl Hillen then hauled in a 14-yard aerial from Bosley, but an incompleted pass on fourth down and seven ended the Rams' rally.

Allegany took over on the Ram 30, and a couple plays later, Jacovino sealed Southern's fate with a 22-yard touchdown run with just 1:18 remaining. Frazier's kick was no good.

VanBogelen led the Rams' rushing attack with 116 yards on 18 carries, while DeWitt finished with 64 yards on 14 attempts. Brad Reese had four completions for 35 yards, as Bosley was 5-for-7 in passing with one interception.

Pacing the Alco defense was linebacker Jesse Ritter, who recorded 16 tackles.

"It's very disappointing when you are in a position to pull out a win and then can't quite do it," Coach Gregg said. "We were happy with our kids' effort, but we were disappointed with our execution, particularly on defense. We played very hard, but we didn't play very smart. It's only when you combine the two that you achieve success.

"We felt we went into the game with a solid game plan, and Allegany didn't do anything that we weren't expecting," he continued. "We just didn't defend our plan well enough.

"It really eats at you when you get that close to defeating a Cumberland team on their own turf, but then fall short."

For the fourth time in five starts, the Rams will be on the road again this Friday, and the caliber of their opponent, Moorefield, is outstanding.

The Yellow Jackets are the defending West Virginia runner-up champions in their division, they are currently sporting a 4-1 record, and Coach Fiddler believes that this may be the best team he has ever coached. Moorefield has several state-title trophies in its display case already, and is expected to be right back in the championship contest again this year.

Moorefield's only loss this season was to an excellent Frankfort at the beginning of the season.

"We watched that game (with Frankfort), and it was one of the best high school games I've ever seen," Gregg said.

The Jackets' wing-T, multiple-formation offense is led by three outstanding players in senior quarterback Tyler Sherman (6-2, 185), senior tailback Eddie Mongold (5-10, 165), junior fullback Reed Williams (6-2, 236), and senior Virginia transfer Andy Viola (6-0, 235).

"Sherman is a very good quarterback, and they run lots of things out of their wing-T," Gregg said. "Mongold can absolutely fly; he's even faster than Mahlon Harper of Beall, which is saying something. Williams is a big, strong guy who is really tough to tackle, and Viola is an outstanding athlete.

"They also have some very big people up front blocking for them," he said. "Their interior linemen go 260, 270, and 250 pounds, meaning we are giving up a lot size-wise."

The Moorefield 4-4 defense is led by Viola and Williams at the inside linebacker positions.

"They move around a lot, often going to a 6-2, and they really like to pound you," Gregg said.

"They have it all," he said. "They are the complete team package."

Gregg is nowhere close to conceding to the Jackets, however. "We played them very tough here last year, despite having a difficult season overall," he said. "If we can maintain the level of play we demonstrated last Friday at Allegany, and increase how smart we play, we will certainly have a chance."

Gregg said that his team is generally healthy, with the only players definitely still sidelined for at least one more week being Chad Everd and Nick Gregg.

Following their fourth road game in five starts, the Rams will enjoy homefield advantage for their next four consecutive contests, and then travel just across the county to face Northern in the regular-season closer.

"It's been a tough five weeks, and it will be great to be home, or close to home, for the second half of our season," Gregg said.

Keyser Dehorns Rams In CAYFL Divisional Play

Oakland took it on the chin Sunday in Keyser as both Cumberland Area Youth Football League Ram teams fell to the host Steelers. The Rams' Division I squad dropped a 26-6 contest, while the Division II unit finished on the short end of a 33-0 shutout.

Keyser's Jeremy Green scored on runs of 25, 67, and 53 yards as he rolled up a total of 134 yards on just six carries. Scotty Smith put the other Steeler touchdown on the board when he snagged a 10-yard scoring pass from Preston Hartman.

Oakland finally got on the board in the final quarter as Corey Lipscomb scampered 40 yards for a touchdown. Ram quarterback Jason Ashby went 6-for-12 in the air for 70 yards of passing offense. Matt White and Sam Bowman turned in some strong defensive play.

The Rams were stung in the second game by four Keyser touchdown runs of 1, 15, 1, and 7 yards, and a 56-yard TD tally Tyler Fraley to Brandon Harr. Fraley, Matt Wilmer, Lucky Arnold, and Jarral Ross notched the Steeler scoring rushes.

Oakland's Ryan Sweitzer was recognized for his efforts on defense.

The Rams are slated to host Ridgeley Sunday at Southern High School.

Northern Still Perfect After Caging Lions

The Northern Maddawgs Pee Wee Football League A&B squad continued its perfect string Saturday by taming the Lions Saturday 33-12.

Northern's B team took the field first and scored three unanswered touchdowns to stake the visitors to a 20-0 first-quarter lead. Kameron Kamp reeled off a 19-yard touchdown run, and Matt Thomas bulldozed in for the extra point. Quarterback Josh Mason followed with a 20-yard scoring scamper, then Kamp added another score when he dove in from four yards out. Mason threw to Kamp for the extra point to close the first stanza flurry.

The Maddawgs' A team kept the momentum going when Alex Baker scooted up the middle on a 28-yard touchdown run. LaVale finally broke into the scoring column late in the first half, leaving Northern with a 26-6 lead to carry into the intermission.

As the third quarter got under way, Northern's B team needed only three plays to score the Maddawgs' fourth touchdown when Cody Rodeheaver broke through the middle of the Lions' line and rumbled 70 yards into the end zone. Thomas rushed for the extra point.

Northern switched backfields for the rest of the contest, and although the subs turned in a fine performance, the 'Dawgs were not able to add any more points. The visitors' tenacious defensive unit continued to dominate throughout the final quarter, but just as the clock expired LaVale scored on a touchdown run to make the final tally 33-12.

Northern's C team was tripped up by the Lions in a 20-6 defeat.

The Maddawgs will close their regular season at home Saturday against the Ridgeley Hawks as they set their sights on a perfect campaign. Player recognition ceremonies will get under way at 8:30 a.m. on the Northern High School gridiron, and kickoff is slated for 9:30 a.m. There is no admission charge for spectators.

Huskies Celebrate Homecoming With 19-0 Win Over Turkeyfoot

The Northern High School Huskies varsity football team crowned the school's Homecoming festivities with a 19-0 win over the visiting Turkeyfoot Rams Friday night at the Cove. The shutout was NHS's first triumph of the season in four attempts.

The romp was sparked by a stellar 209-yard rushing performance by Northern's Michael Wolf, who was keyed by some fine blocking across the front line. "We ran our 'quick hitter' power plays really well all night long," NHS head coach Phil Carr commented. "We knew that's what we had to do, because Turkeyfoot had us outsized by an average of 30 to 40 pounds. We used our quickness to split the gaps and open holes for our running game, and we got some especially good blocks from Dan Ellis on the line and split end Rocco Andres on the corner and downfield."

In scoring each of Northern's three touchdowns, Wolf averaged nearly 10 yards a carry and accounted for more than double Turkeyfoot's entire rushing tally. His first TD came on a 21-yard run at the 5:34 mark of the second quarter. Up until that point the game was a defensive struggle, and even after the initial touchdown it looked like that scenario would continue to play out.

Northern turned the tide, however, with what Carr termed as a "backbreaking" NHS scoring play. The Huskies, who had taken possession of the ball with just over a minute to play in the half, decided (logically) to play it safe on fourth-and-eight with seven seconds remaining and run out the clock with a handoff to Wolf. Carr called for an off-tackle power play, and the blockers blasted open a hole that sprung Wolf into the Ram secondary, where he got a couple of more good blocks that freed him up for a 39-yard touchdown romp for the final play of the half. The unexpected scoring play put the Huskies up 12-0 going into the halftime locker room.

"It had been a real back-and-forth game up to that point, with both defenses hitting hard, and bending but not breaking," said Carr. "You could almost see the wind go out of Turkeyfoot's sails with that play, and it got us really fired up for the second half."

True to form, however, both defenses came out after the intermission to hammer away in a scoreless deadlock throughout the rest of the contest. Northern cracked the scoreboard again with 2:50 on the clock as Wolf carried the ball into the end zone from eight yards out. Steve Snyder added the point-after kick for the game's 19th and final point.

"As good as our offense was, I think it was the defense that made the difference," Carr commented. "We took advantage of our quickness by working some good stunts with our speed linemen, Ellis, Jared Beachy, Dustin Wiland, and Snyder. Wiland and

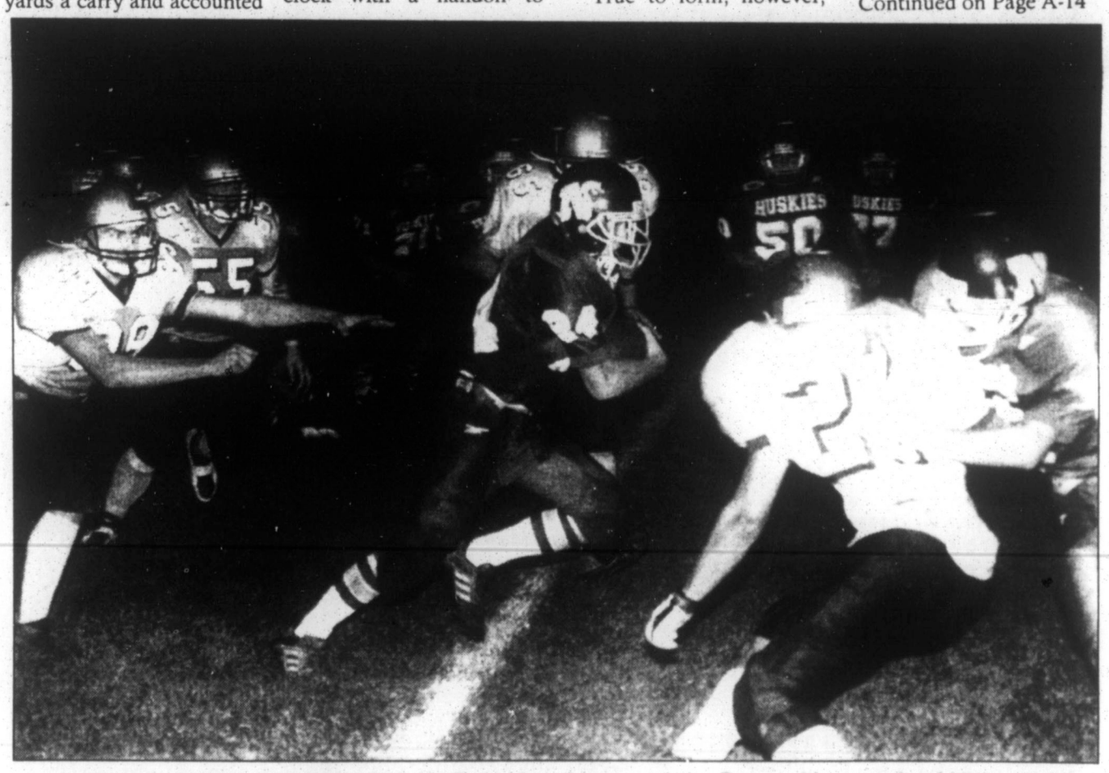
NHS HOMECOMING QUEEN CROWNED – The annual Northern High School Homecoming festivities took place last week, and the halftime ceremonies during Friday night's Husky-Turkeyfoot gridiron battle were capped with the crowning of senior Lauren Wiley as the 2003 NHS Homecoming Queen. Rounding out the Queen's court were King Rocco Andres, Princess Kimmy Beiler, and Prince Remington Friend. Wiley is shown being crowned by Northern principal Gary Reichenbacher. Photo by John McEwen.



SHOWN BLASTING THROUGH THE LINE on his way to the first touchdown of Friday night's homecoming contest with Turkeyfoot is Northern High runner Michael Wolf (#24), who rolled up 209 yards and three touchdowns to spark the Huskies to a 19-0 win. NHS's fine offensive effort was matched by a superb showing on defense, as the Huskies' "grave-diggers" hammered the Rams with some hard-hitting tackles. An example is pictured below, as Northern linebacker Tyler Warn (#35) and secondary defender Robert Stark (#7) prepare to plant a Turkeyfoot runner in the sod. NHS is slated to host Alco tonight in a 7 p.m. matchup. Photos by John McEwen.

Huskies Trailing Mountaineers, But Hand Campers 4-2 Defeat

The boys' soccer team of Northern High School took to the pitch twice this past week, with the outcome of the first match still undecided.

The Huskies hosted Beall in a Western Maryland Interscholastic League clash on Saturday and were trailing by a 2-0 score, but the match had to be halted at the 15:10 mark of the first half because of a thunderstorm. The contest will be resumed at 7 p.m. next Tuesday, Oct. 7, and no admission will be charged.

The Northern junior varsity was shut out in the preliminary match, 2-0.

The Huskies played another WMIL match at home on Tuesday and handed visiting Allegany a 4-2 defeat.

Chris Speicher wasted no time giving the Huskies the lead for good, as he scored off an assist by Preston Sisler just one minute into the match.

Sisler then doubled the Huskies' total with a goal off a direct kick at the 21:40 mark.

The Campers cut the lead in half when Brent Showalter took a feed from T.J. Gowans and scored with 14:51 remaining in the half. The score remained 2-1 into intermission.

Northern went on top 3-1 at the 23:26 mark of the second half when Scott Pusateri put the ball in the net off an assist by Sisler.

Shane Yoder concluded Northern's scoring for the evening when he recorded an unassisted goal with 20:15 remaining.

Allegany rallied for one goal with 16:35 left as Gowans scored off a feed by Dan Laird, but that was as close as the Campers would get.

The Huskies finished with a 24-13 advantage in shots and a 3-2 edge in corner kicks. Chris Fickes turned away 11 shots for Northern, while Shane McDade was credited with 16 shots for the Campers, who fell to 2-5 (1-2, WMIL).

The Huskies are slated to travel to Salisbury this evening for a 7 p.m. varsity match, and will play at Southern next Thursday.

Northern Girls Top Campers, Raiders; Fall To Fort Hill

Going 1-1 in Western Maryland Interscholastic League matches this past week were the members of the Northern High School girls' soccer team, as the Huskies dropped a 5-4 overtime heartbreaker to visiting Fort Hill last Thursday, but then bounced back to record a last-minute 1-0 defeat of Allegany on Saturday, also at Northern.

The Huskies then handed visiting Meyersdale a 2-0 defeat last night to up their overall record to 4-4.

It was in the final minute of overtime last Thursday that Fort Hill nipped the Huskies, as Lauren Ronan scored on a direct kick with just 47 seconds left.

During regulation play, it appeared that the Huskies had a victory all but sewn up, holding a 4-3 edge with three minutes to play. But Brittany Cessna scored an unassisted goal at the 2:55 mark to knot the score and send the match into overtime.

Cessna opened the scoring in regulation play with a goal off an assist by Anna Stair about eight minutes into the match (32:05).

Ronan gave the Sentinels a 2-0 lead with an unassisted goal at the 25:14 mark.

Karie Kamp cut Fort Hill's lead in half by scoring off a feed by Tiffany Yoder with 15:15 remaining in the half, and the score remained 2-1 through the rest of the half.

Yoder then gave the match its first tie at 2-2 with a goal off a direct kick just under three minutes into the second half.

Fort Hill regained the lead six minutes later when Megan Schiffour scored unassisted at the 31:05 mark.

Northern senior Lyndsi Butler tied the score at 3-3 eight minutes later off an assist by Laura Costa, and Yoder gave the Huskies their 4-3 lead with a goal off a direct kick with 11:40 to play in regulation.

Cessna's late goal tied the score once again at 4-4 and forced the overtime period.

The Huskies finished with a 15-8 lead in shots and a 3-2 edge in corner kicks.

Sarah Masters recorded four saves for the Huskies, while Sentinel keeper Whitney Marker was credited with six.

The victory improved Fort Hill's record to 3-3-1.

Saturday's win over Allegany was truly a last-minute effort, as the first 79½ minutes of the 80-minute match was a scoreless defensive struggle.

Then with just 30 ticks left on the clock, Karie Kamp took a feed from Lyndsi Butler and put the ball into the back of the net for the victory.

Bethani Gillum set up the play by feeding the ball to Butler, who then dropped it back to Kamp, who took the shot from about 16 yards out.

The Huskies out-shot the Campers by an 11-7 margin, and the match had but one corner kick, belonging to Northern.

Northern	0	1	-	1

Second Half

N - Karie Kamp assisted by Lyndsi Butler, 0:30.

Masters turned away three of Alco's shots, while the Allegany keeper made nine saves.

The loss dropped Allegany to 3-3-1, and 0-2-1 in the WMIL standings. The Huskies are now even at 2-2 in WMIL contests.

The first half of last night's match against Meyersdale ended in a scoreless tie, but Lyndsi Butler finally put the ball into the net at the 30:17 mark off an assist by Brittany Milbourne to give the Huskies a 1-0 lead.

Ultimately it would have been enough for the victory, as the Husky defense and with Masters in goal did not allow a Red Raider score; however, tacking on an insurance goal with 19:47 remaining was Tiffany Yoder, who scored off another feed by Milbourne.

Coach Lynn Lais and the Huskies will not play again until next Tuesday when they travel to Allegany for a 7 p.m. clash.

PSC Catamount Booters Drop A Pair Of Matches

The Potomac State College men's soccer team, coached by Oakland's Mel Menker, dropped two matches this past week, falling to Anne Arundel, 3-0, and Hagerstown CC, 3-0, despite leading both teams in shots and corner kicks.

The Catamounts outgunned Anne Arundel, 16-13, and in corner kicks, 5-1, but could not put the ball into the net.

Former Southern player Chris Menker had two saves in goal for PSC, while SHS grad Sean Buckle and Northern alum Shawn Fike also saw action.

Ben Friend, another SHS graduate, had four saves in the loss to Hagerstown, and Fike and Buckle also played.

The Catamounts finished the match with a 20-11 advantage in shots on goal and a 1-0 edge in corner kicks.

The match was scoreless at halftime.

The losses dropped PSC to 2-3. The Catamounts will play again today at home against Allegany College of Maryland, with the kickoff set for 4 p.m.

SHS Girls Keep Perfect Record, Rout Keyser, 6-0

Still on a roll this week are the members of the Southern High School girls' soccer team and their coach Ron Petrella, as the Rams shut out visiting Keyser last Thursday, 6-0, to record their seventh shut out in eight matches and up their record to 8-0.

Southern was scheduled to play at Westmar on Saturday, but that match had to be postponed because of foul weather.

Senior striker Sabrina Scheffel accounted for two of the Rams' six goals against Keyser, and also had an assist.

It took much of the first half for the Ram offense to get on track. Ashley Metcalfe finally broke the stalemate when she scored off Scheffel's assist with just 8:22 remaining in the first half.

Kendra McLaughlin then made it 2-0 about five minutes later (3:35) by scoring off a feed by Robbin Gregg.

Scheffel doubled the score again with successive goals in the second half, the first coming off an assist by Casey Taylor with 29:50 remaining, and the second being an unassisted goal with 11:55 on the clock.

Taylor then recorded a goal of her own off another feed by Gregg to give the Rams a commanding lead with just 6:11 left in the match.

Freshman Hannah Storey concluded the Rams' scoring with a goal off an assist by Melissa Ray at the 3:29 mark.

Southern dominated offensive play, finishing with a lopsided 29-3 advantage in shots on goal and a 10-1 lead in corner kicks.

Ram senior keeper Alasha Rush, who has allowed only one goal in eight starts, was credited with three saves, while Keyser's Beth Williams turned away 23 of the Rams' shots.

The loss dropped the Golden Tornadoes to 2-5-2.

The Rams are scheduled to play again next Tuesday in Cumberland. It will be a 4 p.m. clash with Bishop Walsh, the team that recorded the only goal against the Rams in a 2-1 overtime loss.

Southern will play a 4 p.m. match at home next Wednesday against Hollidaysburg, Pa.

It broke our hearts to lose you
But you did not go alone
A part of us went with you
The day God took you home.
To your grave we travel,
The flowers are placed with care,
But no one knows the heartache
As we turn and leave you there.
No farewells were spoken
No time to say goodbye
You were gone before we know it
And only God knows why.

Ram Booters Defeated By Sentinels, 3-0, Spartans, 4-1

Losses to Fort Hill and Bishop Walsh this week dropped the Southern High School boys' soccer team to 2-5.

The Rams were blanked 3-0 by the Sentinals in a Western Maryland Interscholastic League clash in Oakland last Thursday, and were handed a 4-1 defeat by visiting Bishop Walsh on Tuesday.

Brian Jeffries accounted for two goals for Fort Hill in Thursday's match, his first coming unassisted at the 26:08 mark of the first half.

Todd Mullaney made it a 2-0 halftime score with an unassisted goal with 13:11 left in the half.

Jeffries then tacked on an insurance goal off an assist by Zach Perry just over three minutes into the second half (36:55). The rest of the match was scoreless defense.

No other statistics about the match were reported.

The Rams were hammered by Bishop Walsh in the first half of Tuesday's match, as the 11-1 Spartans put all four of their goals on the board in the first half.

Alex Wilkinson drew first blood when he scored off an assist by Andrew Diamond at the 28:00 mark of the first half.

The same duo combined for another score just two minutes later, this time with Wilkinson feeding Diamond for the goal.

Ryan Villanueva made it 3-0 with a goal off a feed by Jordan Crabtree with about 23 minutes left in the half, and Crabtree added an unassisted goal at about the 14:00 mark.

The Rams were successful in holding the Spartans scoreless the entire second half, but a Goal by Ram Chucky Burton off an assist by Michael Edwards with about 13 minutes left in the match was all the offense Southern could muster.

The Rams were outgunned in shots on goal by a 24-11 margin and trained in corner kicks, 4-0.

Taylor Crabtree had 17 saves for Southern, while Cameron Sell was credited with six for BW.

The Rams will try to get back into the win column this afternoon when they travel to Hampshire for a 4 p.m. match. They will then face another tough test next Tuesday when they play at Beall, with that kickoff set for 7:30.

Steelers Flatten Frostburg In CAYFL Battles

Both Northern Steeler Cumberland Area Youth Football League squads took big wins Saturday over Frostburg, as the visiting Steelers mashed the Mounties 26-6 in Division I play, while the Division II Steelers ran roughshod over their hosts in a 38-0 runaway win.

Northern got four touchdowns, two each from Matt Mason and Andy Ganoe, in the Division I contest. Mason opened the scoring with a one-yard first-quarter plunge, then reeled off a 14-yard touchdown carry in the second stanza. Ganoe put the Steelers up by 18 before the half ended when he and quarterback Garrett Gulledge teamed up for a 29-yard scoring strike.

Frostburg averted a shutout by capping a drive with a one-yard dive by Steven Whetstone in the third quarter. Northern responded with the game's final points when Ganoe rumbled 42 yards for a touchdown.

Mason and Ganoe rolled up a combined total of 142 yards of offense behind some fine blocking by offensive linemen Cory Kamp, Justin Rosenberger, Steven Taylor, Jesse Glotfelty, and Ryan Seaman, according to the Northern coaches. Frostburg's staff recognized Noah DeVore and Cory Latta for their defensive work.

The Steelers' Division II squad began running away with their game early on, and never looked back. Randy Wiley began the romp with a 65-yard touchdown run, then followed up with a five-yard scoring carry a short time later. Nick Graham got into the act in the second half by carrying the ball into the end zone from three yards out, giving Northern an 18-0 lead that held through the remainder of the half.

The Steeler stampede continued in the third quarter, as Ryan Evans rumbled 52 yards for a touchdown, then Zack Fratz scored on a three-yard carry. Kyle Gillum capped Fratz's touchdown with a successful point-after kick to put Northern up 32-0.

In saluting their "steel curtain" defense, the Steelers' staff singled out the play of Evans, Bobby Wingrove, and Jared Rodeheaver.

Northern's Division I team (1-5) and Division II squad (4-1) both host the D&D Wildcats Sunday at Northern High School.

Huskies Win

Synder also did a good job containing the corners of the line from their defensive end positions, which kept Turkeyfoot's quarterback from rolling out the way he likes to do. That enabled our pass rush to get some good pressure on him.

"The secondary did a great job as well, and Rocco Andres had a nice interception," continued Carr. "We were especially happy for middle linebacker Tyler Warn, who had 13 tackles and two pass knock-downs. He's just a sophomore, and a game like that has us excited about what the future holds in store."

A first-quarter injury sustained by starting quarterback Andrew Frantz is already causing the future to unfold in the Huskies' backfield, as the senior's broken throwing hand has put junior Robert Stark into the field general position. Stark, who had some starting experience last year, put in a good performance in his first extended play under center Friday night.

"We're going to miss Andrew's experience at running the option, because he's especially good at reading the defense," observed Carr, "but Robert adds another dimension to our offense. He's got really good speed and a good arm, so we're pretty confident he can step in and get the job done." Frantz will remain in the starting line-up in the NHS secondary, and his heavily padded hand may also see some use if the Huskies are in need of a blocking tight end on offense.

Northern will be at home again tomorrow night against a struggling (2-2) Allegany Camper squad, which had a tough time against Southern Friday. "Southern was able to move the ball on Allegany and control the line of scrimmage pretty well, which is where most games are won or lost," Carr remarked. "The last two years we've also been able to move the ball on the Campers' defense pretty well, although we weren't able to cash in with points. If we can keep the ball moving in the red zone, and keep their offense off the field, we have a pretty good shot at taking the game."

The Huskies are preparing for Alco's Wing-T offensive scheme, which is anchored by senior fullback Curt Jacovino, one of the area's top runners. Allegany's quarterback, Austin Scell, is an excellent passer who has a big target in split end Jesse Ritter, who has a good two inches or more on most NHS defenders.

On defense, Northern will "have to be more physical than ever," Carr emphasized. "They are bigger than we are, but we've seen other small teams play them hard and have some success. We need to hit them hard, early, and often." Allegany has switched to a 5-3 defense this year, with Jacovino playing middle linebacker and flanked by outside linebackers Ritter and Andrew Hare. "They like to crowd the line of scrimmage with their linebackers, so we'll have to be ready to blast off the snap and go after them," said Carr.

Kickoff for tomorrow night's battle is slated for 7 p.m. in the Cove.

Women Golfers' Season Closes; Officers Elected

The Women's Golf Association concluded its season recently with its annual fall meeting and luncheon at the Oakland Golf Club clubhouse.

The meeting was convened by association president Marianna Naylor. Gordon Stetz, president of the Oakland Golf Club Board of Directors, spoke about the improvements that have been made over the past season, in spite of the rainy weather. He answered questions and thanked the members for their support of the club.

The Women's Golf Association members also elected new officers for the coming year, who are: Naylor, president; Annis Colaw, vice president; Marion Boehmer, secretary; Pearl Daniels, corresponding secretary; and Sherry Grant, treasurer.

Golf pro Pat Warren announced the results of the association's Fall Tournament. In Third Flight competition, Kazuko Hamill took first place, with Rita Humberson coming in second; in Second Flight play, Pearl Daniels finished first, ahead of Marianna Naylor; and in the First Flight, Roberta Seward finished first, with Annis Colaw coming in as runner-up.

Seward earned the title of 2003 Ladies' Club Champion, and Cheryl Albert was named Most Improved Player and Ringer of the Year.

PREVIOUS RESULTS

Women's Golf Association scores for play previous to the Fall Tournament are noted below.

In scramble play of Sept. 4, the winning team was Annie Colaw, Cheryl Wotherspoon, Fran Bell, and Rita Humberson with a score of 38. Second place finishers with a team score of 40 were Cheryl Albert, Marianna Naylor, Betsy Polce, and Anne Meade.

In "old yeller" play of Sept. 11, first place winners were Bobbie Seward, Anne Meade, and Cheryl Wotherspoon who carded a team tally of 98. Cheryl Albert, Pearl Daniels, and Rita Humberson took second with a score of 104.

SHS Netters Cruise On To 11-3 Mark With Four Wins

The Southern High School varsity volleyball team had a busy slate this past week, as the Rams took four of six matches to up their area-leading record to 11-3. SHS took its first two appearances in the Frankfort Tourney over the weekend by downing Bishop Walsh and Beall, but then lost to the host Falcons and Philip Barbour HS. The back-to-back losses appeared to have lit a fire under the Rams, as they roared back to sweep Petersburg Monday and Beall last night.

Southern opened at Frankfort by taking a 2-1 win over BW's Spartans, then the Rams rolled to a 2-0 sweep over Beall. Frankfort downed SHS 2-0, and a semifinal appearance against Philip Barbour resulted in a 2-1 loss. The Rams dropped the opening contest with Barbour 25-20, took the second 25-23, but were trounced in the tie-breaker by a 15-9 tally.

Southern senior setter Megan Pike was named to the All-Tournament team as she recorded 18 assists and seven kills for the weekend. Bethany Steyer turned in a 36-for-36 performance from the service line and dished out 17 assists, and Kayla Nazelrod and Julia Bosley contributed 14 and 12 kills, respectively.

SHS bounced back in fine form Monday against Petersburg, as the Rams recorded a 3-0 sweep in game scores of 27-25, 25-21.

The Rams were paced by Chelsey Wassell's dozen service points, along with 19 assists by Pike and 12 assists from Steyer. Bosley and Nazelrod netted eight kills apiece, and Sarah Bittinger had five kills and two blocks.

Southern's junior varsity swept to a 25-4, 25-19 sweep over its Viking counterparts. Randi Bennett had four kills, Natalie Rohrbaugh had four assists, and Sarah Rexrode had 13 service points.

Playing at home last night, the varsity Rams rolled to a 25-23, 25-20, 25-8 sweep as they flattened Beall's Mounties.

SHS's Nazelrod showed the way with 15 points and three assists, while Pike recorded eight assists and Steyer handed out seven assists. Wassell contributed six kills.

Southern's jayvees continued their perfect play, taking their record to an unbeaten 9-0 by thumping Beall's JV 25-11, 25-6. Rexrode paced the Rams with 15 points and four aces, while Bennett and Danielle Daniels netted two kills apiece.

The Rams will seek revenge against Frankfort on Monday evening, then return home Wednesday to host Bishop Walsh. Jayvee contests get under way at 6 p.m., with the varsity battles following at approximately 7:30 p.m.

NHS Netters Clawed By Visiting 'Cats

The Northern High School varsity volleyball squad was swept by visiting Westmar last night by game scores of 25-20, 25-16, and 25-19. The action leaves the struggling Huskies with a 2-5 mark heading into a homecourt match tonight against Bishop Walsh.

Senior Nicole Doerr led NHS against the visiting Wildcats with six points, nine attacks, and two kills. Classmate Erin Festerman contributed three points, eight attacks, and one kill. Westmar was paced by Katie Harvey's match-high 12 service points, two aces, and two kills, and Sarah Jones's 10 points.

NHS's junior varsity unit took its opening match by a 27-25 tally, but dropped the next two 25-18, 15-8. Sophomore Laura Maust recorded nine attacks for Northern, while Jackie Rodeheaver netted six points and six attacks for the Wildcats.

Following tonight's home match with the Spartans, the Huskies are set to travel to Beall Tuesday and visit Fort Hill Wednesday. The varsity contests are slated to begin at approximately 7:30 p.m., and will come on the heels of the 6 p.m. jayvee matches.

Laker Netters Nab Three Of Five Matches In Busy Week

The Garrett College volleyball team took three of five matches this week to take its record to 8-7. The Lakers opened Friday at Potomac State by downing Beaver CC before losing to the host Catamounts, then lost the following day to Anne Arundel. GC rebounded by sweeping Cecil Monday and Prince George's last night.

Garrett took a 2-0 sweep from Beaver by game scores of 30-21, 30-28. Marlena Raines recorded four aces for the Lakers, and Jolene Brenneman and Erin Frantz recorded a pair of aces apiece. Tiffany McFarland netted five kills, and Autumn Beavers and Brenneman tallied three each.

Potomac State took 30-26, 30-21 matches, despite a three-ace, three-kill by McFarland. Fellow Laker Amanda Frantz contributed six digs and five kills, and Beavers recorded three kills and two blocks. Katie Leatherman paced PSC with eight points, and teammate Nikki Sisler netted seven points and five digs.

The Lakers dropped a 3-1 battle at Anne Arundel Saturday. After taking the first match 31-29, GC lost three straight 30-24, 31-29, and 30-26. Brenneman tallied seven aces, Amanda Frantz accumulated 11 digs and seven kills, and McFarland had nine kills and Beavers had six kills and eight blocks.

Garrett showed little mercy to its Cecil host Monday in storming to a 3-0 sweep in 30-24, 30-28, and 30-25 match play. Amanda Frantz rolled up 10 kills, nine digs, and two kills, McFarland had three assists, seven kills, and two blocks, and Brenneman served five aces. Beavers recorded nine kills, Raines handed out 10 assists, and Molly Wolf and Danielle Thompson turned in seven assists apiece.

Garrett swept Prince George's in McHenry last night 3-0, but game details were not available this morning.

The Lakers are slated to host a 6 p.m. triangular match tomorrow against Frederick and Butler. The homestand will continue Saturday against Essex at 2 p.m., and on Monday Allegany will pay a 6 p.m. visit to McHenry.

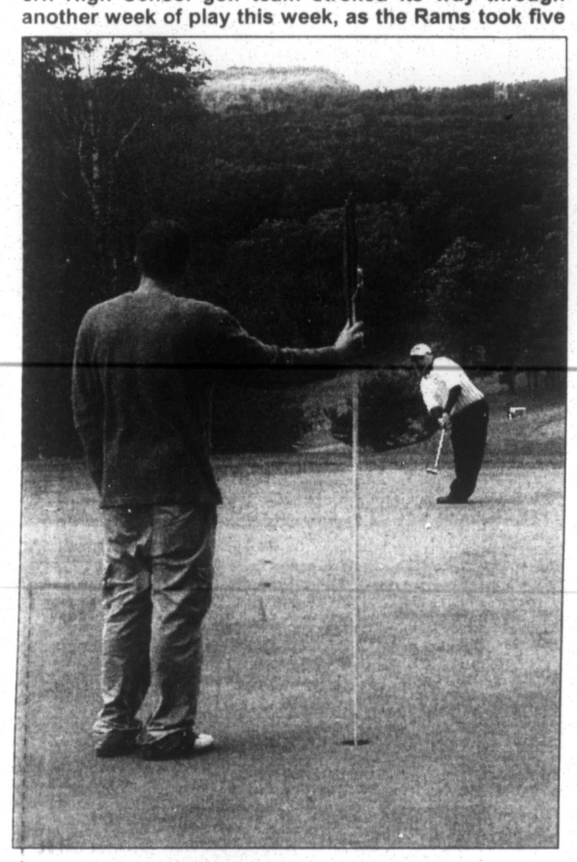
"PUTT" BEST SHOTS FORWARD — The Southern High School golf team stroked its way through another week of play this week, as the Rams took five wins to raise its mark to 40-2. Yesterday's action at the Wisp Golf Resort was a showdown with cross-county rival Northern High, a match SHS took by an unreported margin. NHS's Andrew Hady is pictured above sinking a short putt as, from the left, Southern golfers Matt Skidmore and Josh Lear look on, with Husky Michael Bergstrom, the day's low medalist, at the far right. The Rams' Travis Friend (the 2003 Autumn Glory King) is shown below sending the ball to the hole as Northern's Jeremy Rice holds the pin. Photos by John McEwen.



Ram Duffers Roll Over Huskies, BW, Alco, FH

The Southern High School golf team upped its record to 40-2 this week with two wins over Northern, and one each over Bishop Walsh, Allegany, and Fort Hill.

The string got under way in Oakland Tuesday as the Rams shot a 159 to best runner NHS's 178 by 19 strokes. Bishop Walsh finished third with 186, Allegany had a 192, and Fort Hill brought up the rear with a 209.

Skidmore paced the Ram runaway with a low-medalist 37, while teammate Travis Friend came in one off that mark with a 38. Southern's Josh Lear and Joe Albert both carded 42s. Northern's Andy Hady tied for second with a 38, and fellow Huskies Michael Bergstrom and Jason Rice both had 41s.

Yesterday's team scores from the SHS/NHS match at the Wisp were not available, but the Rams took the victory. Low-medalist honors for the day went to Northern's Michael Bergstrom, who recorded a 37. Skidmore's 39 was low for Southern.

Southern will square off against Northern again this coming Thursday, Oct. 9, in the Garrett County Championship Tournament at the Wisp. Play tees off at 4 p.m.

Orders Halt

The board agreed to four Worcester County land purchases Wednesday, the last items the board would consider, Ehrlich said, until his policy is released. A broad framework that guides that state's conservation purchases, with particular focus on the Chesapeake Bay, should be developed, Kopp said.

"The bay is the jewel in Maryland's crown," Kopp said. Schaefer echoed this priority, saying: "Bay first."

But not everyone agrees conservation priorities need to be changed.

"There are already programs that prioritize the land, so we are saving the most urgent first," said Dru Schmidt-Perkins, executive director of 1000 Friends of Maryland, an anti-sprawl coalition. Even if Program Open Space was fully funded, she said, Maryland could not meet the demand of citizens who don't want to sell land to developers. Program Open Space is the land acquisition arm of the state Department of Natural Resources.

Number Of Uninsured Marylanders Jumps, But Rate Better Than Nation

by Makeba Scott Hunter
Capital News Service

WASHINGTON – The number of people without health insurance in Maryland grew at one of the fastest rates in the country last year, but the state still had a smaller percentage of uninsured people than the nation as a whole, the Census Bureau reported Tuesday.

The number of uninsured in the state grew to 12.8 percent in 2002, a 1.5 percentage point increase from 2001. Only North Carolina and Mississippi had larger increases – 1.6 percent each – and nationwide the rate rose by 0.9 percent.

Experts say the trend reflects the state of the economy.

"I'm not very surprised at seeing these numbers," said Enrique Martinez-Vidal, deputy director for performance and benefits of the Maryland Health Care Commission. "Maryland's probably not much different than anywhere else. The (rising) cost of premiums plays a large role, the economy not being so great plays a large role, and there's some job loss."

Some advocates worry that "the economy not being so great" means the problem will only get worse.

"The report shows that public health insurance, like Medicaid and SCHIP (State Children's Health Insurance Program), were doing what they were supposed to by picking up the uninsured," said Bob Zahradnik, a policy analyst at the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities. "But in 2003 states started making cuts to Medicaid programs."

Zahradnik estimated that about 680,000 people went without health insurance in Maryland in 2002.

At 12.8 percent, however, the percentage of uninsured people in Maryland is still relatively low compared to the rest of the nation, which averages 14.9 percent. Texas and New Mexico led the nation with uninsured rates of 24.7 and 20.9 percent respectively.

But there is still reason for concern in Maryland, advocates said.

"I believe the safety net is broken," said Gustavo Torres, executive director of CASA, a social services and advocacy organization in Takoma Park. "We need to reshape the safety net because with the privatization (of health care), a lot of people in poverty, and the government cutting back on social and health services, that leaves the low-income people without options. We have no choices."

Torres said the report points to the need for universal health care for "everybody regardless of race, income, immigration status, or nationality."

But others said the report points to effects of skyrocketing health-care costs during a weak economy.

"They've had five years of double-digit inflation [in health care premiums] and many businesses are at the point where they just can't afford it anymore and stay competitive in the marketplace," said Miles Cole, a senior vice president at the Maryland Chamber of Commerce. Cole said health care premiums increased an average 12.7 percent in 2002.

Zahradnik said the increasing cost of health care worsens the already tight fiscal situation.

"Fewer people have jobs and more people are losing employer health insurance," he said. "Smaller businesses respond to that type of cost increase by dropping some workers from health insurance altogether or increasing the cost for employees, making it too expensive for some, particularly lower-income employees."

For Maryland residents who find themselves without health insurance, the Maryland Department of Health suggests looking into private insurance plans, the Maryland Health Insurance Plan, and the Maryland Children's Health Insurance Plan.

Maryland Given Mixed Reviews On Smoking Prevention Efforts

by Jeremy Bond
Capital News Service

WASHINGTON – Maryland has done an unsatisfactory job of reducing smoking rates among women and implementing policies that the federal government says would reduce those rates, a new report says.

The state does score higher than most states and the District of Columbia in a number of areas, earning Maryland an "unsatisfactory" rather than the "failing" grade of 39 states.

The study by the National Women's Law Center and Oregon Health & Science University measured the extent to which states are working toward the reduced smoking objectives outlined in the federal government's "Healthy People 2010" agenda.

"Quite simply, we have failed," said Michelle Berlin of the OHSU. "The death and diseases from smoking are deplorable and preventable."

Maryland hasn't come close to meeting the goals. And anti-smoking activists fear that things will only get worse.

Kari Appler, director of the Smoke Free Maryland coalition, said the state recently slashed funding for tobacco-cessation programs by 50 percent. Former Gov. Parris Glendening was committed to reducing youth smoking, she said, but "so far we've only seen funding cuts" under Gov. Bob Ehrlich. "We're very hopeful that this is caused solely by the budget situation," Appler said.

Appler said the report is "further evidence that we have a long way to go." But a lobbyist for the tobacco industry said the report just shows that the federal goals were unrealistic in the first place.

"It doesn't surprise me that states have failed," said Bruce Bereano, who lobbies for the Maryland Association of Tobacco and Candy Distributors.

While Maryland has the sixth-lowest percentage of women who smoke, 18.7 percent, that was still well shy of the federal goal of 12 percent, the report said. Only Utah reached that goal.

The report also said that 9.3 percent of pregnant women in Maryland smoke, well above the federal goal of 1 percent. The District had the lowest rate, 2.6 percent, while West Virginia had the highest, 26.3 percent.

Maryland ranks relatively high when it comes to policies aimed at reducing secondhand smoke in public areas. An estimated 83.3 percent of Maryland workplaces ban smoking, the second-highest rate in the country. But the state has high rates of smoking-related diseases: It has the 11th-highest rate of lung cancer among states and the District and 19th-highest rate of coronary heart disease. Lung cancer is the most fatal cancer among American women and heart disease is the leading cause of death among American women.

The report is the first to assess smoking rates among women on the state level, including the effects of 10 tobacco-control policies on 11 separate health indicators. It recommended that states implement a cigarette excise tax, which only five states have, and that they restrict secondhand smoke.

Maryland is among five states that have strict laws that prohibit smoking in almost all public indoor sites.

Bereano calls such prohibitions "social game playing."

"Government should really just stay out of people's lives," he said.

Smoking is "a legal, lawful activity among adults, by adults. There are so many activities that we do that have particular health consequences," such as speeding in a car, he said.

But Judy Waxman, vice president for health at the National Women's Law Center, said anti-smoking policies save health care cost in the long run – a particular boon during lean budget times.

Tight budgets have led many states to cut funding for smoking-cessation programs. Maryland is one of only four states to fund tobacco prevention at a level that falls within the range recommended by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Bereano said he never really bought the argument that smoking prevention saves states money.

Virginia Ernster, a professor of epidemiology at the University of California San Francisco, contributed to the 2001 surgeon general's report on women and smoking from which Tuesday's study was drawn. She said the new data "gives legs" to the earlier report by comparing states, where tobacco policies originate.

While smoking hurts both sexes, girls face unique problems, said Neena Chaudhry, senior counsel at NWLC. Girls are more likely to smoke to control weight, and prolonged tobacco use has been associated with menstrual irregularity and early menopause.

Castleman New Assistant Sec. Of State Tourism

Governor Robert L. Ehrlich Jr. announced Wednesday the appointment of Dennis M. Castleman as the new assistant secretary for Tourism, Film, and the Arts, a division of the Maryland Department of Business and Economic Development. In his new role, Castleman will supervise the work of 91 people in the Maryland Office of Tourism Development, the Maryland State Arts Council, and the Maryland Film Office. He will remain director of the Maryland Office of Tourism Development, a post to which he was named in July.

"The Division of Tourism, Film, and the Arts enhances the quality of life for all Marylanders, and having a professional of Dennis Castleman's caliber is important to continuing to build this vital sector of our economy," said Governor Ehrlich. "Working together with our industry partners, we will continue to promote Maryland as an outstanding tourism destination rich in arts and culture and an excellent place to film movies and television series."

"We are very fortunate to have such a dynamic leader take up the state's tourism, film, and the arts banner," said Business and Economic Development Secretary Aris Melissaratos. "Dennis Castleman, in his first two months here at DBED, has proven to be an excellent manager, has wonderful people skills and is highly respected by industry leaders," he said.

"My primary goal is to continue to grow tourism in Maryland, promote our outstanding arts community, and establish Maryland as the place for filmmaking," Castleman said. "We have an extremely supportive tourism, film, and the arts community, and I am looking forward to building on these relationships as we take Maryland's quality of life to new heights."

Castleman, a hospitality executive with extensive experience in business development, has spent much of his career working for the ITT Sheraton Corporation, including properties in Savannah, Ga., Washington, D.C., and Monterey, Calif., where, at the latter two hotels, he served as the food and beverage director. He moved to Howard County in 1991 and went to work at the Sheraton Inner Harbor Hotel, holding a number of positions, including director of sales and marketing, director of revenue management, and director of catering and convention services.

In 1998, Castleman became the general manager of the Crowne Plaza Washington, a 318-room hotel in the heart of downtown D.C. From there, he became the area director for Meristar Hotels in Philadelphia. He was named general manager of the prestigious Churchill Hotel in Washington, D.C., in 2001. The following year, he and his family moved to Florida, where he became general manager of the Radisson Suite Resort on Sand Key.

Government and business leaders, many who have known Castleman from the hospitality industry, are applauding his new role.

"Dennis took to the mountains and tourism in "Mountain Maryland" like a native – strong, impressive, and impervious to seasonal change," said Charlie Ross, president and CEO of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. "The only thing that Dennis could do better in our view is 'move mountains' – closer east, that is."

State Tightens DWI Laws This Week, But Some Not Satisfied

by Bethany Broida
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – Maryland gets a little tougher on drunken drivers today, but not tough enough, critics say. While both legislators and groups trying to end drunken driving call the new laws a step forward, they acknowledge that they are just that, a good step.

The approved laws were weakened and nine other proposed bills languished in committee or never made it out of the General Assembly in the last session.

"We take small steps every year, a little bit at a time to make our roadways a little safer," said Sen. Philip Jimeno, D-Anne Arundel, sponsor of one of the laws. "We want repeat offenders to know that if you drive drunk in Maryland we will take away your license and put you in jail."

Jimeno championed the law that ends community service as a sentencing option for repeat offenders and mandates jail time. A second drunken driving conviction within five years now carries a mandatory minimum five days in jail, and a third conviction carries a minimum 10-day sentence.

The new law only applies to people convicted of driving under the influence, which requires a blood-alcohol level greater than .08, something Leslie Thomas, spokeswoman for the Central Maryland chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Driving, said is inadequate. Maryland drivers may be arrested on lesser charges for driving with .07 blood alcohol content.

What happens in court, Thomas said, is that many defendants will plea bargain down to the lower charges, making community service still an option for them.

Jimeno called the new law a major step, but said he would like to expand the law to include all drunken drivers.

"John's Law" also has its critics.

"It has no teeth," said Nancy Kelly, MADD public policy liaison. John's Law was named for a former Navy cadet killed by a drunken driver who had been arrested and released earlier in the evening. The law prohibits drivers arrested for a drug-or-alcohol-related offense from operating a motor vehicle for 12 hours afterward. The penalty is eight points assessed on their driver's license.

Sen. Ida Ruben, D-Montgomery, John's Law sponsor, would have preferred the law require confiscation of the suspect's car keys, incarceration until the driver's blood-alcohol level lowers, or impounding the car.

"What passed was something that was acceptable to both committees, but the problem is there are no teeth in it. There is nothing to prevent them from driving," she said.

Two other laws took effect this week: allowing convictions in other states to count toward repeat offender penalties, and mandating treatment for people convicted of drunken driving who receive probation.

Still, both the legislators and MADD said they'll work for more and tougher laws in the future.

"We are very pleased that the laws keep coming up and getting passed, but they still need to be tweaked," Thomas said. "We would like to see them stronger."

FEMA Funding Available For Storm Victims

The Federal Emergency Management Agency has announced that President George Bush has declared a major disaster for all of Maryland in the wake of Hurricane Isabel, freeing up federal funding for use by citizens across the state as they repair damages inflicted by the September storm. The application period will be open until further notice for individuals, families, small businesses, and local and state governments.

Federal assistance is available for uses including the repair or replacement of disaster-damaged facilities, emergency protective measures, and debris removal. Rental assistance is also available for persons displaced by storm damage, unemployment payments may be available for those who lost jobs because of the storm, and low-interest loans for losses incurred by residential property owners, farmers, ranchers, and small business owners are also offered.

For complete details and to begin the disaster application process, persons may contact FEMA toll-free at 1-800-621-FEMA (3362). Persons with speech or hearing impairments may call the toll-free TTY number at 1-800-462-7585.

MSP Make Drug Arrest Friday In Casselman Pk.

The odor of suspected burnt marijuana led to the arrest of a Grantsville woman Friday night at Casselman Park, according to the Maryland State Police.

At approximately 9:05 p.m., troopers checking on a reported suspicious vehicle parked at that location undertook a search of a vehicle occupied by Rose Logan, 48, and located alleged marijuana and Darvocet in her purse.

Logan was released from the Garrett County Jail after posting $500 bond set by a District Court commissioner.

THE SPRINGS FOLK FESTIVAL IS THIS WEEKEND – The annual Springs, Pa., Folk Festival will take place this Friday and Saturday, Oct. 3 and 4, at the festival site along Springs Road, three miles north of Grantsville. The hours of the festival are 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day. Edgar Rembold, a long-time festival volunteer, is pictured above at the husker/shredder machine display. A Springs resident, Rembold has been in charge of the Folk Festival and Springs Historical Society grounds for 28 years. He maintains the building where the continuous musical entertainment will take place, as well as the pageant performance. He will also demonstrate his craft, woodturning, and will make miniature ball bats, lamps, and cutting boards. Edgar's father, Homer Rembold, who died last year at the age of 101, operated the woodturning booth until some years ago. Other displays will include crafts and the popular miniature steam engine exhibit, which will be located in the museum building. New exhibitors are taking part this year, organizers said, including a junior historians group sponsored by the Springs Historical Society. The youngsters will demonstrate butter churning. For more information about the Springs Folk Festival, persons may call 814-662-4158 or 814-662-2625, or visit the web site at www.springspa.org.

GBI Looking For Leads In Local Cases

The Garrett Bureau of Investigations is currently investigating several local cases in which leads are being sought from the public.

The first is a series of burglaries of houses under construction in the Mountainside development along Garrett Highway near Thayerville. Power tools and hand tools were removed in two instances overnight on Aug. 25 and Sept. 3.

The second is a series of thefts from automobiles in the Rock Lodge Road area on or about Aug. 23, in which compact discs were stolen. Around the same time period, a purse was removed from a car along Pysell Road, McHenry. These cases may be related to ongoing thefts from different areas of the county over the last several months, according to GBI.

GBI is requesting persons with information about these cases contact them at 301-334-1909. Callers may remain anonymous and may be eligible for a reward.

GBI also reminds people to remove valuables from their vehicles or keep them locked, and report any suspicious activity, vehicles, or persons immediately.

McHenry Woman Jailed Following Vehicle Pursuit

A McHenry woman was arrested on multiple charges filed by Maryland State Police troopers following a vehicle pursuit early Saturday morning on Garrett Highway near Deep Creek Lake.

Kathy Jo Stockett, 41, faces charges of driving while under the influence (DUI), assault on a police officer, resisting arrest, failure to obey a lawful order, reckless driving, negligent driving, speeding, and possession of Hydrocodone – a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) – and possession of drug paraphernalia.

The incident unfolded shortly after 1 a.m., when a trooper reported observing a 2002 Cadillac Escalade SUV traveling at a high rate of speed in a very erratic manner on southbound Garrett Highway south of the DCL Bridge.

After initiating the pursuit, the trooper said he witnessed Stockett's SUV accelerate and swerve hard to the left into the oncoming lane, narrowly missing a head-on collision with an oncoming vehicle, then continue on across the roadway all the way onto the northbound shoulder. The Cadillac then swerved to the right, narrowly missing another possible head-on collision with a second northbound vehicle.

Continuing southbound, Stockett's vehicle was "all over the highway" until it made a left turn into the Lakeside Creamery parking lot, which after the Cadillac re-entered Garrett Highway northbound, swerving in and out of both traffic lanes and off onto the shoulder. Near Fox Den Road the SUV swerved to the right onto the shoulder, nearly striking some signs and a fence, then skidded to a halt.

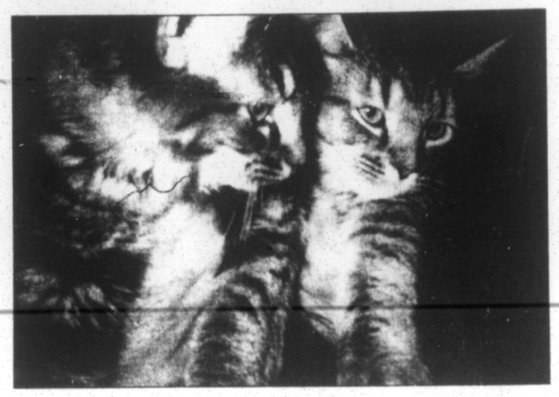
Stockett, who appeared heavily intoxicated, immediately began yelling profanities at the trooper and refused to provide her driver's license or vehicle registration card, or exit the vehicle. When the trooper attempted to open the door of the SUV, Stockett reportedly announced her intention to "go home" and attempted to shift the gear lever into drive, at which time the trooper subdued her with pepper spray and removed her and her keys from the SUV.

Stockett allegedly resisted arrest and assaulted the trooper, according to the press release, and when placed into the police cruiser began kicking the dashboard and windshield. Although eventually restrained, Stockett continued to yell profanities at the police officer while she was being driven to the McHenry barrack, and once there attempted to assault him again.

Stockett was later released after she posted a $10,000 bond set by a District Court commissioner.

Adorable Adoptables

BIG RED NEEDS A NEW HOME – The redbone coonhound pictured above is looking for a new home. This big guy is described as friendly. Also pictured above is Tazzy. The 3-year-old long haired tabby has been spayed and declawed and is ready for a new home. Below are two more long haired tabbies. "They're so soft," said a Garrett County Humane Society spokesperson. "They are also tired of being in a cage." These pets, as well as several adorable kittens, are all available for adoption from the Garrett County Animal Shelter. For more information, persons may call 301-334-3553. "Please remember," said the spokesperson, "pets are like people and need these basics: food, water, shelter, medical care, and love."



SHA Beginning Work On Rt. 40, Interstate 68

The Maryland Department of Transportation's State Highway Administration (SHA) is starting two major road renovation projects in northern Garrett County. The SHA is under taking a $1 million project to improve Rt. 40 (National Pike) at the intersections of Springs Road and Bittinger Road (also known as South Yoder Street) in Grantsville, and a $3.1 million resurfacing project on a 3½-mile section of Interstate 68 (National Freeway) between 1.2 miles west of the Old Morgantown Road bridge and 0.3 mile east of the Pigs Ear Road bridge, east of Friendsville.

The Rt. 40 work, described as part of SHA's investment in intersection safety improvements, is now under way and is slated for completion early spring, weather permitting.

SHA will widen and resurface the roadway at the intersections, construct a new five-foot concrete sidewalk, apply new reflective pavement markings, construct drainage improvements and modify sections of traffic barriers along US 40 Alternate. SHA will also plant more than 90 trees and dozens of shrubs, flowers and grasses along US 40 Alternate in the vicinity of the intersections.

Single lane and shoulder closures may occur along National Pike, Springs Road and South Yoder Street from dawn to dusk, Monday through Friday. No lane or shoulder closures will take place on Saturday or Sunday. Flag persons, dynamic message signs, traffic cones and barrels will guide motorists through the work zone. The state's contractor for this project is Excavating Associates of Ellerslie.

The I-68 work is also under way and also has a projected completion date of early spring, weather permitting.

During the next several months, SHA will patch and resurface the roadway, apply new reflective pavement markings, construct drainage improvements, and modify sections of traffic barriers along the Interstate. During roadwork, up to two lanes and the shoulder along I-68 may be temporarily closed from dawn to dusk, Monday through Friday. No lane or shoulder closures will take place on Saturday or Sunday. Dynamic message signs, arrowheads, traffic cones and barrels will guide motorists through the work zone. The state's contractor for this project is Keystone Lime Company of Springs, Pa.

Citizens who have questions about either project may call SHA's District Six Office at 301-729-8400, or toll free at 1-800-760-7138.

Public Alerted Of Possible Scam Operation

Garrett County Sheriff Dick Sanders has issued an advisory for citizens to be alert for a possible scam operation. There have been reports in neighboring states concerning scams involving lightning rods for barns and other buildings, he said.

Citizens have reported that they have been approached by unknown individuals who offer to equip barns with lightning rods for fire prevention purposes. In some cases, nothing more than a single cable that serves no purpose at all is attached to the side of a building and an exorbitant fee is charged for the installation, police said.

Sanders recommends that citizens deal with reputable companies and avoid being pressured by unknown and questionable individuals.

Main Street, 2 to 7 p.m.; Monday, Oct. 20, Grantsville fire hall, Dorsey Hotel Road, 12:30 to 6:30 p.m.; and Monday, Oct. 27, Friendsville Fire Hall, Walnut Street, 12 to 6 p.m.

To donate blood, persons must be at least 17 years old, weigh at least 105 pounds, and be in generally good health. One can donate blood every eight weeks.

To find out more about the Red Cross's Blood Services Program, persons may call 301-722-1760 or 1-800-361-9481.

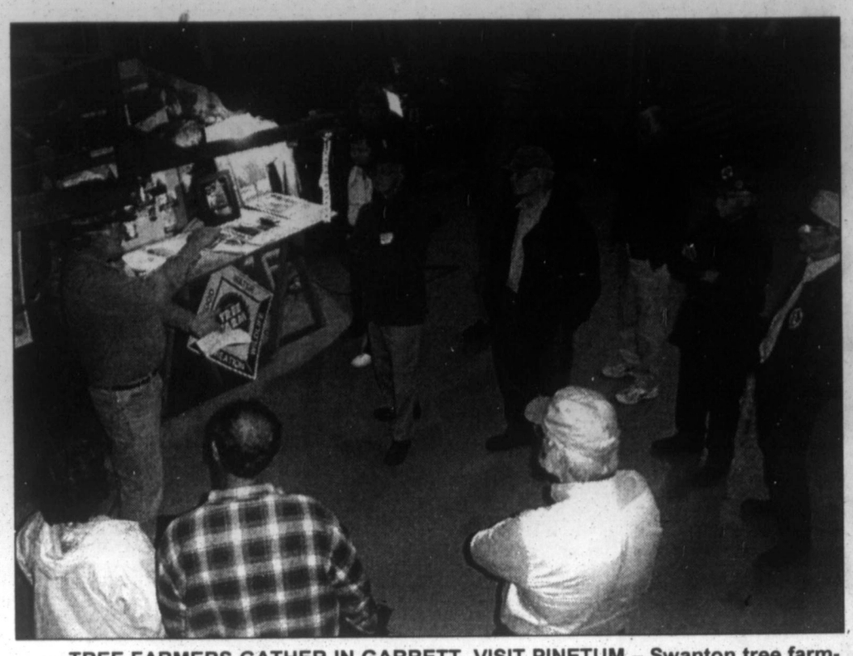
GC Schedules Co-Curricular Activities Slate

Two trips, a multi-media travelogue, a concert, and a Shakespeare Revue are on the schedule of co-curricular activities for Garrett College students in October and November, according to program coordinator Sally Staley. Most of these activities are open to the public, and fee and other information can be obtained by calling Staley at 301-387-3102

A bus trip to the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C., is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 17. The bus will leave the college parking lot at 6 a.m. and return late that evening. Cost of the trip, excluding meals, is $10 for students, $20 for the public. Interested persons should signup in the college library. A trip to New York City is set for November 6-9 with details yet to be announced.

A one-hour multi-media program titled "Planes, Trains, and Elephants: A Trek Across Asia," is set for noon on Wednesday, Oct. 29, in Room 314. GC faculty member Kurt Woolslayer will narrate photographs he has taken on his travels through Thailand, Laos, and Cambodia, showing the means of transportation and culture of those countries. Woolslayer, who teaches chemistry, biology, and physics, has traveled extensively and has developed slide shows on Korea and the South Pacific.

Two professional performances are included in the co-curricular schedule. The Capitol Quartet, a Garrett Lakes Arts Festival presentation, is slated for 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 18, and "A Shakespeare Revue" will be performed at Our Town Theatre in November on dates yet to be announced.



TREE FARMERS GATHER IN GARRETT, VISIT PINETUM – Swanton tree farmers Marshall and Cindy Stacy hosted members of the Maryland Tree Farm System on Sept. 13 during an afternoon field tour of Pinetum, the Marshalls' registered 315-acre Maryland tree farm. Tree farmers from across the state gathered in Garrett County that day to attend a morning meeting at the Deep Creek Lake State Park's Discovery Center, which was followed by the field trip to Pinetum.

Garrett Slates PowerPoint Crash Course

A one-session Microsoft PowerPoint crash course will be offered from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 17.

During the course, students will learn the basics of creating a computerized presentation. The use of existing information, creating text, and making slides will also be discussed. Materials will be provided, and a one-hour lunch break is built into the schedule. Alice Bosley will serve as the instructor.

The class is offered through the college's Small Business Development Center. For more information or to register, persons may call Sue Smith at 301-387-3080.

Resources For Cancer Patients To Be Profiled

"Discovering Resources," the third session of the Western Maryland American Cancer Society's "I Can Cope" series, is set for 6 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 7, at the Garrett County Community Services building, located in Oakland adjacent to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The free workshop will feature a panel of local American Cancer Society representatives who will review the services their organization provides to area residents dealing with a cancer diagnosis. There will also be an opportunity to learn about other ACS services, and how persons can volunteer with the organization.

The ACS not only provides services to patients but also has programs that individuals, groups, businesses, and organizations can get involved in. These programs include focusing on increasing cancer awareness, and helping people learn what to do to stay healthy.

A question and answer session will take place during the session, and information will be made available for participants to take home.

The free workshop is open to all residents of Garrett County and the surrounding area. For further information, or to register, persons may call Sara Browning at GCMH at 301-533-4311. Registration is suggested to guarantee materials but is not required.

Basic First Aid, Safety Course Set By Garrett

A Community First Aid and Safety course is scheduled for 5 to 10:30 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday, Oct. 13 and 15, at Garrett College's McHenry campus.

The course will teach the basic skills of cardiac life support for infants, children and adults and standard techniques to provide first aid to individuals in an emergency situation. Certification will be provided through the American Red Cross.

For course fees and additional information, persons may contact the college's Continuing Education and Training Division at 301-387-3069.

Values, Ethics In Social Work Class Set At GC

"Values and Ethics in Social Work," a hands-on class, will meet from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 16, at the McHenry campus of Garrett College.

The hands-on session will utilize exercises and discussion as participants explore topics including code revision, ethical principles, and review the profession's code of ethics.

Composed of several Garrett County social services, mental health, and health agencies, the Professional Development Consortium was formed to provide affordable professional development to Garrett County agencies and organizations. Classes are open to the public on a space-available basis.

For more information or to register, persons may call Sue Smith at 301-387-3080. CEU credits, including those designated for social work study, will be given at the end of class.

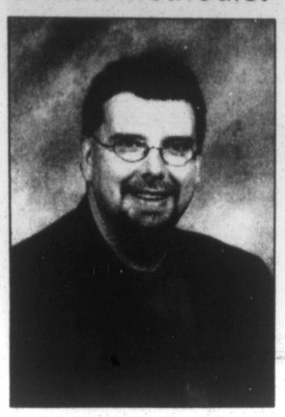
Revival Services Set At McHenry United Methodist



McHenry United Methodist Church has slated a four-night series of revival services for Sunday through Wednesday, Oct. 12-15, at 7 p.m. each evening. The public is invited.

The revival will be led by Rev. Bill Dawson, the pastor of the McHenry UM Church, who will speak on the theme of "faith the size of a mustard seed and what faith can do when put into action." Guest singers and special music will be part of every service, with the trio Led By the Spirit leading the music the first night.

A native of Piedmont, W.Va., Dawson is a former radio disc jockey and newspaper photographer who began his studies for the ministry in the late 1980s. Prior to his appointment to the McHenry church this past June, Dawson served in Pendleton and Lewis counties (W.Va.). He earned his bachelor of arts degree from West Virginia Wesleyan College, and his Master of Divinity degree from United Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio. Dawson and his wife Christine have two children, Nathan and Amanda.

For further information, persons may call the church office at 301-387-9059.

All SHS Alumni Invited To Special AGF Events

The Southern High School Alumni Association has planned to Autumn Glory Festival events open to all those who attended Southern High School.

Alumni are encouraged to attend the Southern football game on Friday, Oct. 10. All members of the SHS Alumni Association will be admitted free of charge. The game, which will be Southern versus Preston High School, will begin at 7 p.m. at the high school's athletic field.

Persons interested in becoming a member may talk with an association representative at the gate on the evening of the game.

The annual meeting of the association will be held on Sunday, Oct. 12. All SHS alumni are invited to attend. The meeting will begin at 1 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Dave Mayfield, student council advisor at SHS, will host a reunion of the last 32 student council presidents.

"We welcome all Southern alumni to join us in this special celebration," an association spokesperson said. "We will be remembering the past leadership qualities of our student council presidents."

CARING FOR CRITTERS – In order to help students learn about the responsibilities needed to prevent animal neglect and cruelty, Broad Ford Elementary School's second graders of Tammy Blythe and Kim Weimer have been involved in a year-long service learning project. WKHJ will also be airing public service announcements, done by some of the students. Jenna Sue Bassford and Ivy Lynn Iden are seen above recording the first of many announcements. Seen below making dog biscuits are Robert Locke, Austin Perando, Anthony Shahan, and Carole Glotfelty, Student Enrichment Program teacher. During the year, guest speakers will be visiting the classrooms and field trips will be taken to reinforce the concepts taught in the classrooms. A recent dog biscuit sale was held at the Garrett County Health Department and all proceeds benefited the Humane Society of Garrett County.

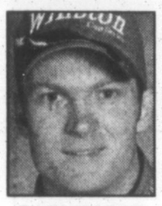
Height infractions cost Earnhardt team

By RICK MINTER
Cox News Service

Talladega, Ala.

Dale Earnhardt Jr.'s team had a strong finish in Sunday's EA Sports 500, but his qualifying effort was a bust.

Although Earnhardt's No. 8 Chevrolet recorded the sixth-fastest qualifying lap, his car failed a post-qualifying height inspection.



EARNHARDT

Because the rear quarter panels were a fraction of an inch shy of the required height, his lap was disallowed and he was forced to start the race in the 38th position.

Earnhardt's crew chief, Tony Eury Sr., said the team tried to stretch the rules to the limit and went a little too far.

"This is restrictor-plate racing and you have to get everything you can get," he said. "We were just a little too low."

Meanwhile, Earnhardt said he still hasn't signed his driving contract with his employer, Dale Earnhardt Inc., now owned by his father's widow, Teresa Earnhardt.

"We're still working on it," he said. "We're real, real close. It's all but done."

Special motivation

Jamie McMurray said he was particularly motivated Sunday because he was driving a car sponsored by Havoline, which once backed the late Davey Allison.

McMurray's car was painted like the one Allison once drove at Talladega Superspeedway. McMurray finished 16th.

Cursing proves costly

A foul mouth has proven to be expensive for Jeremy Mayfield and Tony Stewart. Both drivers were fined $5,000 apiece for using inappropriate language during the telecast of the MBNA America 400 two weeks ago at Dover International Speedway.

The penalties are the latest in a series of fines levied by NASCAR against drivers and team members who have used curse words during live interviews.

Clanton in jeopardy

Busch Series rookie Joey Clanton appears to be on the verge of losing his job as driver of the No. 27 Pontiac fielded by Brewco Motorsports.

Clanton, the reigning ASA champion, is 23rd in points with one top-five finish in 18 starts since taking over the car in May. Team officials indicated that Chase Montgomery, who drove the car before Clanton took over, will return.

Switch doesn't help Blaney

Dave Blaney's switch from a Ford Taurus to a Dodge Intrepid for the EA Sports 500 didn't help much.

Blaney was 42nd fastest in qualifying and had to take a provisional position to make the race. He finished 17th.

"This was the best car we had in the shop," Blaney said in explaining the switch. He said his No. 77 team would return to a Ford this week at Kansas.

Typical Talladega

DEI driver Waltrip prevails in close, crash-marred race

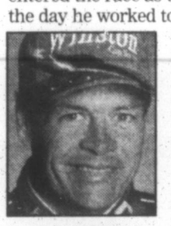
By RICK MINTER
Cox News Service

Talladega, Ala.

The red-clad Dale Earnhardt Jr. crowd at Talladega Superspeedway had to settle for second place on Sunday as his teammate Michael Waltrip thwarted his bid for five straight Winston Cup wins at Talladega.

The EA Sports 500 boiled down to a furious four-lap dash, and Waltrip fought off Earnhardt to win by a margin of just .095 seconds.

Earnhardt, driving the red No. 8 Chevrolet, entered the race as the favorite, but for most of the day he worked to overcome the damage from a Lap 13 fender-bender on pit road.



WALTRIP

He spent the next 131 laps trying to get back on the lead lap, then took the top spot for the first time on Lap 165 of 188.

But in the end Waltrip, his Dale Earnhardt Inc. teammate, was too strong. And Earnhardt also seemed to have difficulty finding a competitor willing to push him past Waltrip.

And there weren't any slick maneuvers that Earnhardt could rely on to outfox Waltrip, who now has four restrictor-plate victories in the past three seasons.

"I would have liked to have won, but Michael knows most of my tricks," he said.

Waltrip agreed.

"I know everything there is to know about this gig," he said. "I was just thinking, 'Whatever they do, I'll deal with it then.' "

Waltrip's victory was the ninth for a DEI driver in the past 12 restrictor-plate races. Waltrip's other three victories came at Daytona International Speedway, the only other track where restrictor plates are used to reduce speeds.

Tony Stewart, who missed Saturday's practice with a migraine headache but seemed fine on Sunday, finished third, ahead of Ryan Newman and Jeff Gordon.

Like his teammate, Waltrip had to overcome adversity to be in contention at the end.

First he tangled with Jimmie Johnson while racing for the lead into Turn 1 on Lap 144. As Waltrip, with Earnhardt in tow but a lap down, sped by Johnson, Earnhardt and Waltrip appeared to touch briefly. Then Waltrip and Johnson bumped, sending Johnson sliding onto the apron and across the track.

Under NASCAR's new yellow-flag rules, Earnhardt got back on the lead lap because he was ahead of the other lap-down drivers.

During the ensuing pit stop, the catch-can wasn't attached to Waltrip's car while it was being refueled so he was sent to the back of the pack.

For the Lap 149 restart, Earnhardt lined up 24th, with the penalized Waltrip 25th and the recovering Johnson 26th.

Johnson moved to fifth in just four laps, but dropped out on Lap 158 with a blown engine. He finished 34th and lost third place in the points standings to Earnhardt.

"I thought we were going to come back through there and have a shot at winning, but something happened with a piston," Johnson said.

A blown engine by Jeff Burton brought out the caution flag on Lap 170 and allowed some of the leaders to top off their gas tanks for the final 14-lap dash to the checkered flag. Earnhardt was among those who stopped, while Waltrip stayed on the track and was able to keep his car at or near the front for the remainder of the race.

Then, as the leaders sped down the backstretch on Lap 181, Elliott Sadler's car veered to the left and was bumped from behind by Kurt Busch. Sadler's car slid off the track and became airborne, flipping seven times before coming to rest.

Earnhardt shouldered part of the blame for Sadler's crash.

"I kinda spooked him," Earnhardt said.

Sadler was helped from his car and flown to the University of Alabama hospital in Birmingham, Ala., where he was evaluated and released.

Sadler's crash brought out the red flag, setting up a four-lap run to the finish. Any potential plots to dethrone Waltrip never materialized.

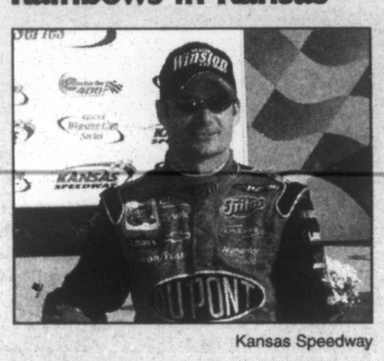
Waltrip said he was able to use his mid-race problems to his advantage.

"After what I learned coming from the back, I knew exactly how to pull it off," he said.

Other than having someone not named Earnhardt in Victory Lane, the EA Sports 500 was a typical Talladega race. There were 41 lead changes among 17 drivers, five caution periods including one on Lap 11 for a "Big Wreck" and plenty of unhappy drivers when it was all over.

"It's not fun, and to me it's not racing," said Ryan Newman. "But I do it because it's part of what we do."

Rainbows in Kansas



Kansas Speedway

The Winston Cup circuit heads to Kansas Speedway this weekend, a track where Jeff Gordon has enjoyed good fortune. Gordon has won both Winston Cup races on the 1.5-mile tri-oval, including last year's Protection One 400 (above).

POST-RACE NOTES

Kenseth records worst finish of 2003 season

By RICK MINTER
Cox News Service

Talladega, Ala.

Winston Cup points leader Matt Kenseth was running in the lead pack during Sunday's EA Sports 500 when the engine expired on his No. 17 Chevrolet.

KENSETH

That relegated him to a 33rd-place finish, his worst of the season.

Despite the 82-point loss, he heads to Kansas Speedway with a 354-point lead over Kevin Harvick, who finished seventh Sunday.

Kenseth said his car never seems to be that fast at Talladega, but he had hoped it would at least be dependable.

"The stuff wasn't real fast, and then it broke," he said. "With the [points] lead the way it is, I thought we were plenty conservative on all our stuff, but we must not have been because something broke.

"Hopefully, our stuff will make it to the end for the rest of the year, and I think we'll be OK."

Blown tire mars Jones' comeback

Buckshot Jones, who has run only one other race this season, raced like a seasoned pro for the first half of the EA Sports 500.

Driving a car prepared by Dale Earnhardt Inc., Jones started 16th, sped to the front and led 19 laps before being passed by his teammate, car owner and eventual winner Michael Waltrip, on Lap 42.

But on Lap 89, the right front tire blew on Jones' No. 00 Chevrolet and the shredded tire ripped the fender, affecting the aerodynamics of the car.

Since Jones, who hasn't had a regular ride since he was released by Petty Enterprises last April, isn't running for points, he parked the car rather than ride around to protect his position in the standings.

"DEI has awesome stuff," Jones said. "I had a lot of fun. It felt good to come back and get in a good race car."

Earnhardt criticizes crew

Dale Earnhardt Jr. voiced his displeasure with the performance of his pit crew by radio after the final pit stop of the EA Sports 500.

"I'm glad I don't have to come down pit road again," he said. "Every time I do a bomb goes off."

After the race he defended his comments, saying he expects perfection from his crew "due to the sponsorship and prestige."

"They get lackadaisical and relax, and I want them not to relax."

Marlin still struggling

Sterling Marlin's misfortunes continued Sunday as a hole in the radiator of his No. 40 Dodge led to a loss of coolant and a cooked engine. He coasted into the pits on Lap 104 with smoke streaming from his car.

"We had a good car," Marlin said. "We were just riding, making laps and getting where we needed to be toward the end."

Marlin dominated the 2002 points race, but a neck injury at Kansas in October ended his title run. Since he returned to the circuit at the start of the 2003 season, he has yet to record a top-five finish and has only one top-10 run in his past 14 starts.

Biffle exploring options

By RICK MINTER
Cox News service

BIFFLE

Winston Cup rookie Greg Biffle on Saturday reiterated that he's not looking to leave Roush Racing. He says he's just exploring his options once his contract expires at the end of next year.

"Nothing has changed yet," Biffle said. "We're working on an extension beyond 2004, but I haven't signed anything.

"I'm not saying I'm leaving Roush and I'm not saying I'm staying. I just want to see what's best for Greg Biffle in 2005."

Gaughan gets fifth win

Brendan Gaughan won his fifth race of the season by winning Saturday night's Craftsman Truck Series Las Vegas 350 at Las Vegas Motor Speedway.

Gaughan led 107 of 146 laps after starting from the pole. He edged last year's winner, David Starr, by just under a second after a late caution erased a big lead.

With his victory, Gaughan extended his points lead to 67 over Travis Kvapil, who finished fourth. Gaughan won Saturday's race with an average speed of 123.826 mph.

Starr took second on the final lap when Jack Sprague had engine failure in the final turn

Headache for Stewart

Tony Stewart missed both of Saturday's practice sessions because he woke up with a migraine headache.

Kyle Petty, who missed making the race in his own No. 45 Dodge, and Stewart's teammate Bobby Labonte drove the defending series champion's No. 20 Chevrolet in practice.

Petty agreed to stand by as a potential relief driver if his condition didn't improve, but Stewart felt better and raced in Sunday's EA Sports 500, chalking up a third-place finish.

Garrett County SKIES

By Dr. Bob Doyle
Frostburg State Planetarium

THE SUN – In October, the duration of sunlight shrinks by more than two minutes each day. October 1 has 11 hours and 47 minutes of sunlight: October 31 has 10 hours and 33 minutes of sunlight. October opens with 7:14 a.m. sunrises; the last day of October will have a 6:45 a.m. sunrise. Early October sunsets are at about 7:01 p.m. which fall back to 5:18 p.m. as the month ends. (On the last weekend of October, we shift to Standard Time. This causes sunrises and sunsets to come an hour later.) In October both dawn and dusk last about an hour. In mid-October, one can view the fainter stars as late as 6:30 a.m. and as early as 7:35 p.m.

THE MOON – October opens with the moon about half full in the evening sky. Up through October 6 the moon will reveal its craters and mountains to binoculars and telescopes. The moon will appear close to the brilliant planet Mars on October 6. The moon will be full on October 9, then appearing in central Pisces. This is the Hunters' Moon, the full moon that offers extra evening moonlights in the nights that follow. Late in the evenings of October 16 and 17, the moon will appear near the bright planet Saturn in the late evening sky. By October 18 the moon will have shifted into the morning sky, not rising till after midnight. On October 22 the moon is last seen in the eastern dawn; after October 27 the moon reappears as a thin crescent in the western dusk.

THE BRIGHT PLANETS – Our nearest planetary neighbors appear as points of light that shine steadily, unlike the bright night stars that twinkle. The planet Mars dominates the southern evening sky with its yellowish tint. In the second half of October, the bright planet Saturn rises before midnight in the east. The very bright planet Jupiter can be seen in the southeast at dawn. As October ends, the brilliant planet Venus shines low in the western dusk, setting about 45 minutes after sunset. The planet Mercury is briefly visible low in the eastern dawn in early October.

OCTOBER'S BEST SIGHTS – Mars is still striking in the southern evening sky, still outshining all evening stars by more than a factor of two. Mars can also be identified by its steady yellowish light. The brightest evening star is Vega, appearing about half way up in the west. Low in the northeast is the bright golden star Capella. As Capella rises, Vega drops. Look to the right of Capella for the Seven Sisters star cluster, whose brighter stars form a tiny dipper (but not to be confused with the Little Dipper).

OCTOBER ASTRONOMY ACTIVITIES – The Frostburg State Planetarium offers free public programs each Sunday in October with show times at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. Our October feature is "Our Moon, Its Skies and Influence." The planetarium is in the front lobby of Tawes Hall near the middle of the FSU campus. Call 301-687-4270 for directions and more information.

The Cumberland Astronomy Club will meet on October 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the LaVale Public Library. All sky-gazers are welcome.

Doyle writes this column for those who would like to identify the brightest stars, planets and sights in their backyards. To ask questions or get a free brochure or sky charts, call the FSU Planetarium at 301-687-4270 and press 4. Doyle hosts "Sky Watch," a brief program on days of the week and sky sights that airs on weekday evenings just before 9 p.m. on WFWM on 91.9 FM in western Garrett County and at 96.3 FM around Oakland. Doyle's e-mail address is rdoyle@frostburg.edu.

LEARNING SOME TRICKS – Students at Dennett Road Elementary School were recently entertained with a "USA YO-YO Extravaganza," an assembly about teaching students to do their best. Charles "Corby" Stephens gave the 45-minute character building assembly based on NED, which is an acronym for the three aspects of becoming a champion: Never give up, Encourage others, and Do your best. After the assembly, the students had a week in which they could purchase yo- yos. Stephens is from Pittsburgh, Pa., and has performed twice at the White House.

Krispy Kreme Sale To Benefit Broad Ford Elem.

Students at Broad Ford Elementary School will once again be selling Krispy Kreme doughnuts during the weekend events of Autumn Glory to raise funds for school programming. Last year they sold 1,260 dozen. This is a chance for Garrett Countians and visitors who have enjoyed these glazed doughnuts when they travel to enjoy them right here at home.

The students, along with parents and teachers, will be selling doughnuts and refreshments are several points throughout the Autumn Glory festivities. The glazed doughnuts are being delivered fresh from a Krispy Kreme store, and will be sold for 50 cents each or $6 a dozen. This sale is one of the first activities of the BOBCAT group, a parent-teacher organization at Broad Ford.

Doughnut sales will take place at three different locations on Saturday, Oct. 11. They will be along Second Street before the Feature Parade, at the craft fair at Broad Ford Elementary School following the parade, and at a residence along U.S. Route 219 across from the Christmas Chalet at Deep Creek Lake.

Any person or business interested in ordering a dozen or two doughnuts in advance can call Kim Smith now to place an order at 301-387-7134. All orders must be pre-paid and will be delivered to the school on the afternoon of Wednesday, Oct. 8.

Awarded Child Care Credential

Belinda Mayle of the Garrett County Community Action Committee has been awarded a Child Development Associate (CDA) Credential in recognition of outstanding work with young children. Mayle is an assistant teacher with the GCCAC Early Head Start Program in Oakland. Early Head Start is a child and family development program serving children six weeks to 36 months of age, and pregnant women.

The credential was awarded by the Council for Professional Recognition in Washington, D.C., which represents the early childhood profession and works to improve child care by evaluating and recognizing the skills of child care providers.

As part of her assessment process, Mayle was observed working with young children or families by an early childhood professional. She was required to demonstrate the ability to work with families to develop children's physical and intellectual capabilities in a safe and healthy learning environment.

For more information on the GCCAC Early Head Start Program, persons may call 301-334-4211 or 301-533-0270.

Steve Thomas

Q: What happened to Steve Thomas from "This Old House"? He disappeared without explanation. –Laurie in Sacramento, Calif.

A: There's no dirty little secret. It's simply that, after 14 years on "This Old House," Thomas wanted to move on to other things, reportedly including some new projects on the DIY Network. He left under very amicable terms and will continue to be seen in repeats of older episodes of "This Old House."

New host Kevin O'Connor is still in "pinch me, I must be dreaming" mode. The former bank executive landed his "House" gig through sheer serendipity, after he and his wife, Kathleen, e-mailed "Ask This Old House" for tips on renovating their first home, a Queen Anne Victorian.

To the couple's shock, a "This Old House" crew showed up to offer advice and assistance, and the show's producers noticed O'Connor's easy on-camera rapport with the "House" team. He spent much of the past summer at "This Old House boot camp" with master carpenter Norm Abram, general contractor Tom Silva, heating and plumbing guru Richard Trethewey and landscape contractor Roger Cook. "My friends are so jealous," O'Connor laughs.

Q: Is Jackie Swanson, the actress who played Woody's girlfriend (later wife) Kelly on "Cheers," the same woman driving a Ford Explorer that meets up with a submarine on an ice floe in a current Ford TV ad? –Ty Bass, Glendale, Ariz.

A: Yes, it is, Ty, and the fact that you recognized her freaks me out a little. Very impressive.

Q: Eric Close of "Without a Trace" starred in another series some years ago. What was it? –J.J. Turley, Paramus, N.J.

A: Actually, Close, 36, has been in several series, although I suspect you may be thinking of "Now and Again," a 1999-2000 CBS sci-fi series, in which his character was an accident victim whose brain was put into a new, biogenetically engineered body.

Prior to that, Close starred in the short-lived CBS 1998 Western "The Magnificent Seven," the NBC alien invasion thriller "Dark Skies" (1996-97), "Sisters" (NBC, 1995-96), "McKenna" (ABC, 1994-95) and his TV series debut, the NBC soap "Santa Barbara" (1992-93).

In Focus

Sharon Stone plays Sheila Carlisle, a successful attorney who says God speaks to her, in ABC's "The Practice" Sunday, Oct. 5.

Carlisle is fired from her job for mental incompetency, and her pal Alan Shore (James Spader) tries to help her. This sets up a three-episode arc for the movie actress.

Simultaneously, there are developments in the case of Brad Stanfield (Chris O'Donnell), whom Ellenor and Jamie (Camryn Manheim, Jessica Capshaw) are defending.

Recognizing And Reporting Child Abuse Class Set

A class titled "Recognizing and Reporting Child Abuse" has been set for Monday, Oct. 20, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Garrett County Health Department in Oakland. The class is being offered by the Professional Development Consortium at Garrett College.

This basic course is designed primarily for mandate reporters in the following categories: health care, education, human services, and law enforcement; however, it would also be suitable for any citizen/professional interested in the topic, according to a spokesperson. Participants will gain knowledge of the child protection system, especially the recognition of child maltreatment and how to make accurate reports, as well as what agencies are available to assist children in need.

The Professional Development Consortium is composed of several Garrett County social services, health, and mental health agencies, and was formed to provide affordable professional development to Garrett County agencies and organizations. Classes are open to the public as space allows.

For more information or to register, persons may call Sue Smith at 301-387-3080. Participants will be eligible for CEU credits upon completion of the class.

CLUB DONATES TO SCHOOLS – The Southern Garrett County Republican Women's Club has continued its annual contributions to President Bush's No Child Left Behind program through donations of student school supplies to local middle and elementary schools. In the photo above, Nita Roberts made the presentation to Kitzmiller Elementary School, and the children presented her with personalized hand-made thank-you notes. In the front, from the left, are Brandon Stieringer, Leah Welch, Shannon Harvey, Melanie Wilson, and Olivia Berg. In the back are principal Barb Baker, Destiny Lee, Logan Tichinel, Abigail Hopkins, Ronnie Warnick, Cheyenne Evans, and Roberts. At the bottom left, James Morris, principal of Bloomington School, accepts the supplies for his school. Dana McCauley, principal of Crellin Elementary School, accepts the supplies in the bottom right photo. Persons wanting more information on how to assist the club may call 301-334-2147.

State Gets $19.8M For Reducing Out-Of-Wedlock Births

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services will award Maryland $19.8 million for experiencing one of the nation's largest declines in out-of-wedlock births, HHS Secretary Tommy G. Thompson recently announced.

Maryland is among four states to receive a portion of the $100 million federal awards. The federal government provides bonuses to states that achieve the largest reduction in the ratio of out-of-wedlock births to total births. Colorado, Wyoming, Texas, and the District of Columbia also will receive a $19.8 million bonus, while the U.S. Virgin Islands will receive $888,500.

"We are pleased that the federal government has recognized Maryland for all we have done to reduce out-of-wedlock births, which is an important goal for this administration," Governor Robert L. Ehrlich Jr. said. "While the bonus is a great honor, we realize that we have plenty of work ahead to ensure the well-being of Maryland's children."

The bonuses come under the 1996 Welfare Reform legislation and are awarded for declines from 1998 to 2001. The HHS National Center for Health Statistics compiles the birth data based on records submitted by the states and compares the proportion for the most recent two-year period to that for the preceding two year period.

DHR Secretary Christopher J. McCabe said the reductions in out-of-wedlock births resulted in large part from the spectrum of programs and services the department provides. He pointed to the department's Home Visitation program and to its Young Fathers, Responsible Fathers program, which encourages young men to become more involved in the lives of their children.

"The purpose is not just to have programs revolve only around the mothers, but to also design programs around fathers," McCabe said. "This department is working to remove all the barriers that make life difficult for Maryland's children."

In order to receive bonuses, the top states also are required to show a decrease in their abortion rate between the most recent year and 1995.

ROSE TERRACE
ASSISTED LIVING FACILITY

When you or a loved one can no longer manage the rigors of independent living, consider a facility that provides professional care based on each resident`s unique needs. When you are seeking care provided in a home-like setting, where individuality and maximum independence is encouraged, consider Rose Terrace Assisted Living Facility.

A small assisted living facility, Rose Terrace is operated by the Area Agency on Aging. The facility accommodates only 9 residents, assuring greater opportunity for more personalized attention to each resident. Special activities are planned for residents wishing to participate. Family and friends are encouraged to visit residents on a regular basis. Residents` needs are reviewed and services modified regularly.

Fees are based on the level of care required by each resident and include all meals, 24 hour supervised care, assistance with ADLs, medication administration, laundry, cleaning, recreational opportunities, etc.

MONTHLY FEES
Level 1 Care	$1550
Level 2 Care	$2022

Individuals may qualify to receive a subsidy or participate in the Older Adults Waiver (a waiting list currently exists for both).

For more information, an application, personal tour or to place your name on our waiting list contact Area Agency on Aging at 301-334-2953 or 334-9431 ext. 140 (toll free 888-877-8403).

Senator Accepting Applications For Service Academies

U.S. Senator Paul S. Sarbanes recently announced that his office is now accepting applications for nomination to the four United States service academies for classes entering in 2004. The deadline for submitting completed applications is Friday, Nov. 7, 2003.

"I urge young people who are interested in attending the U.S. Naval Academy, U.S. Military Academy, U.S. Air Force Academy, or the Merchant Marine Academy to obtain a nomination application packet from my office," Sarbanes said. "The packet contains the necessary information and forms to apply for consideration of a nomination. Upon review of completed applications, candidates who appear to meet the minimum entrance standards established by the academies will be invited to appear for an interview before my Academy Interview Panel."

Applicants must be U.S. citizens who are Maryland residents; at least 17 years old, but have not yet passed their 23rd birthday by July 1, 2004; have high academic standing in school; and demonstrate extracurricular or community activities, or both, which show leadership potential.

Interested persons may obtain the nomination application packet by writing to Senator Paul S. Sarbanes, Tower One, Suite 1710, 100 S. Charles Street, Baltimore, MD 21201. Additional information is available on the senator's web site at sarbanes.senate.gov.

SUPPLEMENT COMBINATION AND OSTEOARTHRITIS

Osteoarthritis is also known as degenerative joint disease. It involves loss of the cartilage which cushions the joints between the bones. A recent analysis of date collected from 15 different studies regarding the use of glucosamine and chondroitin for osteoarthritis of the knee has concluded that these supplements do work and are safe. Researchers concluded that glucosamine slows the progression of osteoarthritis by slowing the loss of cartilage in the knee. This is a claim that no prescription drug can make. The analysis concluded that taking at least 1500 mg of glucosamine sulfate for at least 3 years was the most effective way to slow the degenerative process. Similar findings were found concerning the use of chondroitin alone, but the results were not as clear-cut. It was also concluded that the overall safety profile of glucosamine and chondroitin is excellent.

Both glucosamine and chondroitin significantly improved the symptoms of pain, stiffness, physical functioning, and mobility, usually within 2 weeks of starting therapy.

"Here we go again. 'Press this number, press that number'... and that generic music they always play while I wait for yet another recording. I'm going to be late for my meeting because I seem to be caught in this endless voicemail loop. I need to regain some control of my life! I need someone real to talk to."

In both the mundane and significant matters ask God to take over the control you crave, "...the mind controlled by the Spirit is life and peace." (Romans 8:6) Because our world is increasingly frantic, we need all the help we can get. The time you spend in God's House will be returned in good measure. God waits for you to talk to Him...to call upon Him in prayer and meditation...to serve your every need. The peace and the strength you will receive from Him will let you regain a more superior quality of control in your life.

Won't you form a personal relationship with your Heavenly Father? Visit Him this week in His House. Your Heavenly Father understands.

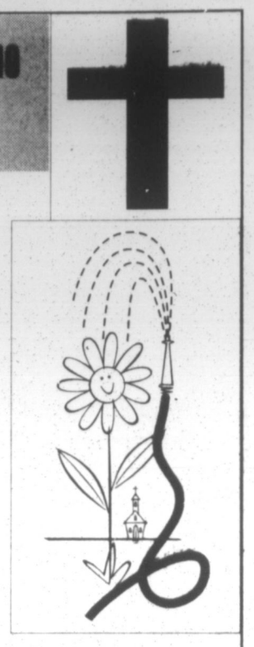
God Helps Those Who Help Themselves



We should pray as if we are sure that our own efforts will come to nothing, and work as if our prayers will be unanswered. This means that in prayer, we should trust completely in God and realize that even with our best efforts, things may not always work out as we wish; God may have other plans for us. However, we should work diligently to realize our goals and not assume that God will do the work for us. As Saint Ignatius, the founder of the Jesuit Order explained, we should use human means as though divine ones didn't exist, and divine means as though there were no human means. Our Lord wants us to pray and seek His help in all things. However, He also expects us to use our God-given talents to help ourselves. Blessings come to those who work, not to those who merely wait. Faith without works is empty and works without faith are blind. The ideal is to combine our good works with a strong faith, for God does indeed help those who help themselves.

For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so faith apart from works is dead.

R.S.V. James 2:26

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

Can you think of a word that rhymes with month, orange, silver or purple? It's been claimed that each of those four words has no rhyme in the English language.

• It's been reported that Woody Allen is so perpetually worried about his health that he takes his temperature every two hours, except when he's sleeping.

• Some people believe that pyramids are cursed — and not just the ones in Egypt. Take Bedford, Indiana, for example. It bills itself as the Limestone Capital of the World, and at one time the town received government grants totaling more than $700,000 to build an eight-story replica of the Great Pyramid at Giza out of native limestone. Work was going well on restaurants and a heliport, but as the foundation for the pyramid was being laid, funds ran out, and no new money could be raised. The project has long been abandoned, and weeds are now reclaiming the site.

• Some people claim to be able to tell the air temperature just by listening to crickets. Supposedly, all you have to do is add 37 to the number of cricket chirps you hear in a 15-second interval to get the temperature in degrees Fahrenheit.

• It was Charlotte Whitton who observed, "Whatever women do they must do twice as well as men to be thought half as good. Luckily, this is not difficult."

• Historians have put forth the theory that England's King Henry VIII behaved irrationally (divorcing and beheading wives, splitting from the Catholic church) because he had syphilis, probably contracted from a prostitute when he was 16 years old.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Oct. 6, 1683, encouraged by William Penn's offer of 5,000 acres of land in the colony of Pennsylvania and the freedom to practice their religion, the first Mennonites arrive in America aboard the Concord.

• On Oct. 7, 1780, during the American Revolution, Patriot irregulars under Colonel William Campbell defeat Tories under Major Patrick Ferguson at the Battle of King's Mountain in South Carolina.

• On Oct. 8, 1944, the radio show "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet" airs its first episode. The show focused on the comic situations of a young family that was based on the real-life family of show founders and stars Ozzie and Harriet Nelson.

• On Oct. 11, 1962, Pope John XXIII convenes an ecumenical council of the Roman Catholic Church — the first in 92 years. In summoning this general meeting of the bishops, the pope hoped to bring spiritual rebirth to Catholicism.

• On Oct. 10, 1973, less than a year before Richard Nixon's resignation as president of the United States, Spiro Agnew becomes the first U.S. vice president to resign in disgrace. On the same day, he pleaded no contest to a charge of federal income-tax evasion in exchange for the dropping of charges of political corruption.

• On Oct. 9, 1975, Andrei Dmitriyevich Sakharov, the Soviet physicist who helped build the USSR's first hydrogen bomb, is awarded the Nobel Prize for Peace in recognition of his struggle against "the abuse of power and violations of human dignity in all its forms."

• On Oct. 12, 2000, 17 sailors were killed and 38 wounded in a terrorist attack on the USS Cole. Two suicide bombers alleged to be members of Osama bin Laden's al Qaeda terrorist network used explosives to blow a 40-by-40-foot hole in the side of the U.S. Navy destroyer, which was docked in the port of Yemen.

Q. I have approximately 100 jewelry boxes, most with musical compartments. All are earlier wooden ones — no plastic. Where can I find out how much my collection is worth and, perhaps, how to market it? — Grace, Quincy, Ill.

A. The photographs you sent me of your collection are quite impressive. You might begin your quest by contacting the Musical Box Society International. The closest chapter to you is the Mid-America one, c/o Mark Mitchell, 4498 Smithfield Ave., Shadyside, OH 43947. The e-mail and Web site addresses are mbsi@estreet.com; and www.mbsi.org.

Q. I have some old Look and Life magazines that I hope are worth something. Who can I contact to find out? — Mrs. C.W., Morristown, Tenn.

A. Older magazines have become quite collectible in recent years. There are several excellent dealers, including Charles Zayic, P.O. Box 57, Ellsworth, ME 04605; Denis Jackson, P.O. Box 1958, Sequim, WA 98382; and Mike Sandusky, 221 E. Sixth Street, No. 125 Rear, Tucson, AZ 85705. One of my favorite price guides is Collectible Magazines: Identification and Price Guide by David K. Henkel and published by HarperResource.

Q. I was surprised to read in your column about mercury glass. I inherited several pieces and would like you to appraise them. — Jane, Westmoreland, Tenn.

A. I appreciate your letter, but I do not provide appraisals, only general information. To get an appraisal, you should contact a professional in your area.

Paw's corner

by Sam Mazzotta

Paw-fect Care

Q. How do you clip a dog's toenails? — Kaitlin M., Burlington, Vt.

A. Clipping your dog's toenails is pretty easy — it's getting the dog to sit still during the process that's the problem! Young dogs can be trained to tolerate nail clipping, but older, larger dogs that aren't accustomed to it can be difficult to hold in place.

Active dogs that run and play on a variety of surfaces typically don't need their nails trimmed as frequently (or at all). More sedentary pooches or those that walk mostly on soft surfaces, however, tend to grow their nails longer, which can lead to discomfort.

The trick to nail clipping is to do it very gently and carefully. Clip too deeply and you might snip off a bit of connective tissue, resulting in a spurt of blood and a howl of protest from a canine that may not let you touch his paws again for some time. So, do it right: purchase clippers designed for your dog at the pet store. Trim nails in good light so you can see where the live part of the nail starts (the part you want to avoid, with a bluish tinge). If you're uncertain how much to snip away, clip only enough to keep the nail off the ground when your dog stands normally. Once the clipping part is done, file the nail to round it off neatly.

What if you cut too deep? Let the wound bleed for a while, and then press it closed with a gauze pad. When the bleeding stops, apply nonstinging iodine and allow your dog to go and assuage his wounded pride.

One nail-related emergency: If your dog tears a nail, hold him fast (get an adult helper) and pull the torn nail out in one quick motion. Disinfect and bandage the wound. If your dog cannot be held in place for this procedure, take it to the vet right away, as left untreated, the injury can cause recurring pain.

Nature Connection

By Liz McDowell and Ron Boyer

You've been stacking firewood in preparation for the fast-approaching cold of winter. As you lift one of the remaining logs onto the splitter, you detect movement on the ground. Though your brain immediately labels the long, limbless form as a snake, your eyes scan for more clues to its identity. At a safe distance you note a "Y" shaped mark at the base of its neck, and large black-bordered blotches down its back. You're certain it's not a timber rattlesnake or northern copperhead, two poisonous snakes found in Garrett County. You gently grab it behind its head to examine its belly and spy the characteristic black and white checkerboard pattern. There's no doubt now – the reptile in your hands is the eastern milk snake, formally known as lampropeltis trangulum trangulum.

Despite its common name (and contrary to the old wives' tale), the milk snake does not inhabit barns to milk cows for food. The snakes often live in barns to take advantage of a plentiful supply of mice, their favorite food. In addition to barns, milk snakes are frequently found around houses, along power lines, and near forest edges. Though mature eastern milk snakes eat mainly rodents and other small mammals, the juveniles prefer to eat other snakes. Like all constrictors, the eastern milk snake subdues its prey by coiling its body around it, slowly tightening its grip until its victim has suffocated.

Eastern milk snakes are active from around mid-April through mid-October. The adult length averages 32 inches, with males just slightly larger than females. After mating in late spring, the female lays from 3 to 24 leathery, oval eggs under large woody debris and rocks, or in piles of compost, soil, or sawdust. The young average roughly eight inches in length when they hatch from the eggs in mid-August. Though the coloration of the eastern milk snake is quite variable, its pattern is fairly distinctive.

If threatened, the milk snake may vibrate its tail, hiss, and even strike. Before attempting to handle any snakes become familiar with the species in your area by carefully reviewing some reptile field guides.

After examining and photographing a snake, it is best to quickly release it back into the wild in the same location that it was captured. A decision to keep a snake in a terrarium is a real long-term commitment. It's recommended that they not be released into the wild if they have been in captivity for more than 30 days or have been kept with other amphibians or reptiles, since they could spread harmful viruses, bacteria, and fungi to native populations. Possessing certain reptiles or amphibians may actually require a permit. For more information about snakes in Maryland, check the Maryland Department of Natural Resources Wildlife & Heritage Service Web site at www.dnr.state.md.us/wildlife/snakeinfo.

Many people are extremely fearful of snakes. The more you learn about snakes, the more you will discover that they are incredibly helpful animals deserving our respect and a place in the environment.

Market Fresh Producers Plan AGF Celebration

The Mountain Fresh Producers Association has extended an invitation to the public to its Autumn Glory Festival three-day market celebration, slated for Oct. 10-12 at the Oakland Town Parking Lot pavilion. The celebration will operate from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day.

Local producers, bakers, and crafters will be on hand with a wide selection of items for sale. Along with the locally grown produce, home-baked goods, and a variety of hand-crafted items, there will be painted pumpkins, kettle corn, live entertainment, and children's activities, according to organizers.

There is still a limited amount of space available for any persons interested in participating as a seller at the celebration. The fee for set-up is $35 per day, or $100 for all three days. A reservation application may be obtained from Cathy Sanders, Mtn. Fresh Market coordinator, who may be reached at 301-334-4580 or e-mailed at cs@iceweb.net or marketmaster@mountainfresh.org.

Fall Fun Fest Slated At Deep Creek Lake SP

The annual Fall Fun Fest at Deep Creek Lake State Park is set for this Saturday, Oct. 4, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

At 11 a.m., the Fall Fun Fest will begin with a scarecrow-making event. Participants and their families should bring outfits, old clothes, costumes, or props for creating scarecrows. Participants must also provide the necessary brains, hearts, imagination, and ingenuity. The park will supply thread and cord, straw for stuffing the creatures, and markers to draw scarecrow faces. Participants should expect to escort their new scarecrow friends home with them.

At 12:30 p.m. on the deck of the Discovery Center, a contest will be held to judge the merits of the assembled scarecrows.

At 1 p.m., a naturalist will lead a hike into the fall woods. Hikers should wear comfortable walking shoes and bring along light jackets and something to drink. Hiking time will run approximately one hour.

Fall hours at the Discovery Center are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays.

RAM OF THE MONTH NAMED – Southern High ninth grader John Knotts (center) was recently recognized as RAM (Random Acts of Maturity) Student of the Month by Principal Tom Woods (right). During athletic practices after school in the gym, volleyball coach Sue Newton (left) noticed a personal belonging was missing. Knotts aided Newton in her search and recovered the item. "Congratulations to John Knotts for doing the right thing and setting a good example for other students to follow," said Woods.

Maryland Has Highest Median Income, But Figures Misleading

by Makeba Scott Hunter
Capital News Service

WASHINGTON – Maryland's median household income of $55,394 was one of the highest in the nation in 2002, despite a slight drop from the year before that mirrored a nationwide decline, the Census Bureau reported Friday.

The report said Maryland's median income fell a "statistically insignificant" $271 between 2001 and 2002 and the poverty level increased by 0.9 percent. That was slightly better than the nation, where the number of people in poverty increased by 1.7 million, to 34.6 million, and the median income fell 1.1 percent, or about $500, to $42,400.

Experts attribute the downturn to the loss of jobs caused by the recession, which began in March 2001 and technically ended in November 2001.

The trend is "not surprising," said Bob Zahradnik, a policy analyst for the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, "because unemployment went up. And as unemployment goes up, income goes down. As incomes go down, poverty goes up."

While Maryland's median income was slightly higher than that in Minnesota and Alaska, the Census Bureau said the three states were close enough statistically to be tied for first place. Because the report released Friday was based on a Census survey, the numbers are not considered as reliable as those from the decennial census.

But experts warn that Maryland's relative wealth is misleading. "For every state there's a story that the numbers don't tell," Zahradnik said. "There's a real geographic inequality in terms of the distribution of income in Maryland."

He said the extreme wealth concentrated in counties such as Montgomery, Howard, and Prince George's camouflages the immense poverty in areas like Baltimore, the Lower Shore, and western Maryland.

The latest county-by-county numbers released by the Census confirm that. In 1999, the most recent year for which county numbers are available, Montgomery County's median household income was $71,551, compared to the statewide average of $52,868. Baltimore City's median income that same year was only $30,078.

"When you look at numbers for a state like Maryland, it seems there is no problem," Zahradnik said. "But, in reality you have to look a little deeper."

Some are concerned that Maryland's "illusion" of wealth will hinder federal and state aid for social programs.

"We hope that people who are the policy makers in this state and the general public realize that, in fact, there are great pockets of poverty in this state," said Lynda Meade, chairwoman of Welfare Advocates, a statewide coalition on welfare. "Every day in Baltimore City, 800 people line up for a meal at Our Daily Bread soup kitchen," she said. "Clearly the need is there."

The reports on poverty and income that were released Friday also showed that poverty rates in the Midwest increased in 2002, while the rates in the South, Northeast, and West showed no statistieally relevant change. Whites and Asians were the only racial groups whose median income did not decrease during the period, the Census said. It also reported that women earned 77 percent of what men earned, matching an all-time high.

"ATTENTION ALL YE PEOPLE OF THE MOUNTAIN, I present you Lara Larew who shall be crowned Queen Ceres the 62nd, and Patrick Eisentrout who shall be crowned King Buckwheat the 62nd," said General Chairman Thomas Robinson during Friday's coronation ceremony at the Craig Civic Center in Kingwood. "They shall reign over the 62nd annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival." Brigadier General John E. Barnett, the West Virginia Assistant Adjutant General, who served as this year's coronation official, is shown above with the royal couple at the completion of the ceremony. (Photos by Patti Grose)

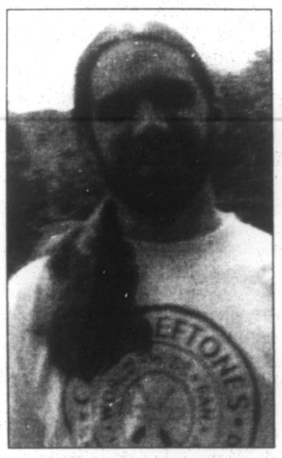
Let's Get Down To Business!

This is a feature of The Republican to better acquaint our readers with various area business establishments.



CHAD PITTS

Chad Pitts, artist and custom glass blower, enjoys getting his inspiration from the stream that flows beside his new studio outside Albright in nearby Preston County.

Originally from Hubbard, Ohio, he attended art school in Pittsburgh to prepare for a career in graphic design. However, he soon realized that the stressful nature of the business was not for him. He then moved to Virginia Beach where he earned a living constructing houses and was forced to reserve his creativity for artistic painting for captured spare time. Many of his paintings were featured in regional magazines and numerous galleries in the Virginia Beach area.

Pitts initially learned glassblowing as an apprentice making glass figurines. His creativity could no longer be subdued, and his private glassblowing career began by creating goblets, oil lamps and wedding cake tops. After several weeks of experimenting, he created a unique and original process he calls "inside out" which produces one-of-a-kind beads with distinctive shapes and deep, intense colors.

His work is regularly shown at several Virginia studios: Cristallo Art and Glass Gallery in Williamsburg; Arts Afire Gallery in Alexandria; and The Bead Cottage, in Virginia Beach, which may soon open a second shop in nearby Morgantown. Pitts has exhibited at the Bead Museum in Glendale, Ariz., and the Corning Museum of Glass in Corning, N.Y.

A member of the International Society of Glass Bead Makers, he recently attended a conference in Boston where he met with artists from all parts of the world.

While still in Virginia Beach, Pitts provided a week of private lessons to a young apprentice who traveled there from West Virginia. He said he now wants to add outreach to his program. He wants to support environmental projects and art awareness programs in general. He enjoyed demonstrating his art at several Virginia Beach schools and his goal is to inspire and evoke creativity in people from all walks of life.

Pitts and Charise O'Shell are busy settling into their farmhouse they call home just outside Albright, W.Va., with their two dogs Scrapple and Ophelia.

CHARISE O'SHELL

Charise O'Shell, a certified birth doula and active member of DONA, (Doula. of North America), the international non-profit organization of doulas, recently moved to the area from Virginia Beach and is excited about offering her skills and services for soon-to-be mothers.

What is a doula? (Pronounced, 'doo-la'). The word "doula" comes from ancient Greek and is now used to refer to someone who provides continuous physical, emotional, and informational support to the mother before, during, and just after childbirth.

A doula also provides emotional and practical support during the postpartum period, which reduces the risk of mood disorders and eases the transition into parenting. O'Shell added that physicians, midwives, and nurses are responsible for the medical aspects of childbirth by monitoring the labor and assessing and treating the medical conditions of both mother and baby.

Studies have shown that when doulas attend births, labors are generally shorter, there are fewer complications and babies are healthier and breastfed more easily. Experienced mothers, as well as first-time mothers, partners, and coaches all benefit by the skills of a doula. A doula can provide guidance and make suggestions to help the father feel more relaxed and to share in the birth experience at a level that is comfortable to him, said O'Shell.

She said she plans to offer doula services to mothers planning to deliver at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Preston Memorial Hospital, Ruby Memorial Hospital and Mon General Hospital. She said she is relieved to have left behind her fast-paced schedule in Virginia Beach and to now be living in the peaceful mountains just outside Albright.

Grant Cty. Arts Council Slates Enactment

The Grant County Arts Council Inc. and Gary Michael, community sponsor, will present Chief Logan, a historical enactment on Tuesday, Oct. 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the Moomau Library in Petersburg.

This program is free and open to the public. It is presented with financial assistance from the West Virginia Humanities Council, a state program of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Persons requiring assistance should contact GCAC one week in advance at P.O. Box 988, Petersburg WV 26847 or e-mail emv1@hardynet.com.

THE PRIZE-WINNING PUMPKIN at the Buckwheat Festival was this 500-pound monster entered by Scott Wotring of Aurora. The one next to it weighed in at 162 pounds, and the next one, 184 pounds. Who said it was too wet for anything to grow this year?

Eglon Mountaineers To Collect Food

The Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club will meet on Oct. 13 and at that time members are asked to bring donations of food to be donated to the Preston Food Pantry. They would also like for others in the community to contribute, and will be going out to collect such donations. Those who would like them to visit may contact either one of the members or parents, or may call 735-6931 to notify the leader, Linda Lewis.

Aurora CEOS

At the Sept. 16 meeting of the Aurora Community Educational Outreach Service (CEOS) there were 12 members present for the 7:30 p.m. gathering in the Union Ambulance squad hall. Opening devotions were led by Wilda Harsh who read, "Honey Bees" and "Enough."

The Family Issues Committee will focus on reading to children. Several hints were given as to different methods that can be used in so doing. The Continuing Education Committee will continue its collection of pop tabs for the Ronald McDonald House, pill bottles for Med-Rite, postage stamps for veterans, and paper products for the Energy Express program. There also remains work to be done on the Butterfly Garden at the Aurora School.

On Sept. 19, the club went to Kingwood to sell car tickets, and five members were to be in the ticket booth on Sept. 27. Cancer Awareness Month began with a wreath hanging service at the courthouse on Sept. 22. On Oct. 6, club members wil distribute literature and pink ribbons at the Aurora Post Office to make people aware of the need of breast and prostate cancer screening.

Fall conference at Jackson's Mill is Oct. 14-16, with several members planning to attend. Issue chair persons were appointed for 2004 and all officers were retained for the 2004 year. Suggestions for January and February lessons are needed.

Ten members will participate in the Santa Tree for children this year. Dorothy Spaid was chosen as the CEOS of the year and will be showcased by the club. Two memorial donations will be given to their chosen fund in memory of Maxine Hauser and Alice Penzo.

Michele Moure spoke on the progress and upcoming events for the Aurora Area Historical Society, the Aurora Project, the general store. The computer for the family history project has arrived and a training class was scheduled for Sept. 22 at the community building. Plans are also being made for a quilt exhibit in 2004.

The club is making plans to go to Adaland Mansion near Philippi at Christmastime.

The vice president, Opal Myers, listed numerous uses for dryer sheets as her feature. Deloris Slawter shared an antique clock owned by her husband's grandmother. She was also winner of the pig-in-the-poke.

The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 21 at 7 p.m. at the squad hall, with Gail Rose scheduled to lead the lesson.

Aurora-Terra Alta Post 578 VFW

The annual picnic for members of Post 578 VFW and Auxiliary was held Aug. 9 at the Terra Alta Park, and there were 65 in attendance. The Country Trio, Bob Rumer, Harold Sereno, and Randy Thomas, entertained with string music, and Betty Sereno and Carol Rumer prepared the food. Several grants were given to various programs.

Post 578 and Auxiliary went to Rowlesburg on Sept. 1 to provide music for the ox roast, with 20 auxiliary members present.

On Sept. 4, the men and ladies traveled to Cortland Acres Nursing Home at Thomas, where the Country Trio provided music and Carol Rumer and Betty Sereno visited with patients.

A special remembrance of 9-11 was the theme for a program presented at the Aurora meeting of Union District Seniors on Sept. 11. Poppies and lollipops, as well as red, white, and blue ribbons, were presented to those in attendance. On the following day they accompanied the Union seniors to North Preston Farm Festival, where they presented a program about the poppy. The poppy sale will be Nov. 9. Again the Country Trio and Betty Sereno, Carol Rumer, and 25 seniors made the trip.

A gun safety program for 49 youth and their parents was held Sept. 13 at the Post home in Terra Alta and was repeated on Sept. 14. Refreshments were provided by the auxiliary.

The Country Trio and Auxiliary members Sereno and Rumer went to Heartland in Kingwood on Sept. 16, where they entertained the residents and served punch and cookies. The same group provided entertainment, also punch and cookies, for the residents at Hopemont on Sept. 17.

Birth Noted

A son was born on Sept. 26, at Cumberland Memorial Hospital to Dayton "Buck" and Julie Bolyard of Oakland. The baby weighed 5 pounds, 7.8 ounces at birth. Named Cody Dayton, he has an older half-brother, Mitchell.

Dayton and Betty Bolyard of Eglon are the paternal grandparents. Maternal grandparents are Larry Wagner of Oakland and Nancy Wagner of Oakland and Pennsylvania.

Personal Mention

Virginia Ann (Shaffer) Vanderpool was a weekend guest of her cousin, Barbara Heckert, in Eglon. She returned Monday to her home in Baltimore.

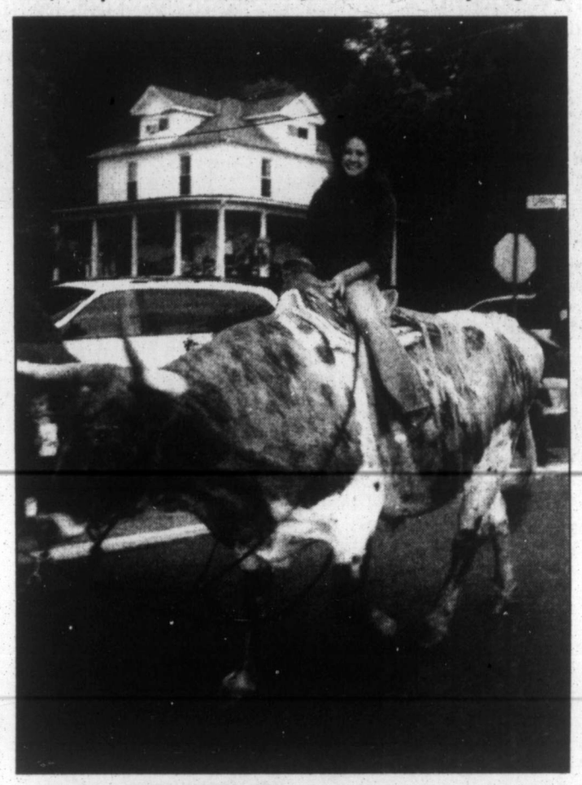
Neil and Nina (Evans) Wallace have been visiting friends and relatives in the area, and attended the Buckwheat Festival, their first time in more than 20 years.

Greta Weeks of Warrenton, Va., brought her mother, Naomi Teets of Boonsboro, Md., this weekend to the home of her aunt and uncle, Martha and Harold Holsopple, Red House, and also took her to visit friends and relatives in the surrounding area.

David and Delores Stemple spent the weekend with his sister, Wanda Melton, at Buffalo, W.Va., and returned Tuesday to their home at Aurora.

Recent donations to the Aurora VFD have been from Ron and Faye Bishop, Earl and Susan Selders, and from Aurora-Terra Alta Post 578 VFW.

John Allman succumbed to cancer on Sept. 22, and services for him were held Thursday, Sept. 25, from the Maple Spring Church. His wife, Mary, and children Billy Allman and Sue Yost, survive.



FOR THE SECOND YEAR, "Woody," a 2,200-pound Texas Longhorn steer owned by Dave and Barb Miller of Mountain Diamond farm in Tunnelton, was a highlight of the Buckwheat Festival's Farmers' Day parade. His rider is Ashley Miller, Terra Alta, daughter of Don Miller and Sandy Miller.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Army National Guard Staff Sgt. Thomas M. Queen recently received the Chief of Staff, Army Supply Excellence Award for "individual outstanding technical expertise, attention to detail, and professionalism as demonstrated" during an Army supply excellence program evaluation.

"The award recognized the soldier's dedication to service in the highest tradition of the Quartermaster Corps and the U.S. Army," said a military spokesperson.

Queen is a supply sergeant with the 229th Engineer Team at Camp Dawson, Kingwood and has 24 years of military service. He is the son of Sterling L. Queen and Louise B. Queen, both of Terra Alta. The sergeant is a 1980 graduate of Roosevelt Wilson High School, Clarksburg.

Don't miss out on this special edition.

CHOSEN FOR NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM – Natalie Domenick and Kathleen Pritts, both seniors at Southern High School, have recently been named commended students in the 2004 National Merit Scholarship Program. About 34,000 commended students throughout the nation are recognized for their academics. Although they will not continue in the 2004 competition for Merit Scholarship Awards, commended students placed among the top five percent of more than one million students who entered the 2004 competition by taking the 2002 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Pictured above, from the left, are Principal Tom Woods, Domenick, and Pritts.

MHEC Encourages Students To Take SAT, Visit Colleges

High school seniors planning to attend college should take the SAT and/or ACT this month, according to the Maryland Higher Education Commission. The SAT exam will be administered throughout the state on Oct. 11, and the ACT will be administered Oct. 25. Students are encouraged to contact their guidance counselors for times and locations.

In addition to taking the SAT/ACT, the Maryland Higher Education Commission encourages college-bound students this month to do a number of things to prepare for college: work on admissions essays; visit top school choices and while there, make appointments to talk with faculty, staff, and students; contact school's financial aid offices to determine which forms are required because some require special forms; and students applying to schools requiring demonstration of artistic ability should use the month to finalize portfolios, audition tapes, writing samples, or other evidence of talent.

Real Estate Facts by...

Lana Roby

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING "EARNEST"!

Imagine that you've just found your dream home. It's in a neighborhood where great homes rarely come on the market or don't stay there for long.

You make an offer to purchase, and then learn your offer was not the only one. What's more, your offer has been rejected and another has been accepted. What could you have done differently that might have insured acceptance of your offer?

First, make your offer stand out from the rest by including a large earnest money deposit. "Earnest" money is just that, it shows your genuine intention, desire and most importantly your ability to purchase the property. Remember, if your offer is not accepted, you get the earnest money back. If it is accepted, it goes towards the purchase price.

Securing pre-approval from a mortgage lender also lends great credibility to your offer. This shows you've already been approved by a lender to finance the cost of the home. The real estate agent can help you acquire such documentation.

While some offers are accepted with as little as $500 or $1,000 earnest money deposit, you can greatly increase your chances on a hot property by including a deposit of 5% or even 10%. Remember that your offer might be one of many, and a large earnest money deposit shows the sellers you are a very serious and motivated buyer.

Motion Sickness Prevention & Treatment

The term motion sickness refers to the nausea, dizziness, and weak feeling a person sometimes gets when they travel. This is the body's physical response to conflicting signals from the eyes and the inner ear's balancing organ. When information from these two clashes, the center in the brain, which is responsible for the vomit reflex, is fooled. In such situations this center signals the body to vomit.

Some of the drugs used for mild motion sickness can be bought over-the-counter (OTC). OTC drugs for motion sickness should be taken at least 30 minutes before traveling. The prescription drug scopolamine can be used for motion sickness as an oral medicine or as a skin patch. A single patch can be effective as a preventative for several days. Motion sickness medication should not be taken with alcohol or tranquilizers because the sedating side effects may add up unexpectedly. Some health experts suggest that several light, low-fat meals consumed every two hours or so before traveling may help prevent motion sickness.

Md. Corn Harvest Begins Picking Up

The week after Hurricane Isabel was spent surveying crop damage and repairing damaged farm buildings. Air temperatures cooled slightly to the 70s for highs and the 60s for lows. Rain in the early part of the week resulted in 3.9 days suitable for field work for the week ending Sept. 28. Corn silage harvest increased from 20 percent to 58 percent, well behind last year and the five-year average. Corn for grain harvest increased last week with 20 percent harvested, 43 percent behind last year, and 20 percent behind the five-year average. Lodging in corn is very prevalent in many counties, which may result in a slower harvest pace. Some yield losses are anticipated, but large losses are not expected.

Many soybean fields are turning color and starting to drop their leaves. Harvest is at least three to four weeks away. Sorghum fields are turning color fast and over 25 percent are mature. Sorghum harvest should begin in the next week or two. Small grains are starting to be seeded, specifically barley and rye. Farmers are on their fourth cutting of alfalfa and other hay. Apple harvest continues with 35 percent harvested, 28 percent behind last year, and 11 percent behind the five-year average.

Farm Service Agency Reports

SIGN-UP UNDER WAY FOR 2004 DIRECT AND COUNTER-CYCLICAL PROGRAM

Eric McCartney, county executive director of the Preston County Farm Service Agency, announces that the enrollment for the 2004 Direct and Counter-cyclical Program (DCP) began October 1.

Producers must sign contracts annually under the DCP, which is a change from Production Flexibility Contract requirements under previous farm legislation.

Producers have until June 1, 2004, to enroll for the 2004 DCP. Late-filed applications will be accepted through Sept. 30, 2004, if accompanied by a $100 late fee. Producers can opt out of participating in the program any year if they choose. For both the 2002 and 2003 programs, more than 98 percent of the eligible base acres were enrolled nationwide.

The 2002 Farm Bill authorizes direct and counter-cyclical payments to enrolled producers. Both payments are computed using the base acres and payment yields established for each farm. Producers receive direct payments at rates established by statute regardless of market prices.

Counter-cyclical payment rates, on the other hand, vary depending on market prices. Counter-cyclical payments are issued only when the effective price (which takes into account the direct payment rate, market price, and loan rate) for a crop is below the target price for the commodity. The following are the 2004 crop year direct payment rates and maximum potential counter-cyclical rates per bushel: wheat, 0.52, 0.65; corn, 0.28, 0.40; barley, 0.24, 0.15; and oats, 0.024, 0.086.

The following is the schedule of payments for the 2004 DCP: beginning December 2003: 50 percent advance direct payment; October 2004: 50 percent final direct payment; October 2004: first advance counter-cyclical payment (up to 35 percent of projected payment); February 2005: second advance counter-cyclical payment (up to 70 percent of projected payment less first advance); dates vary by crop: in general, 30 days following the end of the marketing year: final counter-cyclical payment (100 percent of actual payment, less any advances received).

By the end of October 2003, producers will have received some $8 billion in DCP payments for the 2002 crops and the direct and the first advance counter-cyclical payments (if any) for the 2003 crops. For all years, refunds to USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) will be due if there is a violation of eligibility requirements or, in the case of counter-cyclical payments, if the advance payments exceed the final payment rate.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Mortgage from Patricia A. Durst to Farmers Home Administration n/k/a Rural Housing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture dated September 28, 1994, and recorded in Liber 452, Folio 52 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, the holder of the indebtedness secured by a Mortgage assigned to Bradford I. Webb and Michael S. Levin, Assignees by instrument duly executed, acknowledged and recorded among the Land Records of the County aforesaid, default having occurred under the terms thereof, an Order to Docket having been filed C-03-7966 and at the request of the parties secured thereby, the undersigned Assignees will offer for sale at public auction

AT THE GARRETT COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT
ON THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 2003
AT 10:00 A.M.

ALL THAT LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS THEREON situated in Garrett County, Maryland, and described as follows:

See Metes and Bounds description set forth in that certain Deed dated September 28, 1984, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in Liber 451, page 29.

The property is improved by a dwelling. In fee-simple.

The property and improvements will be sold in an "AS IS" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, including building and/or environmental violations, if any, with no warranty, expressed or implied as to the description or condition of the property or improvements.

TERMS OF SALE: A cash deposit, certified check or other method of payment acceptable to Assignees, for Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) at the time of sale will be required of all purchasers other than the mortgage holder. Balance of the purchase price is to be paid in cash within ten (10) business days of the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. If payment of the balance does not take place within ten (10) business days of ratification, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. Unless purchased by the mortgage holder, interest will be paid on unpaid purchase money at the rate of interest set forth in the note from date of sale to date of settlement. Taxes, water rent and ground rent, if any, to be adjusted to date of sale. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis to be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for removing anyone in possession of the premises.

If Assignees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law or in equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit. Upon refund of the deposit, the sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Assignees.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Deep Creek Watershed Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a public hearing on Thursday, October 16, 2003 starting at 7:30 p.m. in the County Commissioners meeting room, Second Floor, Courthouse Annex, Oakland. The Board will review the following docketed cases:

SE-338 an application submitted by Maryellen Miller for a Special Exception permit to establish a retail business intended primarily for neighborhood convenience shopping. The property (tax map 59, parcel 516) is located at 2205 Glendale Road and is zoned Lake Residential.

VR-557 an application submitted by Sarah H. McCracken for a Variance to reconfigure two existing, "grandfathered," residential lots with an area of less than one acre and a lot width of less than 150'. The property (tax map 58, parcel 416, lot 2 and 3) is located at 172 Paradise Heights and is zoned Lake Residential.

VR-588 an application submitted by Patricia M. Taylor for a Variance to reconfigure four existing, "grandfatnered," residential lots into three new nonconforming residential lots with an area of less than one acre and a lot width of less than 150'. The property (tax map 57, parcel 217) is located at 218 McComas Beach Terrace and is zoned Lake Residential.

INTP-15 - an application submitted by Jerry L. Humberson for an interpretive hearing regarding a "lot of record" will be continued from the September 18, 2003, hearing. The Zoning Administrator has interpreted that two proposed building lots are not separate and distinct parcels of and, on a legally recorded deed, filed among the Land Records of Garrett County. The property (tax map 50, parcel 278) is located adjacent to 39 Leo Friend Road and is zoned Lake Residential.

Interested persons are invited to attend.

By the authority of the Board of Zoning Appeals

MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT
WATER MANAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION
NOTICE OF TENTATIVE DETERMINATION

Garrett County
Application for State Discharge Permit 00-DP-2997, NPDES Permit MD0066478:

Garrett County Office of Solid Waste & Recycling, 3118 Oakland-Sang Run Road, Oakland, MD 21550, submitted an application for renewal of a permit to discharge an average of 27,500 gallons per day of groundwater and variable volumes of storm water from a closed public solid waste sanitary landfill, located on Oakland-Sang Run Road, four miles north of Oakland, MD, to Round Glade Run.

The Department is proposing to re-issue this permit with the following requirements: limitations at Outfall 002 for total suspended solids (27 mg/l average, 45 mg/l max.), BOD (30 mg/l average, 45 mg/l max.), Total Iron (3.0 mg/l average, 6.0 mg/l max.), Total Manganese (2.0 mg/l average, 4.0 mg/l max.), Total Silver (0.0069 mg/l max.), Total Ammonia (4.9 mg/l average, 10 mg/l max.), Total Zinc (0.11 mg/l average, 0.20 mg/l max.), Alpha Terpineol (0.016 mg/l average, 0.033 mg/l max.) Benzoic Acid (0.071 mg/l average, 0.12 mg/l max.), p-Cresol (.014 mg/l average, 0.025 mg/l max.), Phenol (.015 mg/l average, .026 mg/l max.), Total Selenium (.034 mg/l maximum) and pH range (6.0-9.0). The permit also includes requirements for in-stream monitoring and a stormwater pollution prevention plan. The permit allows reduction or elimination of monitoring at Outfall 002 upon a determination that the effluent is not landfill leachate.

A public hearing on the tentative determination will be scheduled if a written request is received by October 16, 2003. The request should be sent to the Maryland Department of the Environment, Water Management Administration, 1800 Washington Blvd. STE 455, Baltimore, Maryland 21230-1708, Attn.: Edwal Stone, and must include the name, address, and telephone number (home and work) of the person making the request, the name of any other party whom the person making the request may represent, and the name of the facility and permit number. Failure to request a hearing by October 16, 2003, will constitute a waiver of the right to a public hearing on the tentative determination. Written comments concerning the tentative determination will be considered in the preparation of a final determination if submitted to the Department, to the attention of Mr. Stone at the above address, on or before October 27, 2003. Any hearing-impaired person who requests a hearing may also request an interpreter at the hearing by contacting Mr. Stone at 410-537-3323 or by written request to the above address at least ten working days prior to the scheduled hearing date.

Information supporting the tentative determination, including the draft permit and fact sheet, may be reviewed by contacting Mr. Stone at the above telephone number to make an appointment or by written request to Mr. Stone at the above address. Copies of documents may be obtained at a cost of $0.32 per page.

DLLR Administers Disaster Unemployment Assistance for Residents Affected by Hurricane Isabel

The Federal Emergency Management Agency has declared each of Maryland's 23 counties and the City of Baltimore disaster areas due to the hurricane on September 18, 2003.

As a result of the declaration, Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) benefits are available to certain individuals who are otherwise ineligible for unemployment insurance benefits. This includes individuals who live or work in these areas, and are unemployed as a direct result of the disaster, and are self-employed or work in jobs for employers not covered under the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law. Generally, if the individuals are eligible for any state unemployment insurance benefits, the state benefits will be paid.

The disaster assistance period for the DUA benefits began Sunday, September 21, 2003, and lasts for 26 weeks. The first payable week of DUA benefits is the week ending September 27, 2003. DUA claims must be filed within 30 days after the announcement of DUA benefits; thus all initial claims must be filed by the close of business October 22, 2003.

Claims for DUA benefits may be filed by calling your nearest DLLR Claims Center, located throughout the State of Maryland, from 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE that on August 6, 2003, Angela Blythe, Esquire, Assignee for the Purpose of Foreclosure and Collection of Liens on behalf of Lakewood Resorts Council of Owners, Inc. ("Lakewood Resorts"), filed an Order to Docket Suit and other pleadings in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, seeking foreclosure and collection of liens on behalf of Lakewood Resorts.

Plaintiff's Order to Docket Suit and other pleadings filed herein allege, among other things, that each of the Defendants are the owners of certain individual timeshare intervals at Lakewood Resorts Condominiums, McHenry, Garrett County, Maryland, and have failed to pay assessments, maintenance fees and expenses on said timeshare intervals as duly established by the Lakewood Resorts Council of Owners, Inc.

Plaintiff's Order to Docket Suit and other pleadings filed herein further allege, among other things, that the aforesaid Condominium, and the contract under which this action is taken, is established by that certain Time Share Instrument, Declaration and Bylaws made by Lakewood Resorts, Inc., and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, as the same have been from time to time amended or supplemented.

Plaintiff's Order to Docket Suit and other pleadings filed herein further allege, that each of the Defendants are in default on the said assessments, maintenance fees and expenses related to the timeshare intervals individually owned by them, and that said assessments, maintenance fees and expenses as set forth in the Affidavit of Debt filed herein are justly due and owing from the Defendants.

WHEREUPON, it is, therefore, this 22nd day of September, 2003, by the Circuit Court in and for Garrett County, Maryland,

ORDERED, that the Plaintiff cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper of general circulation published in Garrett County, Maryland, once each week for three successive weeks before the 22nd day of October, 2003, giving notice to each of the Defendants named herein of the object and substance of these proceedings and warning them that their responses must be filed with the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, no later than the 21st day of November, 2003, and that if they fail to file a timely response, judgment by default may be entered against them for the relief sought.

A resolution of the Mayor and Town Council of Accident, Maryland, adopted pursuant to the authority of Article XI-E of the Constitution of Maryland and Section 13 of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, 1957 Edition as amended, to repeal Sections 1-86 and 1-87 of the present Charter of the Town of Accident, said Sections being entitled: "Misdemeanors" and "Municipal Infractions," in their entirety, and to reenact a new Section 1-86/187 in its place and stead.

Be it resolved by the Mayor and Town Council of Accident that the present sections 1-86 and 1-87 of the present Charter of the Town of Accident, being entitled: "Misdemeanors" and "Municipal Infractions," are repealed in their entirety, and replaced by a new Section 1-86/181, "Enforcement," in their place and stead, a true copy of which will be posted at the Accident Town Hall for a period of forty (40) days following this enactment. A fair summary of the changes proposed is as follows.

1) Section 1-86/87, Enforcement: The Mayor and Town Council may provide that violations of any Town Ordinance shall be a "municipal infraction" as defined by Article 23A, Section 3, of the Annotated Code of Maryland, unless the violation is declared to be a felony or misdemeanor by State Law. All "municipal infractions" shall be considered civil offenses and shall be handled in accordance with the procedure set forth in Article 23A, Section 3, of the Annotated Code of Maryland, or any amendments thereto. The Mayor and Council shall from time to time, by resolution, establish the level of fines to be imposed for all such "municipal infractions." Nothing contained in this section shall prohibit or prevent the town from seeking other legal remedies such as injunctions, criminal prosecution, or damages in a civil action pursuant to Section 7.01 of Article 66B Annotated Code of Maryland as amended.

The Mayor and Town Council of the Town of Accident hereby gives public notice of the adoption of this Charter Revision and its intent to publish a fair summary of the changes proposed by this Revision in a local newspaper of general circulation in the town not less than four (4) times, at weekly intervals, within a period of at least forty (40) days following the enactment of this Resolution.

If a proper petition for a referendum has not been received within the forty (40) days timeframe, this Charter Revision shall become and be considered the Charter of the Town of Accident in all respects to be effective and observed as such upon the 1st day of November 2003.

Road Closings Announced For Feature Parade

Autumn Glory festivities, which began Wednesday with the kick-off reception, will continue through Sunday, bringing crowds into Oakland for this annual celebration. The Grand Feature Parade, slated to begin at 1 p.m. on Saturday, will require changing traffic patterns and limiting parking for several hours prior to and during the parade.

Second Street will be closed to traffic from Liberty Street to Center Street at 9:30 a.m. Saturday for the Garrett College Pipes and Drums 10 a.m. concert of Scottish and Celtic music in front of the viewing stand. At 11:30 a.m. the Pleasant View Baptist Church will present music, puppetry, and drama along Second Street in front of the Post Office.

Both Third and Second streets, from Omar Street to Alder Street, will be closed to all vehicles at 11 a.m. Traffic needing to bypass Oakland will be directed to detour along Fourth Street until the parade ends.

Parking along the parade route, which includes sections of Second and Third streets, will be prohibited prior to and during the parade. Oakland Police Chief John Sines said he encourages anyone coming to the parade to arrive in Oakland by 9:30 a.m. on Saturday.

"If you come early, you can find a parking space, enjoy the entertainment, and buy food from the vendors set up downtown," Sines said.

Free parking will be available in the town parking lot at the end of Second Street. Parking for handi-

Commissioners Support NHS Improvements

The Garrett County Board of Education received approval from the county commissioners this week to seek state funding for two improvement projects at Northern High School. The board wants to replace the front wall of the school and renovate its gym lobby. The total estimated cost for the wall is $1.6 million, while the lobby renovation is about $832,000.

"What it could do for that high school and that community is monumental," said Mike Sines, supervisor of maintenance and operations, about the work to NHS.

Because of the state's financial situation, the board of education was given direction from the state to reconstruct its capital improvement plan for the coming year, said Sines. The board was given a criteria list for its capital projects to follow in order to receive some of the limited funds available. He stressed that no projects had been lost in the re-evaluation.

The wall replacement is now the board's number one priority on its list of capital improvement projects. "It's our main thrust for next year," said Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of Garrett County schools.

MDOT Earmarks $4.1 Million To Buy Rights Of Way In Garrett Co.

Secretary Robert Flannigan and other officials from the Maryland Department of Transportation (MDOT) and the State Highway Administration (SHA) met last week with the Garrett County commissioners, Senator John Hafer, Delegate George Edwards, Oakland mayor Asa McCain, and other interested individuals. The officials reviewed a draft of the state's 2002-2009 Consolidated Transportation Program and went over a list of local projects.

The draft, which outlines current, pending, and proposed transportation projects, specifies $7.5 billion in statewide spending over the six-year period. That figure is down nearly $1 billion from the last draft and $2 billion from the 2001-2006 document.

More than $12.5 million has been earmarked for Garrett County over the next six years for two ongoing development programs: the Oakland bypass and U.S. Route 219 North improvement project. The majority of those funds will be used to purchase rights of way, with $1.681 million set aside for the bypass and $2.423 for the improvement project.

The Rt. 219 North project would help link I-68 at Chestnut Ridge to Meyersdale, Pa. The Maryland SHA and the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation are currently exploring three possible routes in the northern part of the county for Rt. 219. The new four-lane, divided roadway would run either east or west of the current highway, noted Neil Pedersen, SHA administrator. He added that the eight-mile project could cost more than $300 million. Part of the funding, however, could come from the federal government, since Rt. 219 is part of the Appalachian Highway System.

More information on the Rt. 219 improvement project is available online at www.us219. PennDot will hold a meeting on the project on Nov. 6 from 5 to 8 p.m. in Salisbury, Pa.

Pedersen described the Oakland bypass as a two-lane highway with 24-foot shoulders. Beginning next year, $280,000 will be used over the next six years to purchase rights of way. The next phase of the project will be engineering. The total cost of the project is estimated at $36 million.

Edwards noted that there has not been a major road project in the county since the interstate was constructed during the 1970s. He also urged the officials to move

Public Utilities Provides Summary Of Actions Concerning Water, Sewer Plan

The Garrett County Department of Public Utilities this week issued a summary of the actions that were recently approved by the board of county commissioners concerning the county's water and sewer master plan. The summary is as follows:

On Sept. 30, the Garrett County Water and Sewer Master Plan was amended to include a boundary change for the Deep Creek Development LLC, Marsh Mountain LLC, and the area east of the northbound lane of Rt. 219 in McHenry owned by Hugh Umbel.

This amendment also includes expansion of the Mayhew Inn sewage treatment facility to accommodate 2.2 million gallons per day of daily flow. New well sites are being investigated to provide adequate water supply corresponding service to a potential additional 5,132 customers when all phases of the expansion are complete.

A breakdown of the projected costs associated with this treatment plant expansion, collection and conveyance system rehabilitation and reliability, engineering and construction cost are listed below.

•Treatment plant rehabilitation and expansion, $15,600,000.

•Current active ERU yearly debt service treatment plant, $169.29.

•Current inactive and new ERU yearly debt ser-

OVFD Receives Federal Funding For Equipment

The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department has been notified by Senator Barbara Mikulski's office that it will receive $59,778 to purchase new safety equipment.

The Department of Homeland Security through its Assistance to Firefighters Grant Program has awarded $392,425 in federal funding to four Maryland fire departments.

The fire department will use this grant money to purchase a thermal imaging camera, which is particularly useful in nursing homes, assisted living facilities, and schools. This imager allows fire personnel to see through smoke and heat and save time in searching for trapped persons. Because of advancements in firefighting equipment, firefighters can go deep into high hazard situation and be protected from the elements of that hazard. Because of this level of protection, firefighters are more susceptible to injuries from heat and collapse of structures. The next portion of the grant allows for tools specifically to rescue fire-

McCAULEY NAMED FESTIVAL AMBASSADOR — Jeff McCauley, who has chaired the Grand Feature Parade for the Garrett County Promotion Council and now Chamber of Commerce for the past decade, was named the Honorary Golden Ambassador for the 36th annual Autumn Glory Festival. The announcement was made last night at the Wisp during the festival kickoff reception, which was attended by 350 people. In his professional life, McCauley is vice president and commercial lender for F&M Bank, Oakland. He holds a master's degree in business administration from Frostburg State University. He serves on many local boards and organizations, including the chamber's board of directors, the Garrett County Development Corporation Board, and the Yough Chapter of Trout Unlimited. His passion for fly-fishing has led him to participate in numerous conservation and restoration projects in Garrett County, and through Trout Unlimited he has helped create various fishing opportunities for area youth. McCauley and his wife Dana are the parents of two children. He is pictured above with several of the previous Honorary Golden Ambassadors. From left are: Jerry Thayer, Ernie Gregg (background), McCauley, Jerry Geisler, Randy Rodeheaver, Karen Myers, and Elaine McDonald. McCauley will be the guest of honor at many of the festival events over the next four days.

Reverend Teets Named County's "Most Beautiful"

Rev. Charles Teets was recognized this week by the Garrett County commissioners as the county's "Most Beautiful Person." The Gortner resident was chosen from a list of 12 other nominated individuals or couples by a committee of six members.

The theme for this year's selection process was "The Power of One," which celebrates the impact that one volunteer or group can have on a community.

A former pastor of Gortner Union Church, Teets has served as a minister in Garrett County for 37 years. "He went above and beyond the call of duty as a pastor, counselor, and friend, not only within his congregations, but to all those with whom he came in contact," wrote Margaret Fulk-Doyle in her nominating letter to the committee.

Since his retirement as a full-time pastor, he has "immersed" himself in his volunteer work, she noted. Teets logs many hours with the Chaplain Program at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, offering spiritual counsel, encouragement, and comfort to patients, families, and staff. He also provides worship services in the Sub-Acute Unit.

"Rev. Teets carries out all of these activities with a smile and good humor, although he has many health problems and is currently 80 years of age," Fulk-Doyle said. "[He] is truly Garrett County's Most Beautiful Person."

Teets recently undertook even more responsibilities at the hospital as a volunteer in the Emergency Room. Additionally, he assumed a volunteer counseling position at Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, where he also administers communion.

"Generally speaking," wrote Fulk-Doyle, "Rev. Teets conducts himself as pastor-at-large to the community. He takes advantage of every opportunity to minister to anyone in need, provides encouragement or [is] just a friend who will listen. He simply lives his life day-by-day, responding to others who need him – regardless of who they are or where he may meet them."

REV. CHARLES TEETS IS COUNTY'S "MOST BEAUTIFUL PERSON" – Rev. Charles Teets was designated this week as Garrett County's Most Beautiful Person. A committee of six, representing all areas of the county, selected the reverend from a list of 12 dedicated volunteers who donate their time and talents to help others. A former pastor of Gortner Union Church, Teets has served as a minister in Garrett County for 37 years. Since his retirement, the Oakland area resident has immersed himself in his volunteer work at Garrett County Memorial Hospital and Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home. See story for details. Pictured above are the Garrett County commissioners congratulating Teets on receiving the designation. Left to right are Dave Beard, Ernie Gregg, Teets, and Fred Holliday. Photo by John McEwen.

The other nominees for Garrett County's Most Beautiful Person were Pastor Donald Matthews, Ken and Nancy Perrin, George and Jackie Brady, Wayne Johnson, Hazel Stewart, Gary Galloway, Bob Huebner, George Ferguson, Maury Feinstein, Bob Browning, Doug Ellis, and Carole Paugh.

Selection committee member Jim Shaffer, WKHJ radio, read a brief description of each of the nominees' volunteer services. They received a certificate from the commissioners, who commended them for their "devoted and praiseworthy contributions to Garrett County" and "faithful and devoted service" to its citizens.

Teets will participate in the 37th annual Autumn Glory Grand Feature Parade in Oakland on Saturday, Oct. 11. The event will begin at 1 p.m.

Gov. Robert L. Ehrlich Jr., Lt. Gov. Michael S. Steele, and other state and local officials will also pay tribute to Teets and the volunteers from Maryland's 22 other counties and Baltimore City at the 17th annual Maryland's Most Beautiful People Volunteer Awards Ceremony. That event will be held Wednesday, Nov. 12, at 7 p.m. at St. John's College, Annapolis.

Garrett County's Most Beautiful Person last year was Wayne Bolden and his staff at Wayne's Water 'n' Wells, Deep Creek Lake, who helped rescue nine Somerset County, Pa., coal miners in July of 2002.

Friendsville Man Gets 60 Days For Assault Charge

A Friendsville man was sentenced last week in Garrett County Circuit Court for a second-degree assault charge. Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced Steven Grant Savage to 60 days in the Garrett County Jail.

Savage, 43, was found guilty of this crime at his trial in August, and sentencing was postponed. He was deemed not guilty, however, of two counts of obstruction of justice by threatening witnesses and of distributing the peace.

Savage was charged with these crimes by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in March following an incident that occurred outside the county courthouse. A separate case against Savage had been postponed, and witnesses in that case reported to police that once outside the courthouse, Savage approached them, made threatening remarks to them, and stepped on the foot of one of the witnesses.

Oakland Man Sentenced For Sexual Offense

An Oakland man was sentenced last week in Garrett County Circuit Court for charges of fourth-degree sexual offense and second-degree assault. Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced Wayne Hill Caple to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail. He had pleaded guilty to the charges in August, and a presentence investigation report was ordered.

According to the state's attorney's office, Caple, 62, was charged in February by Garrett Bureau of Investigation officers, who determined that Caple had engaged in inappropriate contact with a teenager at his residence one weekend in January. Department of Social Services also participated in this investigation.

Cement Truck Rolls In Single-Vehicle Accident

The driver of a 1987 Mack cement truck was injured after his vehicle rolled near the intersection of Mason School Road and Garrett Highway Friday evening, according to Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Joseph Michael Conn, 33, Meyersdale, Pa., was transported by Southern Rescue Squad to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

According to police, Conn swerved to avoid striking a vehicle that was turning in front of him, which caused the right side tires of the truck to hit the ditch and cause Conn to lose control. The truck crossed into the northbound lane and struck the shoulder, which caused the cement truck to roll.

Also responding to the 6:45 p.m. incident were the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and Maryland State Highway Department.

In a separate incident, Jackie Wayne Hinchman, 48, Beverly, W.Va., was stopped after deputies observed his vehicle crossing the center and white lines along Hutton Road Friday around 8:30 p.m., police said.

Hinchman failed field sobriety tests, and was arrested and charged with driving under the influence (DUI), driving while impaired (DWI), driving on a suspended license, and negligent driving.

In other police news, Charles William Pownall Jr., 57, McHenry, was arrested and charged with drunk driving Saturday night along Garrett Highway near Sand Flat Road.

Powell was charged with DUI, DUI per se, DWI, failure to drive right of center, and negligent driving.

Single-Vehicle Crash Injures Two Juveniles

Two local 17-year-olds sustained minor injuries when the small sedan they were riding in went out of control and struck a telephone pole along Underwood Road Monday. Maryland State Police troopers, who did not provide the names of the victims, indicated that the proper use of seatbelts and the deployment of the car's airbag prevented more serious injuries.

The accident occurred shortly after 8 a.m., when a Swanton resident lost control of her 1998 Dodge Neon while traveling south. The car hit a telephone pole at the intersection of Underwood and Monte Vista roads. The driver and her male passenger, an Oakland resident, were both taken to Garret County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the scene of the crash.

State police charged the driver with failure to reduce speed.

Three-Vehicle Collision Injures Three Wednesday

Three vehicles were involved in a collision which sent three people to the hospital Wednesday afternoon along Hutton Road near Gank Road, according to Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

An investigation revealed that a vehicle driven by Joseph Albert Martin, Hutton, was stopped in the westbound lane attempting to turn left into a private drive when a vehicle driven by Carlton Lee Stahl Jr. struck the rear of Martin's vehicle, causing that vehicle to enter the eastbound lane. Once in the eastbound lane, Martin's vehicle was struck by a vehicle driven by Keva Lynn Roy, Hutton, which was traveling eastbound on Hutton Road.

Martin, his passenger, and Roy were transported by Southern Rescue Squad and the Terra Alta Ambulance to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Stahl was charged with failure to control vehicle speed on a highway to avoid a collision, police said.

The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the 1:42 p.m. incident.

COMMUNITY OF OAKLAND RECEIVES GRANT FOR BROADBAND – A check presentation was made recently to support broadband service for the community of Oakland. Grant funds were available nationally on a competitive basis and Allegheny Communications Connect, the broadband service provider, was the largest recipient of grant funds in this second round of funding. Allegheny Communications Connect is partnering with the town of Oakland to construct, operate, and maintain an improved telecommunications network. Major critical community facilities that will benefit from this high-speed wireless connection include: Garrett County government including the board of education and emergency management services, Garrett County Community Action Committee Inc., and Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Pictured above with the symbolic check, from the left, are Hilda G. Legg, USDA Rural Development administrator; Ernie Gregg, chairman of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners; Asa McCain, mayor of Oakland; Frank Shap, technology development officer of the Garrett County Economic Development department; John W. Flinko, vice president of Allegheny Communications Connect; Marlene B. Elliott, Delaware/Maryland director of USDA Rural Development; and David Houle, program manager of Maryland Technology Development Corporation. See story for more details.

Oakland Receives $1.1 Million Grant For Broadband Service

Oakland was one of 34 communities in 20 states to receive a portion of $11.3 million in competitive federal grant funding that will help provide broadband transmission service, according to Hilda G. Legg, USDA administrator for Rural Development.

"This is an exciting day for the Oakland community," said Legg. "Critical infrastructure is the backbone of a strong economy, and this investment will help enhance educational opportunities, improve access to health care, increase public safety, and accelerate economic development."

USDA Rural Development's broadband program is one of the Bush Administration's initiatives to strengthen the nation's economy.

Legg added that "America is only as strong as rural America is."

"President Bush understands that for America to compete globally it must assist in developing and making available the necessary capacity to do so," said Legg.

The USDA Rural Development Broadband Community Grant in the amount of $1,140,772 will pay approximately 85% of the system cost, with the remaining 15% being matched by state, local, and other funding.

"We have many programs that are marked for improving the quality of life and increasing economic opportunity in Rural America; today's announcement of funds will do exactly that by investing in your schools, your health care system, emergency management services and rural businesses," said Marlene Elliott, Rural Development state director.

The grant application was a joint effort of Allegheny Communications Connect (the broadband service provider), Garrett County, and the town of Oakland. Other organizations participating in the project include: Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Garrett County Emergency Management Fire and Rescue Communications, Garrett County Community Action Committee, the Ruth Enlow Library, Appalachian Parent Association, and many more.

The USDA grant requires designated community centers to be established providing free public access to high-speed connection for two years. It is estimated that there will be approximately 20 public computer access points in Oakland.

WalkAmerica Raises More Than $31,000

More than 250 persons walked and raised more than $31,000 recently in the first March of Dimes WalkAmerica at Deep Creek Lake State Park to help save babies in the community and across the country from premature birth, birth defects, and death.

The F&M Bank team raised the most with $6,498, which included a $3,000 corporate match pledge. A total of 15 teams participated in the event.

The following teams raised more than $1,000: F&M Bank, Garrett County Health Department, Terra Alta Bank, First United Bank & Trust, Garrett County Social Services, WEPCO Federal Credit Union, Garrett Specials Needs Children, and Total Biz Fulfillment.

Curtis Hillegas of Frostburg, an employee of Hunter Douglas in Cumberland, was the winner of a new 2003 Hyundai Tiburon.

The next walk at the state park will be held Saturday, Sept. 11, 2004.

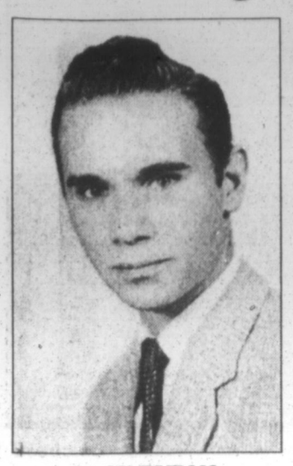
SHS Grad Featured In Magazine For "Thinking Outside The Box"



JACK BURNS

A 1961 graduate of Southern High School recently graced the front page of Business Magazine, a publication of the Manufacturers' Association of Northwest Pennsylvania. The September issue featured Jack Burns, president of Viking Tool & Gage Inc., in an article titled "Thinking Outside the Box."

One of the largest metal fabricators in northwest Pennsylvania, the Conneaut Lake-based company currently produces 3 million pounds of aluminum extrusions a year for various markets throughout the nation. The 55,000-square-foot, multi-million-dollar facility specializes in designing and manufacturing tools, dies, and gages, as well fabricating a variety of metal components, from the brackets for office furniture to components for collapsible steering columns in Cadillacs.

The former Garrett County resident is the son of Vivian Burns, Mtn. Lake Park, and the late Bernard "Bernie" Burns, who owned Bernie Burns's Grinding Service and was part owner of the Oakland Tire Service.

Jack Burns attended West Virginia University before graduating from the University of Maryland with a master's degree in mechanical engineering.

Following his college graduation, Burns had an opportunity to work at his uncle's Meadville-based business, Pennsylvania Tool & Gage. There he gained experience in engineering, purchasing, human resources, and management, before becoming vice president.

He worked at his regular job for 32 years, while running several apartment buildings and a small plant nursery on the side. In July 2000, however, at the age of 56, he bought Viking Tool & Gage.

"I thought it was time to make a move," he told Business Monthly. "I've always been one to try something new, even if it meant juggling multiple jobs at once. Owning my own business just seemed like the next logical step."

The SHS graduate was featured in the magazine because of his innovative thinking. He applies this "thinking-outside-the-box" theory to every aspect of the company, especially those concerning production. As a result, the company is doing very well, despite tough economic times.

The company has applied Burns's theory in several ways. For example, it works on building a strong rapport with its customers, purchases state-of-the-art manufacturing equipment, and hires "exceptional" employees. Burns also looks for employees who are willing and open to change.

Burns lives in Meadville, Pa., with his wife Sandy. They have two sons, Brian and Kevin. He also has two sisters, Concetta M. Boyce, Mtn. Lake Park, and Judy Burns, Franklin, Pa.

For more information about Viking Tool & Gage or to contact Burns, persons may visit his web site at vikingtg.com. More information about the manufacturers' association is also available at manp.org.

N.Y. State Man Charged With CDS Violation

A Johnson City, N.Y., man was arrested last Thursday, Oct. 2, and charged with possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia, according to the Maryland State Police.

Nigel S. Ross, 36, was stopped by state troopers assigned to the McHenry barrack shortly after 3 p.m. along eastbound Interstate 68 at Vocke Road (Allegany County) for a broken brake light and suspended New York license plate.

A search of Ross's van uncovered 9½ grams of suspected marijuana, and over $600 in cash was seized as well.

Troopers from the LaVale State Police Barrack, Allegany County Sheriff's Office and the C3I Narcotics task force assisted in the arrest.

Twin Brothers Charged With DCL Burglary

A set of 23-year-old twin brothers has been arrested by the Garrett Bureau of Investigation following a probe of a Deep Creek Lake area burglary that occurred last month. The pair had reportedly been employed to assist in a summer renovation project at the rental property located at 20899 Garrett Highway.

Justin Charles Olinzock of Bruceton Mills, W.Va., faces charges of first-degree burglary, misdemeanor theft, and destruction of property, while his brother, Jarrad Michael Olinzock of Addison, Pa., has been charged with conspiracy to commit first-degree burglary and conspiracy to commit misdemeanor theft.

GBI detectives allege that Justin Olinzock had entered the property on Sept. 3 by forcing open the rear door. He reportedly removed two television sets and a VCR for an estimated property loss of $400. While Justin Olinzock was inside, Jarrad Olinzock was alleged to have been stationed outside as a lookout. Once the property was removed it was taken to parts of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, where it was sold and later recovered by the GBI investigators.

Justin Olinzock was released from the Garrett County Jail after he posted a $10,000 bond, while Jarrad Olinzock was released on his own recognizance, according to a jail spokesperson.

Pa. Trio Face CDS Charges After Stop

Three Johnstown, Pa., men were arrested Friday on possession of marijuana charges after they were stopped for speeding on Interstate 68, according to the McHenry barrack of the Maryland State Police.

Russell James Profaizer, 18, Jamie Lynn Kusher, 18, and Lucas John Seidel, 18, were traveling eastbound on when police stopped their vehicle near Amish Road. When the odor of burnt suspected marijuana led to a search, police found the suspected drug and associated paraphernalia.

Each of the three were charged with possession of marijuana and paraphernalia.

Seidel reportedly posted a $500 bond to gain his release from the Garrett County Jail, while Profaizer and Kusher were released under unspecified circumstances.

The front of the school has had problems for some time. Rain seeps in through the windowed façade, which was installed during a previous renovation project, into offices and classrooms. The façade will have to be removed and replaced with a contemporary design that meets state building codes, noted Sines. But the gym lobby renovation is also a priority, and, therefore, the board would like to submit the two projects as a combined package to the state for funding.

Sines noted, however, that it was more risky to submit the two projects together. "Both could be stand alone projects," he said. But he was optimistic that the state would fund the projects, as the repairs were necessary; safety and accessibility issues were involved; and there was a community need.

"I think the state will fund one project per county," noted Sines. He said the board would apply for systemic renovation funding rather than capital funding. The state, however, may delay the project until FY 2006 because of the state's financial woes.

The commissioners' support and $50,000 in local funding, however, will allow at least the planning phase of the repairs to get started this spring. The state may refund the county for the planning, said Sines, if not next year, perhaps the year after, even after the actual renovation has begun on the school.

Commissioner Fred Holliday said the projects fell into the category of "something that has to be done." The commissioners voted unanimously to support the two projects as one program. Commissioner Ernie Gregg noted that it would be better to do all of the repairs at the same time than to tie up the school twice.

In order to meet time constraints for applying for the funding, Sines said the board of education would have to "hit the ground running." Designs for the project will be needed as soon as possible, as the Board of Public Works will make its recommendation on the project in January 2004. Should the board of education receive the funding, Sines said he wanted to be prepared for the project to go to bid in February.

He has consulted an architect and an estimator about the timeframe for the project. The work could be done during a summer, beginning the very day that the school year ends and finishing the day before school starts again, if a contractor with enough masons were available to complete the job in that short period of time. If not, the project would have to be completed in phases over several summers.

Sines and Teets also briefly reviewed other projects on the board's 2005-2012 Capital Improvement Program, which includes the work at NHS. The commissioners sent a letter this week to state officials indicating their support for the board's capital improvement program.

GOVERNOR MEETS WITH SPORTAEROBIC TEAM – Before leaving on their trip to compete in Buenos Aires, Argentina, the Garrett County Sportaerobic Team met with Governor Robert Ehrlich and Lt. Gov. Mike Steele, both standing in the back with Coach Brenda Brosnihan. The young athletes returned to Garrett County at noon yesterday from Argentina, where they were again victorious in several categories of international competition. Guests at last night's Autumn Glory Kick-Off Reception were treated to a performance by the girls, who showed no sign of jet lag throughout their energetic show. They are the marshals for this year's Grand Feature Parade. A full story with pictures about the group's trip to Argentina will be published in next week's issue of The Republican.

It's About Pride...

The stage has been set for one of the most successful, most enjoyable Autumn Glory festivals to date. One indicator of a successful event is the weather forecast for the four-day fest, with ideal conditions predicted for at least through Saturday.

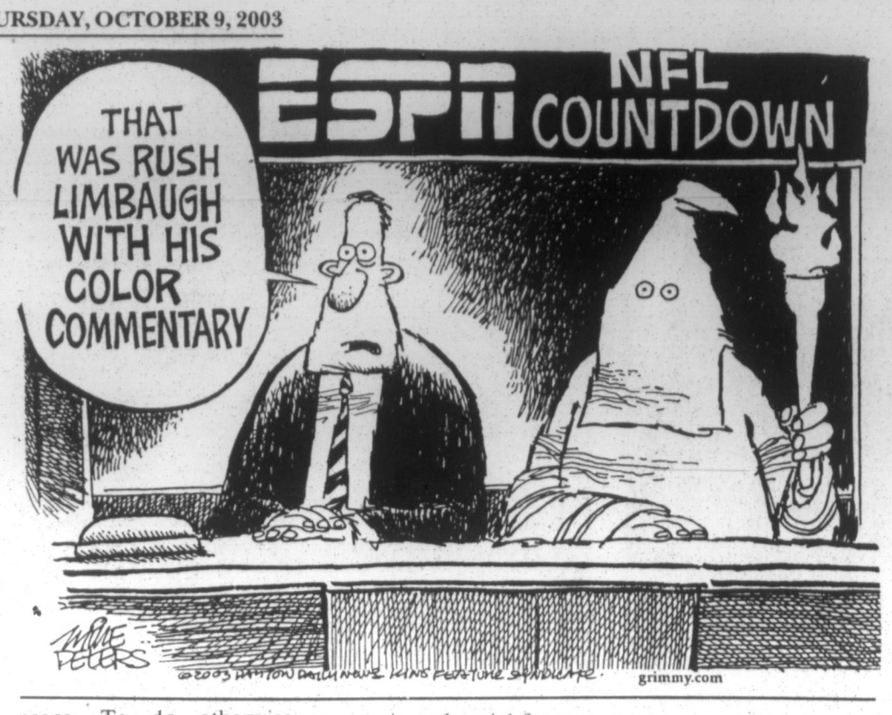
Another indicator was the attendance at last night's kickoff reception at the Wisp, which was most likely a record for the 36 years of the festival. A crowd of 350 festival Golden Ambassadors (70 more than just the previous year) were on hand to enjoy good food and fellowship.

The highlight of the evening was the introduction of Garrett County's own world-class, world-champion youth aerobic team athletes, who gave a sampling of their performance, despite having just endured a 12-hour flight that ended yesterday afternoon. They had just arrived home from another international competition in Argentina, where they added additional gold, silver, and bronze medals to their impressive stock of awards.

The sense of "Garrett County pride" elicited last night by these local young ladies and their coach, Brenda Brosnihan, was overwhelming, manifesting itself in a standing ovation, cheering, loud applause, whistling, and tears rolling down the faces of many in the crowd. Just imagine, just consider, what our girls have done. Our girls. Our Garrett County girls.

And this is what the Autumn Glory Festival is, or should be, all about – pride in our people and pride in this place, Garrett County, which is our home. Yes, it is an opportunity to make money for many worthy causes and organizations. It is an opportunity to have a lot of fun. It is an opportunity for a homecoming for our kids and former residents. It is an opportunity to show off our area to newcomers. But it is also an opportunity for us, simply, to feel that pride, and ponder how lucky we are to have what we have in Garrett County, not only in our lakes, forests, and mountains, but in our people.

Let's have a blast.



Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Yesterday (10-02-03) I attended the USDA presentation of $1,140,772 in grant money to Allegheny Communications Connect (a part of Allegheny Power) to provide broadband Internet to the Oakland community. When I arrived at the presentation, I was handed a piece of paper that said, "USDA salutes the community of Oakland for breaking the digital divide." The paper also said, "Today's announcement will allow the citizens of Oakland and the many community organizations and businesses to capitalize on the benefits of fast and dependable Internet service."

I don't know where the USDA and our local government has been, but broadband has been available in many parts of Garrett County for years, especially Oakland. Ice Web installed wireless broadband in Oakland in 1999 and announced DSL service was available last month. TWR also has broadband available in Oakland and other parts of Garrett County. QCOL has broadband available in the Friendsville area, and my company has broadband available now in Deep Creek Mountain Resort, with DSL available on the whole lake by 10-15-03.

These are all independent operators who have invested a lot of time and money to bring broadband to Garrett County. Is our local government that naive, or were they just happy to see a new competitor (with deep pockets) come to Oakland?

To the Editor:

November 18, 2003, is Prematurity Awareness Day. The March of Dimes hopes to heighten awareness of premature birth as a major health issue in communities across America.

Each year in our country, 460,000 babies are born premature – before 37 weeks of pregnancy. Each year in Maryland, 7,400 babies – that is 20 babies each day – are born too soon, many fighting to survive. Their tiny size and low birthweight also put them at risk for lifelong health problems. The reasons for nearly half of all premature births are unknown. The rate of preterm births in America increased nearly 14 percent between 1988 and 1998, from 10.2 to 11.6 percent of births.

To address the growing problem of premature birth in the United States, the March of Dimes has launched a five-year, $75 million research and public education campaign to find its causes and preventions and to promote better understandings of the signs and symptoms.

Your readers can help reduce the incidence of prematurity by becoming better educated and sharing information with their friends and families and by visiting the March of Dimes website at marchofdimes.com. By clicking on the virtual baby hospital bracelet, a site visitor signals March of Dimes sponsors to donate a dollar for research. Up to $450,000 will be donated in this way to help fight prematurity.

The March of Dimes asks all your readers to raise their awareness about prematurity and to help the March of Dimes on November 18 and year 'round in its response to the call to help stop it.

Sincerely,
Nancy E. Thoerig

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to Mr. Bill Thomas in the issue of The Republican dated October 2, 2003, and Mr. Thomas's response to the letter from Ed Clemmons in The Republican dated September 25, 2003.

Mr. Clemmons' letter is quality and speaks the facts about our government's invasion of Iraq and the need now to rebuild and commit ourselves to winning the peace. To do otherwise would be a travesty and insult to the young men and women of our armed forces who have sacrificed and to the ones who have paid the ultimate price.

You are so right that everyone in this great nation has the right of dissent, either editorially or vocally, but your comments about the Bush administration being one of the most irresponsible with regard to foreign and domestic policies to come down the pike are just your sad opinion. Have you really reflected on the previous administration's domestic policy with the vulgar pardons of tax evaders and murderers? The many scandals surrounding Whitewater, Vince Foster's death, cattle futures, and the various office escapades? Talking about foreign policy, how about Johnny Wang and Charlie Tree, two Chinese operatives now hiding out in China to escape being tried for illegal campaign contributions from a foreign country to the Clinton Gore re-election campaign? Of course, these contributions were eagerly accepted by Clinton-Gore, allowing space technology and rocket technology to go to the Chinese government, and this week China will launch a manned space capsule. Then there were the White House sleepovers and coffee klatches.

Our Republican President Reagan respected the oval office so much that he would not remove his coat while there, and President Clinton had such little respect for the oval office that he took off practically all his clothes and also those of his partner Monica.

You, Mr. Thomas, are what the Republican party regulars refer to as a "RHINO," Republican in name only, but don't be upset or discouraged because there are others just like you – our former Republican Senator Charles C. "Mac" Mathias, who favored abortion, former Congresswoman Connie Morella, who campaigned as a "Mac" Mathias Republican, and former State Senator Robert Neal of Anne Arundle County, and maybe sometimes even this newspaper.

And so, Mr. Thomas, when you accuse an administration of being irresponsible, think about fairness the next time.

To the Editor:

As we celebrate National Forest Products Week, we are reminded that forests are vital to our way of life. The members of the American Forest & Paper Association (AF&PA) and its allies are committed to a future where our children will have the same abundant and diverse forests that we enjoy today.

AF&PA's members live and work in the forests and understand better than anyone the unique and delicate balance between ecological, economic and social forces. We respect the power and beauty of forests and are humbled by their ability to provide habitats for wildlife, refuges for mankind, and a place for more than 1.5 million people to work, all the while producing the materials for products that enrich our lives.

Picture life without pencils, paper, wooden floors or wooden doors. How about newspapers, shoe boxes or egg cartons? No menus in restaurants, no park benches or picnic tables. No photographs, postcards or packages. No toilet paper.

Thankfully, we have to imagine a world without those products because America's forest products industry is working to make sure we have them. Each of these products comes from a renewable resource. Through sustainable forestry, we produce goods and services while making sure that forests remain healthy. We are improving tomorrow's environment today.

We recognize that forests are the future. To ensure that forests remain healthy and vibrant, AF&PA developed the Sustainable Forestry Initiative© program, a commitment to renewing our forests after harvest, protecting wildlife, and guarding air and water quality. The SFI program is rigorous – since the program's 1995 inception, 16 AF&PA members have been expelled from the association for failure to uphold the SFI standards. And each year we take additional steps to make the program even stronger.

The effort has been successful. The program has won several national awards, is endorsed by 43 conservation organizations and 18 states. The American Legislative Exchange Council, a multi-state group of state legislators, has passed model legislation endorsing the SFI program.

More than 130 million acres are enrolled under the SFI program's comprehensive system of principles, guidelines and performance measures. More than 100 million acres are third-party certified, which ensures that program participants adhere to the SFI program's requirements. The program is tough, but we feel that's a small price to ensure we endow future generations with healthier forests than we inherited.

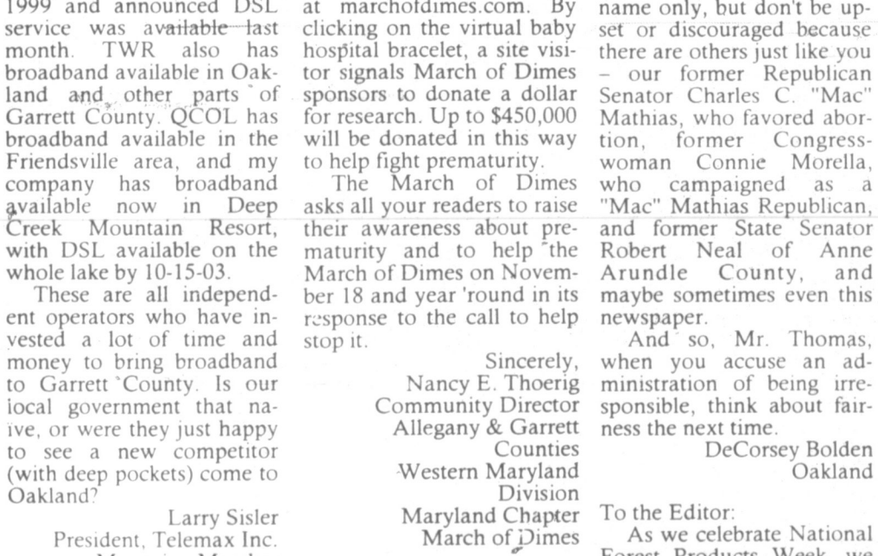
The SFI program goes far beyond instituting tough standards that safeguard the environment. The program also involves intensive study and research into those practices and standards. We don't rely on tradition, nor on what we feel or think is best. We examine the interaction between trees, water, wildlife and our operations, and we determine what actually works best.

What we've found is that a hands-off approach does not work best. Failing to actively manage forestland has led directly to the catastrophic wildfires on federal lands. Instead, professional forestry, backed by sound science, has proven to be the ideal. After severe fires in the West, the Bush administration has proposed reducing the wildfire risk by actively managing federal lands.

Research studies have given us important information about what's best for forest health as well as wildlife. Actively managing forests is also actively managing wildlife. Keeping the forests products industry out of the forests not only prevents Americans from obtaining the products they need, but also hinders wildlife and precipitates unhealthy forests at risk of fire, disease, and insect infestation.

National Forest Products Week is an ideal time to reflect upon the many values our forests hold. If managed sustainably, as mandated under the SFI program, our forestlands will pass to future generations in better condition than we found them. As America's Forest & Paper People, we're here to help the future grow.

Sincerely,
W. Henson Moore
President/CEO
American Forest & Paper Association.



To Buy Rights

ahead on the bypass and improvement projects as quickly as possible, noting that the longer they were delayed, the more costly and complicated their rights-of-way purchases would become.

Fred Crozier, SHA District 6 engineer, also reviewed recently completed, soon-to-be completed, and proposed minor projects in the county. He noted that the weigh station along I-68 at Finzel had been closed for a couple of weeks for upgrades. Repairs to the 10- to 15-year-old facility should be completed by late fall.

Edwards and Hafer stressed the importance of having message signs in the Finzel area that would alert drivers of fog, snow, or other situations. On May 23, heavy fog near Finzel contributed to a massive accident involving 80 vehicles on I-68. Two persons were killed.

Crozier said he was currently working with the Office of Traffic Safety on installing a weather station at Finzel. The unstaffed station would automatically trigger a sign that would alert motorists to certain weather conditions. For example, the sign might read: "Limited Visibility – Use Caution."

The engineer said a pilot effort may be launched next summer to test the technology and to determined the best location for the station and the signs. If the technology works out, Crozier said, other stations and signs could be erected in other areas.

Garrett County commissioner Fred Holliday also reviewed a list of projects and concerns that the county would like to see resolved or completed.

The county asked that the Rt. 219 bridge over the Youghiogheny River south of Red House be refurbished. Crozier said the bridge was scheduled for repair work in the spring and total replacement within the next five years. He stressed the bridge was not dangerous. Commissioner Ernie Gregg asked that when the bridge is replaced that it be realigned as well.

The commissioners also asked the SHA to consider a proposal by Umbel Enterprises. The company has offered to pay for the regrading of state-owned land at the intersection of Pysell Road and Rt. 219 in McHenry to make the intersection more visible to drivers.

Crozier said he and Pedersen had talked about the issue. The engineer said they wanted to take a comprehensive look at the intersection, as well as the southbound lane of Rt. 219. He added, however, that he wanted to meet with Umbel Enterprises and county officials about the issue. "We should talk about this some more," Crozier said.

Receives Funding

fighters but will also allow additional capabilities in handling situations involving no fire persons.

These funds will also go toward the purchase of seven sets of Self Contained Breathing Apparatus (SCBA) equipment so that each firefighter responding to a call has his or her own set. The remaining funds will go toward Rapid Intervention Team tools for rescue operations and a communications system so that each SCBA will have radio communications with the command center.

The Firefighter Investment and Response Enhancement (FIRE) Act established a grant program to assist fire departments in protecting communities' and firefighters' health and safety. Administered by USFA, grant money may be used for training, equipment, and additional staffing.

This past year the Oakland fire department was able to install a "Breathing Air Compressor," which delivers clean breathable air to the firefighters during fire operations. They also replaced used donated hose with new hose and new nozzles. New, much lighter cylinders for the breathing apparatus were also purchased.

The grant requires the fire department to raise funds to cover a minimum of 10% of the award. The fire department was awarded approximately $67,000 and must raise a minimum of $6,700 to comply with requirements of this award, according to Jim Walkling Jr., a member of the Oakland department and a firefighter for 21 years.

"In everyday life, equipment is expensive and fire equipment because of the specialized nature is well beyond normal cost," said Walkling. "The expenses of providing a new firefighter with equipment to fight fire can cost as much as $8,000 per person, a new fire engine $300,000 to $500,000 per unit. Specialized units like ladder trucks can be as much as a $700,000.

"With the high cost of equipment and all local departments relying primarily on donations from local citizens to keep the doors open, it is a daunting task."

Almost three-fourths of Oakland's budget is derived from donations and fundraisers, Walkling added.

Persons interested in making a donation to the department may send it to OVFD, "Grant," P.O. Box 43, Oakland, MD 21550.

SGCRS GROUNDBREAKING – The Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad broke ground for its new squad hall recently during a ceremony at the Maryland Highway property donated by Don Browning in 2000. In her remarks, building committee chairperson Rayma Weeks thanked the Browning family for the property, and saluted the work of the Gortner Amish Youth Group, Jerry Maust and Bernard Orendorf of Rigidply Rafters, Bob Beitzel of Beitzel Excavating, and Morgan France and Bill Ashby of Century Engineering, George Tichnell of Mettiki Coal, Bill Gaither of Garrett Tree Removal, and citizen supporter Jim Shank. Other speakers who recognized the three decades of service by the SGCRS, one of the few squads that does not charge for its services, were Bernie Zolmek, Brooks Hamilton, and Brad Stewart, three Oakland Jaycee Club members who helped form the committee that founded the squad in 1973. Congratulatory remarks were also delivered by Del. George Edwards, Amy Short of Sen. Barbara Mikulski's office, Brenda Frantz of Rep. Roscoe Bartlett's office, and Maryland Region I EMS administrator David Ramsey. Pictured from the left are Tichnell, Orendorf, Zolmek, Paula Browning (on hand with her mother, Edith Browning, who is not pictured), Stewart, SGCRS president David Moon, Hamilton, France, Ramsey, and Edwards. The SGCRS Auxiliary served refreshments at the event.

Md. Bear Hunt Approved For Next Fall, DNR Says

A limited bear hunt has been approved by the state of Maryland for next fall in the far western portions of the state, according to the Maryland Department of Natural Resources officials. Paul Peditto, the director of the Wildlife and Heritage Service released the information yesterday to a news source, although no official word has yet come forth.

"We have received approval to go forward and adopt recommendations of the bear task force and incorporate them into a bear management plan," Peditto reportedly commented. The projected hunt, with permits to be drawn from a lottery, would most likely occur in late September and early October from Garrett County into western Allegany County. By state law, the lottery drawing would have to be open to out-of-area and out-of-state residents.

"Our harvest goal would be very conservative," Peditto said. "We are looking to have a total mortality of 60 to 80 bears," adding that half that total will likely be accounted for in vehicle-bear collisions on roadways, and the other half through the hunt.

Peditto said there will be some costs to apply for and then receive a bear permit, but that they should not be extraordinarily high. The agency also plans to create permits that would allow farmers who have experienced severe crops damage from bears to kill an animal. Such permits would be issued only after other nonlethal means failed to provide relief, according to Peditto. "Two or three farms would have qualified this year for such permits," he said.

"We are seeking to have a population level of bears that all Marylanders can enjoy. We are not seeking to eliminate bears from the landscape," Peditto said.

FIRE SAFETY FOR KIDS was the order of the day in Kitzmiller recently as the "Fire-Safe House" paid a visit. The mobile mock-up of a kitchen, living room, and bedroom provides children with the opportunity to learn how to safely evade and escape a fire in the home, as well as contribute to fire safety practices that can help prevent fires in the first place. Pictured above are Kitzmiller kindergartner Hailey Paugh as she is shown making an escape from the facility with help from Kitzmiller Volunteer Fire Department assistant chief and mayor Jim Browning. The Fire-Safe House was brought to the town by members of Firefighters Local #1715, based in Cumberland.

•Collection and conveyance projected cost, $15,000,000.

•All ERU/(current and new) inactive yearly debt service – collection and conveyance, $224.84.

•Tap fee for purchase of new sewer taps, $5,000.

Concerned individuals are asked to keep in mind that these approved costs and associated payment schedules are based on projected residential buildout and 100 percent loan funding to financially support these needed projects. Grant and loan packages may be applied, pending approval from the department's primary funding agencies, which include the Maryland Department of the Environment and the United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development.

Public Utilities is incurring costs for these projects and anticipates beginning collection of debt service payments in 2004, noted a department spokesperson.

These costs do not include the McHenry Water System expansion costs. The Department of Public Utilities does not have projected costs for this project, as well site identification study and engineering work is ongoing. Once firm financial numbers regarding the water system have been obtained, said the spokesperson, the department will present in a scheduled public hearing the debt service and tap fees required to cover these costs.

Persons with questions regarding the county's water and sewer master plan are asked to call Public Utilities at 301-334-1887.

The family of the late Rev. Paul Poland like to extend our thanks to all for your thoughts and prayers. A special thank you to Pastor Craig and the Crellin Assembly of God Church for providing the service and dinner for the family. The Cuppett & Weeks Nursing Home and Dr. Coughlin for their care and kindness. To those who sent flowers and cards, all was greatly appreciated.

"Our great wealth lies not in the ruins of our home, but in the hearts of the people around us."

J. Sincell to members of the Springfield Raritan Club, 8 October 2002

On October 2, 2002, a fire raged through our home in Springfield, WV, damaging or destroying nearly everything we owned. In the days and weeks that followed, the outpouring of support from relatives, neighbors, friends and total strangers was nothing short of fantastic. It is therefore appropriate, on this anniversary of the event, to thank as many of these folks as possible.

The list that follows includes everyone we can think of; there are, no doubt, others who should appear here and don't, but our thanks is nonetheless offered. Collectively, your generosity has become part of the wealth of good memories associated with this old house, reflecting the innate kindness and selflessness that is characteristic of people in this place in the world.

We can never repay you folks, and we know you don't expect us to; but to each of you, rest assured that good deeds will be done in your name by others who were suddenly in need and with whom you so generously shared your bounty. The warmest regards to all, and the best of luck in your ongoing endeavors.

Randolph Trio Sentenced For Heroin Poss.

Three Randolph County, W.Va., men were each handed a two-month jail sentence after they each pleaded guilty to heroin possession during a recent Garrett County District Court hearing.

Elkins residents Vincent Michael Viola, Richard Benjamin Bull, and Steven Robert Ross were arrested in July. The three were traveling in a car that was stopped by Maryland State Police on Garrett Highway south of Accident. After a canine drug detection dog alerted to the possible presence of drugs in the vehicle, a search was undertaken that uncovered approximately three dozen capsules of a powdery substance later determined to be heroin.

The driver, 23-year-old Viola, and Bull, 20, and Ross, 19, were each handed a two-year sentence by Judge Ralph M. Burnett, who suspended all but nine months of that term in each case. The men were also each placed on two months of supervised probation.

Bull faced additional charges of possession of heroin with intent to distribute, and possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia, each of which was not prosecuted by the state's attorney. Ross and Viola both faced additional charges of heroin possession with intent to distribute, and possession of drug paraphernalia, which were not prosecuted.

In other District Court news, a Swanton man was sentenced to a 45-day jail term after he pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct before visiting judge Paul Stakem.

Robert Gordon Cook, 28, was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in May after he continually yelled in the lobby of the District Court building, saying he wanted to see a family member in the courtroom. Additional charges of violating an ex parte order, disturbing the peace, and a second disorderly conduct accusation were not prosecuted.

Scott Anthony Bowman, 23, Oakland, pleaded guilty to misdemeanor theft and was sentenced to 30 days in jail by Judge Burnett. He had been arrested by Oakland police officers in July after the investigation of a theft of a stereo from a parked car.

Sean Patrick Kinvey, 19, who pleaded guilty to marijuana possession, was handed a 30-day sentence, all but two days of which was suspended, fined $200, placed on one year of unsupervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service. His April arrest by state troopers came after a search of his car, which had been stopped on Interstate 68, uncovered a bag of marijuana and a small set of weigh scales. An additional charge of possession of drug paraphernalia was not prosecuted.

William Warfield Clipper, 19, Grantsville, pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana and was handed a 30-day sentence, all but two days of which was suspended, fined $200, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service. State troopers arrested Clipper in March after a search of his residence revealed marijuana, a smoking bong, and rolling papers. An additional charge of paraphernalia possession was not prosecuted.

Joseph Freeman Snell, 25, Kitzmiller, pleaded guilty to illegal possession of a controlled substance and was handed a 30-day sentence, all but two days of which was suspended, fined $100, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service. His May arrest by sheriff's deputies followed a domestic altercation at his home when several Tylenol with codeine pills were found in his pocket, medication that he did not have a prescription for and he did not have stored in a pharmacist's bottle. An additional charge of second degree assault stemming from the same incident was not prosecuted.

Snell also faced a separate marijuana possession charge that was placed onto the stet docket. The charge was filed after a June traffic stop when sheriff's deputies located two bags of suspected marijuana in his car.

Joshua Travis Smith, 19, Piedmont, W.Va., pleaded guilty to misdemeanor theft and was handed a 30-day sentence, 28 days of which was suspended, along with six months' supervised probation and 30 hours of community service. Smith's April apprehension by state troopers came after he drove away from the McHenry BP station pumps without paying for gasoline. A search of his car uncovered a marijuana joint and rolling papers.

Jim Robert Hackney Jr., 30, Connellsville, Pa., pleaded guilty to malicious destruction of property and was handed a 30-day suspended sentence, a $100 fine, one year of unsupervised probation, and 30 hours of community service. His June arrest by state troopers stemmed from a domestic-related dispute during which he picked up a stump and smashed another man's windshield.

Charles French Stinson, 48, Mtn. Lake Park, pleaded guilty to alcohol intoxication to the point of posing a danger, a charge filed by sheriff's deputies who discovered him passed out and lying in the middle of Maryland Highway. Stinson received a 30-day suspended sentence, a $100 fine, and one year of unsupervised probation. An additional charge of disturbing the peace was not prosecuted.

Joseph Paul Lemnah, 21, Jericho, Vt., pleaded guilty to speeding, while associated charges of marijuana and paraphernalia possession were stetted. He was fined $150 and placed on one day of unsupervised probation. State troopers filed the charges after a June traffic stop on Interstate 68, when a search located marijuana and a smoking device in his car.

Lemnah's passenger, Richard Alan Strub, 22, also of Jericho, faced possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia charges, which were placed onto the stet docket.

Anthony James Hardesty, 21, Oakland, who had pleaded not guilty to driving while impaired, was nonetheless handed a probation before judgment (PBJ) and an order to complete 30 hours of community service. He was exonerated of a charge of marijuana possession and was not prosecuted for possession of drug paraphernalia. Hardesty was apprehended in April behind the wheel of a vehicle in the Browning's Foodland parking lot, at which time sheriff's deputies found suspected marijuana seeds in his wallet.

Michael William Ward, 23, Grantsville, pleaded guilty to drug paraphernalia possession and was handed a PBJ, fined $200, and placed on one day of unsupervised probation. An associated marijuana possession charge was not prosecuted. Ward's February arrest by sheriff's deputies came after a traffic stop on Deep Creek Drive when a search located a metal pipe bearing burnt marijuana residue stashed in a car door pocket.

All charges were stetted in the case of Jeremy Shane Miller, 21, Oakland, who was accused of marijuana and drug paraphernalia possession, and driving while under the influence. Miller, who was ordered to complete the sheriff's office Reality Program, was arrested by deputies in February after he was found passed out behind the wheel of a vehicle in Mtn. Lake Park. The keys were in the ignition, and a search revealed a bag of suspected marijuana and a smoking pipe.

Nicholas Aaron Jacob, 19, Friendsville, faced charges of possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia, which were placed on the stet docket. His March arrest by state troopers followed a search of a Grantsville home where he was staying as a guest. Located during the incident were suspected marijuana, a bong, and smoking pipes.

Michael Wayne Green, 43, McHenry, faced a second-degree assault charge, which was stetted, filed by sheriff's deputies in the wake of an April domestic dispute at a woman's home. He allegedly grabbed a man at the residence and had also reportedly made threats to kill him. Additional charges of two counts of second-degree assault, and one count each of felony theft, disorderly conduct, disturbing the peace, harassment, and trespassing filed after a separate domestic incident at the woman's home were not prosecuted. That April arrest was also made by sheriff's deputies.

Charges of malicious destruction of property and disturbing the peace faced by Michael Paul Sliger, 31, Oakland, were stetted with the condition that he complete 40 hours of alcohol counseling. A domestic dispute at a woman's apartment led to Sliger's arrest after he broke a glass door. Sheriff's deputies investigated the June incident.

Trinity Scott Gillespie, 27, Culpeper, Va., was required to forfeit his weapon to the state in connection with a stetted charge of illegal transport of a handgun in a motor vehicle. A traffic stop by state troopers led to the discovery a .40 caliber Taurus semi-automatic which was lying between the front seats, while a clip loaded with live rounds was located in the glove box, well within reach.

Roy William Coleman Jr., 35, Terra Alta, W.Va., was handed a stet ruling with a mandate to complete 30 hours of community service in connection with a charge of failure to obey a lawful order. In May, sheriff's deputies apprehended Coleman at midnight in the middle of K Street in Mtn. Lake Park, where he refused to comply with repeated requests to stop yelling loudly.

Charges of possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia faced by Virginia residents Ellen Louise Buerdsell, 27, and Rolanda Manna Hitchens, 32, Arlington, were stetted. The women were jailed by state troopers when a May traffic stop on I-68 led to the discovery of the suspected contraband in their car.

James Howard Feist Sr., 51, Grantsville, faced a second-degree assault charge that was placed onto the stet docket. The charge was filed following a June domestic altercation investigated by state troopers who alleged that Feist had pushed and choked the reported victim.

Robert Lee Lewis Jr., 23, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a fourth-degree burglary charge stemming from his August arrest by sheriff's deputies who accused him of stealing food and boots from the Deer Park fire hall.

Glenna Ann Musacchio, 25, Baltimore, was not prosecuted on several drug charges filed after state troopers found quantities of suspected contraband in her car during a May traffic stop on Hutton Road. At the time of her arrest Musacchio was charged with possession of both morphine and marijuana with intent to distribute, and possession of Ecstasy, Percocet, morphine, and marijuana.

Jason Wayne Hale, 27, Swanton, was not prosecuted on charges of second-degree assault and disorderly conduct filed by sheriff's deputies following a July domestic incident at a Deer Park apartment complex, during which he allegedly shoved and cussed at a woman. Also not prosecuted were additional charges of second-degree assault, disorderly conduct, and disturbing the peace that stemmed from an incident just prior to his alleged assault on the woman, when he initiated a belligerent encounter with some of her neighbors at the apartment building.

DUI/DWI HEARINGS

A number of driving while under the influence (DUI) and driving while impaired (DWI) cases were heard in District Court recently.

Richard Nevin Brown, 33, Va., pleaded guilty to DUI, and Judge Stakem handed down a one-year sentence with 30 days suspended, an $805 fine, and two years of supervised probation.

Jimmy Lee Poland, 48, Md., pleaded guilty to DUI and was handed a two-year

BIKE RODEO PROMOTES FUN, SAFETY – The Garrett County Health Department sponsored a bicycle rodeo recently for participants in the Partners After School Program at Southern Middle School. Riders were challenged on a course that included a "figure 8" and a "snail trail," and Health Department staff provided instruction in the rules of sharing the road, the helmet law, and proper hand signals, as well as safety helmet inspections. High Mtn. Sports store staff Jason Beckman and Steve Kersten lent a hand by performing safety inspections on bicycles. Kersten is shown above with After School participant Michael Gibbons.

NEW STAMP UNVEILED AT POST OFFICE – The "Stop Family Violence" semi-postal stamp will be released Oct. 11 to raise funds to help educate people about domestic violence and fund programs to assist victims. To accompany the new stamp, the Dove Center will have a display in the post office's lobby to share information about its services. The 45-cent self-adhesive stamp is valid for postage at the first-class mail first-ounce letter rate in effect at the time of purchase (currently 37 cents), with the differential (currently 8 cents, less the postal service's reasonable costs) going to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for domestic violence programs. The differential consists of a tax-deductible contribution. Other semi-postal stamps include the "Breast Cancer Research" stamp, which raised more than $30 million to date, and the "Heroes of 2001" stamp, which has raised more than $8 million for the families of the victims of Sept. 11. The design of the stamp was created from artwork by a young girl expressing the pain and sadness caused by domestic violence. Pictured above, from the left, are Peggy Nelson, coordinator of Garret County Family Violence Coalition; Heather Hanline, executive director of the Dove Center; and Ken Perrin, postmaster.

Local Veterans Slated To Take Part In Service

Garrett County veterans will take part in a memorial service this Sunday, Oct. 12, at 10 a.m. at Antietam, Sharpsburg, to honor Patrick Roy, who died while defending his country aboard the USS Cole.

State VFW commander Raymond Shipley, senior vice commander and chief John Furgess from national headquarters, and District Three commander Michael T. Myers from Garrett County will also attend this ceremony.

The State Honor Guard as well as the Garrett County Firing Squad from VFW Post #10077, Deer Park, will also be present.

Following the service, the department commander along with the national senior vice commander and chief will travel to Hancock for a special presentation to Commander Robert C. McCusker, Post #10502, Hancock, at the War Memorial Park.

GCAC Sets Two Workshops In Art Of Fused Glass

The Garrett County Arts Council will present a pair of weekend workshops on the Saturdays and Sundays of Oct. 25-26 and Nov. 1-2 that will provide instruction in the art and technique of fusing glass. The Saturday sessions will meet from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Sunday sessions are set for 1 to 5 p.m. The classes will meet in Swanton at the Snowbird Studio, operated by class instructor Julie Turrentine. Lunch will be provided.

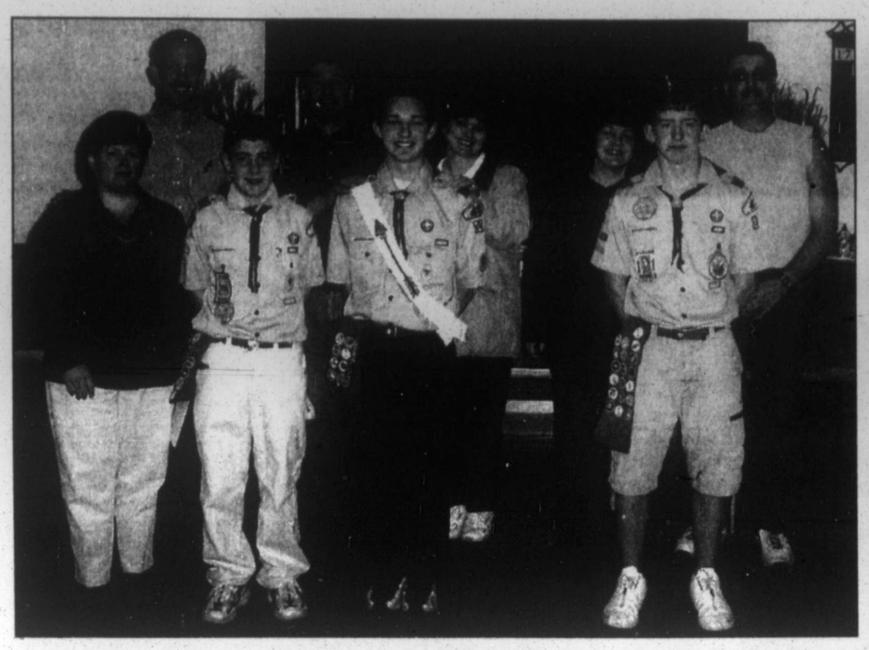
The first workshop, set for Oct. 25-26, will provide instruction on basic glass fusing techniques. During Saturday's session each participant will create a small glass project for overnight kiln firing. At the Sunday session, fired items will be evaluated and successful techniques will be reviewed. The registration deadline for the first workshop is Saturday, Oct. 18.

The second workshop, slated for Nov. 1-2, will focus on the art and craft of fusing glass for jewelry making. Saturday will be devoted to instruction in how to fuse glass to make pendants and earrings. After overnight firing, jewelry pieces will be removed from the kiln on Sunday, and participants will learn techniques of wire wrapping, necklace making, and attaching findings to earrings. The registration deadline for the jewelry workshop is Saturday, Oct. 25.

A native of Uniontown, Pa., Turrentine spent 20 years with the U.S. Air Force Singing Sergeants as a professional musician before moving to Garrett County. She displays her fused glass creations extensively at regional art shows and galleries.

All glass and jewelry supplies will be provided by the instructor, but workshop participants are requested to provide their own glass cutters. No prior experience with glass fusing is necessary.

Additional information and registration forms can be obtained from GCAC Gallery along Alder Street in Oakland, or by calling the Arts Council at 301-334-6580.



TROOP 22 HOLDS COURT OF HONOR – Members of Boy Scout Troop 22, sponsored by the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, held a Court of Honor on Monday, Oct. 6, at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Oakland. The event was presided over by senior patrol leader Brian Georg. The Screaming Eagles Patrol presented the colors and the Moose Patrol led the opening. Brendan Stephens provided the invocation. A total of 87 merit badges were awarded to 24 troop members, and four boys received rank advancements. Derek Taylor and Michael Varner were awarded Second Class badges by Assistant Scoutmaster Phil Lauver. Derek is shown below as he receives that honor from Lauver. His father, Allen Taylor, is in the background. Evan Savopolous, Mike Rosecky, and Matt White were awarded the rank of Star by Assistant Scoutmaster Marlon George. Troop members were also presented with their Camp Potomac and Winter Klondike patches. Part of the event involved the welcoming of new troop member Samuel Moorhead. He is a transfer from Troop 28 in Westernport. The Dragon Patrol retired the colors to end the Court of Honor and Brian George closed the ceremony. Refreshments followed. In the photo above are the Star Scouts pictured with their parents. Shown from left are Susan and Sotiere Savopolous with son Evan, Paul and Diane Rosecky with son Mike, and Janet and Mike White with son Matt.

FSU TO HOST REO SPEEDWAGON – The music of the 1970s and '80s will return when the Frostburg State University's Cultural Events Series and University Programming Council present the band REO Speedwagon on Saturday, Oct. 18, at 9 p.m. in the FSU Cordts Physical Education Center Main Arena. The concert is part of FSU's 2003 "Blast from the Past" homecoming celebration. On the road and recording non-stop since 1970, REO Speedwagon has recorded 17 critically acclaimed albums and 13 Top 40 singles, including "Can't Fight This Feeling," "Keep On Loving You," "Time For Me To Fly," "Hi Infidelity," "Take It on the Run," and "Back on the Road Again." Band members are Bruce Hall, bass guitarist, Kevin Cronin, lead singer/songwriter, Neal Doughty, keyboard player and founding member, Bryan Hitt, drummer, and Dave Amato, lead guitarist. This show is presented in partnership with the FSU Alumni Association. Ticket prices for the general public range from $25 to $45, and tickets may be ordered by calling the CES box office Monday through Friday between the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The office can be reached at 301-687-3137 or toll free at 1-866-TIXX-CES, or visited on-line at ces.frostburg.edu.

The Arts

Cast Announced For OTT's Evening With Shakespeare

Our Town Theatre (OTT) has announced the following individuals as those chosen for cast members for An Evening with Mr. Shakespeare.

The first rehearsal will be on Thursday, Oct. 16, at 7 p.m. at the theatre.

The production is scheduled for Nov. 20-22. Reservations for this production may be made by calling 301-334-5640 starting on Nov. 1.

Community Band Will Accompany Capitol Quartet

Garrett Community Concert Band is preparing to share the stage with the Capitol Quartet as part of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival program on Saturday, Oct. 18, in the Garrett College auditorium.

The Capitol Quartet has been described as an award winning group of saxophonists from Washington, D.C., that "plays everything from Bach and Beethoven to Bebop." Since 1991, the Capitol Quartet has performed with many well-known concert and pops orchestras, and has been described as "wonderful fun, with dazzling arrangements and entertaining innovative presentation."

The Community Band, under the direction of Jerry McGee, will accompany the quartet in a program of jazz. The band has been rehearsing special arrangements prepared for them by Vince Norman, the quartet's arranger. Included in this program will be several numbers from the quartet's recent CD titled Anything Goes. Concert goers will readily recognize favorites including "My Foolish Heart," as well as "Moonlight Serenade" and "Take the 'A' Train" from a medley called "Swing, Swing, Swing."

"The music is challenging and fun," said McGee, "and we are looking forward to the opportunity to perform with such an outstanding group of musicians."

The band will also perform some selections from earlier programs that have been favorites of both the band and the audience, McGee added.

The program will conclude the 2003 GLAF season. Tickets for this performance can be obtained directly from GLAF; reservations can be made by calling 301-387-3082.

Valley Ridge Theatre Slates Open House

Valley Ridge Theatre in Thomas, W.Va., will hold an open house/interest meeting this Sunday, Oct. 12, from 2 until 4:30 p.m. Anyone interested in participating in a Christmas production is encouraged to attend.

"We are hoping to produce Barbara Robinson's play The Best Christmas Pageant Ever," said a theatre spokesperson. "But in order to do so, we need you. We're looking to fill 24 plus roles (both children and adults), and also for volunteers interested in working behind the scenes."

The theatre is located at 9 Front Street. For more information, persons may call 304-463-3365.

Revival To Be Led By Fletchers At Lakeside Assem.

The Lakeside Assembly of God Church will host a revival featuring special guests Robert and Jackie Fletcher, former pastors of the Loch Lynn Church of God.

The event will begin on Sunday, Oct. 12, at the morning service (10:30 a.m.). Nightly services will then follow from Sunday through Wednesday (Oct. 15) at 6 p.m. each evening.

Rev. Robert Fletcher is an ordained bishop in the Church of God. He served as the pastor of Loch Lynn Church of God for nearly 33 years. He and Jackie have been evangelizing for the past three years, and he is now serving as a "cluster elder" for the western section of Maryland for the Church of God.

Rev. Robert and Jackie Fletcher

In addition to the Fletchers' presence, there will be special singing at the revival. It should be noted that the special services will take place at the Lakeside Assembly of God Church, not at the Loch Lynn Church of God, as was reported in last week's issue of The Republican. (The error is regretted.)

For more information, persons may call 301-387-9242.

New Arrivals

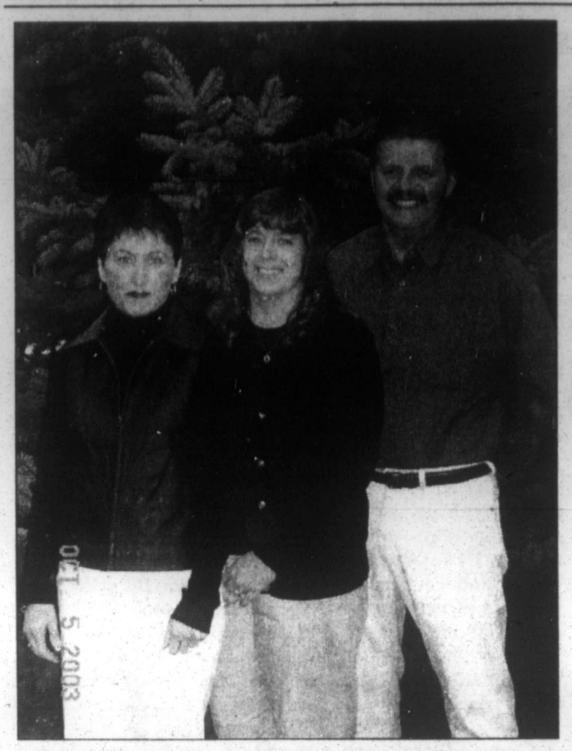
District Day Set By Rep. Bartlett

Garrett County residents will have an opportunity to meet with one of Congressman Roscoe Bartlett's staff on Tuesday, Oct. 14. The representative will be available between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the Garrett County Economic Development office in the courthouse, Oakland.

"I want to make it as easy and accessible as possible for people to ask for my assistance if they have questions or problems with a federal program, such as Social Security or veterans benefits, or to share their views about issues or legislation," said Bartlett.

To ask questions or to schedule an appointment, persons may call toll free 800-889-3012. Walk-ins are also welcome.



MCHENRY UM TO HOST REVIVAL – Led by the Spirit, a popular southern gospel music trio, will be lending its talent to a revival slated for 7 p.m. each evening Sunday through Wednesday, Oct. 12-15, at the McHenry United Methodist Church. The Lewis County (W.Va.)-based group will minister on the opening night of the revival in both song and the spoken word. The McHenry UM Church is located at the crossroads of Bumble Bee and Mosser roads, between Garrett Highway and Garrett College. For information, persons may call the church office at 301-387-9059.

Ipecac Not Best For Many Poisonings

Generations of Americans have kept a bottle of ipecac in the medicine cabinet to help induce vomiting after suspected accidental poisonings. Recently, however, use of ipecac syrup has declined and some poison control centers have stopped recommending ipecac. Some evidence has been produced indicating that ipecac is not the best way to treat many poisonings. Also because ipecac syrup has been misused by bulimics, the government is considering pulling the product from the over-the-counter market. A review of childhood poisoning cases from the past year indicates that few children ingest enough poison to do real damage and giving ipecac does not seem to make a big difference. There is also a lack of proof that ipecac-induced vomiting improves survival after instances of severe poisoning.

New guidelines concerning the use of ipecac are expected later this year from the American Association of Poison Control Centers and the American Academy of Pediatrics. Also, many hospitals are moving away from induced vomiting as a poison treatment in favor of the use of oral antidotes or activated charcoal.

Northern Boys Crush Elks Before Falling To Beall

Senior Torrey Poholsky earned a first-half hat trick plus an assist, and teammate Derek Cutter recorded a pair of goals to pace the Northern High School boys' varsity soccer team to a convincing 7-2 victory over host Salisbury last Thursday.

In action Tuesday night, the Huskies were handed a 7-1 Western Maryland Interscholastic League defeat by Beall in a match that was resumed from an earlier postponement because of foul weather.

Thursday's win over Salisbury was the seventh in nine starts for Coach Tom Ables and the Huskies, while the loss to Beall dropped Northern to 7-3.

The Huskies took total control of the Salisbury match in the first half of action, which ended with them on top by a commanding 6-1 margin.

Poholsky scored the first of his three goals and the first of the match at the 31:34 mark off an assist by Chris Speicher.

Cutter followed 4½ minutes later with a goal off another assist by Speicher to give the Huskies a 2-0 lead.

Salisbury's Keith Byler cut Northern's lead in half with a goal off a feed by Tim Root with 21:12 left in the half; however, the Huskies answered with four unanswered goals in the remainder of the half.

Preston Sisler scored off an assist by Scott Pusateri at the 20:37 mark, and then assisted Robert Fontaine on a goal with 9:35 remaining, giving Northern a 4-1 advantage.

Poholsky completed his hat trick with a pair of goals in about 1½ off assists by Pusateri (8:38) and Shane Yoder (7:05) to round out the first half of scoring.

Coach Ables put his squad into a defensive mode through most of the second half.

Cutter concluded the scoring with a goal off a feed by Poholsky at the 9:21 mark.

The Huskies finished with a 34-18 lead in shots and a 4-3 edge in corner kicks.

Chris Fickes was credited with 12 saves in goal for the Huskies, while Eric Minnick turned away 19 shots for the Elks. The loss dropped Salisbury to 3-7.

Northern was no match for top-ranked Beall in the second half Tuesday night, as the contest resumed with the Mountaineers already on top, 2-0.

The Huskies did, however, score the first goal of the resumption when Derek Cutter made good on a penalty kick with 5:13 remaining.

The second half belonged to the Mountaineers, who scored five goals in the first 19 minutes of action.

Donald Delozier started the run with a goal less than two minutes into the half off an assist by Adam Bowling.

Bowling followed with a goal of his own, unassisted, and Brandon Bittner and Ryan Willingham both repeated that effort with unassisted goals at about the 28:00 and 23:00 marks.

Carter Dickel put the final Beall score on the board off a feed by Bittner with about 21 minutes left.

The Huskies were outshot by only a 13-6 margin, and Beall finished with a 4-2 edge in corner kicks.

Fickes was credited with 13 saves for Northern, while Sean Diamond had four saves for Beall.

The win upped the Mountaineers' perfect record to 10-0 overall and 5-0 in the WMIL. It was the first WMIL loss for the Huskies in four league matches.

The Huskies will go after win #8 this evening when they travel to Southern, with the kickoff set for 7 p.m. They will play at Westmar next Tuesday.

Local Booters Score In PSC Catamount Win

Two Garrett County collegiate soccer players each scored a goal in an 8-0 victory by Potomac State College, Keyser, W.Va., over visiting Allegany College of Maryland last Thursday.

Shawn Fike, former standout at Northern High School, recorded the seventh goal of the match for the Catamounts off an assist by Corey Diehl, and former Southern High Ram Sean Buckle scored the final goal of the afternoon off a feed by T.J. McCullough.

Meanwhile, former SHS goal keeper Ben Friend accounted for a pair of saves in the second half.

The Catamounts (3-4), who are coached by Mel Menker, Oakland, will play again today when they host Frederick Community College. That kickoff is set for 6 p.m.

Southern Girls Finally Fall, But Quickly Resume Winning

Tasting defeat for the first time this season was the Southern High School girls' varsity soccer team, which had not only not lost a match in eight starts, but had allowed only one goal in those eight outings.

That all ended for the Rams on Tuesday, however, when they dropped a 2-1 contest to host Bishop Walsh.

The Rams rebounded quickly though, by defeating a talented Hollidaysburg team last night at home, 2-1, in overtime.

The Rams found themselves down 2-0 at halftime against Bishop Walsh on Tuesday, as Karen Iames put the first Spartan point on the board when she scored off a direct kick by Erica Gilles at about the 29:00 mark, and Megan Finan scored what would be the backbreaker goal with just a minute left before halftime. Her score came off a feed by Mary Witmer.

Neither team scored in the second half until Sabrina Scheffel finally connected on a penalty kick with just 5:40 left in the match.

The only other goal that was scored against the Rams was by the same Spartan team in their first meeting this season in Oakland, a contest that was won by Southern, 2-1, in overtime.

The Rams finished with a 17-14 edge in shots, while BW led in corner kicks, 5-3.

Alasha Rush, who has seven shutouts to her credit in goal so far this season, had 10 saves, and Konnie Christman turned away 11 shots for the Spartans.

It was the 10th win in 13 starts for the Spartans, who also have two losses and one tie.

The Rams gave up their fourth goal of the season yesterday, but scored two of their own to earn their ninth win of the campaign.

After falling behind 1-0 in the first half, Southern tied the score in the second half and ultimately won the match in the first sudden-death overtime period.

Emily Miller put the Tigers on top with an unassisted goal at the 10:40 mark of the first half.

Casey Taylor tied the score for the Rams with 15:33 remaining in regulation with a goal off a direct kick.

With the first overtime period winding down, Sabrina Scheffel put the winning goal into the net off an assist by her sister Jasmine with just 1:49 remaining.

The Rams trailed in shots on goal by a 9-6 margin, and also in corner kicks, 5-4.

Alasha Rush stopped eight shots in goal for Southern, and Jen McConnell had four saves for the Tigers.

The Rams will face another tough challenge next Tuesday when they travel to Beall for a 7 p.m. match.

Southern Boys Blanked 6-0 By Both Hampshire And Beall

The frustration being faced this season by the Southern High School boys' varsity soccer team continued this week, as the Rams were handed a pair of 6-0 defeats, one by host Hampshire last Thursday, and the other by undefeated Beall in a Western Maryland Interscholastic League clash Monday evening in Frostburg. The pair of losses dropped the Rams to 2-7 overall.

Scoring two goals apiece for Hampshire on Thursday were Wes Kidwell and Brad Timbrook. After a scoreless first quarter, Kidwell gave the Trojans a 1-0 advantage by making good on a penalty kick with 5:29 left in the first half.

Eduardo Carranza followed with a goal just 14 seconds later off an assist by Bryan Beverage to give Hampshire a 2-0 lead.

Kidwell's second goal came at the 7:45 mark of the third quarter off a feed by Timbrook.

Timbrook then took a pass from Pete Martinez and scored just 45 seconds into the fourth quarter.

Martinez and Timbrook rounded out the Trojans' scoring with unassisted goals at the 11:20 and 5:33 marks of the final stanza.

The score was not indicative of the offensive effort of the Rams, who trailed in shots on goal by only five, 26-21. The Trojans led in corner kicks, 3-2.

Taylor Crabtree turned away 18 of the Trojans shots at the goal, while Hampshire keeper Bill Brick was credited with 10 saves.

The win upped the Trojans' record to 5-5-1.

Six different members of Beall's unbeaten squad recorded one goal each against the Rams on Monday, as the Mountaineers dominated the contest by finishing with a lopsided 48-4 advantage in shots and an 8-0 lead in corner kicks.

Donald Delozier, who also finished with a pair of assists, scored Beall's first goal. It came at the 19:00 mark of the first half off an assist by Brady Engle.

Adam Sommers recorded an unassisted goal with 9:27 remaining, giving the Mountaineers a 2-0 advantage at intermission.

Bryon Folk wasted no time resuming Beall's scoring in the second half, as he took a feed from Delozier and put the ball into the Rams' net just 48 seconds after the kickoff.

Jared Bridges made it 4-0 with an unassisted goal at the 24:21 mark, and Adam Bowling followed with a goal about 10 minutes later off Delozier's second assist of the match.

Adding an insurance goal with 4:31 remaining was Ryan Willingham off a feed by Lonnie Harvey.

Crabtree had a dozen saves in goal for the Rams. Chris Fike finished with two and Sean Diamond made one for Beall.

The Rams will play again this evening when they host a strong Northern High squad in a 7 p.m. WMIL match. They will travel to Keyser next Tuesday.

TASTING DEFEAT for the first time this season was the Southern High School varsity girls' soccer team, which dropped a 2-1 match to Bishop Walsh on Monday. However, the Rams rebounded yesterday to earn a 2-1 overtime victory over the always talented Hollidaysburg (Pa.) Tigers. Driving the ball downfield in the photo above is Robbin Gregg. At left is Casey Taylor (#11), who scored the Rams' first goal on a direct kick to tie the score at 1-1. At far right is Sabrina Scheffel, who scored the winning goal in the overtime period off a pass from her sister Jasmine. The Ram defense has been stellar all season, having allowed a total of only four goals in 10 matches played so far. Key players on that unit are pictured below and include: Kailee Craig (#23), goal keeper Alasha Rush (background), and Laura Bonser (#13), shown repelling the ball with her knee. Butler Goal All That Is Needed For Husky Victory

A goal scored about midway through the first half by senior Lyndsi Butler was all that the Northern High School girls' soccer team needed to pull off a 1-0 mild upset of host Allegany in a Western Maryland Interscholastic League match last night.

Butler fired the ball past Alco keeper Lindsey Twigg at about the 23:00 mark, and the Husky defense did its job to perfection, keeping the Campers scoreless the rest of the way.

The Huskies finished with an 11-8 edge in shots on goal, and each team had one corner kick.

Sarah Masters was credited with two saves in goal for Northern, while Twigg recorded six for Allegany.

The win upped the Huskies' record to 5-4, and dropped the Campers to 5-4-1.

Coach Lynn Lais and the Huskies will face a tough test this evening when they host Bishop Walsh, with the kickoff set for 7 p.m. They will travel to Berlin, Pa., on Saturday for an 11 a.m. match.

Rams Romp Past BW Spartans; Junior Varsity Still Undefeated

The Southern High School varsity volleyball squad took a hard-fought 3-1 match from visiting Bishop Walsh last night in Oakland.

The win gives the Rams' varsity squad a 9-1 season record (Frankfort Tourney results reported last week do not count against the season won-loss record, according to SHS coach Sue Newton.) The Southern junior varsity took its match to maintain its perfect run.

Last night the Rams ran over their Spartan guests in the first game, 25-9, and battled to a 25-23 win in the second game, but then fell by a 25-21 tally. Southern clinched the match with a 25-8 nightcap win.

SHS junior Julia Bosley paced the victory with a dozen points and four kills, and classmates Kayla Nazelrod and Sarah Bittinger netted six and four kills, respectively. Senior Megan Pike and junior Bethany Steyer dished out seven assists apiece.

Southern's junior varsity took its perfect record to 10-0 with a two-game sweep of its BW opponent. Randi Bennett paced the Rams with 20 points and five aces.

The Rams are idle until Wednesday, when they will host Fort Hill in a 7 p.m. varsity match coming on the heels of a 6 p.m. junior varsity contest.

Northern Netters Downed By Bishop Walsh, Beall, Fort Hill

The Northern High School varsity volleyball team dropped three straight matches this week, as the Huskies were handed defeats by Bishop Walsh, Beall, and Fort Hill.

NHS was downed 3-1 by Bishop Walsh on Thursday, Oct. 2. The Spartans took the first two games 25-16 and 25-14, Northern took the third game 25-15, then BW put the match away with a 25-15 victory.

Northern junior Jayme Miller had nine service points and seven attacks, while senior Nicole Doerr added seven points and four attacks.

Northern won the junior varsity match 25-11 and 25-12. Sophomore Ashley Rounds tallied 10 service points for the Huskies, and classmate Laura Maust had six attacks and one kill.

Beall defeated host Northern 3-1 after dropping the first game 25-22 and winning the final three 25-23, 25-16 and 25-15 on.

Junior Lakin Weimer paced NHS with 13 attacks and two kills, and sophomore Angie Umbel contributed nine attacks and six points. Doerr recorded six points, three attacks, and one kill.

Northern won the junior varsity match 25-13 and 25-7. Sophomore Tara Devine had 15 Husky points, freshman Jackie Rodeheaver netted six points, and 10th grader Kirsten Meyer had five attacks.

Last night in Cumberland the Huskies were swept by Fort Hill in game scores of 25-15, 25-14, and 25-15. Northern was paced by Weimer's four blocks and one kill, while Miller netted four attacks and three points.

The Sentinels took the JV contest 2-1. FH took the first game by a 26-24 score, NHS took the second game 25-13, and the hosts took the tiebreaker 15-8. Sophomores Esther Schmuck and Devine had eight and seven points, respectively, for the Huskies.

The Huskies are slated to host Allegany Monday and travel to Bishop Walsh Thursday. Match times are set at 6 p.m. for jayvees, with varsity battles to follow at approximately 7 p.m.

CORRECTION

The NHS junior varsity account published last week misidentified a Husky player as a member of the Westmar squad. Jackie Rodeheaver is on the Northern roster.

GC Netters Beat PG, Frederick; Fall In Sweeps To Butler, ACM

The Garrett College volleyball team took a 3-0 sweep from Prince George's on Wednesday, and in a Saturday triangular the Lakers bested Frederick in a 3-2 duel before being downed by Butler in a 2-0 sweep. The slide continued Monday when Allegany College netted three straight wins over the Lakers.

Garrett stormed visiting PG last Wednesday, Oct. 1, by game scores of 30-17, 30-19, and 30-28. Tiffany McFarland recorded eight aces, and Autumn Beavers had six, while Jolene Brenneman contributed five aces, 11 digs, and 10 service points, and Erin Frantz had four aces, six digs, and nine service points. Beavers also had nine service points and netted seven kills in 12 attempts, while Frantz had five kills and McFarland and Brooke Alkire contributed four kills apiece.

Danielle Thompson dished out six assists, while Marlena Raines and Molly Wolf handed out five and four, respectively. Frantz had Garrett's only block of the match.

The Lakers opened with 30-25, 30-26 wins over Frederick Saturday, but the Cougars took the next two 30-24, 30-27. Garrett sealed the match with a 15-10 tiebreaker win.

McFarland rolled up eight kills, seven service aces, and five blocks, and Beavers accounted for 14 kills and six aces.

Garrett lost to Butler (Pa.) later in the day by game scores of 30-26, 30-27.

Beavers was 28-for-32 and McFarland 19-for-20 on the attack for the Lakers, while Brenneman had 16 service points, Raines 17 digs and 22 assists, Amanda Frantz 14 digs, and Erin Frantz 13 digs and three aces. Raines recorded 11 assists and two aces, Beavers and Heather Glotfelty four kills apiece, and Amanda Frantz had seven points and two aces.

Monday night in McHenry, Garrett fell to an Allegany onslaught by game scores of 30-19, 30-17, and 30-19.

Tara Emerick had 12 kills, eight digs, three blocks, and three aces. Brenneman had eight digs, five service points, three aces, and four blocks. Erin Frantz added 10 service points and seven digs, and McFarland had six kills, two aces, and two blocks.

The Lakers will visit Essex Monday before returning home to host Hagerstown in a 6 p.m. match Wednesday.

Skidmore Fares Well At AJGA Golf Tourney

Matt Skidmore, a junior at Southern High School, competed in a national AJGA (American Junior Golf Association) Junior Golf Tournament on Oct. 4 and 5 and finished in the top 10.

The golfer played the two-day tournament from the back tees at the Black Rock Golf Course in Hagerstown.

He shot a 79 on a cold and rainy Saturday to finish in the middle of the field. On Sunday he was paired with Tommy Hanna Jr., son of Tom Hanna, head golf coach at the University of Maryland.

"With the added pressure of a Division 1 head golf coach following the group, Matt managed to shoot a 173 for the third lowest score of the day," a spokesperson said.

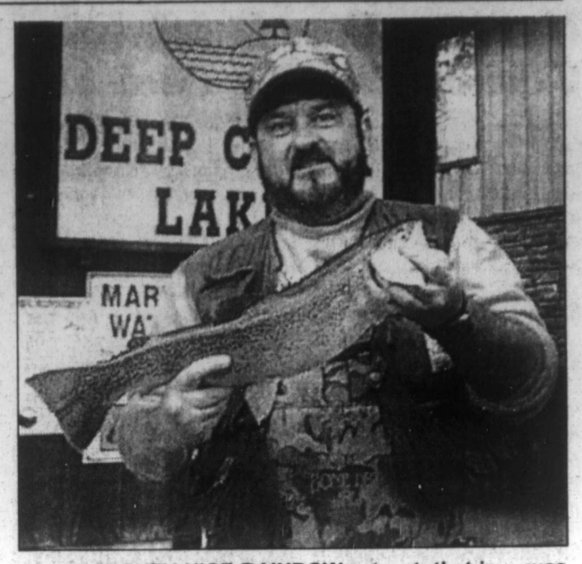
Skidmore's two-day total gave him a top-10 finish and inclusion in a national AJGA tournament next year.

June Lee won the tournament with scores of 74 and 72. Lee was the number-1 ranked junior golfer in Korea in 2001 and 2002.

Tommy Hanna Jr. finished 13th and will also be invited to compete next year.

The AJGA is the top-rated junior tour in the country, the spokesperson said. Its alumni include Tiger Woods, Phil Mickelson, Sergio Garcia, Mike Weir, and Davis Love, among others.

Matt is the son of Alan and Becky Skidmore, Oakland.



A MIGHTY NICE RAINBOW – trout, that is – was caught in the final week of the annual Garrett County Fishing Contest by Ed Kight of Boynton Beach, Fla. The fish weighed 3 pounds, 4 ounces, and was 21½ inches in length. The winners for the largest catch of the 2003 season for various species will be announced soon.

Garrett County Fishing Contest Winners Named

The winners of the Garrett County Fishing Contest, sponsored by Deep Creek Outfitters and the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, for the week ending October 5 are:

Chain pickerel, 2 lbs. 14 ozs., 22-1/2 in., caught by Dwight Duage, Pasadena.

Rainbow trout, 3 lbs. 4 ozs., 21-1/2 in., caught by Ed Kight, Boynton Beach, Fla.

Smallmouth bass, 2 lbs. 4 ozs., 17-3/4 in., caught by Drew Dowzon, Stewartstown, Pa.

This concludes the contest for this year. The winners for the largest catch of the season will be announced soon.

Service Club Hoops League Slates Meeting

The Oakland Service Club Basketball League has set an organizational meeting for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 16, at Southern Middle School. All coaches and any other persons interested in volunteering to assist the league are encouraged to attend. There are coaching positions available in the fifth- and sixth-grade boys' divisions, and referees are needed for all divisions.

The Service Club League provides co-ed basketball play for boys and girls in grades 5-8. The league is sponsored by community service organizations, and team practices are slated to get under way Monday, Nov. 17. Games are played on Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays throughout January and February.

For further information, persons may call Paul Pacella at 301-334-5480 or 304-693-7285, or Ken Witte at 301-334-6991.

Huskies Downed By Alco As Campers Wear Down Defense

Despite some high hopes (and a sincere chance) for an upset win dancing in their heads, the Northern High varsity Huskies dropped a 28-13 contest to the visiting Allegany Campers Friday night. "We're pretty disappointed because we know we could have won that one," NHS head coach Phil Carr remarked. "We just couldn't hold them on the third- and fourth-down conversions, and three of Allegany's four touchdowns resulted in large part from our breakdowns on fourth-and-goal situations."

The Huskies' defense had to be tiring throughout the contest, as it was on the field for the vast majority of the game. "Alco's first drive took seven minutes off the clock, and we only got one offensive play under our belt in the first quarter and 13 over the whole first half," said Carr. "That makes it hard to build up some consistency on offense."

The skipper's observation was borne out by statistics showing that the Campers rolled up an 18-2 first down advantage, and 340 yards of total offense to Northern's 140 yards. NHS halfback Michael Wolf accounted for 125 of those yards by himself on a dozen carries, two of which resulted in both Northern touchdowns.

Allegany "jumped" out to a 7-0 lead after taking the opening kickoff and embarking on a 14-play scoring drive that covered 62 yards. Camper quarterback Austin Scell capped the march with a five-yard touchdown toss to big split end Jesse Ritter on fourth-and-goal from the five-yard line. Justin Llewellyn kicked the ball through the uprights for the extra point.

The Huskies showed they had a dog in the fight on the subsequent kick-off, however, as junior Robert Stark snagged the short kick and reeled off a 55-yard return to put the NHS offense in the red zone, just 18 yards from the goal line. On the very first play from scrimmage, a "quick hitter dive," linemen Danny Ellis, a senior, and sophomore Corey Yoder blasted a hole in the Camper defensive front that Wolf shot through like a deer bounding out of a line of brush. The runner broke some tackles in the Alco secondary on his way to the touchdown. After a Steve Snyder point-after kick, the score was knotted at seven-all.

Allegany's offense then went to work and chewed up the field on an 11-play, 55-yard drive that led to the Campers' second touchdown on an eight-yard, second-quarter Scell carry. "We actually had great pass coverage in place on that play, but Scell was able to scramble around and finally took it past our line," stated Carr. A point-after kick made it 14-7.

After a rest in the halftime locker room, the Northern defense had to go right back to work against a Camper offense that subsequently mounted a four-plus minute scoring drive that covered 66 yards. Alco's Scell connected with Montay Handley for a 12-yard touchdown pass.

NHS's offense stalled, and with just under three minutes remaining in the third quarter, Alco took over again and embarked on yet another scoring drive that would feature a crucial fourth-and-goal breakdown as a one-yard run resulted in a first down at the four. Alco runner Randy O'Brien, subbing for the injured Curt Jacovino, scored on a third-down carry after the fourth quarter had commenced.

After an exchange of possessions, the Huskies scored the game's final points with five minutes remaining. Wolf took the handoff on a misdirection play, got an outstanding block from senior lineman Chad Carr, and escaped to the outside. After streaking 68 yards down the sideline, Wolf had his second touchdown of the game. A two-point pass attempt failed.

"We wanted to keep their offense from getting a big play, and we pretty much did that," Carr observed, "however, the little stuff killed us. They came up with the big plays on fourth down because we couldn't control them up front. The line of scrimmage is the name of the game and Allegany controlled it on both sides of the ball."

"On offense we missed a lot of blocking assignments, in part because we had a very inexperienced line going up against their very experienced unit. Time will tell if we can overcome that."

Northern will get a chance to redeem itself this Saturday when the Huskies visit Bishop Walsh, as the contest will mark a rare occasion when the NHS line has more size and experience than its opponent. BW fields just one senior on its line, and only five seniors on its entire roster.

A true Spartan weapon the Huskies are gearing up for is big junior quarterback Chris Hendershot (6-2, 215), widely acknowledged as one of the best field generals in the area. "They'll throw the ball 25 to 30 times a game, so we have to control the line and create some consistent pressure on Hendershot," said Carr. "We'll be rotating our defensive ends between Dustin Wildand, Steve Snyder, and Chad Carr to try and keep them fresh and keep the rush coming. Our cornerbacks, Eric Johnson and Stark, will have to be at the top of their game because BW will try and spread our defense out.

"Bishop Walsh's defense likes to stack the line of scrimmage and blitz. They'll be mixing 5-3 and a 6-2 defensive schemes, so we'll have to be sure and pick up their rush. If we carry out our blocking assignments that we've been working on, we should be OK."

Kickoff is slated for 2 p.m.

Rams Dominated By Yellow Jackets, 59-12; Fall to 1-4

Domination in every facet of the game is about the only way to describe Moorefield High School's performance last Friday night while handing the visiting Southern High School Rams a crushing, 59-12, defeat, their worst defeat in a number of years.

The Rams were simply out-manned, out-run, and out-blocked by the Yellow Jackets from the opening kickoff until the final buzzer. Last year's West Virginia single-A state runners-up amassed 487 yards of total offense to go with their 59 points, while the Rams managed only 149 yards, with just 31 of that coming on the ground.

The game featured a wild span of 6:47 in the third quarter in which a total of 40 points were scored.

It was Southern's fourth loss in five starts, while Moorefield won its fifth straight after opening the season with a close loss to Frankfort.

Moorefield's Jared Dearing put the first points on the board with a six-yard touchdown run with 4:44 remaining in the first quarter. Matt Riggleman booted the extra point.

Ed Mongold hauled in a 21-yard scoring pass from Tyler Sherman at the 1:19 mark of the first period, and Riggleman's conversion kick gave the Jackets a 14-0 lead.

Dearing scored again in the second quarter, this time on a six-yard run, and Riggleman again kicked the extra point.

A 40-yard field goal by P.J. Combs just moments before halftime put Moorefield on top by a 24-0 margin.

The Rams got a bit of a spark to start the second half of action, as Zack Uphold returned the opening kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown, which initiated the 6:47, 40-point spurt. The run for the two-point conversion was stopped.

The next three touchdowns, all followed by successful conversion kicks by Riggleman, were scored by Anthony Carr on a 34-yard run (10:39), Dearing on a one-yard dive (8:53), and Reed Williams on a 22-yard pass from Sherman (6:40).

Southern's Andrew VanBogelen responded with a 38-yard touchdown pass reception from Cory Bosley with 5:10 remaining to make the score 45-12. Bosley's pass for the conversion was incomplete.

Moorefield was still not finished scoring in the third quarter, however, as Anthony Carr raced 49 yards to the end zone with 4:54 remaining. Riggleman once again booted the extra point.

Adding to the Jackets' total in the fourth quarter was Jared Wratchford, who scored on a one-yard run with 7:46 left. Riggleman successfully kicked his eighth conversion point of the evening to conclude the game's scoring.

Leading rushers for Moorefield were Andy Viola with 89 yards on 11 carries, and Dearing with 52 yards on five attempts.

Sherman had an outstanding passing night, completing 11 of 15 passes for 187 yards.

"As I said last week, Moorefield has the complete package," stated Ram coach Fred Gregg. "They are fast, they are big, they can run, they can throw... they do it all. The game was not close in any area. They were better in every facet.

"When we saw them early in the season, we thought their physical conditioning was a question mark," he said. "But they are definitely physically fit now. There is no doubt that they are a major force in West Virginia's single-A race again this year."

Moorefield has won several state titles, and finished as state runner-up last season.

Several of the Rams sustained injuries in the game, the most serious of which was to Matt Ford. He suffered a lacerated spleen and was life-flighted to Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown, but in the end did not require surgery for his injury. He was released from the hospital the following day.

After playing four of their first five games on the road, the Rams will finally be on their home field, almost for good, as the only away game remaining is at Northern for the season closer.

"It will feel so good to finally play at home," Gregg said, as the Rams will host Preston County this Friday.

Preston is sporting a rather unimpressive 2-4 record right now, but Gregg was quick to point out how deceiving that record is.

"They are a triple-A school, and so their schedule is just horrendous," he said. "They play many outstanding football teams, and we are one of the few, maybe the only, single-A team on their schedule.

"We've seen them play several times this year, and it's going to take a very good effort on our part to defeat them," Gregg said.

The Knights' offense, which seems to be patterned after West Virginia University's shotgun formation, is led by junior tailback/quarterback Chad Chambers (6-1, 175), senior fullback Adrian Western (5-6, 175), senior tailback/quarterback Jon Whitehair (5-10, 170), and receivers Tyler Clark (5-7, 150), a junior, and Zack Metheny (5-10, 170), a senior.

"They do a little of everything on offense," Gregg said. "Chambers, who is a transfer from Grafton, shifts from tailback to quarterback. He's very fast, he's a hard runner, and he throws the ball very well.

"When Chambers is at the tail position, Whitehair plays quarterback, and also does a nice job of running the offense.

"Western is one of the best fullbacks we've seen this year. He is a strong runner, and particularly a great blocker.

"Clark and Metheny are both fast receivers with good hands," Gregg said.

"We have to be ready to defend just about everything, because we expect to see just about everything from them."

The Preston 5-3, 4-3 defensive unit is led by an excellent senior middle linebacker in Justin Bolyard (6-1, 200).

"As a defensive team, they really fly to the ball, they tackle well, and they have good speed," Gregg said. "Because they play so many big, fast triple-A teams, that really helps them when they play smaller teams like us."

Gregg said that the Knights are overall a faster team than the Rams, and they have good size. "They're not huge, but we are outsized by everybody," he said.

Team morale has taken some hard licks in recent weeks, but Gregg said that it does not seem to be a major problem for his players.

"Obviously we'd all be happier with some more wins, but our kids don't seem to be really down about things either," he said. "We're just real happy to finally be able to play at home, and we should have a great crowd this week because of the Autumn Glory Festival. The weather is looking great also."

Friday's kickoff at the SHS athletic field is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Southern JVs Top Allegany, Roll Over Beall

The junior varsity football team of Southern High School upped its record to 5-1 with a pair of big victories this past week.

The Rams disposed of visiting Allegany, 14-6, last Thursday, and then crushed the Beall jayvees, 32-0, on Monday, also in Oakland.

David Reams put the first points on the board against Allegany with an eight-yard scoring run in the first quarter. The pass for the conversion fell incomplete, and the score remained 6-0 until the third quarter.

Allegany's defensive unit knotted the score at 6-6 when Donovan Vincente picked off a pass and returned the ball 91 yards for a touchdown. The pass for the extra two points was no good.

A three-yard TD run by Southern's John Knox in the fourth quarter gave the Rams the lead for good, and Reams tacked on the extra two points with a successful conversion carry.

The Ram offense provided a balanced performance throughout Monday's game against Beall, scoring a touchdown and a two-point conversion in each of the quarters.

The first six-pointer came on a 23-yard pass from Jason Wakefield to Ryan DeWitt, after which Wakefield passed successfully to Anthony Schrock for the two extra points.

David Reams followed with a four-yard touchdown run in the second period, and Schrock ran for the conversion to give Southern a 16-0 halftime lead.

The Ram touchdown in the third quarter came on an eight-yard carry by John Knox, and Schrock again ran successfully for the conversion to make it 24-0.

T.J. Ravenscroft crashed through the Mountaineer line in the fourth quarter and raced 84 yards for the Rams' fourth and final touchdown. Dean Hoffman concluded the scoring with a successful conversion run.

Leading the Ram shutout effort on defense were Ryan DeWitt and Matt Kisner.

The Rams are not slated to play again until next Thursday at home against Frankfort, with the kickoff slated for 7 p.m.

Steeler Defenses Declaw 'Cats In CAYFL Contests

The Northern Steelers shut down the D&D Wildcats over the weekend at Northern High School. The Steelers' Division I squad recorded a 12-6 victory, while Northern's Division II defensive unit silenced its D&D counterpart in a 38-0 shutout romp. Both Cumberland Area Youth Football League contests were played at Northern High School.

After a scoreless battle through the first half of Division I play, Northern's Ben Diehl broke the defensive deadlock with a five-yard, third-quarter touchdown carry. Matt Mason doubled the Steelers' point production with a three-yard scoring plunge of his own in the final stanza. The Wildcats averted a shutout loss with a two-yard touchdown run late in the game.

Mason rolled up 62 yards on 10 carries overall. The Northern defense was paced by Ryan Seaman, Blair Philbaugh, and Tyler Masters, according to the coaching staff.

The Division II contest had the makings of a Steeler runaway early on, as in the first quarter Randy Wiley reeled off a 33-yard touchdown run and teammate Ryan Evans scored from six yards out. Evans scampered 38 yards on a second-quarter scoring carry that boosted Northern's lead to 18-0 at the intermission.

The second half was a mirror image of the first, as the Steelers again scored three touchdowns. Wiley got the ball rolling with a 68-yard touchdown romp in the third stanza, which was punctuated by a Kyle Gillum extra-point kick. Eric Espada exploded for a 26-yard scoring carry in the fourth quarter, then Gillum rolled 23 yards into the end zone for his own touchdown to cap the Steelers' scoring blitz at 38 unanswered points.

Nathan Payne and Matt Wiland stood out defensively for Northern, the coach reported.

Northern's Division I squad record is currently 2-4, and the Division II unit is 5-1. The Steelers are slated to host the Oakland Rams this Sunday at Northern High.

Ram Freshman Team Walloped By Wildcat JVs

A team of freshmen football players from Southern High School proved to be no match for the junior varsity of Westmar on Monday, as the Wildcats rolled over the Rams, 34-0, on their field in Lonaconing.

Justin Keller amassed 145 yards on just a dozen carries and scored a pair of touchdowns for the home team.

Kaleb Smith put the first points on the board when he scored a touchdown on a three-yard carry in the first half. The run for the conversion was no good.

Keller scored one of two Wildcat TDs in the second stanza, his coming on a 22-yard run, and the second recorded by Alex Metz on an 18-yard carry. Keller also ran successfully for the conversion to give Westmar a 20-0 halftime lead.

Keller broke loose and rambled 60 yards in the third quarter for his second touchdown, and Smith added the two-point conversion run.

Smith scored his second six-pointer of the evening on a five-yard run, also in the third period.

Keller and Smith also paced the Wildcat defensive effort. It was the second win in two starts for Westmar.

CORRECTION

Reporting in the Sept. 25 issue incorrectly identified the Steelers' 36-0 victory over Braddock as a Division I contest. That game was actually a Division II battle.

"THAT DAM HILL" is how members of the Southern High School "Runnin' Rams" cross country teams refer to a long, tough hill near the Broadford Lake dam that is incorporated in their 3.1-mile home course. In the photo above left is the Rams' leading runner, Craig Conroy, as he reached the top of "that dam hill" in a race against University High of Morgantown on Tuesday. Conroy was the second runner across the finish line, although his team finished second to the Hawks. Above right is Southern's David Cuddington, who finished third individually. The Southern girls' team defeated University in the other race, and also finished second in the Area Championships, held last Thursday. See story for details. Photos by John McEwen.

Runnin' Rams Have Busy Week; Girls Finish Second In Area Meet

It's been a busy week for the Southern High School cross country teams, which participated in the Area Championships last Thursday, hosted by Frankfort High School, Short Gap, W.Va.; ran in the Mtn. Top Combo hosted by Preston High School in Kingwood on Saturday; and finally hosted University High of Morgantown at Broadford Park Tuesday.

In the Area Championships, the Southern girls' team captured second place among the eight teams in contention, while the boys finished sixth.

The SHS girls, led by All-State runner Natalie Domenick, finished with 58 team points, runner-up to host Frankfort with 30 points. Keyser finished just one point behind the Rams with 59 points, and Hampshire was fourth with 96 points, followed by Fort Hill with 110, and Beall, Allegany, and Westmar, all with incomplete scores.

Domenick placed fourth individually with a time of 21:54, and was thus named to the All-Area first team. Her teammates finished as follows: Lisa Wade, 11th, 22:52; Mandi Stahl, 13th, 23:08; Sarah Cosner, 19th, 23:36; Elizabeth Thayer, 26th; Stephanie DiSimone, 28th; and Courtney DiSimone, 29th.

The SHS girls' junior varsity dominated the jayvee race, placing five runs in the top 10. Krista Hanline was second, followed by Melinda Smith, fourth; Leah Warnick, fifth; Amanda Sisler, sixth; and Katie Conroy, 10th.

The SHS boys finished with 140 team points. Beall won with 29, followed by Frankfort with 71, Keyser with 118, Westmar with 120, East Hardy with 124, Southern, Allegany with 147, and Hampshire with 166.

Derek Upperman finished in 13th place (18:42) to pace the Rams, followed by David Cuddington, 15th, 18:44; Levi Filsinger, 37th; Andrew Goad, 38th; Andrew Kight, 40th; and Mike Murphy, 48th.

The top female runner of the day was Westmar's Jennifer Patton, who recorded a time of 20:02, while Dan DeWitt of Beall won the boys' race with a time of 17:02.

In the meet at Preston on Saturday, the scores of both the boys' and girls' teams were combined, and Southern ended up placing ninth among 15 teams.

Domenick again led the Southern girls by finishing 18th in 22:48, while Craig Conroy placed 15th in 18:34 to pace the SHS boys. Both received honors for being among the top 25 individual finishers.

Among the Southern girls, Lisa Wade placed 43rd, followed by Sarah Cosner, 48th; Mandi Stahl, 50th; Elizabeth Thayer, 66th; Stephanie DiSimone, 74th; and Krista Hanline, 78th.

Behind Conroy for the Southern boys were: David Cuddington, 27th; Derek Upperman, 58th; Andrew Goad, 63rd; Levi Filsinger, 68th; Andrew Kight, 77th; and Michael Murphy, 83rd.

Preston won the meet with 101 points, followed by: East Fairmont, Grafton, Morgantown, Fairmont, University, Hedgesville, Newark Catholic of Ohio, Southern, Keyser, Buckhannon Upshur, Tucker County, Hampshire, Philip Barbour, and Bridgeport.

Domenick was the top female runner of the day Tuesday when the Rams hosted University, as she recorded a time of 23:10 to lead her team to victory.

Southern finished with 23 points, while University recorded 33.

Brittney Goff of University was the second-place finisher in 23:27, followed by Mandi Stahl and Lisa Wade of Southern. Sarah Cosner and Elizabeth Thayer finished seventh and eighth, respectively, while Stephanie DiSimone was 10th.

The Southern boys were edged by the University team, 25-30.

Craig Conroy finished second individually to University's Ryan Skotnicki. Conroy's time was 18:29, while Skotnicki recorded a time of 18:12.

David Cuddington and Derek Upperman finished fourth and fifth, respectively, while Andrew Goad placed ninth and Levi Filsinger was 10th.

The Runnin' Rams will compete again this Friday at their Broadford Park course against Tucker County. The competition was originally slated to be hosted by Tucker County, but was moved to Broadford and will get under way at 4 p.m.

Maddawgs Bag Hawks To Cap Perfect Season

The Northern Maddawgs marked their territory in no uncertain terms Sunday at Northern High School when the A&B combined squad swamped the visiting Ridgeley Hawks, 52-6. The romp capped a perfect regular season campaign, the first time a Maddawg A&B unit has posted an undefeated mark.

Northern's B team wasted no time in showing who was top dog as it scored four unanswered touchdowns in the first quarter, while the squad's defense did not surrender a first down throughout its play.

Kameron Kamp opened the scoring with a 25-yard touchdown, and Matt Thomas carried in the extra point. Kamp chalked up his second touchdown on a 35-yard carry, capped by a Josh Mason rush for the extra point. Cody Rodeheaver then reeled off a 25-yard touchdown run. Thomas punched in a five-yard scoring carry for Northern's fourth touchdown of the quarter, and Mason completed a point-after-touchdown toss to Kamp to finish the flurry with the hosts holding a 27-0 advantage.

The Maddawg A team got into the action in the second quarter when Alex Baker busted up the middle for a 23-yard touchdown run. Ridgeley averted a shutout when a Northern ballcarrier fumbled at the guests' 35-yard line, leaving a Hawk defender to swoop in, snagging the loose ball and carrying it 65 yards into the end zone.

Northern changed backfields for the second half and the Maddawg's B team backup runners showed their stuff by scoring three touchdowns. Kyle Rosenberger started things off when he scampered down the sideline for a 28-yard touchdown run, and Patrick Sines bulldozed in for the extra point. Sines added a 34-yard touchdown carry, and Chris Murdock closed out the scoring with a one-yard touchdown run.

Northern hopes to continue its perfect play when it hosts the Frostburg Cougars in the first round of the playoffs this Saturday, Oct. 11, at NHS. Kick-off is set for 10 a.m.

In the day's other Pee Wee action at Northern, the Maddawg C team ran over its Ridgeley counterpart in a 27-0 shutout victory. Tyler Ireland, Collin Belcher, and Michael Crabtree each had touchdown runs, while Crabtree added two extra points and Belcher added the third extra point. Northern will debut in the C team playoffs at 11:15 a.m. this Sunday, Oct. 12, at the Cumberland Reds field.

Ridgeley Runs Over Rams In CAYFL Games

The Oakland Rams butted heads with the visiting Ridgeley Rams Sunday, but were hammered in both the Division I and Division II Cumberland Area Youth Football League contests by identical scores of 26-0.

Oakland had some bright spots in the Division I loss, as runner Matt White turned in a 105-yard performance on just a dozen rushes, good for an average of nearly nine yards per carry. Ram defender Tommy Reams was a one-man wrecking crew, as he tallied 10 tackles. The Oakland defense had held the visitors scoreless through the entire first half.

In Division II play, Ridgeley scored a rushing touchdown in each of the four quarters. No information was made available regarding the performances of the Oakland players.

Oakland visits the Northern Steelers for a cross-county showdown Sunday at Northern High School.

Southern Band Places First In Northern Event

Scoring a season-high 79.65 points, the Southern Garrett Marching Band captured first place in the Group I division of the Northern Garrett High School Marching Spectacular, held Saturday evening on the NHS athletic field.

Placing second in Group I was the Westmar High School Band with a score of 73.35, while Berkeley Springs finished third with a 65.9.

The Northern High band also competes in Group I, but performed in exhibition only as the host band.

The Southern band also captured the following specialty awards: Best Percussion, Best Auxiliary, Best Brass, Best Woodwinds, and Best Marching and Maneuvering.

"Our show continues to grow," stated Richard Clever, Southern band director. "We have added, changed, and added some more. Our students are getting more comfortable with the music and the drill, and the staff expects our scores to continue climbing.

"All in all, we are having a great deal of fun and success with this show," he added.

Winning the Group IV division and highest score of the entire competition was the Keyser High School Band with a score of 82.2.

The Southern band will host the Western Maryland Tournament of Bands this Saturday, Oct. 11, on the SHS athletic field, beginning at 6 p.m. The Northern band is among the Group I entrants.

ALL SMILES are these members of the Southern Garrett Marching Band, as they saluted when it was announced that the band had won first place in Group I competition in the annual Marching Spectacular, held Saturday on the Northern High School athletic field and hosted by the Northern Marching Band. The Southern band also recorded its highest score to date this season in winning the division, and captured most of the specialty awards. Elks UGLY Team To Serve Breakfast At OVFD Hall

The Oakland Elks Lodge is once again a participant in the annual UGLY Challenge for Multiple Sclerosis, a statewide competition for bars and lounges that raises money to support MS programs and research. As part of that fund-raising effort, the Elks will serve an "all-you-can-eat" breakfast at the Oakland fire hall this Sunday, Oct. 12.

Serving will begin at 7 a.m. and continue until all the food is gone. The menu will include buckwheat cakes, pancakes, biscuits with sausage gravy, bacon, scrambled eggs, juice, coffee, and milk. The cost of the meal is $6 for adults and $3 for children.

Other UGLY events slated by the Elks team will be a spaghetti dinner and a Halloween hayride/haunted house, the details of which will be announced soon.

Board Of Educ. Meeting Slated

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 14, beginning at 4 p.m.

During public session which begins at 5:30 p.m., the board will recognize the FFA livestock and agronomy teams for their recent awards at state level competition.

Action items will include the revised policies on use of school facilities, public charter schools, and leaving school for curricular/co-curricular or extra-curricular events; field trips; and professional leave and travel requests.

Additional agenda items include reports on the work-based learning survey, courses not scheduled at the Garrett County high schools for 2003-2004, the student education planning guide, and the recent Maryland Association of Boards of Education conference. Information will also be presented regarding draft health advisory minutes and recommended materials and draft policies and procedures dealing with Title I.

Time is set aside at 4 and 7 p.m. for public comment and participation on any topic. The board will meet in closed session from 4:05 to 5:30 p.m. and reconvene in open session immediately thereafter. The pubic is invited to attend.

Garrett College Releases 2004 Who's Who List

The 2004 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges will include the names of 17 students from Garrett College who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders, according to GC spokesperson Joan Crawford.

The Garrett College students who were named to the annual directory this year were Joanna C. Abe, Marcia L. Brenneman, Carolina R. Dodge, Ruth A. Hahn, Brian V. Haley, Jennifer R. Hyde, Cynthia J. Kinsinger, Marina Kravtsuk, Krystin L. Medicus, Delilah A. Miller, Susie L. Mosser, Linda F. O'Brien, Shanna D. Powell, Danny A. Shawley, Sue E. Smith, Heather D. Umbel, and Dorene S. Uphold.

Campus nominating committees and Who's Who editors selected these and other students who represent over 1,400 institutions of higher learning from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign nations. The selections are based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and potential for continued success. The annual directory was first published in 1966.

"Forty Days Of Purpose" Slated At St. Paul's UM

The people of St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland will join with other Christian congregations, beginning Oct. 12, in the Americas, Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia in a 40-day program to "discover God's purpose for one's life," a spokesperson said.

The "Forty Days of Purpose" program began in the Saddleback Church in Lake Forest, Calif. The senior pastor, Rick Warren, initiated the program to help the congregation discover God's revelations for the purpose of the church and enrich its spiritual life, the spokesperson said.

The "Forty Days of Purpose" campaign is designed to get congregations to read the book The Purpose-Driven Life: What on Earth Am I Here For? in preparation for discussion, which will be held in small study groups. These groups are currently forming and will meet in homes or at the church, which is located on the corner of Fourth and East Oak streets.

"The goal is to have participants make a deeper commitment to the Christian life: Join the church, become part of a small Bible study group, volunteer to serve others, and venture out on a mission trip," the spokesperson said.

Persons interested in participating in the program, which will conclude on Nov. 23, are encouraged to contact the church office at 301-334-2391, or Bea Crosco at 301-334-2153 to join the small study groups. At the present time groups will be meeting weekly on Sunday evening at 5, 6, and 6:30 p.m., and on Monday afternoon at 1:30.

"Whether you are single, married, divorced, male, female, with or without kids, young or young at heart, there will be a small group for you," the spokesperson said.

Sign-up will continue for two weeks and is open to all interested persons in the community. Participants are asked to purchase the book The Purpose-Driven Life . . . (cost $10) to be used as part of the curriculum.

Betty M. Pritt is serving as coordinator of the "Forty Days of Purpose" campaign. She is being assisted by Bea Crosco, Andy Damon, and Helen Earles. Reverend T. Patrick Kerr serves as pastor at St. Paul's.

4-H Club News

COUNTRY KIDS 4-H

The recent meeting of the Country Kids 4-H Club was called to order by president Vanessa Logan, and the pledges were led by Sharon Harvey.

Under old business, Nicole Harvey delivered a report about the club's fair booth, which earned a white ribbon, and Amanda Bowers presented a report about the club's parade float. Sarah Rexrode spoke about the State Fair Fashion Revue, where she took first place in her category.

In items of new business, the Autumn Glory petting zoo is slated for 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. this Saturday, Oct. 11, in the vicinity of the Mtn. Fresh Pavilion. Several club members will bring some of their pets for the zoo, including a miniature pony, a calf, ducks, sheep, a dog, and a puppy. The petting zoo will be set up at 8:30 a.m., and the work schedule includes the Logans, Bowsers, and DeWitts from 10 am. to 1 p.m.; and the Rexrodes and Wagners from 1 to 3 p.m.

The club picnic and hayride is set for 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 26, at the Pysells'. Participants are asked to bring a covered dish. Beef tickets, which were distributed at the last meeting, will be collected at the picnic.

A cooking class and club meeting is scheduled for noon on Friday, Nov. 14, at the Rexrodes'.

Sarah and Bethany Rexrode presented a demonstration about sewing, and Bobby Barnard presented a demonstration about the parts of a pig.

The meeting was adjourned by Bret DeWitt.

After-School Prog. Receives Funding From Federal Corp.

The Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) recently awarded the state of Maryland $2,074,976 to distribute to community-based programs throughout the state.

In Garrett County, a Star! AmeriCorps will receive part of this funding, which will help support projects to improve youth literacy, such as the after-school programs, and to help in providing support services for low-income families.

The Maryland Conservation Corps (MCC) will receive part of the funding as well. The MCC is the state's environmental corps. Members work to restore streams, monitor watersheds, build and maintain trails, conduct educational programs, and work to engage Marylanders in conservation projects.

Another statewide program to receive support from the grant will be Volunteer Maryland, the members of which develop and manage volunteer programs in community agencies throughout the state.

Survivors, Relay Walkers Invited To Walk In Parade

Cancer survivors and Relay For Life participants are invited to walk or ride with the cancer survivors' float during the Garrett County Autumn Glory Parade this Saturday, Oct. 11.

Participants should meet at the float between noon and 12:30 p.m. The float will be parked along Lake Street in Oakland, and will be number 47 in the parade line up.

The parade will begin at 1 p.m. All cancer survivors are asked to wear purple shirts. All others are urged to wear Relay For Life T-shirts.

Persons with questions may call Deana Clester at 301-533-4295.

The Oakland Office of Farmers & Merchants Bank and Trust will be closed on Saturday, October 11, 2003 during the 36th Annual Autumn Glory Festival. Should you need banking assistance during this time, please visit our McHenry Branch located at 25451 Garrett Highway.

Small Business Courses Slated At Garrett Coll.

The Small Business Development Center at Garrett College has slated three courses — Better Business Planning, Dialing for Dollars, and Bidding and Estimating — designed to provide new or potential entrepreneurs with information to help improve their business skills. Each class will meet on the college's McHenry campus.

Better Business Planning is set for Saturday, Oct. 18, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and will include breakfast and lunch. The instructor will be Char Rogers, who owns and operates her own small business from home, counseling other small business owners.

The class will cover business decisions including when and how to apply for a loan, marketing, bookkeeping, accounting systems, inventory, loans, employees, pricing, insurance, taxes, and deductions.

Dialing for Dollars is slated for Thursday, Oct. 30, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. The instructor is Kate Malkie, a qualified QuickBooks instructor.

The course will provide information on how to utilize more advanced applications of the QuickBooks program, including managing accounts receivable and accounts payable. Participants who complete the session should be able to collect more cash owed to their business while, at the same time, more skillfully using other people's money to maximum benefit.

A four-session course titled Bidding and Estimating will be presented over four consecutive Thursdays, Oct. 23 through Nov. 13, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The course will be taught by Mike Pellet, owner of Medi-Flag.

The course has been designed for individuals interested in learning more about the basics of bidding and estimating techniques in all aspects of construction, home improvement, and other related trades. Among the topics that will be covered are scheduling, profit and loss statements, figuring materials, figuring percentage for profit, legal formats for estimates, and deposits and contracts.

For more information, or to register, persons may call Sue Smith in the SBDC office at 301-387-3080.

PRIME SAFETY DONATES TO OVFD – Prime Safety LLC, a local fire and commercial equipment distributor of respiratory protective and gas detection equipment, recently donated $4,000 to the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department to assist with purchasing new equipment. Prime Safety is owned by Tina and Jim Walkling Jr., and is an agent/distributor for Draeger Safety Inc. in Pittsburgh Pa. Pictured above, from the left, are John Feather, deputy chief; Walkling; and Fred Callis, president of OVFD.

College Expo Scheduled At Garrett College

Approximately 60 colleges, universities, technical schools, and military academies will be represented at the Mountain Top College Expo this Monday, Oct. 13, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., at Garrett College.

There will also be a financial aid workshop at 7 p.m. to help families take advantage of opportunities to obtain financial assistance.

Seniors may also register for up to three $500 scholarships. This event can also assist those planning a new or second career.

The expo is sponsored by the Garrett County Board of Education and Garrett College.

Local Resident Wins Prudential Community Award

Donald Gaumer of Frostburg, a representative for Prudential Financial in the Insurance Division business unit in Hunt Valley, received a Prudential Community Champions Shining Star Award of $1,000 for the Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department.

As a volunteer firefighter, Gaumer donated 500 hours to volunteer service for the Eastern Garrett department throughout 2002. As president and deputy chief of the department for the past two years, he served as a leader for other volunteers and led fund-raising efforts.

Gaumer also visited local schools to teach about fire safety and prevention. He attended ongoing training sessions as well to stay up-to-speed with changing protocols and state mandates. The mission of the Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department is to respond in a timely and effective manner to all emergency calls and to ensure that the local community is aware of safety precautions they can take to help prevent emergency situations.

The 12th annual Prudential Community Champions Awards Program, administered by Prudential's Local Initiatives Division, recognizes 756 Prudential associates and retirees nationally and 41 associates across Canada, Italy, Japan and Korea who excelled in volunteer commitment, leadership, and service in their communities during 2002. Grants range from $250 to $5,000 for each award winner's charitable organization. Grants issued by the Prudential Foundation this year totaled $616,500, and more than $6 million since the program began in 1991.

"Since Prudential's founding in 1875, we have been committed to making a difference in the communities where we live and work, through both volunteer work and corporate donations," said Gabriella Morris, president of the Prudential Foundation and vice president of Community Resources for Prudential. "We are proud to support our employees and retirees in their unwavering spirit of volunteerism and heartfelt commitment to helping others."

Elliott might run limited schedule next season

By RICK MINTER
Cox News Service

Kansas City, Kan.

The Winston Cup garage is rife with rumors about Bill Elliott's possible retirement, but Elliott himself says it's still too early to announce his plans for 2004 and beyond.

"There's too much going on to say anything right now," Elliott said.

There apparently are several scenarios in play, but at this point, none of them has Elliott walking away from the sport at the end of this season.

He is expected to either run the full season next year for car owner Ray Evernham or run a limited schedule — possibly five major events.

ELLIOTT

Elliott's plans hinge on several factors, including what Evernham does with Elliott's team car, the No. 19 Dodge now driven by Jeremy Mayfield.

Evernham said there are no firm plans in place yet for either of his two teams.

"Everything's not settled," Evernham said. "We hope to have it settled by the time we roll into Atlanta, but right now we're concentrating on it race-by-race, trying to win some races here."

He said that if Elliott, who turns 48 this week, wants to run a limited schedule next season, it's fine with him.

"Whatever Bill Elliott decides to do, I'm going to support him 100 percent," Evernham said.

One of those who has been mentioned as a candidate for a ride in an Evernham Dodge is Busch Series driver Kasey Kahne, who currently is under contract with Ford and is considered one of the manufacturer's top prospects for the future.

Kahne said he has talked with Evernham, and some other top Winston Cup owners including Joe Gibbs and Richard Childress.

"There's been some interest," Kahne said. "And I definitely have to talk to people with interest because, as a driver, Winston Cup is where you want to be."

Kahne, who drives the No. 38 Ford owned by Brad Akins, said that no matter what happens with his Winston Cup plans, he'll still run the Busch Series next year.

"Hopefully, I'll make up my mind in the next week or so," he said. "But I'll definitely be in the Busch garage next year and there's a chance I'll be in both."

Benson's crew chief on leave

James Ince, crew chief of Johnny Benson's No. 10 Pontiac, has taken an indefinite leave from his duties to deal with family matters, according to a statement from the team.

Car chief Jay Guy will fill in until Ince returns.

Fuel controversy

Ryan Newman's eighth win of '03 raises suspicions

By RICK MINTER
Cox News Service

Kansas City, Kan.

The burning question in the NASCAR garage these days is how a car can be both powerful and stingy on gas.

Only Ryan Newman and the crew of his No. 12 Dodge seem to know the answer.

Although Bill Elliott dominated most of Sunday's Banquet 400 at Kansas Speedway, a late pit stop opened the door for Newman to take advantage of his exceptional fuel mileage — and power — to get his eighth win of the season.

Newman stretched a tank of fuel for the final 79 laps — nearly 120 miles — in following a strategy that is becoming increasingly common on the circuit.

Elliott finished second, ahead of his teammate Jeremy Mayfield, Tony Stewart and Jeff Gordon.

It was the ninth win of Newman's 74-race career, and it allowed him to move from fifth to fourth in the Winston Cup points standings. But it also raised questions among his peers about how he is consistently able to be fast yet thrifty. For most teams it's a trade-off: They either tune the engine for power or mileage.

Newman's crew chief Matt Borland said his team has found a way to do both.

"A lot of teams make really good horsepower, and a lot of teams make really good fuel mileage," Borland said. "Our engine shop put a really concerted effort in this year to make horsepower, make fuel mileage and get the reliability."

Newman was more direct.

"We don't cheat," he said. "That's basically it."

From the outset, the Banquet 400 was ruled by Elliott and his No. 9 Dodge. Looking very much unlike a driver pondering retirement, he took the lead for the first time on Lap 18, then led four times for a race-high 115 laps.

At one point he was 11 seconds — the length of a straightaway — ahead of second-place Rusty Wallace.

But Elliott's fortunes changed during a caution period at Lap 202. Leading at the time, he drove onto pit road for four fresh tires and a tank of fuel.

Newman and Mayfield, who made their final stops for fuel 13 laps earlier, stayed on the track and took over the top two spots.

Elliott returned to the track in 15th place, battled back through the field, but came up three car-lengths shy of Newman, who took the top spot from Mayfield on Lap 240 and had ample power in leading the final 28 circuits.

Elliott left the track without participating in the customary post-race interviews, as did eighth-place Jamie McMurray, the highest finishing rookie.

Stewart said that gas mileage aside, the positions Newman gained by staying on the track when the other drivers made their final pit stops were critical.

"We drove away from Ryan Newman all day," Stewart said. "So track position means everything."

Still, the questions about how Newman's team can get both good mileage and high horsepower dominated the interview sessions all weekend at Kansas.

Gas mileage has figured into several of Newman's wins this season and many of his competitors, including Kevin Harvick and Jeff Gordon, say they're suspicious that something fishy is going on.

"I'm just [mad] that the 15th-place car wins the race and can go 15 laps farther than the rest of us," said Harvick, who finished sixth. "If he can do that with his foot, then he's a magician."

Gordon, speaking prior to the race, said: "The thing that definitely raises an eyebrow to me is that the No. 12 car [Ryan Newman] is one of the best engines out there and yet has one of the best fuel mileages out there too. Obviously, if it's a concern to us then certainly NASCAR has an eye on it also."

Newman declined to respond directly to Gordon's comments.

"I think we answered that when we crossed the finish line," he said.

"Our engine shop put a really concerted effort in this year to make horsepower, make fuel mileage and get the reliability."

POST-RACE NOTES

Another poor outing cuts into Kenseth's lead

By RICK MINTER
Cox News Service

Kansas City, Kan.

The Winston Cup points race, which has been a runaway by Matt Kenseth for most of the season, is rapidly turning into a real contest.

For the second consecutive week, on-track problems cost Kenseth a big batch of points.

A crash on the backstretch on Lap 69 of Sunday's Banquet 400 at Kansas Speedway sent Kenseth's No. 17 Ford to the garage for repairs. He returned to the race on Lap 114, 46 laps behind the leaders, and wound up 36th. His points lead now stands at 259 over Kevin Harvick, who finished sixth.

KENSETH

Kenseth's problems at Kansas began with a crash in Friday's practice session, which put him in a hurriedly prepared back-up car for the 400.

"We haven't ever been in this position before to have to use the back-up, and this car wasn't ready for this track," he said. "It was ready for a short track."

Two weeks ago, Kenseth carried a 436-point lead into the EA Sports 500 at Talladega, but a blown engine cost him 82 points there. In two weeks, he's lost 177 points.

"We've had a couple of tough weeks, that's for sure," Kenseth said. "Last week, breaking an engine wasn't bad luck, it was poor decisions.

"This week, it wasn't really bad luck, it was poor driving by me and poor decisions with the car, so I can't really blame it on luck."

Rough day for Sadler

A week after his end-over-end flip at Talladega, Elliott Sadler crashed hard again, this time into the Turn 1 wall after a right-front tire blew on his No. 38 Ford.

The car caught fire for a short time, but Sadler was uninjured.

He said a roof hatch, such as the one on Michael Waltrip's No. 15 Chevrolet, would have been a help.

"I couldn't get out of the car like I wanted to when it was on fire, so that hatch can't come quick enough," Sadler said.

Changes considered

NASCAR officials are considering changes in the provisional starting positions that are awarded to seven drivers each race who fail to qualify on speed.

NASCAR may cut the number of provisionals to five, and it may revamp the system so that the provisionals are based solely on the points standings.

"What we want to do is get the provisionals to where they do what they were originally designed to do," said NASCAR Vice President Jim Hunter. "And that is to give teams that support the series on a full-time basis a way to get into the race even if they have a bad day in qualifying."

Currently, teams that run only select races are eligible for provisional starting slots and often take starting spots from full-time teams that have used all their provisionals.

NASCAR also is looking at giving more points to the winner of each race and changing the points structure at the bottom of the finishing order so that all finishers from, say, 36th on back get the same number of points.

Green retakes Busch lead following Kansas victory

By RICK MINTER
Cox News Service

Kansas City, Kan.

David Green took advantage of the late-race misfortunes of Michael Waltrip and Bobby Hamilton Jr. to pull off a dramatic last-lap pass for the lead and win Saturday's Busch Series Mr. Goodcents 300 at Kansas Speedway.

Waltrip, who led six times for 140 circuits, was cruising along in the lead with four laps remaining, but a blown right-front tire sent his No. 99 Chevrolet slamming into the wall on the frontstretch. That set up a one-lap dash to the checkered flag.

GREEN

Hamilton led the pack to the white flag, but his car faltered entering Turn 1, allowing Green to slip to the inside and take the lead.

Hamilton tangled with Greg Biffle and wrecked. Kevin Harvick grabbed the runner-up spot over Biffle, Jason Keller and Hank Parker Jr.

Green, who led the Busch Series points standings before a crash at Dover two weeks ago dropped him to fourth place, 67 points behind, is now back on top, 21 points ahead of Scott Riggs.

"We were as low as we could be after Dover," Green said. "But this shows how strong this race team is."

Needle flips out Sadler

Elliott Sadler's end-over-end flip at Talladega Superspeedway apparently didn't scare him nearly as much as the IV needle a doctor at the track's infield care center tried to put in his arm.

"I'm laying there and they're pushing and pulling on [me] to make sure everything is OK, and I'm fine," Sadler said. "All of a sudden they want to put a needle in me."

Sadler also didn't want to be flown to a Birmingham, Ala., hospital but he eventually relented and was released the next day.

But he's still leery of those needles.

"Everybody has a fear of something," he said.

Loch Lynn Church To Host Women's Conference Event

REV. SHIRLEY HARVEY

The Loch Lynn Church of God has slated its second annual Ladies' Conference for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 17-18. The theme is "The High Calling of a Woman," and the featured guest speaker will be Rev. Shirley Harvey of Clyde, N.C.

The event will open with a 7 p.m. worship service Friday evening, and Saturday's portion will get under way at 10 a.m. with a two-hour leadership training session, followed that same evening by a 6 p.m. worship service. Participants may attend any or all of the sessions, and no registration is necessary.

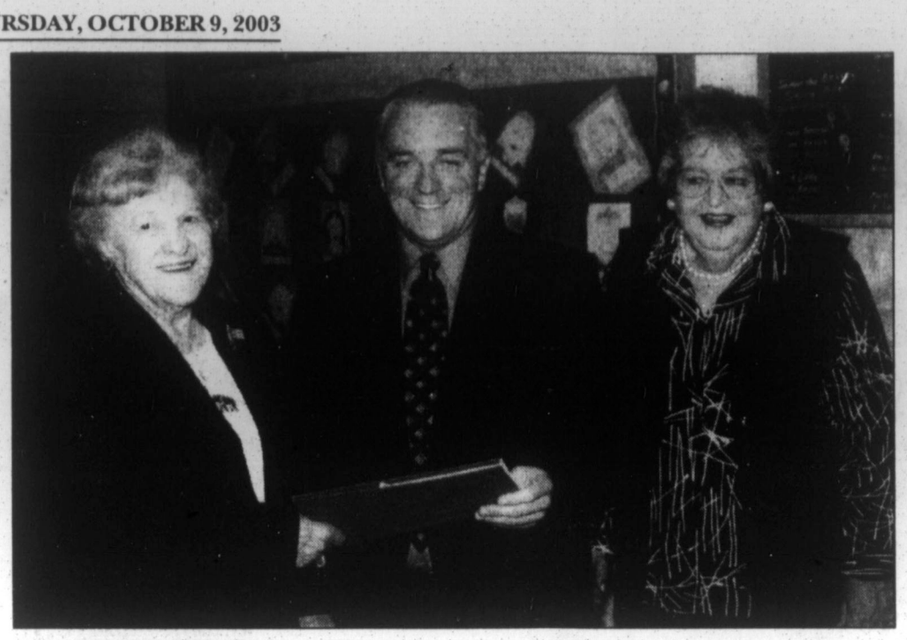
Harvey and her husband Rev. Frank Harvey have taught and led couples' retreats and seminars throughout the southeastern United States, and leadership seminars around the world. The couple are also the founders and current ministers at the nondenominational New Covenant Church, located in Clyde.

At the New Covenant Church, Shirley Harvey directly oversees all the ladies ministries of the growing congregation. She presently oversees and trains workers for the Life Ministry Team and Ladies' Mentoring Program. Her responsibilities include coordinating a number of workers who minister to those who need intensive spiritual support.

Harvey speaks at many churches, primarily in the southeast, and has spoken at ladies' conferences in Mexico, Scotland, Honduras, and Russia.

A 1971 graduate of Western Carolina University where she earned a degree in elementary education, Harvey was awarded a master's degree in Theology from Christian Life School of Theology in 1999. In 1986, Harvey founded a ladies' outreach ministry to women from various churches, and in 1995 she began a jail ministry for female inmates.

For more information on the Ladies' Conference, persons may call the Loch Lynn Church of God church office at 301-334-3221.



GOP WOMEN DONATE TO SCHOOLS – The Southern Garrett County Republican Women's Club completed its annual "No Child Left Behind" project recently. The GOP Women presented donations of school supplies to Dennett Road and Yough Glades elementary schools, making for a total of eight local elementary and middle schools that have benefited from the project. Pictured above at the Dennett Road School are Principal Gary Galloway, center, as he accepts the donation from SGCRW Club members Clara Anderson, left, and Marge Funk. Yough Glades students Bryson Lee and Katelynn Crouse are shown below holding a sampling of the donated school supplies with Principal Keith Harvey and GOP Women's Club member Ann Rebele standing in the background. For information about the SGCRW Club, persons may call 301-334-2147.

Garrett College Slates Variety Of Online Courses

Garrett College will offer a number of online courses this month, according to Tom Kierstead, dean of the Continuing Education and Training Division. Each of the courses will get under way on Wednesday, Oct. 8, and will be available on the Internet for registered students to complete on days convenient for them.

"Learn to Buy and Sell on eBay" will last 12 sessions as students will have the opportunity to take two lessons per week for six weeks. The course will provide information on the possibilities of working from home or earning extra income by buying and selling goods online.

Participants interested in making sales will receive instruction in creating titles that get noticed, crafting advertising copy that sells items quickly and for top dollar, creating and uploading photos of the items being put up for auction, safe conduct of financial transactions, accepting credit card payments, and packing and shipping any item hassle-free. Those interested in buying tips will learn how to value almost any item up for auction, how to get the best possible price, how to protect against fraud, and how to compete effectively against other bidders.

"A to Z Grantwriting Online" is a 12-session, six week course designed for executive directors, organizers, board members, community volunteers, development officers, and individuals who want an overview of the grantwriting process. The class will help participants research and develop mutually beneficial relationships with potential funding sources; organize a grant-writing campaign and keep track of all funding sources, requests, and donations; prepare complete proposal packages; and dissolve crisis management.

"Creating Web Pages" will meet in cyberspace twice a week at times of each student's choice for six weeks. Participants will learn how to design, create, and post their very own sites on the Internet, and will discover low-cost marketing techniques and search engine strategies.

For further information on these and other online courses being offered through Garrett College, or to register, persons may go to www.ed2go.com/garrett or call 301-387-3069.

Ruth Enlow Library Providing Online Tutors To Students

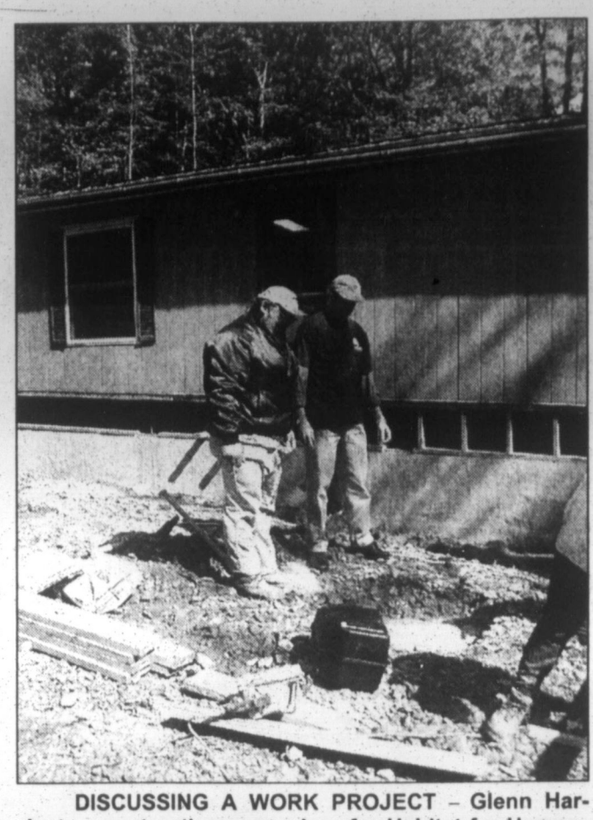
The Ruth Enlow Library and the Western Maryland Public Libraries recently announced that they will be providing an online tutorial service for students during the upcoming school year. Garrett County students grades 4 to 12 can visit any branch of the library to get immediate, free help from tutor.com. They can also access the web site at home by using the numbers on their library cards.

"Live Homework Help" on tutor.com connects students to expert tutors in math, science, social studies, and English via the Internet. The tutors are certified teachers, college professors, professional tutors, and graduate school students from across the country. Last year more than 150,000 students used the site at public libraries across the county, according to a Ruth Enlow spokesperson.

Live Homework Help is simple to use. Students log on to the library's computer terminals and enter their grade level and the subject they need help in. Students are immediately connected to a tutor in an online classroom for 20 minutes of help. Tutors and students can review specific homework questions using features such as controlled chat, an interactive white board, and shared web browsing in the online classroom. They can also type math equations using a special math tool, share educational web sites using a shared browser tool, and much more.

Tutor.com was founded in partnership with The Princeton Review, which provides services that help students navigate standardized tests and the college and graduate school admissions process.

The site currently provides tutoring services for more than 500 public libraries. Carroll, Prince George's, Harford, and Worcester counties are the only other counties in Maryland to provide this service to their patron, said the REL spokesperson.



DISCUSSING A WORK PROJECT – Glenn Hardesty, construction supervisor for Habitat for Humanity, on the left, discusses a work project with Bob Stephens of United Way of Garrett County. A Habitat home will be one of the worksites for United Way's Day of Caring and Sharing.

TV PIPELINE

Producers lining up 'Amazing Race 5'

By Taylor Michaels
© Zap2it

Q: Is "The Amazing Race" coming back? It's an excellent show and I will be disappointed if it is not renewed. –Judy, Shelter Island, N.Y.

A: It's a puzzler why this Emmy-winning and critically acclaimed venture from CBS, easily the classiest reality show on network television, never draws the blockbuster audiences that some of the sleazier projects do. But, thankfully, a fifth edition of "Race" is in preproduction even as I write this.

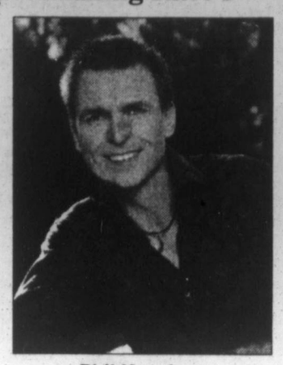
Applications from would-be contestants were due Wednesday, Oct. 8, and semifinalist interviews (which prospective players must attend on their own dime) will be conducted later this month or early next month. Finalists will be flown to Los Angeles for their last auditions in December.

The application notes that contestants "must be willing to travel to numerous locations around the world lasting approximately 30 to 40 days starting in January 2004," so an educated guess would be that you'll see host Phil Keoghan and "Amazing Race 5" hit CBS in late spring or early summer 2004.

Q: I noticed the name of Rachel Sweet as a co-producer on ABC's "George Lopez" show. Is that the same Rachel Sweet who had four solo pop-rock albums in the early '80s? –Bob Kirtos, Youngstown, Ohio.

A: She sure is. Sweet, now 41, got an early start as a child in TV commercials, followed, at age 12, by a stint as a country singer before moving into pop rock in the early 1980s.

The versatile Akron, Ohio, native garnered a cult following as host of the 1989-90 TV series "The Sweet Life" on the Comedy Channel (which later became Comedy Central). She has guest starred on "Seinfeld," "Hope & Gloria" and "Night Court," among other series.



Phil Keoghan

Behind the camera, she wrote for "The Naked Truth" and was a writer and supervising producer on "Dharma & Greg," as well as a producer on "Sports Night." Her most recent project has been writing and producing a TV movie pilot for a proposed TV series based on the movie comedy "Legally Blonde."

Q: How does David Letterman keep his private life "private"? –D.W., Arcadia, Fla.

A: By a really audacious strategy: He just doesn't talk about himself very often, giving few interviews in general. He also isn't a party animal, so his private life tends to play out, well, in private and at home.

Recently, Letterman, 56, broke his usual silence during a Sept. 11 taping of his show to announce that his longtime girlfriend, 43-year-old Regina Lasko, was about six months pregnant. Letterman said the couple is pondering marriage. His 1969 marriage to Michelle Cook ended in 1977.

TRIVIA

Peggy Fleming ("Intimate Portrait: Peggy Fleming") brought a sensual style to performances by mentally skating for a male audience member.

Jude Law ("Road to Perdition") has an entire verse of the Beatles' "Sexy Sadie" tattooed on the insides of his arms.

Gregory Peck ("Roman Holiday") had his first acting gig as a child playing the Good Samaritan in a YMCA summer-camp production.

Winston Churchill ("Churchill") was an accomplished painter who often had his art exhibited at the Royal Academy.

Janet Leigh ("The Manchurian Candidate") refused the chance to be the U.S Ambassador to Finland in order to care for her kids.
